> The fact is that the whole civil-service agitation is founded in a design to give to the members of the civil-service in this country a life-tenure, as in England, and its chief promoters have been the coterie of Englishmen who edit the New York Nation. The life-tenure is inimical to the spirit of our institutions, and is unconstitutional besides, and cannot be adopted. Of course no other scheme will satisfy the original advocates, and therefore the present plan has no supporters except its authors, unless it be the President, who is willing it should have a fair trial. But public and Congressional opinion are so decidedly against it that it will probably be withdrawn in a short time.

THE FRENCH ASSEMBLY was excited on Saturday by receipt of the resignation of M. Thiers, accompanied with the announcement that all the ministers followed his example. The assembly, by an almost unanimous vote, refused to accept the resignation, and appealed to the patriotism of M. Thiers. He was visited by a deputation from the assembly and by others from various parliamentary clubs, and finally consented to remain in the service of his country. In this reconsideration also the ministers followed his example. M. Thiers, however, said that sooner or later he should retire from the presidency of the republic.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, borders of various styles, &c.—and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, AT SATISFACTORY PRICES. Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons, who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

TRANSFORMING THE COMPLEXION.—The transformations produced by HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM are quite as astonishing as any scene on the stage of a theatre. That famous beautifier transmutes a sallow, pimply looking complexion, into one in which the lily and the rose vie for admiration, and imparts to a dry, harsh skin, the softness of perfect loveliness. Tan and freckles, which country air and sunlight are pretty sure to produce, in spite of parasols and sundowns, are completely obliterated by it; while it has a perfectly magical effect in banishing undue redness, blotches and pimples from the skin. When the lady who has used it to remedy her complexional defects looks in the mirror, she is equally astounded and gratified at the improvements in her appearance. Every blemish has disappeared; her neck, arms and bosom now rival in whiteness the snowy collar which covers her throat, her cheek mantles with a peach-like bloom, and she is ready to invoke a blessing on the inventor of the article which has wrought such a delightful transformation.

A STABLE INSTITUTION.—Just at the period when all stable-men were complaining that the horse-ointments of the day were unstable remedies, the MUSTANG LINIMENT made its entree in Missouri, without any flourish of trumpets, and within one year became the favorite embrocation for the external distempers and injuries of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of accomplished horsemen; nor is its household reputation as a cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore nipples and caked breasts, tumors, mumps, sore throat, earache, toothache, bruises, burns, wounds and sprains, a whit behind its celebrity as a horse Liniment. The Mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the "rising generation," and in fact there is not a city or township in the United States where the MUSTANG LINIMENT is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and improprieties which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its popularity as a wholesome tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitter," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

Laconics.

On Monday fifty-eight men from the U. S. S. Marion were paid off.

The Exhibition at the Methodist Church this evening will commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

A free fight on Water and a filibustering party on Congress Street, were in the record of Sunday evening's doings.

The railroad men of this vicinity are quizzing a new station agent, who made a requisition for "red oil" for signal lamps.

The Lyceum-goers seem to have had full satisfaction given them by the committee in charge of the entertainments. James P. Bartlett, Esq., is to favor them with popular readings next Thursday evening. Evening tickets may be purchased at the door. Ticket No. 10 will admit all who have attended the regular Course.

Frank W. Hackett, Esq., formerly of this city and recently of the Boston bar, will sail for Europe this week in the capacity of private secretary to Hon. Caleb Cushing, who represents the United States before the Geneva Conference. The party proceed at once to Paris, where a stay of a few months will be made before the Conference meets.

Ananias made his diurnal call at the Custom House, Saturday, but the "confirmation" hadn't arrived. He then betook himself to the nearest pond, and being a slippery fellow, engaged in a nice game of slide. He fell and bumped his head on the ice, which accounts for the silly column regarding an imaginary Custom House examination in the hand organ of Monday.

A nice entertainment is in store for lovers of amusement, at the Temple this evening. John L. Hall and his accomplished wife (nee Emily Wiseman) have hosts of admirers here, while Morris and the other members of the troupe are well known. The programme is a good one, and those who like a chaste performance, full of life and fun, had best wend their way Temple-ward at an early hour to secure good seats.

This (Tuesday) evening the last of the very successful Course of Assemblies given by Mr. J. G. Anthoine comes off in Irving Hall. Mr. Anthoine has proved himself a thoroughly competent instructor in dancing, and as this is the last entertainment of the kind he will give here (being about to remove from the city) his former pupils and patrons will doubtless give him a rousing benefit. Tickets may be procured at the door.

A number of young men in this city, for Sunday evening recreation, are in the habit of festooning the sidewalk on Congress Street in self admiration, to be gazed at by female loveliness passing to and fro from lectures. Severe comments against this practice have been made by some of our citizens and Marshal Johnson not liking such statuesque performances, will take measures to keep them moving. Some other reforms are on the tapis which will be conducive to good order.

Fire.

Shortly before 8 o'clock, Monday evening, fire was discovered in and about the barn of Mr. George Scott on Green Street, adjoining the residence of Mr. Daniel E. Trefethen, and before the Fire Department could turn out the barn was a mass of flames and the easterly end of the house in a blaze. But the river was close by and Steamer No. 3 soon put on a stream, quickly followed by the others, and the fire was drowned into harmlessness inside of five minutes. The barn is a mere shell. Mr. Scott had $2500 insurance, which covers the loss. Mr. Trefethen's house was badly damaged by fire and water. We hear he is insured. The total loss will not exceed $2000. The Fire Department worked like heroes and were never better managed. A second alarm came from the ruins about half past 10 o'clock, but no further damage was done.

THE THROUGH TRAIN on the Boston and Maine Railroad, due in Boston at half-past eight o'clock on Friday evening, struck and killed a man who was walking on the track, toward the train, near Wilmington Junction. The body was carried to Wilmington, but was not identified. He was about 35 years old and dressed in dark clothes. It is not known what rendered him insensible to the approach of the train, but it is thought that he was confused by a blow on the face which a bruise indicated that he had received a short time previous.

—Joselly, an Italian photographer, has succeeded in taking submarine views.

New Publications.

The Children's Hour, edited by T. S. Arthur, is a little magazine for the instruction and amusement of the people, both old and young. The Children's Hour is published in Philadelphia at $1.25 a year.

Arthur's Lady's Home Magazine, for February, comes laden with its usual supply of good reading for the household. It is announced that Miss Townsend will commence a sequel to her story, "A Dollar a Day," in the March number. Terms $2 a year, with a large reduction to clubs. Address T. S. Arthur & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

The February number of The Nursery is ready, and is just as good as ever and that is to say about as good as it can be.

Le Bon Ton for February is out and has elegant fashion plates. S. T. Taylor, publisher, 391 Canal St., New York.

Home and Health for January has articles on The Health of Our Women, Over-much Study, Our Food, Will Alcohol Ward off Cold (answered in the negative), Hydropathy and Hygiene, How to Keep Well, The Tea Question, and miscellaneous health notes. De Puy, Holmes & Co., publishers, 805 Broadway, New York. $1.50 per annum.

Work and Play for February is at hand, looking bright and attractive with full page oil print in colors, interesting sketches by the most popular writers, Uncle Raphael's lesson in Drawing and Mechanics, and Illustrated Puzzle Department. Mr. Warner continues his papers to boys. Milton Bradley & Co., publishers, Springfield, Mass.

Woods' Household Magazine for February is an interesting number of a periodical especially adapted for home interest. It is fresh and lively, inculcates good morals, and has piquant articles of unquestionable excellence. Only $1 per annum. Address S. S. Wood & Co., Newburgh, N.Y.

The Phrenological Journal has begun the year well. It is a capital family magazine. In the February number we find illustrated articles and sketches on James Denoon Reymert, the eminent Norwego-American; How the Faculties Combine; Protoplasm, or the Mystery of Physical Life; Expression—its Anatomy and Philosophy; Conjugal Psychology; Joshua Watson, the Philanthropic Churchman; "Follow your Nose," or, How the Nose indicates character; Rheumatism, its Causes and Cure; Great Criminals; Plain Penmanship; Pre-Adamites Found in the Bible, a new reading of Genesis; Governor Washburn of Massachusetts; A Marvelous Conjurer; Pickles, etc. $3 a year. S. R. Wells, New York.

FOUR BOYS broke through the ice on the Acushnet River, near New Bedford, Sunday, and were drowned.

SEWING MACHINES

CHEAP AT LAST!

Having received a large number of Sewing Machines (including nearly all kinds) in EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"

I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new ones of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. Now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by installments. I still continue my offer of

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

— OF —

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or presser—and many of these argue we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

DROUBLES UND ODER DINGS.

To nighd ve'm in a heab of droubles—dot is, Katrina's in drouble, und ven she vas in drouble dot's my dudy like a good hus'man und citizen to dosk bound fle-quarders of id for mine share. Yes, Katrina she's good blendy drouble tonighd, und she vas sick like der deose—she says she vood rudder found a dousand dollar greenback as had dis habben to habben, und I bleef she was delling der drudt. I vill dell you all aboud id, of you vill lisden for bound a bunch of minudes. Misder Dinkleboddom, dot leefs ofer grass der vay fun our house, is a grade feller for schickens und birds—he's got any gwandidy of dem, und efery vones on a vile Katrina und der young vons dey go ofer und shbend der day mit Mrs. Dingleboddom, und dalk bound der nabors und lisden to der bobbylinks und der redheaded voodpeckers, und canary birds sing und vissle. Vell, of course, dot suids der youngvon, und vot suids dem boody vell dickies der old lady. Lasd Fall somedime Mrs. Dinkleboddom she made her old man a bresent of a new baby, und of course Katrina she vas flewing round like a hen mit his head cud off. Of dere is any one ding in der vorld dot Katrina she knows someding about bedder as any ding else dot's babies. I didn'd know someding aboud id ad all, und ven I comed home I didn'd saw Katrina like usual on der shdoop vaiding for me, so I dinked dot someding vas der madder. I vas frifdened, for I dinked someding has busded loose. I vent all round der place hollering for Katrina, but dere didn'd vas some Katrina dere. Bymby in she rushed all oud of vind, und she says:

"Dot's comed!"

I says: "Is it? vell, all righd?" I dought may be she meaned a barrel of flour dot she dold me der grocery man vas going to brought und I says:

"Vas id full veight?"

"Yes, I should say so—elefen bounds!" und her eyes dem vas big like anyding—"I veighed id myself!"

"Vat did you veigh it mit?"

"Der shedeel yards!"

"You are gidding leoney—der idea of veighing a barrel of flour on a shedeel yards, und dot oney veighing elefen bounds; vy, you mus'd be adding grazy."

"Who's dalking boud a barrel of flour?"

"Vy, you are."

"Nonsinse—I'm dalking bood Mrs. Dinkleboddom's fresh shild."

"Oh, der deose—I dought you vas dalking bound der flour!"

"No, I vas dalking bound der bed"—und den she shmiled a shmile ad der joke. Vell, to me de a short shdory long—Mrs. D. vas awful sick, und der baby vas sick—bor a leedle ding id had der bip und efery ding else dot a baby kin had wildound gidding measured for, und dwo or dree dimes dey exbeeded dot efery mind de vood be id's nexd. Und Katrina she was ofer dere almosd all der dime, and she shmelled so of "Baregoric" and "Old Mudder's Vinslow's Shmoodhing Syrub" Dot I dought may be dot she vos dooking some dood. Katrina bleeds in giving babies blendy of shmeeding syrub—she says der reason dey call dot shmoothing syrub vas, "cause it dooks all der wrinkles oud of der young von's faces ven dey hafe got a bain in deir laps." Funny, aind id? Katrina knows a leedle of efery-ding. Vell, der mudder und shild dey bod dot vell afder a vile, und Mr. Dinkleboddom he called der baby by dor frond name of Oofty—id vas a boy, and he made der old lady a bresend of a singing bird—a canary. My, my, how dickeled Katrina vas mit dot bird, dot use to sing, und varble, und she vas broud like efryding of id. Vell, to-nighd ven I comed home Katrina und der young vons vas grying like der doose—dey all had benign faces—bound sefen be nine. I didn'd know vat do make of id, und I vanted do know vat vos der madder, und offder a vile I found eud dot der canary bird he had vissled his land node und yos now amongsd der dings dot aind.

"How did he came to die? He vas vell und hardy dis morning."

"Fritzey gifed him a biece of hod shveed pidayder, und he dook a bide of id und fell down on his back und kicked dwo or dree couble or fife dimes mit his legs und dot vos all," und den der vos anoder grying dime. I had der hardead kind of job to bacify der old voman und der shilders, und oney ven I bromised dem to got anoder bird und wride a biece of boultry boud der died ven good I made dem shdop grying. Here it vos:

MY BIRD HE'S GONE DIED.

I had von dime a leedle bird
Mit fedders of der yallerest creen,
Mit such a dobnot on his head,
He vas de nicest sfor seen;
He use do shdood sed on his berch,
Und visel und sing der hole day long,
Den jump righd down and ged some seed,
Ven he got drough mit his nice song.

I use do always catch him flies,
Vender dere vas some flies around,
Und ven der vasn'd, I gib him vorms,
Dot look in holes vay down der ground;
I use do led him oud his cage,
Vooln'd he had some goot dimes den?
Ven he vas dired mit flying around,
He always vood go back again.

I use do hung him in der sun,
Und dhat some vader in a bowl,
Und den you oughd to saw him vonce;
You oughd do saw him dwist and roll,
Und fleb dot vader ond der cage;
He use do had some belly fun,
Bud he vooln'd had no fun some more,
Cause all his bleasures dem vos done.

Ven dot poor bird he vas gone died—
Dot makes my heart feel tender ad,
For ven I look ub at dot cage,
I dink of dot bird I use to had;
Still, I dink he vas bedder off
Dan of he shdaid alife mit me,
Und I'm sure he's ub in Paradise,
A visiting someding on a tree.

Dere, I don'd know how you like dot poody vell—und I don'd care. Katrina likes id, und der young vons like id, mit der excebshions of Fritzey—he say dot dere ought to be a verse in id boud der hod pidayder—dot vood hafe make id verse as efer. Efer of don,

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and other Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf8t6

CELLARS UNDER DWELLINGS. — In many instances cellars under dwellings are no doubt the indirect cause of disease and death. We know of at least one house in this city which has a cellar under it, the sight of which would convince any one of the truth of the above remark. And having noted the different families that have occupied it during the past four or five years, we have also become convinced that a large amount of sickness and a very high death rate, have prevailed in families who have rented it for longer or shorter periods. The drainage of the cellar is poor, the bottom is a mud hole, the timbers and wood-work in the cellar (the sleepers and under floors) damp, rotten, and covered with damp, green, offensive mould. The upper floors and wall paper are damp with mould, and if the house is closed for a day, one cannot breath in it a moment until thoroughly ventilated. We do not wonder disease and death attend human beings who dwell over such a breeding place of foul gases.

The cellars of farm houses, if otherwise favorably conditioned, from the fact of their being the storing places during the winter of meats, vegetables, milk, butter, cheese, fish and other decaying commodities, more or less in a state of decomposition, are often the source of much unhealthfulness. The carbonic acid gas evolved and ascending to the upper parts of the dwelling have an injurious effect on the health of the inmates, children especially; and if they do not die of cholera infantum, some form of throat disease, typhoid fever, pneumonia or consumption, they lead miserable, sickly lives, and sooner or later succumb to the slow poison taken into the system. A remedy for this is in ample ventilation; not only ventilation of all the rooms of the dwelling, but of the cellar itself. And this should not be ventilated through the door leading to the rooms above, but directly through the cellar windows. These should occasionally be removed for a short time during moderate days in winter, and also during the long warm days of spring, that the noxious gases may be thoroughly driven out. To disregard this simple precaution, is to knowingly endanger the lives and health those occupying unventilated apartments.—Mc. Farmer.

—A writer in the Overland Monthly gives the following account of a California tea plantation: At Colonel W. W. Hollister's, I saw something I had never seen before. The Colonel has a tea plantation, in an evidently flourishing condition; but, though the plants looked thriving and the planter believes that, in time, he will reap an abundant harvest, this is a venture I should not advise many to embark in for the present. Fortunately, Colonel Hollister has both the means and the disposition to make these experiments, of which the farming community of all California will some day reap the benefit. Shall I expose my ignorance by confessing that I never before knew that there is really but one tea-plant? The different varieties we buy are only the result of the different manipulations in preparing it for the market. The plants themselves look to me like little young orange trees. I saw them from one to four inches in height, and the seeds are about the size and shape of a small hazel nut. Together with the tea, the Colonel has imported a "live Japanese," to take charge of the plantation; so that, if tea raising succeeds at all, it certainly will here. His almond orchard, too, is on a grander scale than that of his neighbors; fifty thousand trees have already been set out—some of them, in fact are over two years old—and fifty thousand more are being planted. Speaking of his neighbors; they are not so very near. The Colonel has a hundred thousand acres, more or less, on which to plant tea, cotton, or Canada thistles, should he so choose.

—A Kentucky editor tells this with a sober face: "The wild pigeons have a roost at Calloway; it embraces an area of four miles long by three wide. The reports we have of the number of pigeons to be found there of a night is incredible. The hunters go there and shoot indiscriminately in the dark, then with a lantern they follow the range of the gun and gather up the dead and wounded pigeons. Fifteen to twenty-five at a shot is usual. It is said on good authority that John McElrath of Murray killed one hundred and twenty-four pigeons at a shot."

—There is a libel case on trial at Rochester, N. Y., arising from the fact that Mrs. Jennette Brunard, in November, had photographs taken by a man named Fox. In April following, the defendant, it was proved, displayed one of her pictures in front of his place with the following placard about six inches square attached: — "One-half dozen photographs ordered by this very stylish young lady, and payment respectfully and insultingly refused." The young lady, who was then a minor had no guardian. She lays her damages at $5000.

—A lady has just started from Damariscotta, Me., for Bombay, where she is to be married.

—Babylon, L. I., has a Babel Hotel.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no toxic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them exposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER's consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in asserting inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."E

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of his competent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1872.

Congress.

The House voted on a resolution on Monday proposing to amend the Constitution by making naturalized citizens eligible to the presidency and vice-presidency. Negatived yeas 91; nays 75;—less than the requisite two-thirds in the affirmative.

A bill was introduced in the Senate, Monday, for the purchase of Cuba. It is believed that Spain desires to sell.

Political.

Senator Wilson, of Mass., wants to be Vice-President. Why, we know not. Hon. Schuyler Colfax has made an excellent Vice-President and deserves re-election. Should the office be conferred on a New England man we know of no one more deserving the high honor than Secretary Boutwell.

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the name of the Republican nominee for Senator in this district. Warren Brown, of Hampton Falls, is the candidate. He has no middle name. We notice that some of our contemporaries speak of him as J. Warren Brown.

The following table of the votes of this State for the past five years will be convenient for reference:

	Repub.	Opposition.
1867 Gov. vote	35,809	32,799
1868 " "	39,785	37,292
1869 " "	35,777	32,046
1870 " "	34,557	33,493
1871 " "	33,892	35,837
1871 R R.Com. vote	34,493	35,388

Mr. Buckminster, the Republican candidate for Railroad Commissioner, received 601 more votes than the Republican candidate for Governor, last year, the majority against him being 895.

State News.

On the 7th, in Errol, Mr. Thomas Laphad fell down stairs in the darkness and broke a leg. Mr. George Wolcott of Claremont lost several fingers from his right hand at the Sullivan Machine Works on the 15th. A Mr. Remick of Lancaster had a like injury to two fingers on the 13th. A Frenchman in the employ of the Messrs. Brown at White-field got a leg broken between logs on the 12th. Lorin Cummings of Colebrook, aged six, fell on the floor and broke one leg.

In 1870 seventy-nine acres of tobacco were raised in Hinsdale, but the culture has been found very profitable and a hundred and thirty-three acres were raised in 1871.

On the 12th, in Strafford, a three-year old son of Mr. Alonzo Cater was rejoicing over the return of his great grandfather and fell into a pail of hot water in jumping about. The mother was washing the floor and had just turned her back to pump some cold water. He died the next day.

It is alleged now that Rev. Calvin E. Hardy of Strafford, who reported himself robbed of a large sum of money, only lost his watch. It is further said that he owes $3800, and folks now begin to think him a pious fraud.

The G. A. R. at Dover claims to have disbursed $1300 to needy soldiers last year.

George E. Bean, Selectman of Raymond, has commenced a suit against George S. Robie for defamation of character. Last March Bean was elected one of the Selectmen, and Robie has reported since that when he went forward to take the oath of office, he was very much intoxicated.

Dennis Shea, of Manchester, aged 45 years, crushed in his wife's head with a flat-iron, on Tuesday. He then committed suicide by cutting his throat. Mrs. Shea was alive in the afternoon. They had four children.

STEAMSHIP NADA, on her voyage to Alexandria, Egypt, encountered a heavy gale. She was crowded with natives, many of whom were on deck. During the thickest of the storm, a sea swept the decks from stem to stern, and thirty-five passengers were carried overboard and drowned.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH.—The following is an abstract of the bill reported to the Senate to connect the telegraph with the postal service:—

Section one establishes postal telegraph-offices at all the post-offices on telegraph lines, and at all other post-offices where the gross receipts for postage are $500 a year, if within 10 miles of telegraph lines.

Section two fixes the rates, uniform for equal distances, at 25 cents between offices not over 250 miles apart; 50 cents between offices over 250 miles apart and under 500 miles, and 25 cents for each additional 500 miles. Night rates, 25 cents for 1000 miles, the rates to be refunded for delays or mistakes in transmission.

Section three provides for the prepayment by stamps and for the destruction of all telegrams within one month.

Section four fixes the press rates for each 100 words of special despatches at 50 cents by night and 75 cents by day. It also fixes the rates for press associations and for private wires for newspapers.

Section six defines the duties of the fourth-assistant postmaster-general over telegraph lines.

Section seven authorizes the Postmaster-General to contract for the transmission of telegrams at the above rates with parties who will furnish and operate the necessary lines of telegraph.

Section eight contains provisions against tampering with telegrams and makes telegrams privileged communications, as private letters.

Section nine authorizes the Postmaster-General to reduce the rates in the manner therein described.

Section ten incorporates a Postal Telegraph Company for the performance of postal telegraph service, on behalf of the Postmaster-General.

Section eleven and twelve authorize the company to buy the existing lines, and obliges it to purchase all such lines, if required by the owners thereof, at an appointed value. It fixes the capital stock at an amount not exceeding the last cost of its lines.

Section thirteen authorizes the company to open offices wherever the wants of business may require.

Section fourteen authorizes Congress to purchase lines at any time at an appraised value.

Section fifteen reserves to Congress the right to alter or amend the act.

New Publications.

The current number of The Aldine is a worthy successor to the January issue, which was so universally hailed as the challenge of America to the artistic world. The past history of this periodical seems to forbid any misgivings in regard to the capacity of its conductors for a sustained effort, and the public may confidently look for that steady progression toward the highest possible excellence which is a marked feature as we turn the pages of last year's volume.

The Tribune Almanac for 1872, containing valuable astronomical records, laws passed by Congress at its last session, the enforcement act, the Washington treaty, receipts and disbursements for 1871, population of the several States, classification of the members of both Houses of Congress, and the election returns of all the States, is just published. For sale at the book stores.

SAFETY ON RAILROADS.—Mr. James R. Kendrick, recently appointed Superintendent of the Old Colony & Newport Railroad, is setting a good example in railroad management, being one of the most faithful railroad men in New England. He has issued printed circulars to each of the employees of that road, with imperative orders for the observance of signals for extra trains or engines, signals for danger, and when it is foggy or stormy, or from any cause it may be doubtful whether the signal can be seen, torpedoes are to be placed on the track near the danger, on the explosion of which engineers are to stop the train as soon as possible. Two men are to be sent half a mile to stop any approaching train in case of danger. He also charges the engineers in regard to time between trains entering and passing stations, the speed of their trains, and especially the signal for drawbridges. Two large red lamps are to be fastened behind every train or engine running at night, in place of the former custom of one red lamp on the platform of the rear car.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We received a very pleasant letter of thanks from our old friend Kendall, since his return home, for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment which we gave him, and which he says has entirely cured him of the troublesome and dangerous cough he had when here.

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchaser on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open, and the feet warm." If physic is necessary, use Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the starver sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

Housekeepers and heads of families can find the Halford at their grocer's.

A STABLE INSTITUTION.—Just at the period when all stable-men were complaining that the horse-ointments of the day were unstable remedies, the MUSTANG LINIMENT made its entree in Missouri, without any flourish of trumpets, and within one year became the favorite embrocation for the external distempers and injuries of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of accomplished horsemen; nor is its household reputation as a cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore nipples and caked breasts, tumors, mumps, sore throat, earache, toothache, bruises, burns, wounds and sprains, a whit behind its celebrity as a horse Liniment. The Mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the "rising generation," and in fact there is not a city or township in the United States where the MUSTANG LINIMENT is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and imprudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to force their customers with "local bitters," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Communicated.

Our Public Schools.

Two recent communications in the Chronicle show an increasing interest in the welfare of our public schools. Almost every parent has a strong desire to give his children the best education possible, for on this depends their future usefulness and prominence in active life. In the New England States particularly, where popular education is generally diffused, we find morality, industry and prosperity; consequently the higher we elevate our common schools, the higher will be our standard of morals and enterprise. The present condition of our schools in this city argues well for the past; but there is much to be done in the future to rank them with those of some towns in Massachusetts and other States where more liberal appropriations are made and greater attention and encouragement given to the teachers employed. Our present system of electing a board of school committee can be greatly improved. No business man is willing or can afford to bestow that time and attention, which is necessary to acquire a perfect insight and knowledge of the relations of teacher and pupil. We have a general school committee, divided into sub-committees for each district. These several committees visit only those schools located in the district to which they belong, and know nothing of the relative standard of schools of the same grade in other portions of the city.

Again. The High School Committee consists of one member from each district sub-committee, and the general school board know nothing of the doings of the High School. What we need is a general superintendent, whose duty shall be to secure uniformity and thoroughness in the course of study in all the schools acting under the authority of the general board, and who shall have the superintendence of all the public schools, school houses, apparatus, and all property belonging thereto. He should have a salary sufficient to enable him to devote himself faithfully to the duties appertaining to his office. He should acquaint himself with the public school system of this and other cities, and with all matters pertaining to the discipline and instruction of public schools, that the children of this city may obtain the best education which the schools are able to impart. He should visit the different schools at any time, examine the classes, note the mode of government, and instruction of each teacher, and aid and encourage teachers and scholars. He should keep a record of such visits and examinations and exhibit the same to the inspection of the general committee. There should be monthly meetings of the general board and the superintendent required to be present with his report; and in order to advise with and aid the teachers in their duties, the superintendent should require them to be present, at such time and place as the board should designate. All complaints of teachers, parents or pupils, should be referred to him, and in those cases where any difficulty occurs in settlement, he should consult the appropriate sub-committees, or refer to the general board. It is hoped that this subject will be taken up by other interested parties, and the long desired reformation be soon brought into operation.

Laconics.

The Hall Comedy Company give their last entertainment to-night. A large audience assembled at the Temple to see them, Tuesday evening, and a jolly experience they had. Mr. Hall was as funny as ever and Mrs. Hall and Johnny Morris met their old friends in their old style of pleasing. Every minute of the evening was one of entertainment. The mysterious Munroe showed wonderful changes and is a great attraction. A nice bill is offered for this evening.

Our esteemed friend, Mr. Alfred M. Hoyt, the celebrated mathematician and astronomer, came near getting seriously injured at the Navy Yard on Tuesday by a heavy bar of iron which was being borne across the Yard on the shoulders of twenty or thirty men. The end of the bar struck Mr. H. in the neck with such force as to knock him down, although, we are happy to state, without serious injury. Had the blow been received a few inches higher, however, the result must have been far more serious.

"Frank Jones and I just run the First District," says Ananias. Rough on Frank Jones, that was.

Portsmouth Music Society rehearsal this (Wednesday) evening, at Mr. Tilton's room.

The trains on the Eastern Railroad began using the new double track as far as Ipswich, Monday. A new engine called the New Hampshire was placed on the road last week.

The U. S. Supreme Court has affirmed the decree of the southern New York district court in the case of the steamer William H. Webb vs. ship Shooting Star, for alleged negligence in towing the ship from this city to New York, with a modification reducing the damages to $18,000.

Last week, John Row, a sub-contractor on the Boston & Maine extension, absconded with $1200, leaving bills of a larger amount unpaid. Laborers and boarding-house keepers are the principal sufferers.

On Saturday morning, about 8 o'clock, fire was discovered issuing from the barn of Mr. James Brackett on Winnicut Road in Greenland. The barn with its contents, consisting of farming utensils, hay, &c., including a valuable horse, was totally destroyed; loss $800. Insured for $400.

We would again remind our readers of the concert next Monday evening, at the Temple. Mr. Martyn is busily engaged securing the best assistance available, and the entertainment promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the season. Tickets, which have been put at 35 cents, can be had at Preston's, Hutchinson's, Rand's, and other places.

—The railroad men of this vicinity are quizzing a new station agent, who made a requisition for "red oil" for signal lamps.

SAFETY.

Rye.

The course of free lectures here is to be continued some time longer. It is understood that the manager has secured the services of Prof. E. T. Quimby of Dartmouth College, for the next lecture, and he will accordingly speak here on Friday evening, Jan. 26. His subject will be "The progress of science," and the lecture will undoubtedly be one of the most instructive of the course.

The following is a list of the speakers who have enlightened us in various ways, and the subjects of their lectures: Rev. G. W. Bicknell of Portland—"Enthusiasm;" Rev. Thomas Dunn—"Papal Infallibility;" Rev. D. P. Pike, of Newburyport—"Temperance;" G. H. Jenness, Esq., of Rye—"Something of the past;" Hon. Joseph Kidder, of Manchester—"Our common schools;" Elder Miles Grant, of Boston—"An examination of spiritualism;" Hon. Uri Lamprey, of Hampton—"A trip west;" Rev. F. H. Lyford, of Hampton—"Across the continent in 1849;" Morris Cotton, Esq., of North Hampton—"Moral and material standards;" Rev. A. H. Morrell, of Newcastle—"Student life." The lectures have been largely attended, and in the main interesting and instructive.

The Superintending School Committee is completing arrangements for a grand union School Exhibition, which is expected to take place in about five weeks. Probably more than 150 scholars will take part, and it is the design of the manager to eclipse anything of the kind heretofore attempted in this town. As the scholars are not allowed to prepare their "pieces" in school hours, the objections usually raised against school exhibitions cannot be urged in opposition to this one. Due notice will be given, in season to inform all who may wish to attend. Beadle's Dime Dialogues and similar publications are in great demand, and the young folks are preparing for immediate rehearsals.

Mr. Chase, of Seabrook, has commenced a singing school in the vestry, which is largely attended. A dancing school is spoken of as among the "probabilities." It is proposed to close the free lecture course by a grand Old Folks' Concert, in which the "Ancient Harmony Revived" will be a conspicuous feature.

ATLANTIC.

Kittery.

The sixth lecture of the High School course was delivered Wednesday evening by G. H. Jenness, Esq., of Rye. Subject, "Something of the Past." The lecturer by a happy classification and effective narration of important historical events and apt comparisons of men, things and customs of the past with the present, very satisfactorily demonstrated that while we live in a fast age, we are not producing the greatest characters nor rearing the most lasting monuments of magnificence or art. The Greeks and Latins beat us in love, war and some of the arts, but in the matter of Shoddy, we seem to have the lead. It was a valuable lecture and well delivered.

NEW MUSIC. — We have received from O. Ditson & Co. the following pieces of music: Chicago Rediviva, words by Punch; Grand Duke Alexis, Welcome March; Go Ahead Galop, by H. B. Hart; The Piquant Beauty, Edward Hoffmann; Beside the Sea, ballad by Virginia Gabriel; When Shall I be a Bride, song, M. Keller.

PROF. DELISSIER predicts an earthquake in Canada on the 26th inst.

—A Michigan blacksmith began work with a powder flask in his pocket. The new shop will be completed in March.

—For merely attempting to hang a boy in Seymour, Ind., a man was fined $5 and costs, recently.

—An Evansvillian admonished his wife with a wringing machine, and now reposes in jail.

—Chicago taxes one cent on a dollar.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices —and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Morning Chronicle.

OUR CREDIT ABROAD.—A cable dispatch brought this week unwelcome news to the owners of American five-twenty bonds, unlike, though, the information received some years ago by holders of Austrian government securities, that they had to submit to a reduction of the stipulated rate of interest; nor was it in its tenor like the new threatened tax upon the coupons on Spanish obligations. Thanks to the Constitution of the United States, its people can govern themselves without maintaining large standing armies, which greatly enables that government to pursue a financial policy never before attempted by any of the world. Without the aid of any contributions, and with a steadily decreasing taxation, the public debt has already been reduced by the amount of $509,438,204 since the rebellion was crushed, and Mr. Boutwell now gives notice that twenty millions more will be called in during the next three months. With pride and satisfaction they every American contemplate the persistent efforts of the administration to pay off the public debt at the rate of one hundred cents in gold, for which the European holders have in the aggregate paid from fifty to sixty cents. Meditating minds are struck with admiration at the results achieved by that young country, which by its unprecedented energy, contradicts the old adage, "Nothing new under the sun."

It is, therefore, not surprising that the opponents of America are steadily diminishing in Europe, and that those who formerly designated every thing coming across the Atlantic as "American humbug" have dwindled into insignificant numbers. Although the bonds do not rate equal with English consols, the financial position of the United States can nevertheless compare favorably with that of any other country, as the practical mind of its inhabitants leads them to invest in industries which can speedily develop the vast resources of the country, in preference to depositing their capital and surplus earnings in values of a passive nature. Already English capitalists perceive that American government obligations are, by a greater rate of interest, as desirable and offer equal security as English consols; and we do not discount the future too much in predicting that in two years, or even in less time, four per cent. American may rate higher than three per cent. English consols. German capitalists, who are always in search of values of undoubted security, will likewise consider favorably four and four and a half per cent. Americans as a permanent investment, and we think they will give evidence thereof by the alacrity with which they will receive the new bonds whenever the Secretary of the Treasury will begin their conversion to the extent legalized by Congress.

Since the receipt of the above-mentioned telegram all United States bonds not threatened with immediate call for redemption are held more firmly, and orders could not be effected even at a decided advance. The owners of such bonds have good reasons to rejoice that they did not heed the admonitions of a certain German paper, which some years ago continually cautioned the public against the importation of those securities, and repeatedly remarked: "America overflows the German markets with too many of its bonds, and no other but 82s should be quoted at their bourses." Notwithstanding these warnings the bonds came, and, besides yielding a high rate of interest to their owners, they are to-day twenty to twenty-five per cent. higher than at the period of their introduction.—German-American Economist.

MATILDA HERON, in the very greatest brilliancy of her career, became fascinated with a man who had gained some reputation as a musician, a composer and leader of an orchestra. It was his music that won her. She loved him, and married him because she loved him. He had other motives. It was not her talent, it was not her personal appearance, it was not her kind heart or good reputation which attracted him. It was the money she had earned and her ability to earn more. It did not take long for the loving but deceived wife to discover this. Harsh things and sorrowful things are quickly forced upon our comprehension in this world.

Matilda Heron no sooner became convinced of this than she set about to do what only her own generous, but peculiar, nature could have suggested. "He married me for my money," she said to her friends, "and he shall have it." She at once proceeded to make over to him in legal form her house, her wardrobe, her diamonds, everything of value which she had in the world. It was in vain that her friends attempted to dissuade her from a course so absurd from a utilitarian point of view. She was obstinate in her purpose, and completed the sacrifice by paying this man $1,800 a year rent for the very house which she deeded to him, and which she had paid for with her own hardly earned money. Of this husband, it is sufficient indication of character to say that he accepted all this.

Matilda Heron had no heart for the stage after this. She determined to earn her living by teaching elocution. But pupils were few for the woman who was now poor and obscure. She removed from one residence to another, trying to live by economy when she could not work. It was of no use. She was forced again to try the stage. But grief had made sad havoc with her spirits, time dreadful inroads upon her attractions.

"You can never please the public with that figure," said one manager to her.

"The public will look only at the heart and brains of Matilda Heron," she said, confidently.

But her confidence was misplaced. The public had found new ideas and neglected its old favorite. Then she wrote new plays, in which she hoped to attract with novelty. One of them, it is remembered, was called "The Belle of" somewhere.

"It is an excellent play," said the manager who produced it for her, "but it needs a belle."

The next that is heard of this poor, broken woman is the laughing stock of a St. Louis audience, because of her misfortunes and the negligence of her manager. They speak of her now as "crazy," and perhaps they are right. She has certainly had trials and grief enough to make her so.—Chicago Times.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

WATER-PROOF SOLES.—If hot tar is applied to boot soles, it will make them water-proof. Let it be as hot as leather will bear without injury, applied with a swab, and drying in the fire. The operation may be repeated two or three times during the winter, if necessary. It makes the surface of the leather quite hard, so that it wears longer, as well as keeps the water out. It is a good plan to provide boots for winter during the summer, and prepare the soles by tarring, as they will then become hard before they are wanted, and wear twice as long as those unprepared.

Ten years ago I met with a direction similar to the above, and with some hesitation I concluded to have it tried on the soles of a pair of field boots. By way of experiment, a pair of thin-soled morocco boots was tarred with the others, the soles being saturated and the seaming too, all round, including the lower rim of the morocco all round the soles. As these boots are doing service yet, and have been much used every summer during the ten years, I mention the fact because it furnishes what I then wished for, namely, a proof that the tar would not burn or otherwise hurt the leather. The soles remain like horn, and have never required any repair, and even the thin upper apparently cracked in all directions from the first, has never torn but a little on one boot, at the bend on the outer side of the foot. It has been oiled about once each summer, but the soles received but the one thorough tarring. Boot soles will take tar best after having the grain worn off slightly. It soon dries in, if exposed to the sun, and the odor, even of gas tar, is quickly overcome by the all conquering effects of dry earth. A short walk over a fallow field will remove it completely, and make it entirely unnecessary to imitate the eastern custom of taking off the boots at the house entrance, unless there be some other reason for it than fresh-tarred soles.—Country Gentleman.

A TRULY GOOD MAN.—A rigid Sabbatarian, who occasionally exhorts in church, and fills the office of Justice of the Peace in a Pennsylvania village, not long since went on a deer hunt with a party composed of five or six young hunters. By some unaccountable mistake, he lost his reckoning, and, much to his mortification, he found, on reference to his papers on the third day of the hunt, that it was Sunday, when he had supposed it was Saturday. He opened the morning with a prayer, and told his companions that, as a Christian and a magistrate, he could not hunt that day, and accordingly drew forth his pocket Bible, and commenced reading.

His worldly-minded companions thought, with the Baltimore bank man, "there were no Sabbaths in revolutionary times," and took the hounds and started in pursuit of game. It was not long before the whole pack were in full cry, and the worthy magistrate, on looking up from the sacred volume, discovered a fine buck making for the camp. Without a minute's deliberation, he seized a loaded rifle, and plugged the deer between the antlers.

"Gentlemen," said he, when his friends came to the spot, "it is contrary to the laws of Moses and the revised statutes of Pennsylvania to travel on Sunday, and for that reason I shot that fellow."

THE RIVERSIDE BULLETIN for January has these paragraphs:

A venerable scholar who recently died and was the spoil of honor in things great and small, respecting his words and the words of others, and not above respect for a comma, was in the habit he told us last New Year's of answering every letter, making every call, paying every debt that might be due before the last day of the year had closed, that he might enter on the new unembarrassed. There was the sense of a clean division between the old year, put away among things past, and the new year taken down and started on its gathering course.

Printer's errors are the scape-goat by which authors' sins are frequently carried away, and it is not often that so fair and hearty a recognition of the printer's place in literature is given as in a letter to certain printers from which we are allowed to make this quotation: "I fear that my copy must have given your men (whose skill and patience I have often admired) a great deal of trouble, and as I now place beside the nearly finished page recollection of the MSS., often crowded, confused, blind, my conviction of the indebtedness of authors to printers is revived and strengthened. I see more clearly than ever that a large share of the value of literature is due to the knowledge, judgment, and taste of the compositors, proof-readers, and pressmen."

—The love letters which Josie Mansfield received from James Fisk, and the loveless letters which she sent to that wooer, show the man to have been a good-hearted fool and the woman a cold-hearted knave.—Golden Age.

—A young lady being asked by a rich old bachelor, "if not yourself, who would you rather be?" blushed as she sweetly replied, "Yours, truly."

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, PAPUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They are mild only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1872.

Congress.

Senate.—On the 23d, Mr. Morton spoke against a general amnesty, and predicted that if granted the next step would be to pension rebel soldiers, the next to pay rebel soldiers for their property taken by the Union armies in the war, including slaves, and the next to pay the Confederate debt. He declared himself opposed to universal amnesty, and characterized the arguments in its favor as based upon sickly sentimentalism and spurious generosity. It was, perhaps, not generally known that Jefferson Davis and all his followers had as much right to vote as any man who served in the Union army. It was argued that amnesty would conciliate the people of the South, but he believed that the leaders could no more be conciliated in that way than rattlesnakes could be conciliated by restoring their extracted fangs. They would die, as they had lived, rebels. If universal amnesty were to be granted now, it would be impossible to convince the next generation that there was anything wrong in the rebellion, and the republican party could not concede guiltlessness of the rebellion without falsifying its whole record and disgracing itself before the world. The whole democratic party were unable to understand this administration [laughter], or the times in which they lived. They were like a man riding in a car backwards, who never sees anything until he is clear past it. [Laughter.] Mr. Pomeroy, from the committee on public lands, reported a bill setting apart certain lands near the head-waters of the Yellowstone River as a public park. This valley, he said, was about 40 by 44 miles in extent and full of natural curiosities, but without any good agricultural lands, and he thought it important to pass the bill before private parties should go in and establish claims, as they had done in the Yosemite valley.

House.—In committee of the whole on the legislative and executive appropriation bill, Mr. Garfield of Ohio spoke at some length in explanation of the bill, which appropriates $2,336,000 less than the same bill last year, and $3,000,000 less than the estimates.

Mr. Wood attacked the administration for its extravagant and enormous expenditures.

Mr. Hale of Maine replied by a comparison with the Buchanan administration which, he said, increased the debt $34,000,000 in time of profound peace.

THE HOUSE APPORTIONMENT BILL, as reported by the Senate judiciary committee, is essentially changed. The total number of representatives is cut down from 283 to 243, distributed as follows: Setting aside four members for the States of the smallest population, the whole population of the States is divided by 249, to give the basis of representation. Under the apportionment thus made each of the New England States, except Connecticut, loses two. A section of the bill provides that no State shall hereafter be admitted to the Union without having the necessary population to entitle it to one representative according to the ratio of representation fixed by this bill. Should any State after the passage of this act deny or abridge the right of any male inhabitants, 21 years of age and citizens of the United States, to vote at any election named in the Constitution, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the number of representatives apportioned to such a State shall be reduced in proportion to the number that such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens 21 years of age in such a State.

DICK YATES, once governor of Illinois and Senator in Congress, is fast going to the bad. Recently Yates visited a banking house in Springfield, Ill., and demanded $50. It was refused him, whereupon he abused the teller like a pickpocket, and had to be ejected. He visited a saloon and asked for a drink of whiskey. The bar-tender told him he had none, whereupon he grew so violent that he was put out by force. Drunken, friendless and outcast, he is now a perfect wreck, and even his friends have come to the conclusion that the only service he can render is to die.

SMALL POX is spreading throughout New York city, all efforts to confine it to certain districts having failed. Since the first of the month 180 cases have been reported. Last month there were 140 in all. The aversion to vaccination is disappearing, therefore the prompt performance of the work of the physicians on the vaccinating staff is not interfered with.

New Publications.

The February number of Old and New has a paper on "Washington the General," an article by Richard S. Greenough, on "Washington's Expression of Countenance," a paper on "The Standard Likeness of Washington," by J. E. W., and finally a paper by George Hannah, on "Washington's Agricultural Letters." The stories by George MacDonald, and the "Half a Dozen" are continued by two chapters each. Thomas Meehan writes of "Sexual Science," and Orville Dewey of "Selfhood and Sacrifice." In "The Examiner" there is something about "Contemporary Washingtonian Poetry," and a review of James Freeman Clarke's "Ten Great Religions." It is a number of general interest and much special value.

The February number of Harper's Monthly contains an article on "The Scott Centenary at Edinburgh," by M. D. Conway; a second paper by Junius Henri Browne on "Holland and the Hollanders;" a paper on "Old Books in New York," by William C. Prime; and "A Curious Prediction" concerning the great fire in London, by Edward Spencer. All these articles are illustrated. "English in School," by William Atkinson, is a suggestive article touching some features of common school education. There are short stories by William J. Flagg, Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford, Mrs. S. C. Hale, Katherine S. Macquoid, and the author of "My Daughter Elinor." Dr. Samuel Osgood contributes an essay on the labor question, entitled "The Pay Roll of Christendom," and Mr. Eugene Lawrence, a brilliant historical sketch of "The Days of Queen Anne." Mr. Curtis, in the Easy Chair, chats of the Prince of Wales and the Grand Duke.

Oliver Optic's Magazine for February has a continuation of "Sea and Shore;" additional chapters of Elijah Kellogg's "Whispering Pine;" the continued story "Sally Williams, the Mountain Girl;" new exploits of "Capt. Dad's Fishing Club;" and numerous pleasing sketches. The articles that will instruct the reader are "Precious Stones," the seventh of its series; "How to make Paper Boats," with illustrations; "St. Valentine's Day;" "Floral Dictionary"; amusing and instructive "Pigeon-Hole Papers." The illustrations are numerous and attractive. Published monthly by Lee & Shepard, 149 Washington Street, Boston. $2.50 a year in advance.

State News.

On Saturday, the 13th inst., Mr. John Burton of Wilton fell backward on the ice, injuring his head so badly as to cause lockjaw, and, notwithstanding the efforts of the physicians, remained unconscious from the time of the accident up to Tuesday of last week, when he died. Mr. Burton was about sixty years of age, and leaves a wife and family.

Senator Cragin of this State was robbed of a gold watch and $70 on a sleeping car between New York and Baltimore, on the 22d.

REV. JAMES FREEMAN CLARKE, of Boston, has turned his wits in a novel direction in inventing an astronomical lantern. It is a small dark lantern, one side of which is fitted for paper cards, on which are punched, by little pin-holes, the various constellations in the heavens, so that a boy or girl for that matter, who is studying the stars has only to go out o'nights with his or her lantern and a supply of cards, put the constellations in succession in front of the light, and then follow out the originals in the sky. It saves him the trouble of running into the house every few moments to study up his charts.

MRS. LANDERS, who sued the Staten Island ferry company for $5000, for the killing of her husband by the Westfield explosion, recovered the full amount. The jury regretted that the law would not allow them to assess higher damages. This is a test case, to be followed by compromises on more than a hundred law-suits for like sums.

MUTINY.—The crew of barque Warren Hallett, of Boston, mutined in Massachusetts Bay, Tuesday. One of them was killed. Capt. A. J. Wilson was in command. The vessel is at Provincetown.

SECRETARY ROBESON and Mrs. Aulick were married Tuesday morning. The ceremony was attended by the President and other dignitaries.

MRS. WHARTON is found not guilty of poisoning.

—A little Danbury girl, when asked by her mother about suspicious little bites in the sides of a dozen choice apples, answered: "Perhaps, mamma, they may have been frost-bitten, it was so cold last night." The mother retreated.

ANECDOTE OF ETHAN ALLEN.—Ethan Allen once passed up through the Hoosac Valley and spent the Sabbath with a friend in Williamstown, attending church with him and his family. The first and second presidents of Williams College were square-toed in their orthodoxy, having far more faith in Divine wrath and justice than in his love and mercy—and their sermons gave evidence of their obedience to this belief. On this Sabbath, the text of the worthy President Fitch was, "And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?"

Firstly—He laid it down as a fact beyond question that not more than one in one thousand would be saved.

Secondly, thirdly to twelfthly—He said that not one in fifty thousand could be saved.

Ethan Allen took his hat and cane and prepared to leave. His friend said, "Don't leave now."

Seventeenthly dropped from the president's lips, who said he had come to the conclusion that of the countless millions of men not more than one in a hundred thousand would be saved.

The old soldier had been growing uneasy under this rapidly sliding scale, in which the blanks so multiplied and the prizes faded from view. He grasped his hat and cane, when his friend said to him, "Don't go out. He will be through shortly. He's now up to seventeenthly." "Oh, no matter," said Ethan Allen, "any of you are welcome to my chance, if 'tis as slim as he tells of!" and left the church.

—There is a ship now sailing from Holland, built in 1568, when the Prince of Orange was fighting Philip II. of Spain, then at the zenith of his power. She was sailing to the Indies when the Hollanders organized themselves into the "Beggars of the Sea," and as privateersmen earned a reputation which astonished the world. This Dutch ship is called the Commissaries des Koning von der Heine. She passed the Cape of Good Hope, October, 1864, from Batavia for Holland, then 294 years old!

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and imprudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of fortifying the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitter," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We received a very pleasant letter of thanks from our old friend Kendall, since his return home, for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment which we gave him, and which he says has entirely cured him of the troublesome and dangerous cough he had when here.

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchaser on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open, and the feet warm." If physic is necessary, use Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

For coughs, bronchitis and consumption, in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. 573.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Served Him Right.

Citizens in attendance at amusements in the Temple have been frequently annoyed by the rude conduct of overgrown boys who seek in every conceivable manner to make themselves obnoxious. Choruses of yells, whistles and boot heel performances have at times marred the effect of very enjoyable acting, and many persons seldom venture within the building, having become disgusted at the frequent displays of rowdyism.

During a most excellent performance of the Hall Comedy Company, Tuesday evening, a large audience was excessively annoyed by a half drunken, brawling young fellow, who for the first part of the evening betook himself to the gallery. Finally, he chose to go down stairs and, establishing himself conspicuously on a front seat, broke into the dialogue of "Faust" by loud exclamations. At last, Mr. Hall was compelled to speak to him, but he refused to go out, although his entrance money was proffered. As the fellow seemed fully bent on creating a disturbance, the audience room rang with cries of "Put him out," and several gentlemen started to do so. Mr. Hall jumped from the stage to assist Manager Wieg, and the rowdy tried to secure a foul hold, but Mr. Wieg gave him a choking that would have been more satisfactory to the audience had it been a permanent one. Several citizens finding there were no policemen present, assisted in dragging the disturber to the door, from which he was ejected.

By this time, several of the audience had left, but the play was resumed for a very brief period, being again interrupted by the rowdy's appearance in the gallery, boasting that he had only gone up stairs. As Mr. Hall was expostulating with him from the stage, Assistant Marshal Barsantee appeared, arrested the fellow and provided him with quarters for the night at the Police Station. His disappearance from the Temple brought down a storm of applause from the audience.

The gentlemanly managers of the Hall Company were in no-wise censureable for the trouble, and in their desire to secure order showed more forbearance than was necessary, the audience being so excited that had they given the noisy blusterer a whipping for his outrageous conduct and dirty talk it would have been unanimously approved. The play was soon brought to a close, the audience and actors being too much disturbed by the exhibition of rowdyism.

On Wednesday, Mr. Hall entered a complaint against the man for "disorderly conduct," to which he pleaded "guilty." Before the sentence was pronounced, City Solicitor Howard briefly addressed the Court, stating that exhibitions of rowdyism at the Temple had become so frequent that he trusted an example would be made of the prisoner which might deter him and others from making such disturbances again. Judge Page (who was a witness of the disturbance) said that it was necessary that disorderly characters should learn that a public place of amusement must be orderly, that citizens should be protected from insult there and the rights of those giving entertainments be respected. Frequent reports of disturbances imposed on him the duty of administering punishment that would tend to discourage such demonstrations of ill behavior in future. He therefore sentenced him to be confined at hard labor in the House of Correction for thirty days and to pay costs of Court, taxed at $9.18. Another complaint against him for assault was nolle pros'd, Mr. Hall deeming the sentence in the first case sufficiently severe. The action of Judge Page is warmly endorsed by all classes of our citizens.

We suppress the name of the individual who made so unseemly and disgusting an exhibition of himself, at the earnest request of his family connexions; not that he deserves any such consideration, for a more outrageous insult was never offered to a large and respectable audience in this city, at least within our recollection; and if we do wrong (we are by no means certain we do not) in sparing the name of a person who showed so utter a lack of decency and such a total disregard of the rights of others, we promise not to offend in like manner again—for the future we will give the name in full of any man who makes a nuisance of himself in public, in an attempt to "show off" as a terrible fellow.

"Red Oil."

Ananias is at it again—lying when he can, deceiving and misrepresenting others when he maliciously chooses. Just now he is exercised about the "red oil" item which is going the rounds of the press and which we first heard of as a good joke from Eastern Railroad employees. Here it is:—

The railroad men of this vicinity are quizzing a new station agent, who made a requisition for "red oil" for signal lamps.

Ananias copies it with due gravity, and wilfully, maliciously and falsely, with malice aforethought and inborn foolishness natural, responds as follows while charging us with "slander." Hear him:—

All who know the men who are employed on the railroads "in this vicinity," will bear testimony that "ignorant men" are not found either "in the most responsible positions" or in any capacity where education and intelligence are required.

Ananias knows that our item did not locate the "new station agent" in this vicinity, but with his usual happiness at misstating matters comes to the conclusion that "the railroad men of this vicinity" have no right to laugh at a good thing because it did not happen under their noses. If Ananias would study the meaning of sentences, hoop his modicum of brains until they condense sufficiently to enable him to eliminate an idea and then seek his bed betimes to rest from the fatigue thereof, people might think there was a spark of common sense in his make-up. As it is, his Democratic friends are already desirous of his departure from a position in which he shows so much ignorance, and where he has convinced friends and foes that as a right royal ass he has no superior in or out of this State.

Laconics.

They call Ananias "Frank Jones' wart," now.

Mr. Robert Drew is raising the frame of a new dwelling house on his lot on Union Street, near Middle, and next the neat residence recently erected by Mr. Charles H. Joy.—Messrs. Oxford & Johnston have just completed a commodious new stable on Hawthorn Street, near Wibird.

A fireman complains that ladies are always in the way at fires, being more numerous there than men. He asks us to give the ladies "fits"—but we decline to pull his chestnuts from the flame.

The selections to be read by Mr. Bartlett this evening before the Lyceum, will consist of the Trial Scene in the Merchant of Venice, Shakespeare, and a part of the Comedy of the "School for Scandal," Sheridan. It is hoped that Mr. Frank L. Martyn, Professor of Music, will play the prelude upon the organ on the occasion.

The complimentary Organ Concert, given by Mr. Frank L. Martyn, a graduate of the Paris Conservatory of Music, at the Middle Street Church on Tuesday evening, fully established his reputation as an organist. Among the selections was the Overture "Der Oberon," by Von Weber, which requires a brilliancy of execution and nicety of touch, possessed only by artists. Mr. Martyn was equal to the theme. It is suggested that the proposed Concert on Monday evening next, be given in one of our churches in order to give our citizens a chance to hear organ music.

A good-natured soul called at the house of a well known band-leader of this city, recently, with the inquiry, "Has Mr —— lost his violin?" "Not that I am aware of," was the answer; "why?" "Well," responded the good-natured man, "the police picked a chap up on the sidewalk, drunk, and somebody said he'd lost his fiddle, and was the leader of ——'s band! and I just thought I'd let Mr. —— know where there was a fiddle in a green bag, that was picked up, so if 'twas his he could get it." The worthy and popular band-leader, who is not only a gentleman but a strict temperance man, though properly grateful for the kindly interest taken in his welfare is of the opinion that the good-natured man was setting him up altogether too steep.

The Hall Comedy and Burlesque Company closed their successful engagement here Wednesday evening. They give unexceptionable entertainments and merit the success they achieve. Our amusement goers are fond of fun, and as John L. Hall eliminates such a fund of fun he is firmly established here as a favorite. Mrs. Hall is a charming lady, handsome, vivacious and a thoroughly natural actress. Mr. Morris, under Mr. Hall's tutelage, has become one of the most important members of the company and is "high" in burlesque. Munroe is a big card, secured by the wide awake Manager, Mr. Chas. A. Wing. Our citizens were surprised by his odd changes of dress, which are made with great celerity, and went a second time to discover if possible how he put the "tassels on his boots." His wardrobe is a very extensive affair and embraces several ladies' dresses and divers disguises of masculine attire. The Company go to Portland from here and we hope will stop here on their return.

On Wednesday evening, officers Jellison and Barsantee arrested two youngsters aged 16 and 19 years respectively, just as they were about getting aboard the half past five train for Boston, on suspicion that something in relation to their origin and movements was wrong. They were taken to the Police Station where they stated that their names were Schumaker and Brown, and that they had come from New York to Concord and from thence to this city. They arrived hither from Concord on Wednesday morning, and at once attracted the attention of the police by their singular movements and general appearance. One of them had $74 in money and a gold watch, while the limit of the exchequer of the other was $1.50. They are doubtless runaways, and somebody is probably extremely anxious concerning their whereabouts.

The fourth lecture before the People's Lyceum at Kittery, will be delivered by Wm. R. Shipman, A. M., Prof. of Rhetoric, Logic and English Literature in Tufts College, this (Thursday) evening at 7 1-2 o'clock. Subject: "Man the highest Unity."

The following officers of Washington Chapter, No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, were installed Tuesday evening, Jan. 23: Samuel S. Fletcher, High Priest; Benjamin F. Webster, King; Philip S. Mizener, Scribe; John Nutter, Treasurer; Oliver G. Fernald, Secretary; John Christie, Chaplain; John Dame, Capt. of the Host; John R. Holbrook, P. S.; Joseph H. Glines, R. A. Capt.; John Somerby, M. of 3d Vail; Harry G. Tanton, M. of 2d Vail; Alfred J. Hill, M. of 1st Vail; Octavius A. Tarbox, Peter Fray, Stewards; Wm. B. Randall, Tyler; Washington Freeman, Benjamin F. Webster, Standing Committes.

The exhibition at the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening, was a great success, clearing for the Sunday School about $50; not so bad that, at ten cents admission. Everybody was pleased, and the committee were requested to repeat it, but they decided not to do so for a few days at least. The success of the exhibition was largely due to the efforts of the excellent committee, consisting of Messrs. Adams Perry, Jr., Leslie, Parkinson and McIntire, and Mrs. Hawkins, Mrs. Cottle and Miss Nellie Giddings.

The Railroad committee of the Maine legislature has voted to report a bill granting a charter of the road from Kittery to Kennebunkport and Biddeford, along the sea shore, with a proviso that the present road be not discontinued.

The colt burned in the barn of Mr. James Brackett, at Greenland, was owned by George Vandenhoff, Esq., of this city.

Messrs. James W. Lord and Wm. A. Ashe arrived in this city Wednesday afternoon, after an absence of some months at the West. They found many friends to give them a warm welcome home.

City Marshal Johnson will be at the Temple at all entertainments hereafter.

Deacon Hazen Pickering died at Franklin on the 23d. He was born in Barnstead in March, 1810, and was the oldest of a family of nine children, the remaining eight, all married, surviving him. He was a school teacher for ten years in this city. He leaves a wife and two children.

A SMART COW.—One of our neighbors recently purchased a cow, and on the next morning after bringing her home he was surprised on going to the barn to find that she had absented herself entirely. Not being at all able to account for her sudden disappearance, he spent some time in silent meditation on the uncertain nature of all earthly possessions. Having some business however in the loft, up two flights of stairs, he went up, when lo! there was the cow quietly taking her breakfast. While he was revolving in his mind what scientific principle to apply to get her down, she quietly walked down stairs, as much as to say, you see I know my own business.—Machias Republican.

PREPARED FOR A STORM.—A recently married man coming home late, recently, took an umbrella from the rack and proceeded to his room. The wife opened her eyes, and seeing him supporting himself by the foot-board, and holding an umbrella over his head, cried out in astonishment, "What are you doing? Are you crazy?" "No," said he, in an unsteady voice, "but—hic—hic—I suppose there'd be a storm—hic—and so I've come prepared for it."

—A San Francisco paper says: The dead body of a Chinese woman was found recently lying across the sidewalk in a very uncomfortable position. The cause of her death could not be accurately ascertained; but as her head was caved in, it is thought by some physicians that she died of galloping Christianity of the malignant California type.

—It is reported that hundreds of indictments against Tammany ring thieves have been found by the grand jury of the court of general session.

SEWING MACHINES

CHEAP AT LAST!

Having received a large number of Sewing Machines (including nearly all kinds) in EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"

I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new ones of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. So now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by instalments. I still continue my offer of

to all who will exchange the

"DOMESTIC"

Sewing Machine for any other kind that has had about the same amount of usage.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

— OF —

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Morning Chronicle.

—It seems to be a law of human nature that the best of men must have bad qualities; and the worst of men, good. On this law, like a podestal, stands the statue of James Fisk's character. The spectators form themselves into two classes of critics—those who look at the dead hero as a good man with bad traits, and those who look at him as a bad man with good traits. From either point of view, he exhibits more merits than some saints, and more sins than most sinners. This view seems to be carried out by Rev. E. O. Flagg, the Episcopal clergyman who performed the burial service over his remains, and who has written a card in which he says of the deceased, "When his good qualities are in the balance against the bad, we shall have at least an equipoise."—Golden Age.

—"Well, Sniffles," said an employer to his new clerk, "have you posted the ledger?" "Yeth thir," lisped Sniffles; "I've pothted the ledger; but, lor,' thir, it wath too big for the letter-boxth, and I had to take it inthide the pothtoffith!"

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying out all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfsb16

The Chronicle.

—A ludicrous accident occurred on a San Francisco horse railroad, recently. An elderly and very portly lady-passenger signalled for the car to stop at a certain street, but of course the rear platform went a little beyond the dry crossing, and as a consequence the step was just over the mud, which was very deep. The old lady growled a great deal, and the conductor stepped off the car and offered his hand to guide her to the crossing, when, forgetting her exceeding weight, she sank bodily into his outstretched arms, and, as a consequence, the conductor sat quietly down in the mud and the passenger fell over his head. He swore and she stormed, and the other passengers laughed, but being behind time the conductor was obliged to go on his way, leaving the old lady trying to wipe the mud off her clothes with a seven-inch square handkerchief, indignantly vowing revenge against the railroad company and all conductors.

—Schuyler Colfax is always enthusiastic about something, and Minnesota is his latest love. A truly noble, rapidly improving State she is, and worthy of a statesman's interest, especially if he is in want of votes. But as it doth not yet appear that he has taken up one of her township nor swamp of her railroads or mines, who knows but this is just one of those rare instances of disinterested affection which does credit to the heart that cherishes it. One of the very few men capable of genuine enthusiasm is this same Schuyler Colfax, who if he had as much courage as he has kindness and affability would be our Coming Man.—Golden Age.

—Ten impecunious students of the State college of California have formed themselves into a club and hired a Chinaman, by which means their board and washing costs each of them but fifteen dollars a month.

—Advices from the Cape of Good Hope represent rich discoveries continuing to be made in the diamond fields. Two diamonds have been found of a thousand carats each.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATION. Established upward of 20 years. Prepared by

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. SATURDAY, JANUARY 26, 1872.

Temperance vs. Spite.

Rev. Mr. Adams, of Winchester, writes to the Prohibition Herald as follows:—

In 1871 it (the Republican party) nominated a statesman and a man of moral integrity for Governor. We take courage. But the campaign is lifeless, the election goes by default, the party managers prefer defeat to the election of a temperance Governor. But all our hope is not gone, even now. We have prayed for success of the principles of this party, we have stood in the smoke of battle, and have suffered in the hospital to defend and maintain them. At Convention an of spotless integrity is talked of, and may be the standard bearer in 1872. The convention meets. Mr. Wa ker is too good a man. The lobby of the convention is packed with representatives of the dram-shop, and a man whose public record and private life leave nothing for temperance men to hope for, becomes the candidate. Are we longer in doubt as to the aim of the party in this? The votes of brewers, bar-tenders and sots are preferred to the votes of clean-headed temperance and religious elements of the party.

Were the above the utterance of a politician we should characterize it as a piece of bagatelle. Coming from a clergyman we presume it must be considered as an honest statement of his opinions. Would Mr. Adams have supported Mr. Walker had he been the nominee? Has the Reverend gentleman any idea that his pet hobby would be better advanced by Mr. Walker than by Mr. Straw? If the party acceded to the requests and demands of the temperance men and preachers of the gospel last year and lost the State thereby, isn't it natural for them to learn wisdom from experience and nominate candidates who are not freighted with unreasonable hobbies this year? Would they not have been unwise to have repeated last year's experiment? Has Rev. Mr Adams any hope of electing the temperance candidate for Governor? None at all. What party then does he propose to aid by withdrawing his support from Mr. Straw? The Democracy, of course. And the Democratic candidate for Governor will receive the votes of nine tenths of the "brewers, bar tenders and sots" of the State. His triumph would be theirs; its cause—the withdrawal of the support of temperance men like Rev. Mr. Adams from the party which has enacted the prohibitory law; its effects—the repeal of that law. Temperance men who consider duty more righteous than exhibitions of spite will reflect ere they take such suicidal action, which years of repentance cannot retrieve.

STARS AND COMETS.—There are two very brilliant morning stars at this time. One is Venus, in the southeast. It is an hour or two high at 6 o'clock, and in the constellation Sagittarius. It was at its greatest brilliancy early in December, but is beautiful now. Jupiter is called morning star, but it is seen in the evening also. It is in the constellation Gemini; in the morning it is in the west. It appears large, but is less beautiful than Venus. Both are worth looking at often.

Seeing stars in the day time is not usual, except in a very large or total eclipse of the sun. Venus, alternately morning and evening star, has at long intervals been in such a position to the earth that it has shown itself in the day. In February, 1843, it was seen not far from midday. This season the writer has seen it on three different days. On the 8th of December it was seen till past 9 o'clock in the morning; again, the first week in January, it was seen two mornings till about 8 o'clock.

Encke's comet made its appearance some weeks ago and could be seen with a telescope. Its period was determined by Prof. Encke, of Berlin, Prussia, in 1819. Records say it had been seen four times previously. It has appeared fifteen times since, the last before this year having been in September, 1868. Its period is only three and one-third years. What is remarkable about this comet is, its orbit is growing slightly smaller, its diminution amounting to about three hours in each revolution, or a day in eight revolutions, a period of 26 years. The cause of this contraction of the orbit is not authoritatively explained. J. F.

NEW ORLEANS is quiet and the contending parties seem to be preparing for the congressional investigation. The special committee has left Washington, but it is announced that its purpose is simply to investigate the conduct of United States officials, and that it will not interfere at all in the factional controversy.

—The bill to admit negroes as witnesses in State courts has passed both branches of the Kentucky legislature.

SMALL-POX—WHY IT IS SO PREVALENT.—One of the ugliest circumstances of the times is the prevalence of the small pox, a form of disease as much worse than cholera as cholera is worse than sneezing. Look where you will, the small pox prevails, and prevails in force, if its ravages for the last year or two are compared with what they had been for many years before. It is active in Asia as well as in Europe,—and in America (South and North) it is as bad as it is in either Europe or Asia,—or it is worse, if we can judge by the number of deaths from it in London and in Philadelphia, the latter city being far ahead of the former in the multitude of victims offered on the altar of the foulest of all foul fiends,—and Philadelphia is a small place as compared with London. Town and country suffer alike from it, and there is a steady spread and as great an increase of the pestilence, so that, should it go on for another year as powerfully as it went on in 1871, the world will be in the way to come once more under its demoniacal dominion.

All this is something so unlike what we had either known or expected, that we hardly know what to make of it. We had come to the conclusion that the worst form of pestilence had been most effectually dealt with, and almost entirely tamed, thanks to Thomas Sydenham, Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, and Edward Jenner, and other laborers in the cause of health and humanity. Science and sense had been too much for the small pox, and in a few years more we might look to see the last cases of suffering from its attacks. So much had been won, that, beyond all possible doubt, more would be won. That was what "progress" meant; and for two generations vaccination had been triumphant. Down to the time of Lady Mary Wortley Montagu's bold action in the introduction of inoculation into Western Europe, small pox was the worst of all the enemies of the human race, and when it was not very active the fear that it would become so haunted all men.

Lord Macaulay, speaking of the fatal illness of Mary I. of England, —she died of small pox—says:—"That disease, over which science has since achieved a succession of glorious and beneficent victories, was then the most terrible of all the ministers of death. The havoc of the plague had been far more rapid; but the plague had visited our shores only once or twice within living memory; and the small pox was always present, filling the churchyards with corpses, tormenting with constant fears all whom it had not yet stricken, leaving on those whose lives it spared the hideous traces of its power, turning a babe into a changeling at which the mother shuddered, and making the eyes and cheeks of the betrothed maiden objects of horror to the lover." This is said of the year 1694,—and for a long time after that date, in spite of the reforms of Sydenham, the disease had everything pretty much of its own way.

At length, a century and a half ago, or a little more, Lady Mary Montagu's argument and example brought inoculation into use,—but it was long before it was generally accepted. Bigots opposed her, and she all but repented her efforts in behalf of health and life.

Inoculation was first tried in Boston in 1721. Our town frequently suffered from visitations of small pox, and when it appeared here in 1721 the famous Dr. Boylston began to inoculate, meeting with the treatment that always awaits bold innovators. The number of cases here was 5959, or not less than one-half the entire population of the place! Of these 844 terminated fatally. What should we say were one-half our present population to be attacked by small pox, and were more than one-seventh of the number to die? It is because of the triumphs of inoculation and vaccination, and of other medical and sanitary reforms, that we are not in the same constant danger that poisoned the lives of our predecessors. Dr. Boylston inoculated 286 persons; only six of them died. He encountered the bitterest opposition, especially from medical men,—and it was only through the exertion of Cotton Mather's influence that he was allowed to proceed.

Vaccination came much later, as Dr. Jenner, to whom the world owes it, was not born till 1759; and it was not till he had become well advanced in life that he had established the entire soundness of his discovery to his own satisfaction and the world's. This great reform, the greatest ever known, dates from 1796, but it was not till some years later that its merits were fully seen, and the reformer was duly appreciated. No other human being ever did so much good for mankind as Edward Jenner. During the last two or three years some doubts have been thrown on the excellence of his discovery, and we have seen a slight revival of that intense malignity with which his labors were met eighty years since. It is said that vaccination has lost its hold on men's minds and that therefore it can do no more good for their bodies. This is all wrong. Vaccination is the same great and good thing now that it was when Jenner finally was listening to the echoes of royal and popular applause.

Why then, it may be asked, has small pox been so common in the last few years, and why should its spread be feared? This question can be favorably answered. Present small pox is owing to the fact that men had lost their fears of the disease. Few persons are now living who can vividly remember the Red Terror times of the fellest form of pestilence. The traditions of those times, even, have passed from most minds, or never were in them. The triumph of vaccination was so complete that it made men careless just as a nation, after a long course of victories, thinks itself invincible, and neglects its training and defences and so invites invasion.

Vaccination has been neglected. A generation is growing up that hardly knew it; so that when small pox gets into a community it finds a large part of the inhabitants open to attack,—and it is well known, and has been so since the time of Boerhave, that its power is the power that comes only from contagion. Revive vaccination, restore it to the force it had in the thirty or forty years after Jenner's triumph, and small pox again would lose its powers and perhaps be all but extirpated.

Men suffer now only from their own carelessness, and it is well that they should be reminded of the consequences of such folly, even if the reminder come in the form of the loathsome disease that so terribly troubled their fathers.—Boston Traveller.

THE CIVIL SERVICE REFORM (so called) is gone up. President Grant recently appointed a Pension Agent at Augusta, Maine, without any examination, the Maine delegation selecting the nominee.

The Collector of the port of Troy, New York, has been removed from office, but declines to vacate the position, claiming that under the civil service tenure act he cannot be removed except for cause. He will go all the same, though.

THE THIEVES' BAIL.—The Supreme Court at Albany has affirmed Judge Larned's decision holding Connolly's bail at half a million, and refusing to reduce Tweed's bail, which is to stand at a million.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and impurdences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitter," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We received a very pleasant letter of thanks from our old friend Kendall, since his return home, for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment which we gave him, and which he says has entirely cured him of the troublesome and dangerous cough he had when here.

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchaser on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open, and the feet warm." If physic is necessary, use Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

For coughs, bronchitis and consumption, in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. 573.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

A STABLE INSTITUTION.—Just at the period when all stable-men were complaining that the horse-ointments of the day were un*stable* remedies, the MUSTANG LINIMENT made its entree in Missouri, without any flourish of trumpets, and within one year became the favorite embrocation for the external distempers and injuries of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of accomplished horsemen; nor is its household reputation as a cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore nipples and caked breasts, tumors, mumps, sore throat, earache, toothache, bruises, burns, wounds and sprains, a whit behind its celebrity as a horse Liniment. The Mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the "rising generation," and in fact there is not a city or township in the United States where the MUSTANG LINIMENT is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community.

Laconics.

A hollow sphere, yet not a globe—Ananias.

C. Henry St. John, Esq., of Boston, will deliver a poem in the Methodist church on Wednesday evening of next week; subject, "Country Love and City Life."

The Republican Ward Committees have organized for the year, by chosing John Pender, chairman of Ward One, and Willis L. Hidden, secretary; Frank W. Miller, chairman of Ward Two, and A. F. Howard, secretary; William H Rollins, chairman of Ward Three, and G. M. Goodrich, secretary.

The railroad committee of the Maine legislature has reported a bill authorizing the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad to extend from Kittery to Kennebunk, and a bill authorizing the Boston & Maine company to discontinue a part of their road and further extend their time for construction.

The town war debts to be assumed by the State amount to $2,207,812 11, of which about $60,000 will come to this city. The basis of figuring has been $100 for each three years' man furnished under the call of the President in July, 1862, and subsequent calls, and in the same proportion for other terms of service.

Ananias, R. R. A., slanders the engineer of Steam Engine No. 1, because the right bower of the Lyre editor wants another person appointed engineer. The present engineer is a skillful machinist and knows how to run that steamer as well as any man in town, while the applicant for the position is no machinist. The former is a first-class workman, the latter is not. So says a correspondent.

The Concord People says "Grant and Robeson think they have the thing fixed so far as the First Senatorial District is concerned." Our idea is that Grant and Robeson do not care a fig about Republican success in the First District. Our friends in the country, however, need not be troubled. The Republicans have a working majority in this District, are united, have a popular nominee for the Senate and can elect him in spite of Navy Yard mismanagement.

A Washington dispatch says:—Apropos to the activity in the Navy Department with regard to the bill for the construction of ten steam sloops-of-war now before Congress, the impression seems to be very favorable to its passage. The importance of increasing our naval forces is appreciated by Congressmen. While it is not intended to undertake any extensive enterprises in large iron-clads, it has become absolutely necessary that our cruising men-of-war should be of respectable size and carry a formidable armament, in order that our foreign commercial interests may be protected. The committee having the bill under consideration will undoubtedly commend it in every particular.

The new Board of Assessors organized for the year, on Tuesday evening, at the Aldermen's room,—the oath of office being administered by Justice Bufford; and Frank W. Miller was elected chairman, and Mr. Bufford secretary. Messrs. Lamprey, Goodrich and Brackett, with the chairman, were appointed a standing committee on abatements, relative to old taxes from 1865 to the present time. It was voted that, it being advisable to have a thorough survey and new valuations of all the property to be taxed, Mr. James Moses be requested to present the matter to the Mayor and Aldermen, and ask an appropriation for the purpose. We understand that there has been no such survey for many years, and justice seems to demand it now; but the pay of the Assessors being but $25 each, has proved altogether insufficient to secure this extra work being done.

State News.

Mr. Ansel Tucker, one of the oldest and most popular conductors on the Boston & Maine Railroad, offers his extension hotel property at Dover, known as the New Hampshire House, for sale.

The number of deaths in Concord during the year 1871 was 176, exceeding those of the previous year by 18. The number over seventy years of age was 45.

David A. Warde of Concord has been nominated as the Republican candidate for Senator in the 4th district.

Mrs. Shea, who was badly injured by a flat-iron in the hands of her husband, at Manchester, recently, died on Thursday.

—The census of Rome shows a total population of 240,000.

MICHAEL CONNOLY, a switchman employed on the Boston and Maine Railroad, while closing the gates at Andover Bridge crossing, Mass., Wednesday, was knocked down by the engine of the Salem train, which ran over him, severing both legs below the knee. He died a short time after being taken up. He leaves a wife and two children.

A STRONG TICKET.—No better evidence of coming victory in New Hampshire is evidenced than the fact that the republican party has put the strongest possible ticket in the field.—There can be none better so far as our knowledge goes, and we know very many of the candidates personally. The very name of Hon. E. A. Straw is a synonym of strength, else why do the democratic newspapers come out with long editorial articles belsterling up Mr. Weston's chances in the city of Manchester? These papers and their supporters fear to "beard the lion in his den." Everybody acknowledges Mr. Weston to be "a nice man," but there the encomium snaps off as short as pie crust and is as unwelcome as the Yankee compliment, "clever fellow," or a frosty morning in dog days. It is, in truth, conceded by the best informed democrats that their cause is a hopeless one. The republicans do not fear the small prestige any of the opposition candidates may have, and they do not fear the corrupt use of money, for are not Tweed & Co. politically dead?

Speaking of strong tickets, what better could have been put into the field than E. A. Straw for Governor, Samuel P. Dow for Councillor, Winthrop N. Dow for County Treasurer, George W. Weston for Register of Deeds, and F. W. Miller for County Commissioner. The Dows are respectively among the most popular men in the interior of Rockingham county, and Mr. Miller is no less popular in the eastern and Mr. Weston in the western section. Indeed, they are all so well known throughout the whole county for their probity, integrity and ability, that scarcely a ticket will be scratched by true republicans. As for Mr. Samuel P. Dow's strength, he being well known in his district, it is almost as great near the White mountains as at the seashore.

Take it all in all the republicans have not had so good and so strong a ticket in the field since the organization of the party.—Haverhill (Mass.) Bulletin.

A LION TAMER KILLED.—The Manchester (England) Guardian contains the following: A dreadful scene happened in Manders' Menagerie, Market square, Bolton, Thomas Maccarte being attacked and killed by lions as he was performing in their midst. It was the last evening of the exhibition, and Maccarte undertook to give an extra performance. In the cage which he entered were five lions. The animals had been put through their leaping exercise. Maccarte noticed that one, a full-grown Asiatic, was restive and showed his teeth. He drew his sword and pointed it threateningly at the lion's mouth.

His attention being thus diverted from the other animals, a young African lion crept stealthily out from the group and sprang towards Maccarte, seizing him by his right hip and throwing him down. At the same time the Asiatic lion fastened itself upon his head, tearing off a portion of the scalp. A scene of the wildest confusion ensued—women screaming, and men running about in all directions in search of weapons. It is usual in Manders' menagerie to keep a number of irons continually heated for emergencies, but on this occasion they had been removed, and fresh irons had to be placed in the fire.

Maccarte fought desperately with his sword, inflicting some fearful gashes on the faces of both lions. One of the other lions now seized the unfortunate man by his only arm, fracturing the bones, while another tore a piece of flesh out of his thigh. Maccarte retained his presence of mind, and called out to the men to fire amongst the animals. Revolvers and rifles were accordingly procured, and whilst some fired blank cartridges full in the faces of the infuriated beasts, others probed them with heated irons, stabbed them with forks, and beat them with a ladder and iron scrapers. Eventually a slide was introduced between the bars of the cage, behind which Mr. Birchall, the agent, and John Ryan, one of the keepers, drove four of the lions. At the fifth lion more shots were fired, but it was not until the heated bars were applied to the nose of the animal that it relinquished its hold and ran behind the partition.

Maccarte then staggered to his feet, but ere he could reach the door, and before the slide could be closed, the African lion again rushed out, seized the poor fellow again by the foot, and dragged him back into the corner among the other animals. Again the frightful struggle went on. Maccarte was dragged up and down the cage by the head and the legs three or four times, the floor being completely saturated with his blood. Some rifles loaded with shot were now discharged among the savage brutes, and with several irons, now heated to a red glow, they were beaten into a corner and the partition closed against them. Maccarte was then released, still conscious.

As he was borne to the Infirmary, he exclaimed to a fellow-workman, "Harry, I am done for." In addition to the back part of the scalp, all the flesh had been torn from the thighs, the right arm was fractured in two places, as well as badly lacerated from the shoulder to the hand; the chest had been lacerated, and the bones of the pelvis had pieces bitten out of them. He died in ten minutes after his admission to the Infirmary. Deceased was 33 years of age, was a native of Cork, and was married.

—It is said that the cultivation of olives in California can be made highly profitable if engaged in extensively.

THE WIFE of Mr. Charles B. Coates of Lowell, while left alone with her two children for a few moments by her attendant, took the youngest child, about seven months old, and plunged it into a kettle of boiling water which stood upon the stove, causing the death of the child in about fifteen minutes. The mother has been insane for the past six months, and at other times before and since her marriage, but her insanity has never been deemed of such a character as to require her being watched, as she always appeared quite harmless.

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

THE BOY.

I can see that day. White cumuli were heaped over the wood tops, but the middle sky was blue and clear. Though I was dozing on a saloon step, this day of beauty got even through my wavering sight. Perhaps I sat there an hour, perhaps an age, in which the blinks I got were the recurring days.

It suddenly occurred to me that such a long continuence of fine weather ought to be enjoyed more actively. But the world whirls, at everybody knows. I mumbled a number of jokes on nature as I staggered abroad. After a tiresome journey, I came upon an alley and a group of boys travelling through a game of marbles on their knees, like penitents stumping through Jerusalem. And in their midst was Billy. Billy was a noble looking boy. I paused and tried to get in position to look at him. I felt a manlin pride in Billy. He had Nora's blue eyes. (Blessed Nora! She was gone where she couldn't be cursed any more; poor little broken-hearted thing.)

As Billy photographed himself in my eyes, his bright hair blowing, his lusty fingers gouging a pit for the centre marble, the contrast between what he and I were born to be, and what we were, struck me like a bullet.

I had tried to reform. Oh, yes. And every failure was a link in my chain. I was utterly given over to the snakes and the furies.

Now here was Bill, walking in my vagrant steps; a vicious Arab under a beautiful Caucasian guise.

"Say, Bill," begged one of the tribe, casting a covetous eye on his industrious jaws, "let me chaw your wax awhile."

Bill, with graceful generosity and contempt of gain, tossed it over, saying:

"There; you can take it and keep it; I don't want it no more."

While I stood in the drunken door against the fence, the group whirled up suddenly into a maelstrom. The centre to which they were all sucked, was a steadfast rock with churning fists and a yellow top.

"Bill!" I shouted in fury, "come here, you young scoundrel!"

Hearing my voice over the broil, he dashed through the boys and came, crying, bloody and ruffled.

"What are you fighting about?" I asked, standing in tremulous judgment over him.

"I can't tell you, father," he answered bravely.

What! Even the boy despised and dared me! I lifted my hand and felt that I could kill him.

"Take that, then—and that, you little wretch; I'll show you how to be a bully, and turn against your own father."

My muscular hand brought a frightful blood gush out of his bruised face. I thought he should feel that his father was a solid man in one respect, if the rest of my body was a mass of moist wretchedness.

The boy, the boy. I groan when I remember it.

"Oh, don't father," he begged, wringing his dirty little hands. "Oh, father, please don't strike me, and I'll tell you all about it. The boys said you was a drunken old blout. And I'll fight anybody that calls you that, father; if you kill me for it."

I sat prone down upon the ground. That was the hardest blow I ever had.

"Get up, father," said Billy, casting a bloody and warlike glance behind him, "and I'll help you along."

I took hold of him, but a weakness not born of rum, kept me at his cracked, stubby little feet. There was no one in the world who cared whether I rose or went down but him. He cared. I put my arms around the boy and cried against him. No more drunken gloating repentance for me. Every tear was hard as pearl with resolution. The good Christ appeared that instant in his love and long suffering, through the boy as plainly as he appeared to dying Sir Launfal through the leper. When on earth, He was always going about picking up the abominable; since He has left the earth, He sends for them by messengers they cannot help knowing.

Men should respect me in that spark which the boy respected. I would show him what a grand and over-mastering thing is that soul which the God of glory values.

"Don't cry, father," requested Billy, while he ceased to paint a bloody sunrise on his face. Better than a sunrise was that little face to me. His eyes looked bluer and more heaven-like than the sky.

"Do you love your father?" I asked, holding to him like a woman.

"Yes, sir, I'll lick any body that calls you names," the bright, tender firmaments in his face gushing with another shower.

A horizontal hail of mud and pebbles hit us while he was speaking. Billy reared up like a charger snuffing the battle afar off. But I made him retreat from the enemy's lines.

When the boy and I were laid at night in a low tavern which was our only home, I asked, with my face turned from him: "Billy, will you help your father to try once more?" Upon which he bounded up and pumped my arm with all the vigor and familiarity that the street had put in him.

"Yes-sir-ee! I will that, you bet," vowed Billy.

A few minutes after he subsided, I heard his soft breath going in and out the doors of his lips in regular cadences. While he slept and started up to fight his skirmishers over, I flogged my weak brain to work, and planned, and planned, and planned.

When I looked back at that wretch in soiled tavern sheets, glaring into darkness with watery eyes, my legs tremble under me, though they have gone stoutly these many years. It was such a very straight path up from that place, and I came so near falling, time after time.

The next day I got work on the railroad. From the gutter I could not go directly back to the bar, since drunkenness is one of the vices which is not tolerated in lawyers. It was hard to shovel dirt in the hot sun. I sat down half fainting. A good natured Patrick came slyly with a bottle, and bade me "whisht at it," which I put forth the will to do—like a weak beast—when Billy swooped down from a passing freight and squared himself before that Irishman, while the very tatters at his elbow bristled with wrath.

"Look here, now?" threatened he, sending the bottle far over the track, "if you get my father to drinkin' again, I'll kick you."

It would have been so very hard for the boy to fulfil the threat with his baby legs, on Patrick's high breeches, that my Irishman took jolly compassion on him, and reared a vow never more to put his slimy temptation to my face.

After I had delved awhile, Billy had a new suit, a set of books and school privileges. Then a situation as copyist was opened to me. The boy and I fell into the habit of striking hands and going to church on a Sunday. Some of my old friends began to notice me. Oh, I tell you, it makes a man's heart swell like a green bulb to have an honest hand come reaching his.

Finally, I got into practice. Sometimes thirst came on me and I stormed up and down in my office and twisted out little locks of hair, as if the curse hung to the roots of that. Once I locked the door and threw out the key and was a prisoner till my associate came.

Passing a saloon one evil time, the clinking of glasses and the breath of mine enemy penetrated my senses. The saloon door sucked me just half-way in, when I was shocked through my coat-skirts and quite knocked into the street.

"Here, father," pleaded Billy, charging me with a second jerk, "come out of this—come out of this, we're a-going to make men of ourselves, father."

"Yes, men, Billy," I subscribed. So I didn't run into that side track, because I had such a faithful tender.

Coming up socially, often does much for a man morally. Cases multiplied, and I seemed to grow with my trust. The boy and I had smart lodgings up town. He rose in school. I was so proud of him.

I've heard how women love their children with close, peculiar devotion. I think I must have loved him with a mother's love. There's no other way of expressing how near the boy is to me.

When he came from school and met me on the streets, he was often carrying the satchel of a smooth-haired, dark-eyed girl, to whom he would exclaim, as he loyally touched his cap: "That's my father!" with such a proud accent that the blood leaped in my veins.

Oh, my good fellow, it's a glorious day for you when your child is proud of you.

We live all together, now; Billy, his dark-haired Nora, the little rowdies and I, in a home with no end of verandas and vines. The respectable handle of judge is set to my name, but Billy's children, who give the echo to his former street training, stand in no more awe of it than they do of the venerable Roman handle to my countenance. We tumble like wild colts in the grass. But they have no idea that their ancestor ever lay in a lower bed.

Blessed be enduring love.

I think often I may be in my dotage, for quiet matron Nora often looks up from her baby in surprise at my walking the veranda and maundering in a sort of ecstacy:

"The boy! The boy!"—Mary Hartwell, in Wood's Household Magazine.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawbl8

TESTIMONY.

PERMANENT CURE OF GRAVEL OF TWENTY YEARS' STAND—STONE PASSED, AND TO BE SEEN.

BURNSIDE, Conn., Dec. 15, 1869.

DR. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir:—It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live, but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the 'Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say, by the quart; also liquored medicines; but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day. It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement in The Berkshire Courier, headed "Kidneys." I read it through, and thought I would try it. I pur based a bottle; but, mind you, I had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things and it cost me so much! Well, before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my kidney was falling from its place, and I made up mind it was of no use trying any more. And all this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it; so I gave it up and went to Hartford, on Saturday, to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted. On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken of his medicine, but, on my return, continued using the "Buchu;" and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after this I tried again, with the same result; but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. I looks like the back of a mud turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some behind; but since then has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday. I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone so-curely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised. I cannot tell you all; but this is a true story of my case, and you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. May not publish more? The Springfield Republican is a wide-spread paper. If any one wishes to see the wonder, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time; so I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD.

A CASE OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25th, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist.

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upwards of twenty years with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medical preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparation extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter, unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advised me, I did it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper-berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and with his advice, after an examination of the matter, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time; but thought my improvement might be only temporary, and therefore concluded to defer, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected, after using the remedy for five months.

I HAVE NOT USED ANY NOW FOR THREE MONTHS, AND FEEL AS WELL IN ALL RESPECTS AS I EVER DID.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use on such occasions.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq.:

Dear Sir:—I have in my practice used (in a majority of cases when diseases of the urinary organs existed HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU, and confidently say that I have never known it to be used without the greatest beneficial results. I have consulted patients after partaking of it, and they invariably confirm my statement. I am satisfied that the preparation is an established fact, convincingly proved by the practical test of long experience. Yours, respectfully, HACKENSACK, Bergen Co., N.J., April 25, 1870.

DR. H. T. HELMBOLD.

Dear Sir:—I have been suffering for a long time from Diabetes, and had been under treatment for the same by (3) three of the most eminent physicians of this place—viz: Drs. Hazbrock, Hall, and Smith—without any apparent beneficial result. Having heard of your "Fluid Extract Buchu," I concluded to try it, although I had but little faith in its curative properties. I am happy to state that, after having taken four bottles of your "Buchu," I am entirely cured, and deem it but my duty to you and the community at large to inform you of the fact that I have been perfectly cured by your medicine, having been informed by the three physicians, above stated, that my disease was incurable.

Truly yours, JOHN H. WYGANT.

CURE OF BLADDER AND KIDNEY AFFECTION OF LONG STANDING — STONE PASSED AND TO BE SEEN.

WESTPORT, Conn., Sept. 5, 1869.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq.

DEAR SIR:—I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came, through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and now I feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours, truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

CURE OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER AFFECTION OF A PATIENT SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE.

THANKS TO MR. HELMBOLD.

GIRARD, Penn., March 31, 1869.

EDITOR COSMOPOLITE:—I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of HELMBOLD'S BUCHU, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that, after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases from which I have suffered exceedingly for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me HELMBOLD'S BUCHU, which I commenced using with little faith and no apparent beneficial result for about a month. At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use. Now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, and I feel that I ought to publicly record the fact as an acknowledgment to him and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq.

Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in sending you a certificate, in addition to the many you have received from suffering humanity. I can scarcely find language sufficiently strong to express my heart felt gratification at the wonderful cure your Buchu has effected. For four years I have suffered beyond description. All my friends (with myself) came to the conclusion that my case was incurable. ACCIDENT placed your advertisement in my hands. I commenced taking your Buchu.

I followed the directions, and to my utter astonishment, before I'd taken seven bottles of your valuable medicine—(I would give ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS a bottle, if I could not get it at any other price)—am entirely cured. I most earnestly recommend it to all those suffering from disease. I told many persons to take your valuable medicine, and they are doing so with great success. Any information my fellow-citizens may require will be freely given by the subscriber, at his residence, 73 Milton-ave, Rahway, New Jersey.

MR. HELMBOLD:

SIR: I have used your EXTRACT BUCHU with many of my patients, and can speak of it in the highest terms in every case, and consider it a valuable remedy, and one that should be in the hands of every mid-wife.

CURE OF NERVOUS PROSTRATION AND DECLINE OF A YOUNG LADY.

H. T. HELMBOLD: I have given your EXTRACT BUCHU to my daughter, who has been unable to sleep, very nervous, loss of appetite, general debility, and rapidly falling into a decline—in fact, consumption was talked of. I was recommended to try your BUCHU by a highly respectable lady of this place, who had given it to her son with complete success. My daughter had been troubled for a long time. I purchased one bottle some eight weeks since, which lasted one week, and from which she received great benefit, and induced me to purchase one-half dozen bottles, as I tried many other remedies and my family physician to no avail. It is now more than two weeks since she has taken the last bottle, and I am happy to inform you of its complete success.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY AFFECTION OCCASIONED BY ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1, 1870.

DR. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir: On the 23d of August I received severe internal and external injuries, occasioned by an accident on a Philadelphia Railroad car. On my arrival in New York I was attended by DR. WILSON of East Fifty-fifth St. and another physician, whose name I do not remember. After my wounds were dressed I suffered for three (3) days intense agony from internal injuries, which affected my kidneys. I can say that after taking but three doses of your EXTRACT BUCHU I feel greatly relieved. I used the balance of the bottle, and am happy to state that since that time I have experienced no further difficulty.

Very truly yours,

F. H. KEARNEY,

No. 343 Third Ave.

(DR. KEYSER IS A PHYSICIAN OF OVER THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE, AND GRADUATE OF THE JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLLEGE, AND OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY OF PHILADELPHIA.)

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say I have seen and used every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all to yours. Thirty years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all. Here, I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietary compound, of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, etc.,

CURE OF A CASE OF GRAVEL OF NINE YEARS' STANDING.

PHILADELPHIA, GIRARD HOUSE, April 19, 1866.

DR. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir: Having suffered with gravel for upwards of nine years, and not obtaining any relief from the various physicians in my section, I visited Philadelphia for the purpose of having an operation performed some ten or eleven weeks since; but, on my arrival, I saw your advertisement in the Ledger, and I determined to try it first, having a great aversion to the operation. I purchased three bottles, although at the time I had little faith in medicine in my case, but hoped it might relieve my suffering. I soon found my pain decrease, and felt much more comfortable. I then purchased one dozen bottles. I continued to use it, and at the expiration of four weeks I noticed a deposit in my chamber, and upon inspection I found this to be gritty, and then determined to examine more closely: and to my surprise I found this to be small particles, larger than a pin's head. I continued to use the medicine, and have collected a few of the same, which I inclose. I continued to pass them until within three weeks. My water previous to using it was feverish, and a sediment would form upon it. Since that period it is much lighter, the pain has ceased, and I am able to inform you that it is now of a natural color, and I have no pain, or inflammation in any part of my body, and can walk, ride, or rest, without any inconvenience.

I shall leave for home to-morrow, and shall take a supply with me, as I intend using it for some time, although I feel well now, and can candidly say that it has effected a cure when all other remedies and medical skill had failed.

Feeling grateful that I was so fortunate to find you to prepare such an excellent medicine, believe me, in the comprehensive sense of the word.

Your friend, J. S. SANDERSON.

GREAT CURE OF DIABETES OF A LADY.—FIFTY DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6, 1860.

DEAR DR. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir: For the past eight months I have been suffering from diabetes. I have consulted several of our leading physicians; but have failed to receive the slightest benefit from their costly medicines.

Four months ago I saw your advertisement in The Herald. I was persuaded by a friend who had been benefitted by your world-renowned Buchu. I purchased a bottle, took the contents, and was so relieved that I continued the use of it. The diabetes has entirely disappeared, after using it for three months. I would give $50 a bottle, if I could not get it at any other price.

I most earnestly recommend it to all those suffering from this disease.

Sincerely yours,

THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL was reported in the House of Representatives, Thursday. The total amount of the bill is $17,776,433, about $1,500,000 less than the corresponding bill last year and nearly $400,000 less than the estimates. Among the items in the bill are the following:—Under the bureau of equipment and recruiting—for Portsmouth navy yard, $8400; for Charlestown yard, $7000. Under bureau of yards and docks—for Portsmouth, $10,200; for Charlestown, $12,700. Under bureau of medicine and surgery—for Chelsea hospital, $7782; for Portsmouth navy yard, $1290; for Charlestown yard, $1480. Under bureau of pensions and clothing — for Charlestown, $2054. Under bureau of construction and repair—for Portsmouth yard, $8500; for Charlestown, $7100. Under bureau of steam engineering — for Portsmouth yard, $5600, and for Charlestown yard, $5600. The whole amount appropriated for laborers in all the yards is $300,000.

A GRAND RALLY.—About 1200 Republicans of Nashua went to Manchester, Thursday evening, and united with the Republicans of that city in a torch-light procession. They called on Hon. E. A. Straw, who made them a brief speech. Judge Upton also spoke and was followed by Gen. A. F. Stevens of Nashua, who made a stirring speech. The demonstration was a complete success and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. After the procession, a collation was provided. The visitors returned home in a special train at a late hour.

MISS JOSEPHINE LAWLOR MANSFIELD arrived in Boston, Friday. She was insulted by being hooted at by a large number of male passengers on alighting in the depot, until a considerate hackman placed her in his carriage and she was driven away.

THE MAINE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES passed the bill authorizing the Boston & Maine Railroad to discontinue their old line and extending the time for the construction of the new one, on Friday.

State News.

The Great Falls and Conway Road is erecting an iron bridge eighty feet long, at Union, across Union river.

A Nashua gentleman's horse ran away and fell, in Amherst lately. The driver held his head down and had to help unharness the animal, which was found dead when done.

The Nashua Telegraph favors locating the Nashua and Rochester Road through Hudson, Londonderry, Derry, Chester, Nottingham, Lee, and Barrington. A new survey of this route has been ordered.

At the Democratic convention at Dover, Wednesday, for the fifth senatorial district, Hon. Hiram R. Roberts of Rollinsford was nominated.

A quarterly meeting of the Grand Division of Sons of Temperance in the State was held at Kensington on Wednesday. Arrangements have been made with Edward Carswell, the celebrated temperance orator, of Ontario, Canada, to speak in the State eight evenings, beginning February 26th. The report of the grand scribe shows the number of divisions to be 21; divisions suspended, 1; charters granted, 1; (prohibited division, at Winchester); members admitted (in eleven divisions from which reports have been received), 288; withdrawn, 11; expelled, 5; deceased, 1; receipts $182 91; expenses, 115 39; cash on hand, $67 52.

In 1870, a commission was appointed to inquire into and determine what portion of the town debts for war expenses should be assumed by the State. The basis of figuring has been $100 for each three years' man furnished under the call of the President in July, 1862, and subsequent calls, and in the same proportion for other terms of service. The committee, which consisted of C. H. Roberts of Concord, William M. Weed of Sandwich, J. W. Campbell of Woodstock, B. B. Stout of Conway and H. H. Huse of Manchester, having completed their labors, made their report to the governor and council Thursday. The total amount due the towns is $2,207,812.11; The payment is to be made in State bonds.

An Exeter dispatch says:—In the action of David T. Sleeper vs. the Town of Sandown, a suit to recover $4000 damages for injuries received by the plaintiff in consequence of a defective highway, the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, and awarded him $1250. Mr. Sleeper is blind, and while crossa bridge fell off on one side on which there was no railing.

"WILD TEA." — Our readers have doubtless seen in most of the leading and minor papers, a communication purporting to be from Chas. Yardley, of Pittsburg, Pa., in which he "wishes to state for the benefit of his fellow beings, how he cured his cancer with wild tea, a plant common to all localities,"—which communication we first saw in the Boston Advertiser, and thence copied into our own paper. The genial Yardley, in furtherance of his irrepressible desire to "benefit his fellow beings," managed to get an immense amount of gratuitous advertising, and —as we were among the "sold"—we propose to give him one more notice, gratis. The Newport (R. I) Journal man, not knowing the botanical name of "wild tea" nor being able to find any one who did, set a friend to write to the man who "wishes to benefit his fellow beings" for information, and received in return a queerly-spelled note from Mr. J. Henry Smith, (who writes exactly the same hand as the benevolent Yardley,) a printed circular offering to sell "wild tea" at the ridiculously low price of $10 per box, and two printed slips, one setting forth the wonderful efficacy of the "wild tea" which "is common to all localities" and "can be procured only of Mr. Smith," and the other enclosing a sample of "wild tea saved in August, killed by frost!" The Newport Journal evidently regards that benevolent soul, Yardley, as a swindling quack whose ingenuity in getting gratuitous advertising is far ahead of his ability to spell or disguise his handwriting; but our opinion is that "Mr. Yardley, a gentleman 62 years of age" and actuated by an intense "desire to benefit his fellow beings" by selling them "wild tea at $10 per box," is the identical "retired clergyman whose sands of life have nearly run out" every day for the last twenty years. If any person is afflicted with a cancer and a ten dollar greenback, such person can easily get cured—of the greenback—by sending to that high-pressure philanthropist, Chas. Yardley, Esq., of Pittsburg, Pa., for "a box of wild tea, price only $10."

GEORGE BOTTS, the murderer of "Pet" Halstead, was hung at Newark, Friday.

—In the absence of the regular editor, we, the sub, feel it our duty to give the young man a few faint words of praise. Mr. C. W. Garland has worked earnestly and indefatigably to place this paper upon a firm basis amongst other journals of the State and has at last met the success which he has so well merited. The Garland brothers have encountered and overcome difficulties in its establishment that would long since have caused many to "toss up the sponge" but with a firm devotion to principle they have continued onward in the path originally marked out and we are happy indeed that the "Independent" is now on a paying basis, if only as a reward to pluck. We admire the man who after being ruined by the late fire in Chicago, elevated his sign over a scanty stock of goods, with the inscription, "Nothing left but energy." And we admire the energy that our friend Garland has shown, for such is always bound to win. He has been deserted in times past by men who should have remained his friends and has had much underhanded chicanery to contend with, and we rejoice in being able to say that his paper and magnificent job office are now doing as thriving business as any in this part of Texas.—Jefferson (Texas) Independent.

The Garland Brothers are natives of Rye.

AMONG THE NAMES of the long established drug firms of Boston, that of Smith & Melvin deservedly stood in the front ranks for many years, on account of excellence of goods sold and integrity of dealing. Messrs. Melvin & Badger, their successors, in their new and elegant store, on Temple Place, with their greatly increased facilities, will not forfeit a particle of their justly earned reputation. They depart from their usual course, and have a card in our Boston list, to-day, feeling that they are among those "Sons of Portsmouth" who would be pleased to greet familiar faces in their fine city establishment. Mr. Melvin, the senior partner, is well known among our older citizens, from his connection years agone with the house of David Kimball; Mr. Badger is one of us, and also a graduate of the same establishment; while Mr. J. Colby Lowd, their head clerk, is not only well known here as a native, who has had long experience both here and in Boston, but is also a young man whose strict business habits and earnest study have fitted him for the position of trust he occupies.

ROCKINGHAM TEN CENTS

SAVINGS BANK,

No. 29 MARKET STREET,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

This Bank pays five per cent. per annum free of all taxes. A greater rate is prohibited by law.

An extra dividend of the surplus earnings is made every five years. The first extra will be made in June, 1874. Two dividends are made in the year, and interest is computed for one quarter on a prior dividend in making the succeeding dividend.

Money received on deposit, payable on checks at sight.

AARON H. HILL, President.
JOHN CHRISTIE, Treasurer.

Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

When applied with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche and accompanied with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as constitutional treatment, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy produces perfect cures of the worst cases of Catarrh and Ozena of many years standing. This thorough course of medication constitutes the only scientific, rational, safe and successful manner of treating this odious disease that has ever been offered to the afflicted. The instrument and two medicines sold for $2 by all Druggists. 574.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We received a very pleasant letter of thanks from our old friend Kendall, since his return home, for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment which we gave him, and which he says has entirely cured him of the troublesome and dangerous cough he had when here.

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchaser on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open, and the feet warm." If physic is necessary, use Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and imprudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitter," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply ROSS TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

A Proposition.

The knight of the quill whose daily task it is to furnish gas for illuminating the darkened intellects of the Portsmouth copperheads, seems to be in a chronic state of perturbation because we do not view everything in the light he desires; and, as a consequence, he is constantly laboring to transfix us with his one "arrow of wit"—Heaven save the mark! We do not blame him for never shifting his "arrow," as he used up all the material he possessed when he whittled that one out of his head; that is his misfortune, not his fault; but we are sure he must find it very monotonous to be using the same feeble weapon month after month, year after year, with no appreciable results, so we have a proposition to make, which if he accepts, will release him from all necessity for any further use of it. Our proposition is this: he shall "bury the hatchet" he so fiercely wields, and we (as we are determined to do the fair thing, and have no hatchet of our own to bury,) will pay all the funeral expenses, including the purchase money for the coffin and shroud. Our cotemporary need not fear that to do this we shall have to appropriate to our own use any trust funds in our possession, whether belonging to corporations or individuals, as we are always "awake" enough to pay all our debts, and to pay them with our own money,—as we still hold to the old-fashioned notion that stealing which comes just "within the law" is quite as bad as that which is punishable by the law, and a great deal meaner.

Police Court.

On Friday, Jan. 26, John McClellan was charged before Judge Page with having created a brawl and tumult; plea, guilty; fine and costs $9.95—paid.

S. W. Came was complained of for an assault on Irving S. Moses. The assault complained of grew out of a previous quarrel in the carriage manufactory of Came Brothers, where young Moses and his brother, Herbert W. Moses, have been engaged learning a trade. The evidence of both sides showed that Irving S. Moses had been reprimanded by S. W. Came for grinding a plane-iron, that not being a part of his duty; that young Moses gave what Mr. Came considered an impertinent answer, for which the latter slapped his face; that a tussle ensued, and Herbert W. Moses, to assist his brother, threw a stool at and struck Mr. Came; that the two boys then grappled him, and that a workman, Mr. Bryant, separated the trio, Herbert Moses running away home, Irving being prevented from leaving by Mr. Came. The boys not going to work afterwards Mr. Came went to the house and demanded admittance, which was refused by Mrs Moses, she testifying that she was afraid to admit him as he was apparently much enraged, but that he opened the door and entered. The two boys had armed themselves, one with a poker and the other with a pair of tongs, and stood on the defensive. Mr. Came then procured the assistance of his brother, Mr. George B. Came, in order to force the boys to go back to the shop; and entering the house, the assault complained of was made, G. B. Came holding Herbert W. Moses while S. W. Came threw Irving S. Moses to the floor and slapped him (beat him with his fists, according to the boy's testimony) about the face until he promised to go to work. There were some marks of violence on the boy's face, but nothing to indicate a heavy blow from a man's fist. Mrs. Moses stated that Mr. S. W. Came expressly promised not to beat the boys, before he entered the house. The evidence was somewhat conflicting on several minor points, but less so than might reasonably have been expected in a case where all the witnesses had been much excited at the time of the occurrences they testified of.

Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, for the defence, argued that employers were justified in using force sufficient to compel obedience in apprentices, and had a right to administer wholesome correction; that the boys were ill-behaved and disorderly (evidence regarding their previous character and conduct, and as to Mrs. Moses having on one or more occasions requested protection from her sons at the hands of the Came brothers, was ruled out,) and that the alleged assault was only such wholesome correction as was perfectly justifiable under the circumstances.

Moses N. Jenkins, Esq., for the prosecution, argued that the theory that masters have a right to use any violence whatever towards apprentices is obsolete in practice and in law, even in the case of indentured apprentices in England, where that theory was once held; that the Moses boys were not indentured apprentices, a parole agreement being the only one existing between them and their employers; and that even if they had been indentured apprentices the assault would have been wholly unjustifiable and a direct violation of the law.

Judge Page ruled that in the absence of any written agreement concerning their service, apprentices had a perfect legal right to leave their shop if they so chose, and that neither law nor equity would allow employers to use force to prevent their so doing; and it necessarily followed that employers could have no legal right to use force to compel the return of apprentices who had left their work. The complaint was adjudged sustained, and defendant was fined $10, with costs taxed at $8.04. An appeal was made, and bonds to prosecute it given.

Herbert W. Moses complained of S. W. Came, for assault; plea, not guilty; examination waived; fine $3, costs $8.04; appeal taken. Jenkins for prosecution; Hackett for defence.

S. W. Came complained of Herbert W. Moses for assaulting him with a stool. The evidence was the same as that previously given. Mr. Hackett argued that the act of throwing the stool was one of revenge or of a desire to injure Mr. Came; Mr. Jenkins argued that using the stool was justifiable and praiseworthy under the circumstances, as it was done with a view to protect a relative from violence, (regarded by the law precisely as if done in self-defence,) and the person assailed was very much superior in size and strength to the defendant or his brother, the latter of whom complainant was holding down when defendant assaulted him. The Judge held that under the circumstances the end of the law would be gained by a light fine, and sentenced defendant to pay $1, with costs taxed at $6.90,—from which decision an appeal was made.

Laconics.

The managers of the Lyceum and James P. Bartlett, Esq., are to be congratulated for the pleasure enjoyed by the audience, Thursday evening. Mr. Bartlett's readings were admirable and graphic. We can hardly imagine how the strong character of "Shylock" could have been set forth in a more fitting manner and more truly to the conception of the great dramatist. Mr. Bartlett's voice and manner are peculiarly adapted to dramatic reading, and his entertainment was really "as good as a play;" nothing could have surpassed the naturalness and spirit of his presentation of the tiff between Sir Peter and Lady Teazle. If Mr. Bartlett would but recognize the right of his more distant listeners to hear his voice he would leave nothing to be desired. Could he not be persuaded to give us Coriolanus and Julius Caesar, and add still more to our great obligations to him?

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen did but little business, Thursday evening. A communication from the Chairman of the Board of Assessors was received and laid on the table. Robert N. Anderson, Thomas Freeman, Charles Roberts, Joseph White and Alfred Tucker were appointed Special Police without pay. It was voted that the Mayor and Committee on Streets be authorized to sell one or both of the white horses now owned by the City and buy others, so as to have a pair of horses suitable for the Street work and Fire Department.

Mr. L. P. Call of Kittery, has been appointed trial justice for county of York.

....Schooner Trenton put into this harbor Tuesday afternoon in a disabled condition. She lost in the recent gale a deck load of coal and her galley. She is from Tremont, Me., and will be repaired before proceeding on her journey.

....The second lecture on the Holy Land series by Rev. W. H. Alden, will be given at the Middle St. church next Sunday evening. This interesting course, so well received last year, loses none of its interest in its continuance this season.

....Architects are now engaged in drawing plans for the new Catholic church, which it is intended to commence early in the spring, on the site of the building which was destroyed some weeks since. It is proposed to make it the best of that faith in the State, a very large sum having already been subscribed in furtherance of the object.

....Among the improvements needed on our railroads is one by which their managers will be enabled to have printed, in large type, signs signifying that all passengers are required to enter by the rear door of the car, and go out of the front door, said signs to be posted within the cars, and in all depots. When this is done there will be saved a vast amount of trouble and wicked words.

....Mr. Allen Treat, while at work Thursday afternoon on a staging at the new engine house now in course of erection near Hale's Point for the Eastern railroad, had his shoulder badly dislocated by falling a distance of about fourteen feet on a pile of lumber. The staging supports were placed too near the track and when the engine came along it struck them causing the whole to give away. Dr. Whittier was called and attended the injuries which are severe and must confine him to the house for some time.

....The grand concert to be given at the Temple next Monday evening by Mr. Frank L. Martyn, of New York, a brother of Rev. Carlos Martyn, of this city, promises to be the musical event of the season. Mr. Martyn is a graduate with honors from the Conservatoir de Musique, a musician of uncommon merit, and whose skill in concert-giving, have won for him the united encomiums of the South and West. The vocal parts of the programme will include a pleasing variety from first class talent. Those who have listened to Mr. Martyn's recent organ performances here can premise the ticket-holders a rich treat in his piano recitals, both of which instruments he is master. Doubtless Mr. Martyn will be greeted with a full house.

....A member of a firm now engaged largely in the manufacture of doors, sashes and blinds in an eastern city, who intends to remove said establishment, has been visiting this city and Portland to ascertain what advantages are offered him provided he locates at either place. The Board of Manufacturers of the latter city, which is organized to encourage and aid business enterprise in their midst, has just had appropriated $300 by the city, to pay their current expenses. At a meeting of this board last week, no less than seven distant manufacturing firms intending to make a change, asked for information as to inducements held out by that city for them. In view of the increasing number of such enterprises, our own authorities should be awake to the importance of this matter.

Kittery.

The lecture by Prof. Shipman before the People's Lyceum, Thursday evening, on "Man the highest Unity," was in every respect eminently becoming his profession as a teacher and scholar. The lecturer discussed the relation of man to the means employed for his advancement, claiming that all agencies have value only in so far as they help to make men better. The State, the Church, all organizations are properly but means to a higher end, though they have often been made superior to man, and thereby been converted into oppressions and restraints. These all exist for man, and are worthless unless they promote his well-being. The true strength of every measure of improvement is in the personal force of those who advocate it, and its efficacy is in proportion to the freedom with which it permits the exercise of this power; and so in these days when shouts of reform are heard on every hand, we are to distinguish between the true and false by weighing every scheme by the test of the one decisive question, "Will it help us to be men?" The lecture was listened to with attention. The fifth lecture of the course will be delivered by Rev. A. J. Patterson of Boston Highlands, on Thursday evening, Feb. 1st; subject, "Whittier and his Poems."

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

OUTWITTED.

'I declare, wife, that boy will ruin my disposition! For obstinacy and contrariety, he can't be beat. A six-mule team is nowhere. He's gone and got one of those hats, and he knows they are my especial detestation; and, only last week, I told him to take off those high-heeled boots, but, would you believe it, he has got two more lifts on the heels, at the very least, and I don't know but there's half a dozen. Dear! dear! dear! It's so provoking! Then Mrs. Waldron is going to leave us to-morrow, and I don't know where in the world we shall find anybody to take care of these young ones. Nothing but trouble, trouble, trouble!'

And Mr. Samuel Barnabee dropped his two hundred and fifty pounds into a chair to blow awhile, after this outburst of complaints.

'Why, Samuel!' said Mrs. Barnabee, 'I think that you are somewhat unreasonable. Of course John must not ignore the customs of the times.'

'Yes, yes! but what has all this to do with the governess?'

'As for that, Samuel, I don't anticipate any trouble.'

'Dear! dear! dear! It's nothing but trouble! And Ella Wakefield will be here next week. I'll bet the best dollar I ever had that, when John knows I want him to marry her, he'll go straight and marry some widow or other.'

'How would it do, Samuel, to make him think that you do not want him to?'

'By—gracious! I'll try him on that tack. Does the rascal know she's coming?'

'Yes. I told him this morning.'

'I wonder how Ella looks. We have not seen her since she was a wee thing. Dear! dear! dear! Just hear those young ones carry on! They will drive me crazy! There's that John now. Just see that hat! If there's one thing that I hate worse than another, it is a hat just like that one. And see those boots! He looks for all the world as if he were walking on stilts.—Dear! dear! dear!'

John Barnabee was sauntering leisurely toward the house, unconscious of what his respected father was saying about him and sublimely indifferent. With the utmost nonchalance he walked into the room where his father was sitting with snapping eyes and a very red face.

'I don't believe there's another hat like that in the city,' jerked out the old gentleman, vexed that John had the impudence to wear it in his presence.

Dearborn has them by the wholesale,' remarked John, with a mischievous twinkle in his eye. 'Shall I order one for you, father?'

'Me! me! you jackanapes? Me, with such a thing on my head? I'd sooner wear a skillet! I don't see what on earth they were ever made for.'

'I believe they were made to wear,' said John seriously.

'You—you—impudent—there, what did I tell you about those boots?'

'Father, I consulted my boot-maker, and it was his candid opinion that the boots would not be worth a dime without heels.'

'Dear! dear! dear! What impudence. —But there's another matter I want to talk to you about. Miss Ella Wakefield—you never saw her—is coming here next week, and I don't want you to go to making love to her. Because I will not have it. Now you remember!'

'I shall not need to remember,' said John, quietly; for he very well knew that his father did not mean what he said. 'I am going into the country, and shall not return, probably until after Miss Wakefield goes away.'

'You are not going to do any such thing!' exclaimed his father. 'I've made up my mind that you shall marry her, and you've got to do it!'

'Oh! you want me to marry her without making love to her?'

'Who said anything about your not making love to her?' demanded the the old gentleman.

'You, father.'

'Don't tell me that, you rascal! I do want you to make love to her, and marry her, too; so you understand? And you ain't going into the country, either.'

'But my health, father?'

'Hang your health? You'll find an insalubrious climate, if you go against my wishes. Do you understand now?'

'I flatter myself that I do. How long will Miss Wakefield remain?'

'Only a week. Then you can go where you please. Remember, now.'

'I will try, father, but you know my memory was always short.'

'You just try it this time,' said Samuel Barnabee, threateningly, as he left the room, feeling sure that John, for once, was conquered. But he was not. The very next day he was missing.

'Gone into the country,' was Mrs. Barnabee's reply to her husband.

'I'll disinherit him before I'm a day older!' exclaimed the angry father. 'No, I won't, either,' he added, immediately. —'I'll wait awhile. Wife, have my valise packed; I'm going off to find somebody to help you take care of these children.'

Mr. Samuel Barnabee took the first morning train, and was gone three days.

'Dear! dear! dear! Such a chase as I have had! If I have been in one town, I've been in a dozen! Dear! dear!'

'Did you see John?' asked Mrs. Barnabee.

'No; nor don't want to. I went after a girl. Dear! dear!'

'You did not find one, then?'

'Yes, I did, too; and she will be here next week. Let's see; her name is—is —Mortmain.'

Miss Mortmain arrived punctually.

'Why, Samuel, I'm afraid she will not suit us,' said Mrs. Barnabee; 'she is so very young.'

'Well, wife, we'll try her a while. I guess she isn't so young as she looks.—We'll try her a week or two. By the way, Miss Wakefield won't come this week.—Sick, I guess. I saw her father. That rascal, John, I'll not let him know next time.'

Notwithstanding her misgivings, Mrs. Barnabee was well pleased with Miss Mortmain. With a face surpassingly beautiful and a sunny disposition was united a love for children which made the care of them a pleasure and won the confidence of the little prattlers at once. The rest was very easy, for it has been truly said that the way to a mother's heart is through her children.

John ventured back after a two weeks' absence.

'Has she gone, mother?' he asked, the moment he stepped into the house.

'She has not been here, John. Sickness, I think your father said.'

John was vexed, but he laughed.

'I do not wish the lady any ill,' said he, 'but if I could have my say, I should hope that sickness, or some thing else, might keep her away, at least until I am married, if ever I decide to risk my happiness in such a way.'

'Why, John Barnabee!'

'There, mother, don't be shocked at my nonsense. But who is that young lady I see with the children?'

'Miss Mortmain. She takes Miss Waldron's place.'

'Humph! She is a child herself,' said he, turning away, yet not without a second look at the bright young face.

Mr. Samuel Barnabee appeared to take no notice of his son's return; and he also seemed to have lost his fault-finding proclivities.

But John was not alarmed. Accustomed to his father's idiosyncrasies from the cradle, he felt sure that this new phase would explain itself in time. And he had another matter to occupy his mind. Miss Ella Mortmain had awakened an interest in his hitherto obdurate heart; but he met with no encouragement. While she seemed grateful for his attentions, she kept him in a state of anxious suspense by her cold and stately dignity. But he was not disheartened.

'I will win her,' thought he. 'I must win her love.' Samuel Barnabee could not, or would not see the danger, while to his wife it was very obvious.

'John,' said she, 'I fear that you are doing wrong. I do not know what your father will say when he knows it. You know that he is determined that Ella Wakefield shall be your wife.'

'And I am as determined that she shall not, mother. I cannot be dictated to in a matter that relates to my own happiness.'

'But you ought to let your father know it.'

'I shall not tell him, mother.'

'Then I must, John.'

'I do not object; only it may make it unpleasant for Miss Mortmain. However, do as you think best, mother. Whatever he may say will not affect me in the least, so far as my resolution to marry the woman of my choice is concerned.'

Mrs. Barnabee felt that it was her duty to inform her husband, yet it was a very unpleasant task.

'Wants to marry the governess, does he?' exclaimed Mr. Barnabee, growing very red in the face. 'I'll show him! Where is the young rascal?'

'In the library with Miss Mortmain and the children: but I wouldn't go there now.'

'I shall go just this minute,' said he, waddling to the door. 'I'll know what's what. Dear! dear!'

John was sitting at the window.

He held an open book in his hand, but he couldn't have told a single word there was on the page, for he was watching every movement of Ella Mortmain, as, unconscious of his scrutiny, she heard the children's lessons.

'You rascal!' exclaimed Samuel Barnabee, bursting into the room, wheezing and puffing. 'You want to marry Miss Mortmain, do you?'

The lady blushed crimson, while John arose, blazing with indignation.

'Father, I entrust you to have some respect—'

'Want to marry her, do you?' repeated the old gentleman. 'She's crazy to once think of such a jackanapes; and I am not going to impose upon her by consenting.—Why, my dear child, that boy is not worth the salt he eats I shall disinherit him if he—'

'Stop, father!' cried John.

'Stop?' shrieked Mr. Barnabee, as he grasped John by the arm. 'Come over here now, and tell me the truth. Now, Miss Mortmain, do you really want to marry this boy?'

The poor girl turned away her head to hide her confusion, and John, deeply mortified, yet half pleased at the turn of affairs, stepped to her side.

'Father,' said he, 'no word of the kind has ever passed between us, but as the question has been asked, I alone must receive the answer. I am waiting, Ella.'

She lifted up her face, radiant with love and joy, and for an answer she placed her hand in his.

'That's enough! that's plenty!' cried the old gentleman. 'Ah, you rascal! I've outwitted you; and as you won't be likely to back off the track now, I'll just tell you that you have been making love to Ella Mortmain Wakefield. Ha! ha! Ella, you never guessed what I was driving at when I wanted you to come here incognita. Dear! dear! dear! I hope you will be happy.'

And they were happy.

— A farmer recently brought into Detroit a curiosity in the shape a ball of striped snakes, which he unearthed in a bit of marsh. In going into quarters for the winter they had rolled themselves into a heap, being tangled and knotted like a net, and were without life or motion; seven heads could be counted in the ball.

—A Chinaman thus describes a trial in English law courts: "One man is quite silent, another talks all the time, and twelve wise men condemn the man who has not said a word."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Bonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying out all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which confer them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scarfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfebl6

THE PHILOSOPHIC JOHN WETHERBEE of Boston, likens researches into spiritualism to fishing. We quote a passage from his pen:—

One man goes to a pond, or river, casts in his line, gets no bites, catches no fish, goes home with an empty basket, thinks fishing dull business; if he is an artist, he pictures fishing as a line with a fool at one end and a worm at the other. Another goes to the same place, it may be, or to another, and catches a fish, then another, likes the sport, then, perhaps, he has a dull period—has no luck—but, having been successful when and where the other was not, he perseveres and is again rewarded. The latter believes in fishing; capital sport; shows his basket full of trout. Why this difference? It may be in the man; it may be in the bait; it may be in the disposition of the fish, or it may be in other conditions. I must leave the reader to draw his own conclusions, simply saying that I had the good fortune to catch a big fish the first time, and I have continued to fish ever since; but for that early luck I might still have been in the gall of bitterness and the bonds of iniquity (as Fulton and Knapp would say of unbelievers), for I first began to fish, but I remembered the big fish I had once caught, and it kept up my courage, and my reward has been very great. I am very sorry for those who do not like fish.

THE PILGRIM FATHERS.—The Westminster Review, like our members of Congress when they have nothing else to talk about, devotes an article to the New England Puritans, considering their embarkation and settlement, when the great work of Anglo-Saxon colonization first began, a subject of interest to the people of England at a time when their attention is so largely directed to the relations which subsist between that country and its colonies. It presents the picture of their embarkation, as one "unsurpassibly heroic"—a party of grave, sad men, weeping women, and wailing children wended secretly on a desolate heath near the mouth of the Humber, and on the most dreary shore of Lincolnshire. One boatload of passengers was on its way to the ship, when a party of horsemen swooped down upon the remaining fugitives and took them captive. They were mostly women and children, whose loud lamentation made the scene exceedingly depressing. Taken before a magistrate, their only offence being that they were going with their husbands and fathers, the detention of such homeless and hapless captives seemed a bootless business, and so they they were released. And thus the Pilgrims left England kindly falhearted; going they scarce know whither, and having nought but faith to cheer them onward. Tracking them through all their wanderings, their privations and sufferings, from their landing on the now famous rock of Plymouth, which was the birth of a great Republic, it re-capitulates the results which have followed, which are declared to be wonders exceeding all that history has described or imagination pictured. "These Pilgrim Fathers have bequeathed to their descendants not merely such a Republic as the world has never seen elsewhere, but a spirit of energy and resolutenes that has worked on steadily for empire. But beyond any of these material conquests, the spirit of the Pilgrims has been a resistless moral power in the history of that western world. It has given birth to new forms of thought, new expressions of speech, new principles of philosophy, new maxims and examples of social economy, new phases of domestic life. It has completed the only perfect example of a State where freedom, equality, and opportunity, are the common heritage of all. It has established a government so strong that no European power dare lightly rouse its antagonism, while the mother country, overshadowed by this her eldest daughter, shrinks from a rupture with that people as from the direst calamity that could befall her. It has proved equal to the task of carrying on to its final and fore-determined issue the mightiest civil war of which history tells, and it has stamped out the curse of slavery from its soil at incredible sacrifices and with lightning will. Such is the fruit borne by the lives and labors of the Pilgrim Fathers."

RICHARD S. EWELL, ex-rebel general, died in Tennessee on the 25th, aged 50 years. He was a West Point graduate. A short time before his death, in giving directions regarding his tombstone, he said that he would have in the inscription no word that could in any way reflect upon the government of the United States. Wonderful condescension!

STEAMER AMERICA, plying between Rio and Montevideo, while on her trip from the latter port on the night of the 23d, took fire. The flames spread with great rapidity and the vessel was soon burned to the water's edge. A large number of passengers were on board, of whom eighty-seven were burned to death or drowned.

FRANCE.—A dispatch from Nice reports a terrible railroad accident at that city Friday. While a train from Cannes was crossing the bridge over the Paglioni River, the structure gave way and the cars were precipitated into the water. Fourteen persons were killed and wounded.

—In the Spanish Cortes Diaz Quinten said that it was quite time to cede Cuba to the United States. He was howled down by the whole house.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking style of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright graces to the tips of her tiny flutters she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the first artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the backwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. THIS will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

Specimen copies of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Tilltwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other advertisements not anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13x18) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

(1) Independent, N. Y. (2) Evening Mail, N. Y. (3) Aldine, N. Y. (4) Springfield Republican. (5) Advance, Chicago. (6) Harper's Weekly, N. Y. (7) Illustrated Christian Weekly, N. Y. (8) Christian at Work, N. Y.

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent FREE to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents ($3.10) for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JANUARY 29, 1872.

The State Campaign:

The Democrats seem to have almost abandoned the hopeless task of re-electing Governor Weston and are concentrating their energies to securing the legislature. Their papers loudly boast, as is usual with them, of the wonders they are to perform on the coming of the March ides, in the popular vote, but the leaders know there is no more chance for Governor Weston to be re-elected by the people than for President Grant to fail of a re-election if re-nominated. One of the most prominent Democrats of this State in conversation with the writer recently complained bitterly of the imbecility of Governor Weston's administration and of the character of some of his appointees. This feeling is common with the more decent men of the party and the result is a very tame contest for the gubernatorial chair When first nominated, Gov. Weston was selected because of his amiability and consequent availability. One term suffices to show that amiability, though a rare virtue, is not all that is desired in a good executive. One must have the pluck to say "no" when he cannot give assent without injurious results.

The nomination of Hon. EZEKIEL A. STRAW was also a severe blow to Democratic ascendency, as would have been the case also had his chief competitor in the convention been selected. The Democracy know full well the meaning of that nomination and the unanimity shown by the delegates present. It means a thorough canvass, the casting aside of all side issues, a stripping for the fight, a determination that shall bring success. When in past years the Republicans of New Hampshire have meant business, have realized that if they would win they must work, they have invariably triumphed. A long array of unparalleled victories a score in number and covering sixteen years, is an inkling of what they can do when aroused. The surprise of last year cannot be repeated, and none know this fact more fully than the Democratic leaders.

Seeing the assurance of coming defeat in the popular vote, they have bent their energies towards the possession of the legislature. On that body they propose to concentrate their efforts, and in their zeal have forgotten to cover the trail. We know that wealthy men of the party have been in consultation with Democrats from the towns of Newcastle and Gosport recently for the sole purpose of securing Democratic representatives therefrom. It has been discussed, the plans laid and the cost considered. Both towns are Republican and it is proposed to buy a few votes to secure Democratic representatives. The only question asked is, "How much money do you want to do it?" This is a true statement and we hear like reports from other close towns in more distant parts of the State. Republicans are forewarned—let them be forearmed. The next legislature will choose a U. S. Senator. Let no Democrat be chosen a member through division in our ranks, or corruption. Already we hear of the harmonizing of various discordant elements in a town in this Senatorial district which has given Republican majorities for Governor and President every year since 1855, last year included. Yet through bickering a Democratic representatative has misrepresented the town for two years past. Now the Republicans propose to join hands, submit their differences to a full caucus and unitedly rally to the support of the nominee. Let this be done. Let no Democrat be chosen from a Republican town this year, and we shall have in June a Republican Governor, a Republican Senate, a Republican House of Representatives, and a Republican U. S. Senate elect for six years.

The Men We Are to Vote For.

Now that our ticket is made up for the coming election, our readers will probably be gratified to obtain at least such information respecting the antecedents of the candidates, as can be presented in the brief columns of a newspaper.

EZEKIEL A. STRAW,

Who has been selected as the standard bearer of our party, was born in Warner, in 1819, his father being a farmer. He attended school in Lowell, Mass., and completed his education at Phillips Academy, Andover; after which he qualified himself for the profession of a civil engineer,—and was employed as such in the construction of the Nashua & Lowell Railroad. In 1838 he entered the employ of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, and his interests have been identified with those of Manchester ever since. He is a large manufacturer, is deeply interested in the cause of education and every reform, and has had wide experience as a man of business and a legislator. It is not too much to say that no man in the state commands the public confidence in a greater degree than Mr. Straw.

ALBERT S. TWITCHELL,

Whom our party have put in nomination for Railroad Commissioner, is a native of Bethel, Maine, thirty-five years of age, and by profession a lawyer. In the war of the Rebellion he was a gallant and successful soldier, serving in and eventually being promoted to the command of a Maine battery. For several years past he has resided in Gorham, N. H., and has been County Attorney of Coos county. He is a man of high personal integrity, and is very influential in the community in which he resides.

SAMUEL P. DOW,

Our nominee for Councillor, the son of the late John Dow, Esq., was born in Epping, and is now fifty-six years of age. He was brought up on the farm where he now resides, and has always retained an interest in agricultural pursuits. At a comparatively early age he began to deal in wood and lumber, a business which he has since followed largely, and successfully.

In 1854 Mr. Dow, who had removed to Newmarket, upon his marriage, was elected a Representative from that town,—which was the first symptom of the breaking up of Democracy in that stronghold of the party; was re-elected, the preceding year, and in 1858 he was chosen to the Senate from this district.

From the very beginning of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, Mr. Dow has been more or less identified with it, having a large business in connection with it, and having been a Director for fourteen years. He has also been a Director of the Newmarket Bank from the time of its organization. He has always been a sound and reliable Republican and will carry into the duties of the Executive chamber the same ability, and honest judgment which have in all past time secured him the respect and confidence of his fellow citizens.

WARREN BROWN,

The nominee for Senator in District No. 1, is thirty-five years of age; born in Hampton Falls, and a son of the late well known John B. Brown, Esq. He was a student of the academies of his native town and of Andover, Mass., and has chosen the occupation of farming and stock-raising, in which he has manifested capital business qualifications, and sound sense and discrimination. He is one of the Trustees of the N. E. Agricultural Society; has held various town offices to the entire acceptance of his fellow citizens. This is his first nomination for more important public office, but his ability and popular personal qualities, peculiarly fit him for a high political career, if his love for agricultural pursuits should not bind him too firmly to his native soil.

MATTHEW H. TAYLOR,

The candidate for Senator in District No. 2, is a native of Derry, and about forty-one years of age. He is a manufacturer of woolens, and has devoted his attention assiduously and successfully to that business. He has, however, filled various important offices in his town, and was one of the Representatives of Salem in 1867 and 1868. He has been a Republican from the start, and has given his time and influence unsparingly for the benefit of the party. Mr. Taylor served acceptably in the office for which he is renominated, during the critical and important session of last year.

GEORGE W. WESTON,

Our candidate for Register of Deeds, was born in Goshen, N. H., in 1828. His father was a physician, who removed about thirty years since to Windham with his son, where the latter has since resided. He obtained his education chiefly in the common schools, and engaged some twenty years ago in the shoe trade, which he has conducted with great judgment and success.

In 1866, Mr. Weston was elected to the Legislature; and in the same year received the appointment of Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue, the duties of which position he has always discharged ably and acceptably. For several years past he has been an efficient member of the Republican State Central Committee, and our party has no more earnest and zealous supporter than he. He is in every way worthy and qualified for the office for which he has been nominated, and if the Republicans of this County are true to their party-fealty, his election is certain.

WINTHROP N. DOW,

Of Epping, the Republican candidate for County Treasurer, is a native of that town, and forty-three years of age. He was educated at the common schools and at Pembroke Academy; and early engaged in trade, at Northwood and West Epping, in which last named place he has resided and continued in the same business for the last fifteen years. In connection with it he has for several years pursued the business of manufacturing and selling lumber, the purchase of woodlands, &c., in which, as in all his transactions, by the aid of his diligence and good judgment, he has been eminently successful.

Mr. Dow has been a zealous and working member of our party from the time of its organization, but has not held public office, except that of Postmaster in the village where he resides. His first-rate business capacity, integrity, and high personal character, render his nomination an admirable one, and the voters of Rockingham county cannot place their treasury to better keeping.

FRANK W. MILLER,

Our candidate for County Commissioner, is about forty-two years of age, a native of Portsmouth, and the son of the late Rev. Tobias H. Miller, a well known clergyman and journalist. Mr. Miller was bred to the business of a printer, and served as apprentice and journeyman in several offices in Portsmouth and Concord in this State, and for a short time in New York city.

In 1852, he projected and commenced the publication of the Daily Chronicle newspaper in Portsmouth. For eighteen years he devoted himself to the building up of that journal; he purchased and merged in it two other newspapers, and issued a daily and weekly edition; and when he disposed of the Chronicle in 1870, it was well established, and a deserved success. Since that time he has been engaged in the real estate business in Portsmouth, and has a connection with the Boston press.

Besides conducting the business of a journalist with success, Mr. Miller has filled various political and other positions, to the complete satisfaction of his fellow citizens. In addition to holding the offices of Ward Clerk, Councilman and Alderman of his city, he served as Representative in 1869 and 1870, and is now chairman of the Board of Assessors of Portsmouth, and also of the Republican committee of his ward. For several years past he has likewise been Secretary and Treasurer of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society.

In all the various positions which he has occupied, public and private, Mr. Miller has shown himself to be entirely capable and trustworthy. As a member of the board of County Commissioners, he will be faithful and impartial in the performance of his duties, while his urbanity will insure him the good-will of all.

Such is a brief and imperfect outline of the personal and political history of the several candidates of the Republican party, whose names appear at the head of our columns. As a whole, they command our confidence in an unusual degree. They have been nominated fairly, their nominations are, without an exception, eminently fit to be made, and inspire our party with faith, courage and the spirit that leads to victory.—Exeter News Letter.

A CHICAGO GRAND JURY report that they are satisfied that many cases of bribery exist which they are unable to expose for the reason that the necessary witnesses have fled the State. They have indicted Dominick Kleutch, collector of taxes for West Chicago, for altering tax-bills and collecting larger amounts than the assessors called, retaining the surplus for his own use.

—The Havana board of health asserts that the small pox is an epidemic.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and imprudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitter," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences or unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Sold by all Druggists. Factory, BOND ST., N.Y.

TRAGEDY IN BROOKLYN.—Mrs. Fanny Hyde shot and mortally wounded her employer, Geo. W. Watson, on the 25th. After the murder the woman went to her home, sent for her husband, told him when he came what she had done, and then went to the nearest police station and delivered herself up. According to her story, which is corroborated by others, the man Watson, who employed her, had criminally pursued her until she became desperate and shot him. She is but about twenty years of age, and attracts sympathy by her piteous moaning and generally forlorn condition.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We received a very pleasant letter of thanks from our old friend Kendall, since his return home, for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment which we gave him, and which he says has entirely cured him of the troublesome and dangerous cough he had when here.

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchaser on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open, and the feet warm." If physic is necessary, use Parsons' Purgatives Pills; they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

A STABLE INSTITUTION.—Just at the period when all stable-men were complaining that the horse-ailments of the day were unstable remedies, the MUSTANG LINIMENT made its entree in Missouri, without any flourish of trumpets, and within one year became the favorite embrocation for the external distempers and injuries of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of accomplished horsemen; nor is its household reputation as a cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore nipples and caked breasts, tumors, mumps, sore throat, earache, toothache, bruises, burns, wounds and sprains, a whit behind its celebrity as a horse Liniment. The Mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the "rising generation," and in fact there is not a city or township in the United States where the MUSTANG LINIMENT is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Something Loose.

The Portsmouth School Law provides that the School Committee "shall, on the first day of January in each year, render to the Mayor and Aldermen a full and particular report of the receipts and expenditures for the year; the number of scholars under their control; the number of pupils of each sex belonging to each school; the average number of each sex belonging to each school; their ages; the various branches of study taught in each school, and such other matters as may serve to present a general view of the condition of each school." Up to the twenty-seventh day of January no such report—and no report of any kind—has been made the present year. What is the matter?

Off The Track.

The train due here from Boston at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, on the Eastern Railroad, got off the track near Thompson's wood-yard, owing to a misplaced switch. The engine (the Katahdin, driven by Mr. Chas. A. Green) uncoupled from the train as usual, and shot ahead. The misplaced switch is a patent one, intended to keep trains on the track even when it is misplaced, which it would doubtless have done on this occasion had not the driving wheels of the locomotive broken the "patent" in passing over it, as the engine remained on the rails while the tender and the pursuing train ran off. The engineer instantly whistled "on brakes" to the train, repeating the warning signal at short intervals; but not being able to ascertain with certainty whether the train had run off and was stopped or was still on the rails and chasing the engine, he did not stop his machine until he was nearly down to the old engine house and all possibility of a collision obviated. The actual damage done was trifling, and we are informed that no person was injured, the train running only about twice its length on the sleepers. The train, consisting of two passenger cars and a baggage car, was got on the track and out of the way in season for the Pullman train which passes through this city at 10 o'clock P. M. to run nearly on time.

Laconics.

The hours of labor at the Navy Yard will hereafter be as follows: From 8 to 12 A. M. and from 1 to 5 P. M.

We are informed that out of seventy-five or eighty scholars who usually attend the town school at Newington, more than one-half are sick with the mumps.

Mr. Albert Chamberlain, Jr., formerly of this city, now in the employ of the C. B. & Q. R. R. and stationed at Keokuk, Iowa, had three of his fingers badly jammed in shackling cars, recently. Two fingers were amputated. Mr. Chamberlain was connected with Law's Express when in this city.

We would remind our readers that the concert which Mr. Martyn has been for some time promising us, takes place this evening at the Temple. It will be seen by a reference to the advertisement that he will be powerfully assisted by some of the best talent to be obtained in the country. Mrs. Martyn's rich, powerful soprano voice, which has given her so enviable a reputation in our Western and Southern cities, will be heard for the first time in Portsmouth We are glad to hear that Mr. Chase will also assist on the occasion. Senor Farranti, late of the Wachtel troupe, will also appear. Altogether, the entertainment promises to be the musical event of the season. We trust our readers will not neglect the opportunity thus offered. Tickets for sale at Preston's, and in the evening at the door.

Mr. George E. Stackpole of this city was badly injured at the Navy Yard on Saturday morning by a fall of twelve feet from a staging in the tin and copper shop of the department of Yards and Docks. Mr. Stackpole, in company with another joiner, Mr. Samuel D. Swain, was engaged in setting up a nut on the end of a truss rod with an iron bar, when the lever upon the end of which he was throwing his whole weight slipped from the socket in which it was inserted, precipitating him to the floor below. He was unconscious when taken up, and Surgeon Leach being called it was thought advisable to remove him to the Hospital, where an examination revealed the fact that no bones were broken, although his frame had received a fearful jar. The executive officer of the Yard, Capt. Fairfax, with his usual kindness and sympathy on such occasions, allowed the steamer Emerald to make an extra trip for the purpose of conveying the injured man to his home in this city.

The keenest business men sometimes make mistakes. Not one man in ten thousand possesses the native shrewdness and business tact of Hon. Frank Jones, as the large fortune he has built up and the influence he wields in monied circles proves; yet even Mr. Jones got badly "sold" when he last purchased a political editor to run the local Democratic organ. He'll never make two per cent. on that investment, politically, and we imagine he would be glad to dispose of his purchase at a considerable discount on the original cost. And the Democratic party in this vicinity would not be sorry to have their strongest man get rid of the meanest piece of property he ever owned,—but a "wart," though neither useful nor ornamental, (so far as mere mortals can discover,) is one of the most difficult to eradicate of all morbid growths.

The School Committee for the current year organized Friday evening. Major Daniel J. Vaughan was chosen temporary chairman, and Mr. Mercer H. Goodrich, temporary Secretary. On motion James P. Bartlett, Esq., was chosen permanent Chairman, and Augustus Walden, Secretary and Treasurer. Considerable discussion as to the appointment of sub-committees resulted in a postponement of the matter. A report from the members of Ward Three that they had chosen Albert R. Hatch as a member of the High School Committee was laid on the table. It was then voted to invite Mr. Edgerly, Superintendent of Schools at Manchester, to address the Committee and give his experience under the new system.

Congress.

Senate.—The joint resolution for adjournment on the 29th of May was considered. Mr. Schurz offered an amendment to provide that Congress shall not adjourn without passing a law for the reform of the civil service. He said if this amendment was rejected, it indicated that the Senate did not care about the reform of the civil service. The amendment was rejected—32 to 16.

Mr. Sumner's amendment providing that no adjournment take place until after the passage of the supplementary civil rights bill, was discussed. Mr. Trumbull moved a further amendment providing that Congress do not adjourn until after the passage of a bill repealing the duty on coal. The amendment was rejected—yeas 14, nays 27.

Mr. Schurz offered amendments providing that there should be no final adjournment until after the passage of laws for the reduction of the tariff and internal taxation. The amendment was rejected—yeas 22, nays 26.

Mr. Sumner's amendment was defeated, his being the only vote cast in the affirmative.

Mr. Sumner offered another amendment, that there shall be no adjournment until after legislation to promote a return to specie payment. Lost.

Mr. Sumner moved a substitute to the resolution to the effect that justice should precede generosity, that we should be just to our colored fellow citizens before being generous to rebels, so that equal rights shall not be postponed for amnesty, and that Congress will not adjourn until the issues of the rebellion are closed and reconciliation secured.

Mr. Hamlin said the proposed amendment was very important and solemn, and as it should not be voted on without great deliberation he rose to inquire whether it would be in order to sing Old Hundred before taking the vote.

Mr. Sumner retorted that the Senator from Maine should lead off. He didn't think the rights of the colored people should be trifled with. There is a tune they can sing at the ballot box.

Mr. Carpenter thought they could not sing it before the 29th of May.

Mr. Sumner sat down, greatly chagrined. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 41 to 4—only Rice, Spencer, Sumner, and Tipton voting in the affirmative.

The adjournment resolution unamended was then passed, 36 to 12—Sherman, Sumner, Tipton, Sprague and Schurz being the only republicans who voted against it.

The discussion of the apportionment bill revealed the fact that a majority of the Senators favor the House bill providing for 283 members. Senator Patterson and others favored 300 as the standard, which would give New Hampshire three members of the House hereafter, but were defeated, 31 to 16. So New Hampshire will lose one Representative.

—The great lottery of $50,000 estimated value, which was to have been drawn in Biddeford by John H. Ellis, ostensibly for the benefit of the charity fund of Post Sheridan of the Grand Army, has come to an untimely end, the property being attached by Boston parties because it was not paid for.

—During the recent crisis Thiers said to General Cissey that if Napoleon had 50,000,000 francs he would be in power in fifteen days.

State News.

Col. Allen Tenney, formerly Secretary of State, has been appointed clerk to the House Committee on the District of Columbia.

O. A. J. Vaughan, of the Laconia Democrat, is recovering from a dangerous illness, and expects to resume the editorial harness next week.

A company has been formed for the purpose of building a factory for the manufacture of spools, at Tamworth Iron Works. The work of building has already begun. The motive power will be steam.

The real estate transactions in Manchester last year amounted to $633,356.75. The heaviest transactions were in the months of April, $93,868, and November, $73,633.

THE SMALL POX is raging fearfully at Thayer, Iowa. In a population of less than one thousand, and sixty deaths have occurred within four weeks. Almost every person in town has been stricken down. No trains are allowed to stop.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It alone is the sewing machine in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the heaviest and lightest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying out all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf8i6

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from ulceral ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AN INCIDENT IN THE LIFE OF FISK.—The story of the elder Rothschild's journey from Brussels to London where he had been assured of the overthrow of Napoleon at Waterloo, and of his immense and successful speculations there is well known. But James Fisk, Jr., conceived and executed an equally brilliant stroke at the close of our war of the rebellion, the particulars of which, we think have never been published. With that sagacity which distinguished him in all his career Fisk saw that when on the 2nd of April 1865, General Lee was driven from Petersburg, his surrender could not be far distant.

He immediately went to Boston and consulted with some of his financial friends and made them partners in his scheme. This was to get news of the surrender of General Robert Lee and collapse of the Confederacy for use on 'Change in London in advance of the mail. It will be remembered that the Atlantic cable was not then working. A small swift steamer, formerly a blockade runner, was purchased, fitted out, and sent to Halifax in ballast. Neither the captain nor officers of the steamer knew her destination. The secret of her mission was solely confided to an agent of Fisk, who was the only passenger on board.

Steam was kept up day and night, and everything was in readiness for a start across the Atlantic. Days went by, and still the steamer lay quietly in the harbor of Halifax, awaiting the expected message from Fisk. At length it came. If James Fisk, jr., had tried his best he could not have indited a shorter dispatch. It was dated at Boston, signed "Fisk," and contained but one word, "Go!"

The blockade runner started for Queenstown immediately and got there two days ahead of the steamer. The agent speeded across Ireland to London and commenced his operations. Before twenty-four hours elapsed he had sold "short (that is, sold what he had not got) $5,000,000 in Confederate bonds. He had orders from Fisk to sell as long as he could get buyers, but was restrained by a partner of one of the Boston men, who was cursed with prudence. But the operation was pretty successful; the "syndicate" divided between $3,000,000, and $4,000,000, the proceeds of the "speculation." This was a lift for James Fisk, jr.

THE "PROVIDENCE THEORY."—A professed infidel in Chicago writes to the Boston Investigator, saying that he owns five houses in that city, not one of which was burned—concluding that his buildings were more favored than the churches, of which seventy were destroyed by fire. Henry Ward Beecher's paper says this is rather an unfavorable fact for those who are fond of interpreting all startling events on the theory of a divine judgment on evil doers.

A BIDDEFORD MAN recently took a barrel of flour from a destitute tenant in payment of rent. The flour was procured by subscription by members of the Methodist Church and presented to him. The merciful landlord was also a member of the church.

—Water is scarce in Bangor.

—A fire in Nashville, Tenn., recently, destroyed property to the value of $300,000.

—The libel suit of Snyder against the Baltimore American resulted in favor of the newspaper.

—Reports from stations along the Union Pacific Railroad indicate the worst blockade of the winter.

—Fitz-John Porter is appointed superintendent of works for the Jersey new State lunatic asylum at Morristown.

—Lewiston and Auburn manufacturing enterprises disburse annually in the two cities nearly four millions of dollars, about four-fifths of which is to labor.

—The enterprising individual who is organizing a brass band of twenty women in Cincinnati, says if they learn half as many "airs" as they put on, the experiment cannot fail to be a success.

—"If the party who plays the accordeon in this vicinity at night, will only change his tune occasionally, or sit where we can scald him when the engine has steam on, he will hear of something to his advantage."—Exchange.

—Boston "subscriber" who criticises the language of our weekly advertisement in the daily papers has our thanks. It is some years since we sat in the back row in school. We fear a "competitive examination" would be against us.—Commonwealth.

—A person in a passion very often jumps at conclusions suddenly. "I say, neighbor Snobs, if you don't keep your hens out of my garden, I will shoot them," "Very well, Doolittle, shoot away; only, if you kill any of my hens, throw them into my yard," Crack went the fowling piece, morning after morning, and large fat hens were pitched into Snobs' yard. They cooked very well. After a fortnight or so, Doolittle discovered that Snobs never had any hens, and that he had been shooting his own, they having broken out of his own coop.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush on cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely hold by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But those pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of commonplace amusement and interest to the little people skin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to those two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the original, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's pubs lishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN copies of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars. See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. IT IS UNSECTARIAN in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. IT ADMITS NO MEDICAL OR OTHER possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13x17½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

"Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER — OF — The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents [$3.10] for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent, free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N.H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1872.

Balancing Accounts.

The citizens of Malden, Mass., have held an indignation meeting on account of insufficiency of railroad accommodation. The Boston & Maine and Eastern Railroad run fifty-two trains daily through their town, and the Malden people, it is presumed, do not complain of the number of trains run, when they can visit the hub twenty-six times in twenty-four hours, but of the rates of fare charged. As they go to Boston daily, the presumption is they do their business in Boston and may be regarded as Boston men. Now as Boston to retain its trade and secure new business extends its lines of railroad into new fields, competing with railways leading to New York, with its immense wealth invested in rival routes, of course the rates of transportation must be cheap to induce business to be sent over the road to Boston. If the Boston & Maine draws from Lawrence a carload of flour sent from Ogdensburg, the depot charges and car use being in excess of the freight allotted the road for the twenty-six miles' haul, the deficiency must be made up somewhere, and why should not Boston merchants residing at Malden make up the loss? The Boston & Maine will take freight, for example, at Newburyport, transport it to Haverhill and thence to Boston at less rates than the Eastern charges for the direct haul. The B. & M. get no pay for the freight between Dover and South Berwick and of course make no profit on the business, but still the Eastern does not carry it and there is that satisfaction. Now some one must make up the deficit.

This is one of the effects of adding long and unprofitable lines to the trunk roads. The roads at a distance bring business to Boston, but they seek to be reimbursed for the loss in competitive carrying by a drain on the treasury of the roads leading into Boston. Such is doubtless the object of consolidating the lines through our State between Boston and Ogdensburg, which consolidation is so firmly resisted by the managers of the Concord Railroad, who find by accurate examination that this through business is done at such unreasonably low rates that freight and passengers from Boston to a distance of say one hundred miles must be made to make up the amount lost on the through business. The opponents of consolidation then have a double duty, that of protecting the property of the stockholders of their railroads and the interests of their local patrons.

Now the gentlemen of Malden may pass resolutions and send their committee to confer with the managers of railroads out of Boston, but if Boston insists upon cheap freight by rail, Boston must pay dear for travel. It is a law from which there is no appeal, that if a railroad is to pay dividends to its shareholders there must be some part of its business that will pay a profit; and if the Boston Board of Trade insist upon breadstuffs being conveyed from the West at low rates, upon which the trunk roads lose money in transportation, the suburban and local travel must be taxed to equalize the accounts.

THE WAY TO WIN.—There is a very short method to Republican success next March. Not only is this State Republican, but it is Republican by a very decisive majority. In 1868, by far the most closely contested political year in our recent history, the Republicans gave their candidate for governor 39,778. There are to-day 40,000 Republican voters in the State against 37,500 Democrats, Labor Reformers and Odds and Ends. The Republicans then have only to poll a full vote to elect their candidate for governor by a clear majority of 2500. That there may be no default as to this those who are responsible for the campaign should themselves be impressed with two things, and in turn impress them upon all others.

Bring home every voter.

Bring out every vote.

If these two points are kept steadily, clearly and always in view from now until election, in every district in the State, not even a bond of fate could make the result more certain. Let it be remembered that now is the time to plan to bring home every voter and bring out every vote.—Nashua Telegraph.

THOSE of our readers who wish to dispose of any securities at the highest price, or who have funds to invest surely and profitably, will find in Messrs. Stone & Downer, of Boston, (whose advertisement appears in another column,) all the qualities to be expected of bankers and brokers. These gentlemen enjoy the confidence of all who have had business relations with them during the long period of twenty years, and have the sagacity and ability which only a long and untiring application to business can give.

THE DEMOCRATIC DEFENDERS of the Ku-Klux do not seem particularly anxious to have the doings of that beneficent order made any more public than they have already been. Mr. Poland, of Vermont, from the joint committee on Southern Outrages, recently made a report recommending the adoption of a resolution calling on the President for the information on which he acted and exercised in South Carolina the powers conferred upon him in the Ku-Klux act, with the names of the persons arrested and imprisoned, with all the particulars; also such other information as will convey a correct idea of the state of society and the security of life and property in that State and in North Carolina, particularly as to the "Lowry gang," Kentucky, Mississippi, Texas and Louisiana. The "Lowry gang" has been extensively used by the Democratic press as proof that the Ku-Klux are a myth, or at worst but a means of protection from negro outlaws; yet when a Republican called for full information on the subject a Democrat objected to its being given.—Mr. Beck of Kentucky offered a substitute confining the information asked to South Carolina. He don't want to hear anything about the "Lowry gang" or Kentucky Ku-Klux.

WELL DONE!—The legislature of that "last ditch" of Bourbon copperheadism, Kentucky, has passed a law giving negroes the right to testify in the courts; while the Republican and Democratic parties of the enlightened State of California still agree in rejecting the testimony of Chinamen in cases where "white men" are concerned, and other States are discussing the propriety of giving all their citizens equal rights. Kentucky has taken a long step in advance of some of the States which sneer at her hold-back old bunkerism, in this matter of negro testimony.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES are not over-abundant in Tennessee, if a statement which was recently made in Congress is correct,—that out of 91 counties only 23 have any schools. No wonder Tennessee is Democratic.

Political.

The Chicago Tribune is correct in saying "there is an essential difference between admitting the negro to his inalienable rights, or even to his obvious deserts of political equality, and a demand to share the butter-plate with us."

The Great Falls Journal hits the nail on the head by saying there is a doubt in the minds of a large portion of the Temperance men of New Hampshire, whether a Prohibitory law would be beneficial in their State. They have seen the working of the law in Massachusetts, where almost everybody seems satisfied that it is a political machine—and a very poor machine, too—and that State Constables are bought cheap by those whose interest is benefitted by the purchase; and where, instead of being selected from the Temperance ranks, these officers are selected from the other side; and they cannot expect anything better in their State. This class of Temperance men are more likely to vote with their own party; and in the closely contested towns the leaders of both parties will be likely to select men who are not opposed to prohibition.

It is stated that Carl Schurz is confident that General Grant will not be renominated; but if he is he will bolt from the party.

Speaking of the canvass in the Fourth Senatorial District of Pennsylvania, where the two candidates are both Republicans, Mr. Gray being the regular nominee and Col. A. K. McClure the nominee of Republicans unwilling to support Mr. Gray on certain local issues, the Philadelphia Press says the contest is one of personal preferences only, and that if Mr Gray is defeated it will be "by a Republican and a Grant Republican."

Governor Woods of Utah has vetoed the bill for a convention to prepare a State constitution, and his message, which was read in the assembly on Saturday, was offensive to many. Several speeches were made, which were expressive of more or less indignation. The bill is likely to be passed over the veto.

There is no probability of the admission of Utah into the Union. A number of members of Congress say that under no circumstances will any Territory having less population than the federal ratio for a representative be admitted.

On Monday, the House defeated a resolution granting belligerent rights to the Cubans.

—An article in the last number of a progressive magazine bears the title of "Men as Husbands." There always has been a prejudice in their favor, and it is safe to prophesy that their supercedore in that capacity will be no easy matter.

State News.

The Lake Village Times says a little daughter of Frank Rollins drank a quantity of lye lately and was saved only by immediate and energetic medical aid.

On the 24th, in West Stewarston, a two-year-old daughter of Mr. D. G. Ripley upset a kettle of scalding water upon herself, inflicting such burns that she died in eighteen hours after. The little one was an only child.

Mr. J. H. Locke of Hillsborough and others proposed to put up a sawmill in Lancaster which would manufacture six or seven millions of lumber, but at a town meeting held on the 18th, after considerable speaking, it was voted not to exempt it from taxation. So the realization of the project is dubious.

Another large cotton factory is to be erected in Manchester the coming season.

IN THE SUPREME COURT at Portland, Horace Jenness recovered judgment in a replevin suit for a cargo of molasses valued at $12,000 which was stopped in transitu by Lewis T. Stoker of Havana. The cargo was bought by Charles E. Cram & Sturdivant, who failed before its arrival and tranferred the bills of lading to Jenness. Stoker beard of this failure and seized the cargo, but the court ruled that as Stoker was indebted to the firm to the amount of $60,000 and the cargo was bought on general account, the right to stop in transitu did not exist.

THE MANUFACTURE OF MOCASSINS has become an important branch of industry in Bangor. The aggregate sales amount to about $200,000 annually. A large proportion of them are sent to the West. The debris from the manufactories is carted away and used principally for the covering of street-drains preparatory to receiving the earth. The substance is almost indestructible, which makes it of great value for this purpose.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follows the use of the nefarious compounds in question. We cordially commends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many people, particularly children, suffer with the ear ache; and for the benefit of such we give a sure but simple remedy. Put in two or three drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, stop the ear with undressed wool, bathe the feet in warm water before going to bed, and keep the head warm at night.

Capt. Charles Sager, who keeps a superb stock of livery horses in Portland, Me., informed us recently that he uses Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders regularly in his stables, and that the expense is more than offset by the diminished amount of grain necessary to keep his horses always in good order.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

A MELANCHOLY BREAK-DOWN.—There are lively break-downs that make an audience laugh, and there are sad sorrowful breakdowns that make the kind-hearted grieve. To the latter class belongs the enervation of body and mind which is usually called "general debility," or "nervous weakness," and which, when neglected, too often terminates in atrophy and death. A wholesome medicated stimulant is the one thing needed in cases of this description, and science and experience unite in pointing to PLANTATION BITTERS as the true specific. The fact that it combines the properties of an invigorant with those of a regulator and alterative, in exactly the proportions necessary to produce a radical change in the tone of the system, and the action of the digestive and secretive organs, is an unanswerable argument in its favor as a general restorative.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Bonds—Stone & Downer.

The Bargain Closed.

The local Democratic editor accepts our proposition that he "bury the hatchet" and leave us to pay for the coffin and shroud. The fear of having to pay the funeral expenses is probably all that deterred him from burying it long ago, he having a constitutional aversion to disbursements of that kind. But though willing to let us foot the bills he is determined to do all the mud-shovelling himself, and in his Monday's issue goes into the business with even greater zest than usual. He mildly observes that we indulge in "scurrility and witless blackguardism," "wallow in the filth of falsehood, intangible scandal and non-indictable slander," use "vile epithets" and "filthy slang mingled with false and malicious insuendoes," says it "would be easy to retort in kind," and adds: "but, as our readers know, we do not make war with such weapons!" That last statement is the best joke the Democratic editor ever produced. He further says he shall take no notice of us hereafter, except to expose our "ignorance and stupidity." That's kind of him, indeed; but we hope he'll avoid "startling statistics" when he exposes our "ignorance and stupidity." When we first glanced over his string of endearing epithets we imagined he had contracted with the great Joshua for the loan of his fish-cart "for this occasion only," and were about to refuse to pay for the coffin and shroud, as we have a precedent for so doing quite handy; but as he confesses that he cannot use "billingsgate" and really means to accept the "proposition" we made him, we stick to our offer and the bargain is closed. So overjoyed are we that the editor is no longer to brandish his terrible tomahawk and scalping knife over our head, that we are almost tempted to pay the two years' rent of "that coat." And, finally, William, if you choose to have it so, farewell! Call again when you feel inclined; you will find us where you left us, and we are always "at home" to our friends. Be truthful and you will be happier in future.

Police Court.

On Monday, Mrs. Dolly Spinney was complained of before Judge Page, for disturbing the Haven School on Saturday; and her husband, Mr. Horace Spinney, for disorderly conduct in the schoolhouse in presence of a number of the scholars. It appeared that the teacher had punished Mrs. Spinney's son for a breach of school discipline, whereupon the mother entered the school and made threats to the teacher as to what her husband would do in revenge; and that after the school was dismissed but while a class remained to whom the teacher was explaining some matter, Mr. Spinney entered and threatened the teacher with violence if his boy was ever punished again, though acknowledging that he knew nothing of the circumstances which induced the first punishment. Mrs. Spinney was fined $10 and costs, and Mr. Spinney $3 and costs, from which both defendants appealed. City Solicitor Howard for prosecution; Butler for defence.

Marston & Freeman brought suit against B. F. Thorndike, for $6, for press-work done over a year ago. Judgment for plaintiffs. Howard for plffs.; Butler for defendant. This case grew out of a job defendant had to do for a Fair at Newmarket, to print a paper called "The Methodist." Not having a press suitable for the work, he applied to Marston & Freeman, who (in opposition to the advice of their foreman) did the job to accommodate him. On taking away his printed sheets he said he would pay for the work as soon as the Fair folks paid him; but as he afterwards refused to pay the bill, and the last time it was presented sent back a message that the creditors might get their pay the best way they could, it would appear that the Fair folks (or somebody else) are "shocking bad pay."

L. Augustus Fletcher caused the arrest of Wm. Andrews and had him before the judicial tribunal of this city for the purpose of adjudicating a debt of $3.30, asserted to have been contracted tonsorially for services rendered in and upon the body of the said Andrews and likewise his son. The testimony of Fletcher was to the effect that he and Andrews had once been on very familiar terms, dating from an official connexion with an order entitled the American Protestant Association,—that all things were harmonious between them until L. Augustus contracted with Mr. Andrews for a watch, the terms of said contract being one-half to be paid in cash and the balance to be "worked up" upon the person of Mr. Andrews. But from the date of the stipulation aforesaid commenced the hostility which terminated in an entanglement in the meshes of the law. Judge Page, after patiently listening to a vast amount of evidence, pro and con, decided in favor of the defendant.

Laconics.

The Six Jelly Associates open their Socials at Irving Hall this evening. The gentlemen in charge propose to have a merry series of dances, at which none but respectable people are to be admitted.

Mr. Henry M. Thompson has resigned the position of agent of the Kearsarge Mill in this city, which he has held for some three years past, to take a similar position in the Manchester Print Works. He is to be succeeded by Mr. Robert B. Adams.

Government engineers have been surveying "Jerry's (Jaffrey's) Point," the most seaward point of land near this harbor, and have requested the owner to name a price for it. It is reported that it is the intention to abandon Forts McClary and Constitution and to construct an earthwork at Jerry's Point.

Persons who imagine they can elect themselves "correctors" of public school teachers, and interfere with, annoy or threaten them with impunity, are referred to our Police Court report for Judge Page's opinion on that point. We have heard rumors of more than one case in which teachers have been insulted and menaced by outside parties, within a short time, though we could learn nothing positive; we are pleased that the matter has been brought before the court, and every one who values education will heartily approve the protection given to those indispensable public servants, the school teachers, by the decision rendered.

In the Massachusetts Senate, Saturday, a bill was introduced to incorporate the Boston & Portland Railway Trust Company, uniting the Eastern and Boston & Maine Railroads. This company is not to sell its stock for less than $100 per share, and pay $132 for the stock of the latter, and not more $125 for that of the former railroad. The bonds and claims are to be taken at par, with interest. The stock is $21,000,000, of which $3,500,000 is issued to the State Treasurer as a sinking fund, the dividends to be applied in purchase of stock. In the year 1900 the State shall take at par the stock not previously acquired.

An attempt to fire the lumber yard of Mr. Thomas E. Call, near Noble's Island bridge, Sunday night, failed. The "fire-bug" deposited a box, in which were a lighted candle and pieces of kindling wood saturated with kerosene, near some lumber under a barn. The box was perforated with auger holes, which seem to have been too small to allow sufficient draft for the flame. The wood may have also interfered with the draft, the candle being placed in the centre and set in cotton. It burned down and went out, and the conflagration which the incendiary desired did not occur. The box was well smoked.

There was a grand temperance rally before Judge Page, Monday.

On Sunday evening, about 9 o'clock, as City Marshal Johnson was passing along Market Street he heard a woman making a loud call for help, and hastening to the house from which the screams proceeded found a large kerosene lamp making a bonfire of itself, on a table in the house. He picked it up, ran to the door and threw it into the street, it exploding before touching the ground, and the contents burning brightly for some time afterward. Had it burst in the house there would probably have been one house less in the city today. No reason is given for the conduct of the kerosene on this occasion, and it appears to have been merely one of the unaccountable eccentricities which that "non-explosive" fluid sometimes sees fit to indulge in. Look out for your kerosene lamps.

S. J. Court.

Exeter—third week—before Bellows, J.

The following named jurors from this city appeared: Almon H. Jenness, W. A. Vaughan, Jr., John Shannon and Moses Laighton, from Ward One.

A divorce was decreed in favor of Abby Remington against Addison H. Remington.

In 158, Charles Connor vs. Levi G. Towle, an action of trespass for cutting trees on plaintiff's land in Exeter, a jury was empanelled, and after several declinations a foreman was found who was willing to accept the appointment. A confession was filed and subsequently a sum was added to the amount confessed and judgment was taken for $40, the amount confessed. C. U. Bell and Hatch for plff, Marston for deft.

No other case being in readiness for trial the court adjourned to Tuesday morning.

QUICKEST PASSAGE.—A Newcastle, (New South Wales) paper mentions the arrival of the first vessel of the fleet from San Francisco to that port as follows. The Frolic is commanded by Capt. J. C. Bush of this city. The passage is the quickest on record:

The Frolic, of 1368 tons register, arrived in port yesterday evening, after a magnificent passage of forty-five days from port to port. The master reports having sighted two vessels on the voyage—the one, an iron ship bound north, in the North Pacific, when a week out; the other, a barque, on Tuesday morning last. The Frolic is a comparatively new ship, being now on her second voyage. She will load 1800 tons coal for San Francisco, to which port she returns direct. She was towed in by the Paterson, which tug-boat picked her up at noon yesterday, a long way out in the offing, about forty miles to the southward, and kept her in tow in the face of a heavy sea, and in the teeth of a strong north-east gale, until her arrival at about 9 p. m.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

KENTUCKY JOKES. — It was during the Presidential campaign which resulted in the election of Buchanan, that the writer of the appended sketch, in company with three other politicians, rode from Paducah to Boston, Ky., in a hack. They were bound for one of the old-fashioned barbecues, and he tells what happened on the way thus: — The joking Judge M. was one of the party, and the bottles that peeped out from the basket under the seat seemed to improve the sparkle of his wit, the flavor of his jokes, and the music of his laugh, until the happy contagion even reached the driver.

Our fun was at its highest when, turning a curve in the road, we saw, down its hot, dusty stretch, a solitary ox cart, with its owner perched upon what proved to be bags of corn. As a kind of advance guard, a great ugly, brindle dog came trotting along in advance, and attracted by our noise, he threw himself in an attitude of defiance, determined to dispute our advance. With his savage growl, red eyes and erect bristles, he indeed, presented a formidable appearance. Judge M. could not let such an opportunity for a practical joke pass. Said he: — "I'll bet the drinks for the day that I can run that dog off the road."

"Done," said we.

Stopping our hack, he got out, and threw the skirts of his "swallow tailed" coat over his shoulders, stuck his old slouch hat on the back of his head, and going down on "all fours," he scampered toward the dog with the most frightful yells, reminding one of the fable of the ass in the lion's skin. This was too much for the dog, and howling with fright, he took to the brush. The oxen also saw the fearful monster coming down the road, and with one wild bellow they took to to the brush, with their tails standing straight out behind. Away they went, with wheels bouncing in the air, bags of corn bursting open, and spilling their contents in a continuous drill.

"Whoa, Blaze! Whoa, Ball! O, Lordy! what shall I do?" came from the frightened man on the cart, as he went bounding from side to side, now grabbing a cart-pole, then catching at a bag of corn as it went over the side.

This kind of performance could not last long without a change for the better or worse, as the oxen went tearing down the steep bank of a little creek and overturned everything in the water, about waist deep. One ox, getting loose, went up the opposite bank and soon disappeared, while the other cowered down, piteously bellowing as we came up to the scene of disaster. There stood the poor man in water up to his waist, his wagon overturned, and half his corn soaking in the water, while the other half was scattered in the woods. He looked pitiful and scared, and said:

"O, Lordy, stranger, don't never do that ar any more. I'm ruined!"

It was a splendid success, that joke, and there stood the Judge holding on to a sapling and laughing till the tears ran down his cheeks.

We took up a subscription for the poor fellow. The Judge headed the list with an amount nearly covering the damages, and we added to it until we left the man in thankfulness that he had sold his corn so well. At the barbecue, the Judge bet all his money on a little horse-race, and lost, and from that, and the effects of his drinks at our expense, we had to carry him to our hack on a barn-door. On his way home he insisted upon standing on his head.

Which was the ruined man?—Toledo Blade.

HINTS ON HEALTH.—First of all, see to it that you start right. It is vitally important. Avoid all hereditary taints. Be continually anxious about yourself. Remember we are fearfully and wonderfully made, and this curious mechanism may at any moment get out of repair. It may break down altogether. This is death.

Be on the lookout for symptoms. They generally precede a disease. Consult your pulse every half hour, and make sure by frequent personal observation that your tongue isn't coated. You should weigh yourself at least once a day, though it is not necessary to test your lungs more than once a week. Keep your feet and your friendships warm.

Food is very important. No man can live long without it. That Chinaman succeeded in doing it, and laying up money besides, proves nothing. Your food should be taken in moderation, avoiding over-eating, to which one is very prone when dining at somebody else's expense; and equally cautious not to eat too little, unless you happen to occupy a seat at a cheap boarding house. A good, plain, nutritious diet is what you want. Mention it to your landlady and you'll probably get it.

I cannot lay down any special rules as to what you'd better eat. Breadstuffs are bad. The process by which the article is rendered light and white is very deleterious to health. Never eat hot cakes—nor cold ones. Corn bread is fatal. Take to the wheat in grain; carry some in your pockets, and chew the food nature designed for you. If your teeth are bad, or you have none, soak the wheat in castor oil.

For dinner, you want something substantial—pork, for example. If you choose pork, stick to it right through the year;—many a man has built himself up in the pork packing business; and then abrupt changes are dangerous.

For tea something very light should be taken, such as lobsters and milk, cucumbers and ice cream, or cold mince pie, pickles and hard cider. Then for lunch (which is to be eaten, of course, immediately before going to bed,) we have always found plenty of sour-krout, Welsh rabbit, pickled walnuts, hot saleratus biscuit, with London porter and green tea, very agreeable and soothing.

Take plenty of exercise in the open air, or in a treadmill, if well ventilated. Join a circus. Walking is excellent; so is running, particularly if you can run ahead of your ticket.

—A New Haven girl has been engaged to a member of every class in Yale since 1857, and is still Yale and art-y.—Norwich Bulletin.

SHIP ALMORA of St. John, N. B., has been burned at sea. It is feared that all on board perished.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfbl6

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Joints and Limbs, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from uterine ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents for inventions, and opinions and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."☞

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

LONGEVITY OF A GOOD DEED.—Here is a neat little story from Kentucky: About twenty-five years ago a young man from that State took a horse-back ride to Virginia, where his father came from, and on his way met a man and his family removing West, who were so poor as to be almost reduced to starvation. He had compassion on the wretched group and gave them a $20 bill with which to reach their journey's end. In about fifteen years the young man received a letter from the man he had befriended, saying he was a prosperous merchant in Southern Kentucky, and enclosing a $20 bill to pay his loan. After another ten years, which included the great rebellion and its termination, he was elected to the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature; and, being a man of talent and influence, was chosen Speaker, in the contest for which he had noticed that a stranger, and one of the other party, was his strongest supporter. His curiosity was aroused by this and he asked the man's motive, as he never had, to his knowledge, seen him before. "Sir," replied the member, "you will recall, when I mention it, a little scene that occurred when you were a boy on your way to Virginia. It was you who saved my wife from starvation. She told me, time and again, that never did a morsel of food taste so sweet, so unutterably delicious, as that you gave her then. She was just six years old at that time; but when she saw your name, during the late canvass, among the prominent probable candidates for the Speakership, she laid down the law as to how I was to vote. This is all. Neither she, nor her father and mother, brother and sisters, nor myself, can ever forget you."

"DRUNK! THAT'S ALL!"—"What is it?" I asked of a crowd of men upon the sidewalk from whom, as I approached them, I heard repeated shouts of merriment. "What is there so amusing here?"

"Why, don't you see? was the reply. "The fellow's drunk; that's all."

Yes, I see. It was a young man, who, in different circumstances, might have been called good-looking. He had evidently been dressed a few hours before, though now his hat was battered and his clothes soiled; and it made him a still more pitiable sight to see the evidence that he had come from a good home. He sat on the dusty walk his back leaning against the brick wall, his head wagging, his eyes winking, an idiotic smile on his face. As he occasionally made some senseless remark, the laugh went up from the crowd.

A police officer soon came, who approached to understand the case, and lifting the disgraceful youth to his feet, he led him off to his home, or some place where he could get sober.

"He was drunk! that's all!"

"And is not that enough?" thought I. "If that boy—for he was scarcely more than a boy—had a mother worthy of the name; if he had a father who knows what it is to be dishonored by a child; if he has brothers or sisters, will they not think it enough for the son and brother to come home in charge of an officer, who will explain as he leaves him at the door, "I found him drunk in the street?"

"WAYS THAT ARE DARK."—The Boston correspondent of the Rutland (Vt.) Herald thus explains the "dark ways" of the lobbyists:

"A friend of mine, who has been a member of the Legislature for a number of years' was talking to the principal 'lobbyist' at the State House, a short time since. My friend said to me, 'Well, Mr. —, you never got around me when you wanted to carry through any of your schemes.' 'Oh, yes,' replied the other, 'I always got some honest old farmer to take a seat next to yours and tell you that his particular friends in the country wished it done, that it would be a great benefit to their towns, and you always voted just as I wanted you to.'"

—Cissy—So you are going away, Effie, and we shall have no more races round the garden for bon-bons. Effie—Yes, Cissy, dear. And, if we don't meet in this world again, when you are an angel and I am an angel, I'll fly you for a box of chocolate creams.

—An explorer of Africa, on being congratulated at a reception in Washington on his safe return from his perilous travels, said: "Oh, it's nothing to get safe through Africa! But what I feel thankful for is, that I didn't get killed on my railroad journey from New York to this city!"

—During the Franco-Prussian war a great deal of fun was poked at the New Jersey editor who read in the cable dispatches that "Bazaine has moved twenty kilometers out of Metz." He thereupon sat down and wrote an editorial, in which he said he was delighted to hear that all the kilometers had been removed and the innocent people of Metz were no longer endangered by the presence of those devilish engines of war—sleeping upon a volcano, as it were. And then he went on to describe some experiments made with kilometers in the Crimea, in which one of them exploded and blew a frigate out of the water.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold g'eam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright dances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never loss to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which it can never tire.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.90. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p. p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, see advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by as able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL
Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal: These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13½x18½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.
WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [9]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription

ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents [$3.10] for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN Copies of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

JURUBEBA.

IT IS NOT A PHYSIC—It is NOT what is popularly called a BITTERS, nor is it intended as such. IT IS A SOUTH AMERICAN plant that has been used for many years by the medical faculty of those countries with wonderful efficacy as a POWERFUL ALTERATIVE and UNEQUALLED PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD and is a Sure and Perfect Remedy for all Diseases of the LIVER AND SPLEEN, ENLARGEMENT OR OBSTRUCTION OF INTESTINES, URINARY, UTERINE OR ABDOMINAL ORGANS, POVERTY OR A WANT OF BLOOD, INTERMITTENT OR REMITTENT FEVERS, INFLAMMATION OF THE LIVER, DROPSY, SLUGGISH CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD, ABSCESSES, TUMORS, JAUNDICE, SCROFULA, DYSPEPSIA, AGUE AND FEVER, OR THEIR CONCOMITANTS.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba is offered to the public as a great invigorator and remedy for all impurities of the blood, or for organic weakness with their attendant evils. For the foregoing complaints is confidently recommended to every family as a household remedy, and should be freely taken in all derangements of the system; it gives health, vigor and tone to all the vital forces, and animates and fortifies all weak and lymphatic temperaments. 4w j24

JURUBEBA

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31, 1872.

The Eastern Railroad.

For some time past we have seen notices in the Boston papers requesting stockholders in the Eastern Railroad to attend the annual meeting of the stockholders in that corporation, as business of importance would come before them, at that meeting. This business is not discussed in the Boston papers, which seem singularly silent as to the coming meeting. At this end of the line stockholders, while deploring loss of dividends on a stock they were led to suppose would always pay, considering the character of their investments, are inclined to criticise the management of the Directors; and if the present board seek a re-election it is demanded that they shall better manage the property. No one doubts that the Directors are gentlemen of ability; the wonder is that possessing such talents and reputation, they display so little conception of the wants of the property they seek to manage. Railroads, to be successfully operated, require in addition to integrity and ability the oversight of the managers. But in this case, the leading Director is a member of Congress, absent much of the time in Washington; two others are presidents of the largest banks in Boston; one is a lawyer of extensive practice in Boston. Of the seven directors five are Boston men, who never—with perhaps an occasional exception on the part of the President—"go over the road" and become conversant with its details. Salem has one member of the Board and Portsmouth another. Most of these officers are gentlemen whose time is largely drawn upon in the discharge of other pressing duties, and although the Board is eminently respectable in point of financial reputation, it lacks the energetic force of a live organization. One of the serious complaints is that a board of State Street directors can have from their local position but little knowledge of the wants of the two hundred miles of road under their direction, while they remain at one end of the line; another, that the immediate government does not appreciate all that is done and the vast amount to be done to develope the travel from Maine and upper New Hampshire. For example, the P. S. & P. and the Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway Roads are leased to the Eastern, but are not operated by that road as they should be. The Boston & Maine has nearly all the advantages of the P. S. & P. that it ever possessed, and instead of having one supervisor of the running of those lines, one responsible head to whom all others should be secondary, these leased roads are run as connecting rather than main lines. The paying one of the Directors, in addition to a liberal salary paid the President, a very extraordinary compensation as manager or comptroller is sharply commented upon, and it is said that resolutions will be offered at the meeting instructing the Directors to abolish this unnecessary office, and have the responsibilities of the operation of the road rest where it should, with the President and Superintendent.

If the Eastern intends to secure the business of Maine and carry out the projected arrangements for increased business from other points, some attention must be given to the subject. The debt may be funded at low rates of interest on State Street, but the business of the road cannot be developed in the parlors of the banks of Boston. Men of practical and magnetic training, who are accustomed to mix with the world, must be sandwiched in with these distinguished financial gentlemen to give the Board the status before the public it should occupy. A Board may not be too respectable, but it may be too little practical. The stockholders like to see new cars, double track extensions and like improvements, but even the Erie managers could afford all of these and not pay dividends. The capacities of the Eastern to earn dividends are admitted on all sides; let there be introduced into the direction an element that shall, by supplying an existing deficiency, produce the desired results.

—Captain Semmes, who was found guilty by a board of naval officers of inflicting upon sailors in the United States service punishments which would have disgraced the Camanche savages, has been suspended from pay and rank for three years. Considering unparalleled enormity of the offences proven against him, this is no penalty whatever. He should have been expelled from the service with ignominy and sent to a felon's cell for the term of his natural life. If downright justice were meted out to him it would come in the shape of a rope, a cross beam at the end of it, and Semmes himself at the other end with nothing to stand upon.—N. Y. Atlas.

THE PUBLIC FORUM, recently published at Manchester by Mr. Joshua L. Foster, is no more, "Foster's Democrat," published at Dover, taking its place. We regret the Forum's removal from a city where it was doing so much good for the Republican party, and equally we regret that its successor, the Democrat, does not follow in its foot-steps and overwhelm with denunciative adjectives the renegade Democrat who would dare hint at a desertion of the antedilurian principles of the authors of the fugitive slave law. The Democrat's volleys of hard names are all aimed where they do no good nor harm,—at Republicans and the Republican party.

But in its issue for Jan. 27, after boasting that the Democracy cut down the State tax one-half for 1872, and neglecting to mention that the Democrats increased the State expenses $25,000, it says:

"Had this not been the case, a great many farmers could not pass by, with the low prices of beef, pork, &c., have got through the year. We have known for several years past that these hard times for the farmer were coming and have urged upon them the necessity of a change of political rule, with the view of relieving them in every practicable way by legislation. But many of them have persisted in keeping the party of high taxes and high tariffs in power to rob them of their hard earnings. They see the result now and if they consult their own interests they will apply the remedy at the ballot-box next March."

The above argument in favor of farmers voting the copperhead ticket is unanswerable. No one can question that if the Democratic party had ruled this State for the last sixteen years, there would have been no bot, dry summers and no winter-killing of grass. But the Democracy cannot claim the votes of the livery stable men and the Irishmen who shovel snow off sidewalks, on the ground of having benefitted them; for the copperheads have been in power but a single year, yet they have so disarranged the weather that there hasn't been any sleighing in the streets or snow-drifts on the sidewalks nearly all the Winter. We have known for several years past that these hard times for the livery stable men and the snow shovellers would certainly come with a change of political rulers in this State, but they persisted in voting the copperhead ticket; they see the result now, and if they consult their own interests they will apply the remedy at the ballot-box next March,—vote the Republican ticket and thereby secure plenty of sleighing and snow-drifts all through next Summer.

PROGRESSIVE CIVILIZATION.—At a banquet given the Japanese embassy at San Francisco, on the 24th, Ex-Governor Haight (a democrat) in responding to the sentiment—"The State of California"—warmly welcomed the embassy, saying, that "God had made of one blood all men who dwelt on the face of the earth," and that this embassy marked a new era in the progress of civilization and humanity. Rev. Horatio Stebbins then responded to the sentiment, "The spirit of American commerce." He welcomed the embassy fervently, saying:—

We here are providentially placed in new relations with this exclusive civilization. The changes wrought by transcontinental communication have changed forever this area of commercial distribution for this city. We can never do the business of the Mississippi valley, and probably shall not extend our island commercial area beyond the summit of the great mountain chain. To compensate for that we must gather the islands of the sea, and push our trade to the innumerable populations of the Asiatic world. But our position is anomalous. While we are here tonight wooing the commerce of the old empire, your governor, (pointing to Governor Booth) as the head of one political party (republican), and ex-Governor Haight as a representative of the other, are committed to a policy to exclude those people from our shores. The position is absurd and ridiculous, and as a policy it is nonsense, and as a principle it is nowhere. It is a rag, tag and bobtail. If any of your cheap politicians have won a penny by it in the passions of an hour, beware! Beware when you put that penny in your purse, lest the eagle on the reverse of your coin gold sticks his talons through and scratches the face of liberty!

The wildest excitement followed with round after round of applause, and finally three cheers from nearly the entire company of guests for the speaker, the main portion of them gathering around to shake hands with him. Governor Booth rose in evident excitement to say when he should become accustomed to such ex cathedra denunciations he would probably like them, and after a few words more went on with the regular order of toasts. The incident is regarded as very significant of the change in public opinion on the subject of Asiatic immigration.

—A bill was introduced in the California legislature lately requiring cities to bury "the indigent sick" at public expense.

Political.

Colorado has no debt, but is $59,999 or so ahead in the way of provision for a rainy day.

The New Hampshire democracy have elected a full lists of delegates to the National Democratic Convention. It is rather questionable whether the democratic party can raise money enough to pay the expenses of a National Convention. The Tammany bank is closed.—N. Y. Telegram.

GEN. BANKS introduced a bill in Congress, Monday, confirming the best features of Gen. Butler's bill to give a bounty to fishing vessels and Mr. Lynch's bill to protect and encourage American shipbuilding vessels in the fishing business prior to the passage of the proposed bill an to receive a bounty of $6 per ton and those engaged in the trade afterwards are to be allowed $3 per ton.

THE HOUSE APPORTIONMENT BILL, with a trifling amendment, passed the U. S. Senate on Monday. An amendment offered by Senator Patterson to give New Hampshire and Vermont three members each was rejected—48 to 9. The amendment adopted deprives any state of representation in proportion to its abridgement of the right of suffrage.

EDWARD S. STOKES, the murderer of Fisk, has secured able counsel, but the counsel afore-mentioned acted absurdly in an argument before Judge Ingraham, Monday. He declared that traps were laid for the ruin of his client, complained that the coroner's inquest was an ex parte affair and finally became so excited that he was obliged to cease speaking and actually foamed at the mouth.

—The New Hampshire Republicans are grasping at a Straw.—Boston Post.

The New Hampshire Democrats are gasping because of a Straw.

MOUNT HOOD, Oregon, is throwing out a dense column of smoke, indicative of volcanic action.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follows the use of the outlandish compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many people, particularly children, suffer with the ear ache; and for the benefit of such we give a sure but simple remedy. Put in two or three drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, stop the ear with undressed wool, bathe the feet in warm water before going to bed, and keep the head warm at night.

Capt. Charles Sager, who keeps a superb stock of livery horses in Portland, Me., informed us recently that he uses Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders regularly in his stables, and that the expense is more than offset by the diminished amount of grain necessary to keep his horses always in good order.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

VEGETINE

The Great Blood Purifier.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of scrofula, scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Uterine and Exclusive diseases of the skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervous and General prostration of the Nervous system, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the Nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

The Martyn Concert.

Mr. Martyn's concert, Monday evening, was a disappointment and success. Mrs. Martyn and Signor Farranti failed to reach Boston in season to take the train due here at 7 o'clock, and thus Mr. Martyn and Mr. Thomas Chase sustained all the honors of the evening. Mr. Martyn though annoyed at the faux pas apologized to the audience for the unavoidable absence of Signor Farranti and Mrs. Martyn, and informed them that the concert would go on, and at its close their tickets would be handed back and would admit them to a repetition of the concert, next Monday evening, at which Mrs. Martyn and others would certainly appear. That part of the programme assigned to Messrs. Martyn and Chase was faithfully gone through with and both gentlemen did finely, the large audience being delighted with an hour's music. Mr. Martyn is a brilliant player and presides at the piano forte as a true master of music. His selections were fine and elicited repeated applause. Mr. Chase was in fine voice and appeared to better advantage than ever. He was encored and responded in a selection which greatly pleased the audience. His rich tenor rang through the house clearly and the audience seemed absorbed in the sweet music. Shortly before the close of the entertainment, Jas. P. Bartlett, Esq., (commend us to Mr. Bartlett, always, in any case of emergency) arose and addressed the audience, suggesting that the expenses of the concert must needs be too much for Mr. Martyn to lose, and that the audience had received sufficient entertainment for their money. To accept another would be to get much more than their money's worth. He hoped the tickets would be refused and that every person in the audience would purchase a ticket and be present next Monday evening. The proposition was received with applause and we noticed that the tickets proffered by the door keeper to the retiring people were taken by a very few persons only. Since the above was in type, we learn that the concert will probably be postponed until next Wednesday evening.

Laconics.

The snow which fell on Monday made tolerable sleighing about town.

The season of Lent this year begins on St. Valentine's day, February 14.

A maiden lady died a few days since, in this city, who had lived in one family as servant woman for 69 years, the Boston Herald says.

C. Henry St John, Esq., of Boston, will deliver a lecture on "Country and and City Life" in the Methodist church, this (Wednesday) evening at half past 7 o'clock. In addition, there will be singing by a double quartet of male voices. Admission—25 cts. for adults; for children, 15cts.

Two men named Schmidt and Wilson, employed as watchmen on the Navy Yard, had some disagreement on Monday, and at a late hour in the evening the quarrel resulted in a fight, which began by Schmidt striking Wilson on the head with his club. The latter (one of whose arms is partially disabled from the effects of a bullet-wound in the elbow received in the late war,) pitched into his assailant, and in the subsequent proceedings both parties were roughly handled, Wilson, as might be imagined, getting rather the worst of it. The affair was investigated on Tuesday by the authorities at the Yard.

Fire At North Hampton.

The fire seen from this city, Monday evening, was at North Hampton near the Rye line, on the Joseph Isaac Jenness place. The house, owned and occupied by Mr. George W. Brackett, was burned to the ground. The Phenix Company of Brooklyn had insurance amounting to $700 on the house and furniture, the policy having run about three years, as we are informed by Mr. DeRochemont, the agent. Other insurance had been recently effected with the New Hampshire Co., of which Mr. John M. Davis is agent, to the amount of $1000. It is said that the payment of the insurance will be contested by one or both companies on the ground that neither company was notified that there was any other insurance on the property. A barn belonging to Mr Brackett was burned on the same place a year or more ago and two valuable horses perished in the flames. At that time the Phenix Company paid out about $800 insurance. The cause of the fire of Monday we do no not learn, but hear that Mr Brackett and his wife were in Portsmouth at the time of its occurrence.

State News.

Bro. E. H. Cheney of the Lebanon Free Press was a victim of a genuine surprise on the 22d, and received a whole China set and other articles from guests he didn't invite.

W. H. Vaughan, a New Hampshire boy, on New Year's day received the appointment of Superintendent of the Texas Central Railroad, now in operation about 550 miles. He learned his A B C in railroading on the Northern Road.

On the 18th, in Antrim, Mr. James Ashton of Bennington was knocked down by the fall of a lodged tree, pinned to the ground with face in the snow and jammed very disagreeable near to a serious point.

The people of Hancock are in a blessed fix, which consists in owing nothing. We wish all communities and individuals were similarly situated. They paid all war and other bills when money was plenty and now the stocks owned in town pay all local expenses. At the last town meeting they voted to raise $1 and now have money on hand.

Mr. Benjamin C. Waldron, a pensioner of the war of 1812, died at his residence in Warner, Jan. 26th, at the age of eighty-one years, seven months.

The Governor and Council have pardoned from the State Prison George W. Fullerton, of Newmarket, who was sentenced for two years for stealing.

Miss C. Kelsey, of Newport, slipped upon the ice in the street lately, causing a severe and painful fracture of the thigh bone.

The winter term of the State Normal School closed Tuesday, Jan. 30th, and the spring term will commence Wednesday, Feb. 21st., to continue eleven weeks. There are indications that it will be very fully attended.

—There is no doubt but that it is the purpose of Grant to place an armed guard at every voting precinct in the land at the Presidential election, to overawe and intimidate voters.—Baltimore Journal.

Our Democratic brethren are very much exercised in their minds about President Grant. Their endeavors to convince the Republican party that the Republican party are dissatisfied with Grant are most praiseworthy and persistent; and they divide their energies and their time about equally between denouncing him as "an imbecile tool of a clique of politicians" and "an unscrupulous and daring military tyrant, seeking to overthrow our liberties and establish himself on a throne by the aid of the army." The Baltimore Journal must have made the discovery above mentioned on one of its days for denouncing the President as "dangerous;" but as the army and navy together would not furnish more than half a man for "each voting precinct in the land," the "intimidation of voters" will probably not create a very general panic.

THAT OLD ROOT.—A gentleman visited a dentist Wednesday for the purpose of whiling away a half hour or so, and while there a lady came in with a little girl wanting a tooth or two extracted for the latter. The child cried when placed in the chair, and declared that she would not have her teeth attended to unless the strange gentleman would have a tooth drawn first, and, to please the little patient, he took her place with a wink at the doctor. The latter took two or three instruments, while the gentleman reclined in the chair smilingly gazing at the ceiling for the assurance of the watching child, and after softly poking at two or three teeth, to the horror of the obliging gentleman, he commenced boring into his jaw where a tooth had been once extracted, and before he could offer a protest, a tremendous wrench brought out a large root which the doctor held up to the little girl with a diabolical grin on his face. The gentleman rolled off the chair, and with an expression of unutterable pain in his drawn countenance, gazed a moment reproachfully at his friend and left the office. The little one did not seem to be greatly encouraged by the exhibition.—San Francisco Bulletin.

—A number of prominent savants propose asking Congress to build an observatory on one of the highest points of the Pacific railway, where nearly one-third of the atmosphere is below the observer. This would be high living certainly, but it would enable the observers to test the effect of the air on the constitution, and some other things.—Golden Age.

—A party of epicures dined together at a hotel. After they had drank an enormous quantity of wine, they called for their reckoning. "It is absolutely impossible that we four men drank so much," stammered one. "You are quite right," replied the waiter; "but you forgot the three under the table."

—Spinal meningitis is raging among horses in New York. The best constructed and appointed stables are visited by it, and a fearful death-rate has been the result.

—A Georgia tinted voter took a fearful revenge on a mule that threw him, by calling him a darned old democrat.

—Peter Schwab of Cincinnati, a distiller, has been fined $22,845 for violation of the revenue laws.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case: but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER IN VENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run it, it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

All About the Tin.

Come, kindly friends and unkind foes,
Leave off dull care and wordly prose;
Give ear to me,—I'm going to sing
A song that's all about the tin.

Exordium long and preface too,
I hate them, quite as well as you.
I'll say no more, but straight begin
To tell you all about the tin.

A man and wife, one day, you see,
To a neighbor's went for a cup of tea,
All warm and strong and full to the brim,—
An elegant cup, but not of tin.

The neighbor's tea was very nice,
Nor knew they 'twas a mere device
Of one who thought 'twould be no sin
To play the blind about the tin.

The tea was good, I said before;
They'd had enough nor wanted more.
"My dear," said he, "we must begin
To think of home," nor thought of tin.

But first their home let's interview
To see whatever is rare or new,— Purchance to find those walls within Something more about the tin.

Inside we find the human hive
With men and maidens all alive:
And one might guess from all the din
Something's up with Doublew's tin.

Tin pans, tin cans, tin box for spice,
Tin dipper and steamer, grater nice.
A coffee-pot, colander, dust-pan thin
A chamber set, new,—all made of tin.

You see, since he and she were wed,
'Twas just ten years, the neighbors said
And so they thought themselves within.
"It's time to give our friends some tin."

Now as the man and wife drew near,
Each banged on his dish and lond did cheer;
They loudly cheered and banged with a vim
You couldn't mistake, 'twas all on tin.

Says the man, "What can be the matter
Did ever in your life you hear such a clatter?
The house must be haunted, as sure as sin,
And the spirits all drumming on our old tin!"

But soon the gay scene disclosed to his eyes
A party of friends,—a pleasant surprise—
Who'd left their homes and just stepped in
To make their old friends a present of tin.

Of the bountiful supper others may prate;
Full justice was done to coffee and cake
By one friend at least,—I'll give you his name
Your humble old servant TIMOTHY CRANE.

GREENLAND, Jan. 23.

New Publications.

The publisher of the Home Circle offers to give his new Illustrated Monthly Magazine a whole year free to every subscriber who pays but $2 for that paper. The Home Circle commenced its fourth volume and fourth year January 1st, 1872, greatly improved, and printed with a new style of Roman type. Besides the splendid illustrated stories of sea and land, adventures, anecdotes, &c., the Home Circle contains several very interesting and instructive features. It is just such a paper as any father, brother or friend would desire to introduce into their home circle for amusement and instruction. Sample copies will be sent free by addressing F. Gleason, 42 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Am. rep.,) for January has the following table of contents: The Maid of Sker, —Part VI; French Home Life, — No. III; The Two Mrs. Scudamores,—Conclusion; The Nine-Hours Movement; The Desolation of Jerusalem; Chersiphron; The Haunted Enghenio, and A Sailor's Narrative of the Last Voyage of H. M. S. Megæra; Leonard Scott Pub. Co., 140 Fulton Street, New York; $4 per year—and well worth it.

The Lady's Friend for February has a steel plate, Romeo and Juliet, very finely engraved,—the tasteful Colored Fashion Plate gives the latest and most elegant styles—and "The Spring in the Wood," is a delightful rural picture. There are some captivating models for riding hats and sashes, and an abundance of patterns for ladies' dresses and fancy work. Mrs. Hosmer's "Missionary Work" is excellent; so is Miss Muzzey's "Tragedy of Death;" while Mrs. Henry Wood's serial novel promises to be one of unusual interest. Price $2 a year. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

—The trustees of the Peabody fund have let out 500 houses with planted grounds attached at Baltimore, to small families, in accordance with the directions of the late Mr. Peabody.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always difficult and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which subverts health and sets up into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Soreness of the Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for the Patent Office executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of inventions, and all opinions carefully and after advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessary of a Journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

BAD FOR STOUT.—"Eli Perkins" tells the following yarn at the expense of Andrew V. Stout, President of the Shoe and Leather Bank of New York:

Mr. Stout is known as a shrewd man. He and Daniel Drew are the main pillars in the Fifth Avenue Methodist Church, and what he and Daniel don't know up to this time has not been found out. A few mornings since, Mr. Stout was coming down in the cars, when he sat in such confidential proximity to a sympathizing pickpocket that the latter was tempted into the acceptance of Mr. Stout's pocketbook, containing valuable papers and $160 in greenbacks. Then the pickpocket said "good morning" to Mr. Stout, and left. On arriving at the bank, Mr. Stout discovered his loss. He was astonished that he, a shrewd old New Yorker, should have his pocket picked. "Pshaw!" he said to his Secretary, "no man could ever pick my pocket, I'm too smart for that!"

But the pocketbook, with money and valuable papers, was gone, and the next day Mr. Stout advertised in the Herald. He said if the person who took his pocketbook would return the papers, he would give him the money and $25 besides. The next day he got a confidential note from a party, who said a friend of his had the pocketbook all safe, and that he would call at the bank the next day to arrange the matter. The next day the man was at his post. He told Mr. Stout that he would have to go with him a few blocks, where the party who had the pocketbook awaited them. So off they started, Mr. Stout and his honest friend, for a Centre street restaurant. As they entered the restaurant, Mr. Stout's friend told him to wait in the front room a moment, and he would go inside and see the man who had the pocketbook. In a moment he returned with the message that the man wouldn't give up the pocketbook for $25; he wanted $35.

"But I only advertise to give $25," said Mr. Stout, with an eye to business. "This is an extortion."

"Well," said Mr. Stout's friend, "I'll go back and reason with him, and try and get the pocketbook for $25." And he disappeared into the back room.

In a moment he returned smiling.

"Well, Mr. Stout," he said, "he will take $25, but he wants the money before he gives up the pocketbook."

"All right," said Mr. Stout, blandly; "here is $25. Take it to him and bring back the papers."

"One word, Mr. Stout," said the man confidentially; "this thing is to be strictly between ourselves. You will never ask any questions, tell anything, or seek further knowledge, will you?"

"No, never; I give you my word, as President of the Shoe and Leather Bank, not to say anything about it."

"All right, then—mum is the word," said Mr. Stout's friend, as he passed into the back room with the money.

Mr. Stout waited patiently for his return—waited five, ten, fifteen minutes—but, alas! his friend never came back, and the shrewd President returned to the bank a sad and a wiser man. He says his friend is welcome to the $25, but he wouldn't have the story get into the newspapers or around among his friends for $10,000. He says it wouldn't be fair, for he promised—solemnly promised—his friend, when he gave him the $25, not to mention the matter.

PIGS.—Young, growing pigs should have abundance of nutritious food, and warm, dry, comfortable quarters. Feed three times a day, and as much as, and no more than, they will eat up clean. Our own plan is to cook the food, half corn-meal and half bran, and feed warm. Our breeding sows, at this season, get nothing but bran, soaked in water, and we do not give them quite all they will eat, fed twice a day. We soak the bran in warm water about twelve hours, and get some of the milky water out of the bran to mix with the cooked food for the little pigs. The bran is still nutritious enough for old sows that have nothing to do but live, while the young, growing pigs need as much easily digested, nutritious food as they can assimilate.

Pigs well littered make a great quantity of manure. We clean out the wet and soiled part of the bed every day, and put in a little fresh straw. The butts of corn-stalks, left by the sheep and cattle, we put into pig-pens at the bottom of the pen and cover them with straw. They serve to keep the pen dry and save much straw. When pigs are shut up it is exceedingly important to have the pens well venilated.

—An editor out in Cicero, Indiana, on taking charge of the New Era, greets his readers with this salutary: "It is the fashion for an editor to write a long introduction on taking charge of a paper, but as we are well acquainted with nearly every man in the county, it is only necessary to say that we intend to do as we please, and announce that our motto is, two almighty dollars a year in advance."

—The steamer Hornet has been libelled at the suit of thirty persons who shipped upon her from New York with the understanding that they were engaged in the merchant service, but when at sea were compelled to enlist in the service of the Cuban junta.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright gances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are also children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in thimmering, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, seven dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos. THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (36 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports, of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (18½x12½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N.H.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1872.

Political.

Republican success in Alabama is endangered by the high handed course of Senator Spencer, who used his influence to defeat the re-election of Senator Warner and to elect a Democrat, and has now prevented the appointment of Mr. Warner as Collector of the port of Mobile. The Republicans of Alabama may well congratulate themselves that Senator Spencer's term of office will expire next year.

Postmaster-General Creswell has decided that women must hereafter pass the same examinations as men for positions in his department.

In a speech in the U. S. Senate, Tuesday, Senator Nye of Nevada said he would never consent to give the rebel leaders a right to take part in the government. He would keep them browsing on the outside until their hair grew as long as Nebuchadnezzers, and if that was no statesmanship then he did not know anything about it. Senator Schurz has wanted the leading rebels relieved so as to bring a higher order of talent into public life at the South; but he would rather have a lower order of talent cultivated in a school of loyalty. As to the abuses in the government of the southern States, the people had only themselves to blame for it. They had sown the wind and they must reap the whirlwind. Senator Nye talks like a sensible man.

The Standard does not anticipate any very direct opposition to Gen. Grant from Greeley until the annual subscription for the Weekley Tribune are all in, which will be in a week or so. After that opposition will take a more decided form.

As matters look at present at Washington, Senator Wilson is in the front rank for the Vice-Presidency.

General M. M. Ransom, who has been elected by the Democratic majority in the North Carolina Legislature to occupy the seat in the United States Senate, vacant since the expiration of the last Congress, was a Major General in the rebel army, and commanded the forces in North Carolina during the siege of Plymouth, and is said to be responsible in a large degree for the massacre of Union soldiers at that place. If this is a true statement, his chances of admission should be exceedingly small.

The Concord Patriot labors hard to prove on paper that Governor Weston will be re-elected next March, and estimates that the Democrats will throw 37,500 votes and the Republicans 35,-500. The Patriot does not estimate the labor reform and temperance vote, while other papers have estimated the temperance vote alone at 3000. It looks as if our Democratic friends are deceiving themselves if they believe such prophecies, and for their especial delectation we will venture a few predictions; 1st, that Weston must have more than 37,500 votes to be elected Governor; 2d, that Weston will not receive 37,500 votes; 3d, that Rockingham County will give Straw 500 more majority than Pike had; 4th, that the cities of Portsmouth, Manchester, Dover, Concord and Nashua will give Straw 1000 more majority than they did Mr. Pike; and 5th, that Mr. Weston will lack 2000 votes or more of an election.

The members of the temperance convention which met in Boston last week were not temperate in their language. One delegate taunted another with leasing a building in Lynn as a liquor saloon, and then a very sharp dispute arose as to whether the lease was not forfeited by the use to which the building was put, and "no such thing" and "I say it does" was bandied back and forth. On another occasion Major Jones and Mr. French fell into a dispute, and the Major explained to the audience by saying that he and Mr. French had a "mutual contempt for each other."

REV. GEORGE OSGOOD writes us that the Quarterly Meeting of the Grand Division of Sons of Temperence was held in Kensington, Jan. 24th. The attendance was very good. It was thought best to circulate temperance books and have addresses. Mr. Carswell, a very popular and effective speaker, is expected to give several lectures in different sections of the State. At the public meeting in the evening, one of the speakers said that he had good reasons for believing that Mr. Straw, the Republican candidate for governor, was a temperance man. It was also said that temperance men should be supported for representatives so that a two thirds' vote might be given in favor of laws to protect the people from the evils of intemperance. The order seems to have a good moral, intellectual and social influence, where it is sustained, and should have the encouragement of those who wish to reform and improve the people with whom they live.

Mr. Warren Brown the candidate for Senator is one of the best farmers in the country, and is also one of the most reliable and popular men in the district and should have the full vote of his party.

WASHINGTON NEWS. — The French spoliation bill, reported by Mr. Cameron in the Senate, provides for a commission of three, to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, to examine and audit such claims, and order their payment to the extent of $5,000,000.

The House committee on naval affairs have had a consultation with Commodore Rogers and Constructor Isaiah Hanscom, chief of the bureau of construction, with regard to the condition of our vessels of war. Commodore Rodgers last summer travelled in Europe, and while there gathered much valuable information concerning foreign navies, which he imparted to the committee. He agreed with Mr. Hanscom that our vessels are not in a condition to be generally efficient, and that many now out of service are worthless, including iron-clads. The latter gave his views as to the cost of new vessels and other matters somewhat in detail. The committee will further consider the subject.

The House committee on appropriations have agreed to change the order of bringing bills before the House for action, so that the Indian appropriation bill shall be first, the navy bill next and the post-office bill third. Under the late order the post-office bill was first. They also agreed that bills for public buildings in any part of the country should be reported singly, so that each shall stand on its own merits and not be tacked to other appropriation bills, as heretofore has been the case.

A supplemental bill will be offered in the House and referred to the judiciary committee, enlarging the number of representatives by nine or ten. Should this supplementary bill be passed, Vermont and New Hampshire will not lose any of their present representation. Some of the prominent members on both sides have been consulted, and the prospect is good that the bill will pass.

Gen. Banks made an eloquent argument in favor of the immediate construction of a number of sloops of war. The indications are strong that the Naval committee will report in favor of building a number of fast vessels.

THE GENEVA CONVENTION.—A London dispatch says the impression prevails there that the Geneva Convention will necessarily disappoint the hopes of its friends, and that in the end it will prove a failure. If the Conference should decide in favor of the claims, no English Government would accept the result, and no Parliament would vote the money, hence the movement would stop. The proceedings now are a pretence. The argument of the Times is that England should demur and claim indirect damages, and if the Court reject the demurrer she should withdraw from the case. This is not an argument addressed to the Government, but is the Government view put out as a feeler. The Government says: "We cannot acquiesce in a construction which we are determined not to acknowledge if proved against us."

RUSSIA. — Later intelligence from Schamaka is to the effect that the town was visited by a series of violent shocks of earthquakes, following each other in quick succession, causing the greatest consternation among the inhabitants. A panic seized the people, and a general exodus began. The shocks continued for some time, culminating in a concussion which shook the earth for miles around, involving the city in a mass of ruins. Scarcely a building is left standing. Thousands are believed to have perished. The calamity causes a profound sensation throughout eastern Russia.

THE EARTHQUAKE predicted by Prof. Delissier within twenty-four hours of the 26th of January, in Canada, came to time. A despatch from Quebec, of the 29th, to a Montreal paper, says that at St. Paul's Bay, 60 miles to the northeast of that city, "shocks of earthquake have been of daily occurrence for some time back, to the great consternation of the inhabitants."

THE YORK COUNTY DELEGATION in the Maine legislature have voted to report a bill authorizing the County Commissioners to effect a loan of $30,000 to build and complete a jail at Alfred, at a cost not exceeding that amount.

—An old woman of 91 arrived at St. Albans on Friday, having travelled, entirely alone, all the way from Ireland, to join her daughter at that place.

—Advices from Ajaccio say that many Bonapartists are arriving in Corsica, and a letter from Napoleon is soon expected.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many people, particularly children, suffer with the ear ache; and for the benefit of such we give a sure but simple remedy. Put in two or three drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, stop the ear with undressed wool; bathe the feet in warm water before going to bed, and keep the head warm at night.

Capt. Charles Sager, who keeps a superb stock of livery horses in Portland, Me., informed us recently that he uses Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders regularly in his stables, and that the expense is more than offset by the diminished amount of grain necessary to keep his horses always in good order.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

A MELANCHOLY BREAK-DOWN.—There are lively break-downs that make an audience laugh, and there are sad sorrowful breakdowns that make the kind-hearted grieve. To the latter class belongs the enervation of body and mind which is usually called "general debility," or "nervous weakness," and which, when neglected, too often terminates in atrophy and death. A wholesome medicated stimulant is the one thing needed in cases of this description, and science and experience unite in pointing to PLANTATION BITTERS as the true specific. The fact that it combines the properties of an invigorant with those of a regulator and alterative, in exactly the proportions necessary to produce a radical change in the tone of the system, and the action of the digestive and secretive organs, is an unanswerable argument in its favor as a general restorative.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives — HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions ludicrous the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follows the use of the notorious compounds in question. When a dealer commends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

THE MORMON BIBLE.—It is said that Jo Smith was a humbug, and so were his Wayne county plates of the Latter Day Saints' Bible. A man named Spaulding, of Washington county, Pa., wrote the whole book for amusement, and gave it to Joseph and Hiram Smith, who employed Major John H. Gilbert, of Palmyra, to print it. The manuscript was furnished without punctuation or division of chapter or verse, and Mr. Gilbert put it into good Bible shape. Polygamy was not in it then. That was made an appendix by Brigham Young.

SWAMP-MUCK.—Our swamps never were so dry as at the present time, and we can not have a more favorable opportunity for getting out muck. It may be drawn directly to the field and spread on grass land; or draw it to the barnyard and use it for absorbing the liquid, or for mixing with the manure in the heap. There are thousands of farms where men and teams could not be more profitably employed this month than in getting out muck.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE

The Great Blood Purifier.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots, and herbs, and so strong are the virtues that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofulous, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervous and General prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the Nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians, and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

Prepared by H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass. feb3 No. 1.

Price, $1.25. Sold by all Druggists.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The Lynn Reporter says of the Portsmouth fire bug—"Catch him, smear him with kerosene, and then—make light of him."

Lamp explosions being in order, persons suffering thereby will confer a favor on the public by stating where they buy their kerosene!

The young Fearnaught colt belonging to Frank W. Miller, Esq., indulged in a little recreation, Wednesday, and smashed a sleigh.

The two belligerent watchmen, Schmidt and Wilson, who quarrelled while on duty at the Navy Yard on Monday night, were discharged on Wednesday and their places filled by two men named Billings and Nelson. The investigation of the circumstances which led to the disgraceful fight between the two former individuals showed Wilson to have been more at fault than Schmidt, inasmuch as he commenced upon the latter and continued to provoke and annoy him until a fight ensued. We mention this fact in order that no injustice may be done either party.

The fifth lecture before the People's Lyceum at Kittery will be delivered by Rev. A. J. Patterson of Boston Highland, this (Thursday) evening. Subject; "Whittier and his Poems."

The next lecture in the High School Lyceum Course at Kittery will be delivered on Monday evening, Feb. 5, by Rev. Alfred Day of Canton, N. Y.; subject, "Phonography."

The Six Jolly Associates had a very large attendance at their first social assembly in Irving Hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 30th, and all present seemed to enjoy themselves thoroughly. Gilbert's Band furnished excellent and spirited dance-music, and the amusement was kept up till a late hour. The Jolly Six propose to have an assembly on Tuesday evening of each week, and taking the first one for an example the course will be entirely successful.

The Newmarket Methodists have sold their organ to parties in Kittery.

A dwelling house belonging to Mr. Augustus Y. Rand and situated in Rye Centre, was burned on Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, about 6 o'clock. Insured for $500, in New Hampshire Ins. Co. The house was a new one and unoccupied, and the fire was probably incendiary. A large crowd of people had assembled at the church near by, before the fire broke out, it being the regular evening for a lecture in the Lyceum course; and by the efforts of many willing hands the fire was confined to the building in which it originated.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Railroad corporation will take place at Boston next Monday.

The Newtonville, (Mass.) Choral Society gave a very creditable and successful concert last week, in the Methodist church, consisting of songs and choruses. Schiller's "Lay of the Bell" comprised the first part of the programme. Mr. John G. Tompson, Jr., who is musical director of the Society, conducted the performances with good success. The chorus numbered eighty voices, with piano accompaniment. The Society also gave the song and chorus of "Nazareth;" and "Farewell to the Forest," the latter without accompaniment. Miss Cornelia Stetson sang an Italian song with spirit, brilliancy and good execution; and Miss Vinnie H. Maynard of Worcester, (at present a member of the Unitarian choir in this city,) another, with the sweetest voice, and showing much delicacy of culture. Both were encored.

PRESS DEADHEADS.—Railroads ocasionally complain of deadheading, but no institution suffers so much from it as the press. A sensible writer says:—

"The press endures the infliction of deadheadism from the pulpit, the bar and the stage; from corporations, societies and individuals. It is expected to yield its interests; it is required to give strength to the weak, eyes to the blind, clothes to the naked, and bread to the hungry; it is asked to cover infirmities, hide weaknesses, and wink at quacks, bolster up dull authors, and flatter the vain; it is, in short, to be all things to all men, and if it looks for pay or reward, it is denounced as mean and sordid. There is no interest under the whole heavens that is expected to give so much to society, without pay or thanks, as the press."

THE REVERE ACCIDENT.—The action of the Directors of the Eastern Railroad in reference to the claims growing out of the Revere accident of August last is worthy of public approbation. The Company has never for a moment disputed its liabilities, and the only reason why all the claims are not yet settled is in the difficulty of agreeing upon the amount to be paid, and also because in some cases a lapse of time was necessary to determine whether the injurie would be permanent. Within twenty four hours of the accident the Company through their counsel, Messrs. Ives, Lincoln and Rogers, settled the first claim that was preferred, and since that time the gentlemen have been engaged in disposing of all matters connected with the affair that have arisen, until there now remains unsettled but about one-fifth of the original number of claims, and these will probably be disposed of within the next three weeks.

By the accident at Revere thirty persons were killed and about seventy-five injured, making one hundred and five claims in all. Of these from seventy-five to eighty have already been satisfied, leaving from twenty-five to thirty unsettled, concerning all of which negotiations are pending. The road has paid nearly $200,000 and the largest claim settled was $12,000 as compensation for the loss of a hand; and in cases of death $5000, what the law allows. In a number of cases where death resulted from the injuries, the Company not only paid what the strict letter of the law required, but, in addition to this, presented a sum of money to the afflicted family sufficient to defray all the funeral expenses of the deceased. It had been supposed, until within a few weeks, that there would be no claims from any of the passengers upon the Pullman train; but within the last fortnight one has been preferred which promises to be quite important, and which will most probably involve a large sum of money in its settlement.

Heretofore the public has generally been accustomed, in the case of railroad catastrophes, to see daily accounts in the press of the opposition with which the various claims had been met, and long reports of the judicial proceedings occasioned by these claims being contested. In the present case there has been no public furore, no litigations; everything has proceeded quietly and steadily and to the satisfaction of all concerned. Of course in an accident like that at Revere there are always some who seek to enrich themselves by means of fraudulent demands, and hence every claim preferred had to be thoroughly investigated before a settlement was made, and when fraudulent claims were detected or when sufficient proof that injuries had been received was wanting, they were dismissed. In such cases there are of course dissatisfied persons. No one has yet taken measures to bring an action against the Company into Court, and the probabilities are that no one will.—Post.

State News.

On the 28th, in Great Falls, James L. Hayes of Rochester, a tinman working for some months past in the former place, was found dead in his bed at his boarding place. He was of dissipated habits, and of late had been using hydrate of chloral and other drugs to produce sleep. A nearly empty bottle of McMunn's elixir of opium, which he purchased the night before, was found in his room, which leaves no doubt that an overdose of the elixir by his own hand was the cause of his death. He was about forty years old, and leaves a daughter about twelve years of age.

John Cunningham, an Englishman about thirty-five years of age, employed on the Wolfeboro' Railroad, was found in an insensible condition on Tuesday morning, about a mile from his boarding house, nearly frozen to death. His face and hands were badly frozen, and his feet as solid as rocks. He will probably lose both feet, if not his life. He has no relatives in this country.

HE WILL NEVER TRY IT AGAIN.—There was a man in Mauch Chunk, a few days ago, with a patent air brake for railroad cars for sale. He claimed that it would stop a train going at the highest rate of speed in half its own length. There was a certain railroad man up there who treated this suggestion with scorn, and said he would wager large sums that the air brake wouldn't stop a train any quicker than any other brake. So he borrowed the contrivance and fixed it on an open car on the Switchback Railroad, and went to the top of Mont Pisgah to get a fair start. He let her come down the inclined plane for a while until she began to move along at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and then he suddenly placed his foot on the brake and put it on with full power. One minute later the eye of any solitary traveller passing through those wilds might have observed a car standing perfectly still on the track and a railroad man going down hill among the blackberry bushes and underbrush headforemost at the rate—say of forty-six miles an hour. He was carried home on a stretcher, and now that railroad man has not only perfect faith in the availability of the air brake, but he is convinced that it would be a good thing if some one would invent a machine for taking the flatness and general demoralization, as it were, out of mutilated noses.

EXAMINING WINTER FRUIT.—Make a point of regularly examining every week all choice kinds of fruits that may be approaching ripeness or which are not found to be keeping well, so that everything may be used at the proper time, for the finest pears are worthless enough if allowed to become overripe before being used, and the same is the case with many varieties of apples. Also look over the whole stock as often as time can be spared, removing the fruit that exhibits symptoms of decay. Any of the choicer kinds of pears that do not ripen properly in the fruit room, should be removed to a warm, dry room for a few days. This will be found to greatly improve them. Keep the fruit as dry and cool as possible, and if the frost is excluded, the fruit room can be hardly too cool when the object is to preserve the fruit plump and sound for a long time.

NEWSPAPER TRAINING.—We can safely recommend a graduate of a newspaper office for almost any station in life, at least for all such as require a pretty good knowledge of the peculiarities and characteristics of the human family. A man who can preserve the serenity of his temper, the sweetness of Christian disposition, and an unflagging perseverance amid all obstacles and difficulties which newspaper publication presents, deserves to be ranked with Job for patience, Baxter for goodness and the Iron Duke, for instance, for nerve, power and obstinate determination.—Christian World.

HAGGARTY, the New York voucher thief, now in the Tombs, was not removed from office until Tuesday, so that he has had the privilege of drawing from the city at the rate of $5000 a year, while imprisoned.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

Correspondence.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28.

"Cerebro spinal meningitis" saved Mrs. Wharton, if it killed General Ketchum. This celebrated trial which has just closed at Annapolis has been the principal topic of conversation for the past four weeks, and while it is generally conceded that the verdict of "not guilty" was the only one that the jury could find under the circumstances, still the impression is with the majority of the people here that poison is what caused the General's death, and that it was given to him by Mrs. Wharton. Why it is that nearly everybody here should believe her guilty and would seemingly delight to see her hung, is a marvel, but such is surely the case, for among hundreds whom I have personally heard express opinions on the subject only two have ventured to express a doubt as to her guilt. Mrs. Wharton has still to be tried for the alleged poisoning of Mr. Van Ness and the case will come off in about two months.

"Baltimore is twenty-five years behind the times" is an expression frequently used by even the natives, and strangers who have occasion to spend a few weeks or months here, are not inclined to dispute that statement. In the matter of public and private improvements there is certainly a lamentable lack of thrift and enterprise, such as is displayed in other large cities. To go on in the old way seems to satisfy the people here, and any departure from that rule is looked upon as a Yankee invention that has no business to be introduced. So things jog along as of old and nothing save an earthquake will even break up the present passiveness; a flood won't do it, for that has been tried twice within the past half century without any effect except to cause the spending of several hundred thousand dollars for fancy plans—and Jones' Falls still remain as they were a hundred years ago and quite as liable to overflow the banks, wash away bridges, horse cars and buildings, as they did a few years since, when the water rose to the height of eight feet at the Maryland Institute, according to the water line placed there after the flood subsided, and which causes folks under that height, to make up their minds, when they see it, to keep out of that locality if they know when the next flood is coming. "Jones' Falls," which is at the present time an insignificant little stream of water which runs directly through the heart of the city, is a nuisance, and if the money squandered in drawing plans to improve it had been used to remove the mud, filth and debris with which it is filled, it would have been of some benefit to the city.

The streets and sidewalks, with some few exceptions, look as though they had been travelled over a century and nothing had been done to repair the wear and tear in the meanwhile, walking on some of the sidewalks on a dark night is something like going up or down a flight of stairs that one is not accustomed to; you don't know, when you raise one foot, when it will find a solid foundation to rest on again. It may come sooner or later, as the case may be, so that it is prudent to be very careful how you step; unless it is rather agreeable than otherwise to be "brought up all standing" either too soon or not soon enough.

If there is one thing more than another here that does not keep up with the times, it is the newspapers. There is not one published here that can be called a real live paper; what there is in them is got up in such a way that it is fearfully stupid reading. Nothing about them is racy or entertaining, and the small type adds to their dullness.

But among this general slowness and apathy there is one class that show some signs of life and activity.—and that is the letter carriers. They move around as though they had something to do and meant business and if hundreds of others would exhibit a little of their "rush" it would not be of any disadvantage to the city. Especially would this be the case if the scores of loafers could be induced to "move on" occasionally, instead of supporting the walls of the buildings as they do nearly all day. R.

A NOVEL DISCOVERY.—A process by which the heat in the waste steam from one engine can be used to heat the boiler of another, and the amount of power now obtained by the consumption of fuel doubled, has been discovered.

When two establishments using steam power are near each other, the exhaust steam from one of them can be taken to heat the boiler of the other, and no fuel, fireman or chimney will be required for it, and its engine will run without attention so long as the waste steam is supplied to heat its boilers, furnishing an amount of power fully equal to that of the first engine from which the waste steam is received.

The second boiler is heated by passing the waste steam through its flues, and is filled with a mixed volatile liquid, composed of bisulphide of carbon, which boils 110 Fahrenheit, and at the temperature of exhaust steam gives a pressure in the boiler of sixty-five pounds to the inch. The vapor formed in this boiler is used to drive the second engine instead of steam, and after being used is condensed by cooling, pumped into the boiler again, and used continually with small loss. Two engines arranged on this plan are now running at the Atlantic Works in East Boston, and a careful measure of the power of each proves that of the vapor engine to be greatest.—Boston Traveller.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawbl6

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always efficient and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, Coming from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms and with dispatch. Examinations made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

NATIONAL ANNEXATION.—In a discourse delivered two or three years ago, on a Fast Day, it was stated that if our country had had no territory annexed, it might have been better; in a discourse on the late Thanksgiving Day, another speaker said he could pray that our north and south boundaries may never be different from what they now are. So far as the past is concerned, it seems that annexation has been on the whole advantageous. The main annexations have been the following:

In 1803, while Jefferson was President, Louisiana was purchased of France, which country had obtained it of Spain a while before. The price paid was fifteen millions of dollars. Louisiana was a large section, extending up the Mississippi river towards what is now our great northwest, indeed taking in part of it. On that we have now ten states, parts of two other states and two territories. In a national point it was of immense value to get control of the mouth of the Mississippi river, aside from the large domain above mentioned.

In 1819, Florida was obtained of Spain by treaty.

In 1846, Texas was annexed. This last had belonged to Mexico but had become independent. Mexico had not acknowledged its independence, so a war took place between Mexico and the United States. The States were victorious and California was obtained in 1848 as the result.

From that date to 1853, by treaties with Mexico and paying that country ten millions of dollars, Nevada, now a state, and the territories of New Mexico, Utah and Montana, or at least quite a portion of them, were gained.

In 1867, Alaska was obtained of Russia by the payment of seven millions of dollars in gold.

In all we have annexed one billion, eight hundred and thirty-four millions, nine hundred and eighty-four thousand and four hundred acres. These acquisitions have vast resources as a whole, and are capable of sustaining a population fifteen or twenty times greater than is now in our whole country.

Have the past additions been advantageous? As now appears it seems highly so. Can more be annexed advantageously? Possibly,—probably; but it can be determined better when we shall know what countries may come and on what conditions. The British Provinces may be had, probably, at some time; Mexico might be lifted up from its present inefficiency and degradation by annexation; Cuba, the same. Annexation has been the rule so far. All parts have been annexed where there has been an attempt, save San Domingo. The rule may work well in the future, provided a good educational system is spread over all dominions added. UNCLE JOSEPH.

State News.

Gosport has twenty-one voters.

Epping folks feel quite confident that the Nashua and Rochester Road will be located through that town.

The Boston Transcript, noticing the large number of persons of extreme age in this State, says: "The invigorating and life preserving qualities of White Mountain air can never again be questioned after the revelations of the recent census."

Nashua wants a horse mart, but Marden says he should prefer a smart horse.

The American Fan Company at Nashua is very busy at the present time. One $800 order from Boston was sent in on Monday.

A thorough education.
Chorus—Five times five are twenty-five,
Five times six are thirty,
Five times seven are thirty-five,
And five times eight are forty.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the golden gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet sees us yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and interrourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the backwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's patrons at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be prnted on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, AND, find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos. THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (36 p. p.) will be sent free to all who now subscribe for the year 1873.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Killinwoodl's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal: These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13x19) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

[1] Independent, N. Y. [2] Evening Mail, N. Y. [3] Aldine, N. Y. [4] Springfield Republican. [5] Advance, Chicago. [6] Harper's Weekly, N. Y. [7] Illustrated Christian Weekly, N. Y. [8] Christian at Work, N. Y.

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents [$3.10] for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN Copies of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1872.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The committee on commerce is disposed to make an honest, united effort to perfect a bill which will revive American commerce, but is not likely to recommend any measure involving subsidy or direct government aid.

The Senate and House naval committees have further considered the subjects of the construction of ten sloops of war. There is no longer any doubt that both committees will report in favor of the measure. It is claimed that Spain is to-day able to whip us at sea, her naval power is so much greater than ours. It is thought that the measure will receive the support of both parties in Congress.

THE NEW YORK ERA, under the editorial control of O'Donovan Rossa, the Irish patriot, improves in tone with every issue, while losing nothing in point of readableness and "spice." The Era has always been distinctively devoted to the interests of Ireland and the Irish people; and Mr. Rossa, whose entire devotion to his country and countrymen cannot be questioned even though the wisdom of some of his former acts may be, speaks in the columns of his paper as boldly as he acted in "the old country." Without advocating either Democracy or Republicanism, using the terms in the partizan sense, or denouncing or flattering Irishmen, he tells them wholesome truths in very plain words; and if he keeps on as he has commenced—as he probably will do, for his past career shows him to be very like what Mrs. Grant said her husband was, "a very obstinate man" and one not easily turned from his path,—he will probably benefit his countrymen more than he would have done had he been chosen to a seat in the New York legislature.

FIRE at Bath, N. H., Thursday, consumed the shoe shop of L. Liet and every building between the bridge and Gen. Bedel's residence except a hotel stable. The buildings destroyed were the dwelling-house of L. Liet, owned by J. L. Carlton, loss $500; no insurance. E. C. George's dwelling-house, loss $1500; insurance $500. The Congregational Church, loss $10,000; no insurance. O. Carlton's store, loss $600; no insurance, and the hotel and stage stable of E. Carlton, loss $12,000; insured in Worcester and Fitchburg companies for $4000. Most of the furniture and store goods were saved. Deputy Sheriff Morrison received serious internal injuries from inhaling hot air. A young man named David Chase had his skull badly fractured by falling bricks, and has since died. Wm. Minot dislocated his shoulder by falling upon the ice.

THE GOVERNMENT LOAN.—It is understood that Secretary Boutwell will not ask Congress for permission to pay in London the interest on the lower classes of bonds, the prime condition on which the recent offer of the second syndicate was made. He believes that the loan can be placed without this modification of the law, and that our gold interest may be paid in this country. Should the Secretary adhere to this position, the recent proposal of Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. and the Rothchilds is likely to be declined.

THE COMMISSION OF APPEALS in the case of Rawson against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have decided that their limitation of liability to $100 for loss of baggage is not a contract, and have awarded the plaintiff $4000 damages for her baggage lost by the defendant.

THE MAINE SENATE has refused to pass the bill extending the time of location of the Boston and Maine Railroad, as amended by the house, but insisted on its former vote passing to be engrossed.

GENERAL HENRY THOMPSON, who fought in 1812, and was worth not many years ago in New Orleans, a fortune of $11,000,000, died recently, aged 80, in a New York hospital, a pauper.

A FIRE at Salisbury, Mass., Wednesday evening, destroyed the drying room of the Salisbury Manufacturing Company and a large lot of wood. Loss, $12,000.

COAL.—The price of coal in New York has fallen from ten to twelve per cent., during the past month, and a further decline is anticipated.

JUDGE INGRAHAM of New York has refused to quash the indictment against Stokes.

—Eight thousand men have sailed from Cadiz for Cuba.

Political.

Hon. Geo. W. Julian of Indiana has become "disaffected," and writes that he is "looking earnestly to the organization of a new or third party, on such a basis as to bring into it the honest and true men of both the old parties."

The Washington Chronicle avers that the statement that Jeff Davis is a "Yankee" will "carry grief to thousands of bosoms," unless successfully refuted. The editor might have added that it will likewise carry shame to Yankees the world over. Jeff. Davis a renegade Yankee! Take any shape but that!

The Littleton Republic calls Senator Cragin a "common place individual;" "common place" in this instance being synonymous with honesty and uprightness. Had the Democratic party a few such leaders they would be nearer success and advocate principles they might be proud of.

Prominent North Carolinians say that Governor Caldwell of that State will probably refuse to give Senator-elect Ransom his credentials to the Senate, either on the ground that there is no vacancy, Abbott legally holding the seat, or that, if there is a vacancy, it belongs to the governor and not the legislature to fill it. Should Abbott be refused a seat by the Senate, and it devolves on Caldwell to fill the vacancy, he will probably appoint Abbott, whose chances for ultimately attaining his ambition seem on the whole favorable. The republican convention of North Carolina, which meets in April, will probably renominate Governor Caldwell and a State ticket of honest and acceptable men.

Horace Greeley has an editorial in the New York Tribune opposing the renomination of President Grant. Horace thinks some one else will run better.

WE FEAR the editor of that most excellent exchange, the Providence Journal, has none too much respect for Democratic protestations and promises. Just read what the P. J. says:

The Democrats have made the great discovery that, under a Republican administration, men have been selected for office on political considerations, and that they do not cease to be politicians after they are appointed. This is very remarkable, and would be hardly credible but for the reports of several investigating committees, founded on the sworn testimony of witnesses, many of them discharged officers, who cannot consistently support an administration that has made the great mistake of dispensing with their services. The Democrats, the Puritan party in politics, are naturally outraged at this development. It is so contrary to their own traditions, such a violation of their own practices, that they can with difficulty find words to express their indignation. This is natural. The superior purity of the Democratic party, the jealous care with which, ever since the time of Jackson, it has guarded the freedom of elections from the corrupting influence of patronage, the scrupulous exactness with which its fiduciary officers rendered their accounts, have all contributed to make it unusually sensitive to the interference of officers in politics, and still more to the misappropriation of public money. That is what it never could stand.

Still our Democratic friends should remember that this world has not yet come up to their standard of political morality; that ordinary human nature may never attain it. Every man cannot be a Tweed or a Connolly or a Hall. Else, what the need of churches? This would cease to be a state of probation, and the millenium would come in ahead of time. The Democrats should not be too severe; they should not measure the duties of public employment by their own high estimate. They cannot expect that the national finances will be managed altogether like those of New York; they cannot expect that the public buildings generally shall be constructed with the economy, the fidelity and the strict accountability that have marked the new court-house in that city. The civic virtues, the patriotism, the public honesty that concentrate in the great city which illustrates the excellence of Democratic rule, could not be safely spread over the whole country.

—The Republican party in this State is in no condition to win a victory, even if the national issues were not so immensely against it.—Manchester Union.

Indeed! The Republican party seem to us to feel quite satisfied they have many more voters than any other party in the State, and to be determined to bring out their full strength at the election next month. We are sorry our Democratic friends are dissatisfied with the condition of the Republican party. But what are the "national issues" the Union refers to? We should really like to be informed, "by authority," what the Democrats regard as "national issues;" we have given up trying to find out for ourselves. We know well enough what the "national issues" were for which the Democracy contended at the last Presidential election, viz.; that the Democratic President-elect, (if he should ever exist) should employ the bayonets of the army to force Congress to declare all the reconstruction acts, including the Constitutional Amendments, null and void; and that the national honor should be thrown to the winds and the national credit ruined, by a refusal to fulfil contracts made at a time when the Democratic rebellion had nearly destroyed the Union, with men who had contributed of their means to preserve it. There was some talk among the Democracy of deserting those and similar "national issues," awhile ago, but it did not amount to much after all; and a long and patient search through our Democratic exchanges has failed to inform us of any "national issue" on which the Democracy are united, except "anything to beat grant."

—A boozy individual at a party, recently, succeeded in disguising his condition until the apples were brought around. When he saw them his emotion overcame him. "What!" he exclaimed, "apples at this season? Are they ripe?"—Danbury News.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many people, particularly children, suffer with the ear ache; and for the benefit of such we give a sure but simple remedy. Put in two or three drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, stop the ear with undressed wool, bathe the feet in warm water before going to bed, and keep the head warm at night.

Capt. Charles Sager, who keeps a superb stock of livery horses in Portland, Me., informed us recently that he uses Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders regularly in his stables, and that the expense is more than offset by the diminished amount of grain necessary to keep his horses always in good order.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. jl5 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile nostrums composed of the refuse liquor of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences, sometimes follows the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of these as remedies for Dyspepsia, Billiousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretensions of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Sold by all Druggists. Factory, BOND ST. NEW YORK, N.Y.

A MELANCHOLY BREAK-DOWN.—There are lively break-downs that make an audience laugh, and there are sad sorrowful break-downs that make the kind-hearted grieve. To the latter class belongs the emaciation of body and mind which is usually called "general debility," or "nervous weakness," and which, when neglected, too often terminates in atrophy and death. A wholesome medicated stimulant is the one thing needed in cases of this description, and science and experience unite in pointing to PLANTATION BITTERS as the true specific. The fact that it combines the properties of an invigorant with those of a regulator and alterative, in exactly the proportions necessary to produce a radical change in the tone of the system, and the action of the digestive and secretive organs, is an unanswerable argument in its favor as a general restorative.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE

The Great Blood Purifier.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots, and herbs, and is so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhea, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervous and General prostration of the Nervous System, VEGETINE has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the Nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

Prepared by H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass. feb3 No. 1.

Price, $1.25. Sold by all Druggists.

Laconics.

The second of the series of G. A. R. Entertainments comes off at Grand Army Hall on Market St., next Monday evening. The drama entitled "His Last Legs," and—by special request—the laughable farce of "The Persecuted Dutchman" will be presented.

Four degrees below zero, Thursday morning.

The list of deaths of aged people, in 1871, now being published by our exchanges, is incomplete. We do not find the name of Mrs. Ruth Odiorne in the list. Mrs. Odiorne died in this city Dec. 27, 1871, aged 92 years, 3 months, 4 days.

Captain W. W. Low, U. S. N., is detached from U. S. S. Mohican.

The venerable Mr. Thomas Clapham, of this city, entered on his ninetieth year a few days since; and his birthday was celebrated by a little surprise party at his residence on Middle Street, his relatives and friends gathering to pass a pleasant social evening. The old gentleman is in comfortable health, and cheerful in conversation as ever. He much regretted losing his vote at the late election, by a removal and change of ward—the first time he failed of voting since his majority—a lesson worthy of study by some younger persons.

Mr. St. John's Poem at the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening was received by a good audience, with great satisfaction, as one of the finest entertainments of the season.

The closing lecture of the Lyceum Course will be delivered by Wendell Phillips on Tuesday evening next at half past seven o'clock.

THE FIRST NEW HAMPSHIRE PRINTER.—At the printers' banquet at Concord, on Franklin's birthday, among the volunteer toasts, the following was offered by Mr. Frank W. Miller of this city:

The Memory of Daniel Fowle—First on the list of New Hampshire printers, and not second in accomplishments or worth to any who have succeeded him. A noble compatriot of the immortal Franklin who in 1756 displayed the true spirit of '76.

Correspondence.

BOSTON, Feb. 1.

Ever in the annals of Christianity (since it became a power) the Jews have been a persecuted race. From the days of Shylock down to to-day they have been considered fair game for the bigoted or brutal of the sect professing a purer and more liberal creed. In some cases the money power of this frugal people has wrung concessions from Christian communities as in the instance of the Rothschilds—but the old homestead still stands intact in the Judengasse (Frankfort) where all Jews must be shut in by gates from the stroke of an early evening bell until dawn, up to the destruction of said gate by Klebers' bombardment in 1796. In some cases position has been forcibly achieved by a mind of extraordinary calibre, as in the instance of D'Israeli. In many instances disabilities of citizenship have been removed, and Christian communities have been sufficiently generous to allow that there were some rights to which even Jews are entitled—but this admission has been exorted only by the influence gained by a people ever industrious, prudent, shrewd and generally well behaved.

As a rule the Jew is not a belligerent, —the nation having been too long scattered in foreign lands to inherit the martial spirit which renders the battlefields of their ancestors so memorable in the old Testament, such as the spoil of the Midianites, the overthrow of Sihon, king of the Amorites, Og, king of Bashan, by Moses, and John as overturning of twenty-one kings. I have seen young Jews shrink under fire on their first battlefield, (where they were by no means the only nationality that flinched at entering "into the gates of death, into the jaws of hell,") but those same boys graduated as brave and worthy soldiers as any in the regiment.

I didn't start to write a disquisition on the right and wrong of the shabby treatment to which Jews in general have been subjected for the faults of a few Jews in particular,—but merely to relate an instance wherein one of the very class whose course has cast an odium on the whole body overreached himself in a comical manner.

At one of the ready-made clothing stores which are so thickly located at the North End, not many days since, a returned soldier applied for a pair of pants having only one leg, the misfortunes of war having deprived him of one of those desirable limbs. The dealer found a pair of bifurcated garments that would just suit his customer, but was obliged to inform him that the cutting off and sewing up of the superfluous leg would occupy an hour or more, whereupon the veteran decided he could not wait, but would try further up the street.

Now all this time a child of Israel had been viewing the attempts to suit the ex-boy-in-blue. In his mind the size, the length and the quality desired were firmly implanted. His own store was a little further up the street. By a rapid flank movement he reached his place of business, seized a pair of pants of the dimensions sought, cut off one leg, and placed them in the hands of an employee to have the woolen arteries of the amputated limb taken up, (anglice —hemmed.)

Like the traditional spider, "Moses" lay in ambush at his door, awaiting the approach of the unlped. The unfortunate man approaches his trial by Jewry. "Can I sell you a nice pair of pants, to-day?" says the dealer. "That's just what I want, but a pair is too much for one leg," retorted X. U. S. The Jew was in ecstacies. "I have just what you want, a magnificent bargain, a pair of pants just made for General Adams;—let me try my measure; so—a splendid fit for you;—a little small in the waist for him. They cost $16, I will give them away to you for only $10." Going to the call pipe he shouted: "Send down those pants made for General Adams."

The article is sent down, the soldier is pleased, not only with quality and price of the goods, but with the fact that Gen. Adams had desired the same. He took them to the light, to inspect before buying,—as every strictly business man should. Moses followed—he saw his error—the pants were minus the right leg, the soldier of the left—

"Holy Father of Abraham! I have cut off the wrong leg!"

The curtain descends, and the pants are still on sale. I could have told this episode in twenty lines, but I wished to show my capacity for making little into much. M.

CONSOLIDATION. — The Amesbury (Mass.) Villager says of the scheme for the union of the Eastern and Boston & Maine Railroads under a corporation to be called the Boston & Portland Trust Company:—

The corporators are men largely interested in railroad stocks, and two of them are Presidents of Railroad corporations. If the two roads could be consolidated and "run in the interests of the people," it would certainly be a judicious movement, but there is a lingering fear that the people would have less of influence than they now do in urging railroad managers to meet the public want, while the state in view of the fact that it could take these roads twenty-eight years hence, might be compelled to assume liabilities that would after prove a burden upon its treasury. Under a monarchial government, like that of Prussia, such schemes are safe when linked to government, but the endeavor to make a State change a policy that is part of the republican system, may lead to the engrafting of more evils than prospective benefits. This measure will be looked upon with great interest when it comes before the House to be acted upon; for upon its adoption depends the status of all the railroad lines in the State.

A NARROW ESCAPE. — On Monday evening Mr. Charles G. Merrill, printer, was crossing the Merrimac river, from Dracut, Mass., on the ice, with his child one year old in his arms, accompanied by his wife, boy and a friend, who were just behind him, when the ice broke and let him and the little one into the water. He came up and at first struck his head against the ice, but being a good swimmer he managed to find the hole, laid his child as far from the margin as possible, and at length with great difficulty gained a firm footing and saved both himself and child.—Newburyport Herald.

—Joseph Burton of Augusta, Me., who was run into about a week since by a boy coasting on the sidewalk, died from the effects of the accident. He was 75 years of age.

—At the meeting of the Cosmopolitan General Conference in New York, Sunday, thirty thousand posters, containing the following, were ordered to be distributed throughout the city: "Played Out.—The elections are played out, when one repeater is worth five voters, one stuffer is worth five repeaters, and one 'counter' counts more than all. Legislature is played out when it becomes a vote market, its laws a matter of bargain and sale; and the patience of the people will be shortly played out."

—Moving for a new trial—Popping to Mrs. No 2.

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices —and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the Morning Chronicle.

GOING TO A FIRE.—On Saturday evening one of our most enterprising dealers in boots and shoes, whose summer residence in New Hampshire is open all winter, was enjoying his midnight slumber at one of our first-class hotels. His sleep was untroubled, and a placid smile rested upon his regular and weather-beaten features, nothing being wanting to make the picture one of perfect beauty but a clean shave and an extra curl of his intellectual-looking locks.

While thus he slept, three persons crept stealthily up to his door, and knocked loudly for admittance. One was that feather-weight known as the Infant, whose conspiracies and depredations have often been chronicled before. Another was the venerable president of an insurance company, and the other was a Mr. Waldron, formerly a colporteur, but now a hotel speculator. Upon being aroused, the merchant asked somewhat gruffly:

"What in —— do you want?"

Infant—"the keys to your store. The whole establishment is in danger of burning."

Merchant—"Let her burn and be ——. Clear out and let me go to sleep!"

Waldron—"Let us in and give us your keys. I assure you your store is in danger."

The insurance president also assured the disturbed victim that his store was threatened, and after a little more parley the visitors were admitted, the subject of their visit being momentarily forgotten in other discussions which immediately followed their entrance.

Then again the subject of the fire came up; one of the party smelling vigorously of the "Infant's" coat, exclaiming as he did so, "How plainly you smell of the smoke."

At this the merchant began to have a realizing sense of his danger, and stepped across the room to get a sniff, exclaiming, as he drew in a vigorous breath:

"Yes, and of burned leather, too!"

This was too much for the insurance president, and saying he must hasten to the store to look out for his interests, left, with his risibilities greatly shaken up.

The merchant's visitors then made another demand for the keys, assuring that gentleman that there was no need of his leaving his comfortable apartments, as they could attend to his interests as well as if he were there. "No," said the gallant merchant, "if anybody goes to that fire, I go!" and in spite of their protestations he donned his garments and left for the scene of the supposed fire in the vicinity of Congress street, accompanied by his interested friends.

Arriving at the corner of Milk and Washington streets the "Infant" pointed out the first evidences of the conflagration to be plainly seen on the sidewalk, exclaiming: "Heavens! they were obliged to pump water even from this distance!" an incident which gave a more vivid idea than ever of the magnitude of the fire.

In solemn and apprehensive silence the trio wended their way to the store, no policemen being abroad to arrest their steps. Arriving so as to obtain a view of the building, all was dark and gloomy. The moon shone brightly on the opposite side of the street, which seemed to add to the obfuscation of the boot and shoe establishment over the way. As the merchant's eyes rested on the inky and sombre picture he exclaimed in guttural accents: "Gutted! by Jove!"

His friends endeavored to pacify him, but he would not be pacified. "If the contents of that safe are destroyed," he continued, "I am a ruined man! 'Tis hard! 'tis hard, to be thus impoverished in early youth!"

"Adamantine, indeed!" exclaimed the "Infant." "And yet, my friend, the picture may not be so murky and umbrageous as thou hast painted it!"

"Let us seek a nearer view!" suggested Waldron.

A nearer view was sought.

And here comes the most interesting part of the story. The three persons moved up opposite the store and gazed upon it. There it was as the proprietor had left it—safe and whole, with its stock of goods unimpaired. Not a window was broken and the contents of the safe were all right, except they might be disturbed by burglars.

At this juncture Waldron broke into a loud laugh, and the merchant turned savagely upon the men who had deceived him, exclaiming: "You —— miscreants!" and conducting himself in a manner that indicated his intention of putting a head on the Infant, whom he knew to be the chief conspirator in the dastardly scheme.

Here he was lured from a warm bed, in the small hours of the morning, and had walked half a mile from home on a Tom Fool's errand, on the representations of two mischievous fellows who were now laughing in their sleeves at his awkward predicament. To a high-spirited and aristocratic nature like his the thought was maddening, and he felt inclined to then and there punish his persecutors; but he contented himself with swearing at them some profane language, while they grinningly bowed to his maledictions.

The three immediately turned about and left the scene, the only sound that broke upon the still air on their way home being the oaths of the indignant and yet not unhappy merchant.

In due season they arrived at the hotel, when the boot and shoe dealer sat for a few moments and gazed upon his companions, his enraged and livid countenance betokening the fire which raged within. After taking something to quench the fire, all were put in their little beds.

It is impossible, at this writing, to estimate the losses the merchant will sustain from this "conflagration." Some have set it as high as one or two hundred dollars. But this depends upon the number and cost of the baskets he will be compelled to "spill."

—The hymn "Nearer, My God, to thee," which has touched more hearts than any other modern composition, was written by Miss Sarah Fuller Fowler of London, Eng., who died as Mrs. Sarah F. Adams in 1840.

—The latest Boston notion is the revival of the aboriginal idea of driving horses without the head-gear, the bit being placed behind the animal's teeth and strapped under his jaw.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the Face, the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or in advising the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. EDDY as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS.—The Scientific American thinks that during the past six months good, solid, healthy progress has been made in engineering. The completion of the Hoosac tunnel will be reached sooner than would have been the case but for recent additions to our means of blasting and drilling rocks. In the marine engineering the compound engine system has been largely extended. New applications of electricity to regulating large and actuating small engines have been made, and devices for increasing safety in use of steam have been numerous. Concrete building is winning its way into public favor, and important improvements have been made in the means for protecting property from fire. "In short, the past year has been one of activity and decided though unostentatious progress."

—A Knoxville, (Tenn.,) paper reports that the bottom of a cistern excavated in the earth in that city fell out recently, and adds:

"This is only another evidence of the condition of the principal hill on which Knoxville is founded, and of which we have several times spoken in the past. Similar occurrences have at different times occurred in various parts of the city. The most notable instance was that of the dropping out of the bottom of the cistern in the rear yard of the Lamar House, some twelve or fifteen years ago. Many of our citizen, will remember the amazement of the frightened Irishman who scrambled up out of the cistern to tell the story of his lost mattock, which, having struck through, slipped from his hand and dropped to depths unknown. That cistern, though its bottom has never been found or restored, has proved quite valuable to the hotel as a sewer, always ready to receive, and discharging its contents no one knows where."

A HUMANE INVENTION.—Mr. S. W. Remer, superintendent of the Taunton car company's works, has lately invented and patented a cattle and freight car, which promises to be of great utility in the transportation of cattle. A car thirty feet long by about eight feet wide is divided into four compartments which have the capacity of holding four animals each. Instead of being turned in loose, the animals are to be tied, side by side, in a lateral position, those in one compartment facing those in the next, thus preventing them from injuring each other, while the oscillation of the car has no bad effect on them. Another and a greater advantage gained is the arrangement for feeding and watering the stock without removing them. On the top of the car and extending nearly its entire length is a large receptacle divided into three compartments, two for grain and one for water, which can be filled in the same manner as the boiler of a locomotive. By operating simple valves, water or grain can be conveyed to troughs. Live stock can be transported in these cars with less trouble and without the shrinkage sustained by the present mode. When no cattle are offered, these partitions, being hung on hinges, can be swung up and fastened to the top of the car, thus converting them at once into freight cars.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way lese perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the dwelling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright gleaces to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nesties yonder on the soft cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the backwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos. THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, see advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk fill Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13½x12½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [5]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively

for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Recon has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

Political.

The Democratic papers are demoralizing their party by publishing a letter purporting to be signed by the Chairman of the Republican State Committee asking for a subscription for campaign purposes. The result will be that many persons who naturally vote the Democratic ticket will get the idea that the Republicans propose to buy votes, and will call on the Democratic leaders for money in recompense for their Democracy; if they fail to obtain the "wherewithal from their Democratic friends they will sulk and remain away from the polls, or proffer their votes to Republicans. There are enough such ignorant and unprincipled men in the Democratic ranks to send their associates into a hopeless minority of 10,000 votes. The Democratic papers had best quit publishing that document, for by so doing they do but commit political suicide in placing temptation before the lowest classes, whose votes they need to a much greater extent than any other party in the State.

The Portland Press has been virulently attacking the friends of the Maine Central Railroad. The following extract from the Augusta correspondence of the Biddeford Union and Journal explains the matter:—

The event of the week has been the passage in the House of the bill empowering the several roads leased and run by the Maine Central to unite in one common bond, and its passage will be a matter of the greatest contest of any bill during the session of the Legislature. The contest over all bills is made on the question of being "passed to be engrossed," and on this question a show of opposition was made, which resulted in the passage of the bill by a vote of 96 to 35. The Portland Press has attempted to howl down this bill, rather than to show reason why it should not pass. "The member from Portland" had his little say in opposition, who piously saw ten men in buckram in the shape of a lobby "who poisoned the air," who filled the aisles, waylaid the members, and exerted the baneful effects of undue legislation! The fact is, there has not been a "lobby" for years as small as the present one, while the largest lobby is working for measures which "the gentleman from Portland" favors. The fact seems to be apparent that "Nox" has not been approached by the Maine Central, and that seems to worry him. Whenever you hear a man whining about a lobby you may know that he is "the under dog in the fight," and is thirsty.

Speaking of "lobbies" reminds me to say that the interests of the P. S. & P. R. R. are confided to three persons, and they constitute its entire lobby; that of the B. & M. R. R. to three persons, that of the Maine Central to, perhaps, half a dozen, and these men are here as attornies of the several roads to act as its officers in their absence, and are just as much needed as an attorney at court.

Republicanism and Prohibition.—The Concord Monitor has a controversy with Brother Haven. The latter recently asserted in Zion's Herald that the Republican party in New Hampshire had "thrown prohibition overboard," and made the ominous remark that the Prohibitionists "would return the compliment." The Monitor pronounces this assertion of Brother Haven's "not truthful." It remarks:—

"The New Hampshire Republicans have not thrown prohibition overboard. And, hence, prohibition has no 'compliment' to return. True, prohibition was not made a political issue. Neither was Christianity. Would the Herald say, therefore, that 'the New Hampshire Republicans threw Christianity overboard?' And yet it might say it with just as much reason and truth."

State News.

On the 27th ult., in Keene, Mrs. Amasa Bennett got on a sled with her nephew and niece in returning from a call on a neighbor. At the bottom of the hill the sled hit a rock and Mrs. B. was thrown, producing a compound fracture of one leg, the bone coming through the wound.

On the 28th ult., in Marlborough, Mrs. Noah Porter, a lady of seventy, fell on the ice and broke a wrist so that the bone protruded through the flesh.

The tannery of Mr. Israel W. Goodwin, of Tamworth Iron Works, was entirely burned on Wednesday. It is believed to be the work of an incendiary. The loss of buildings and machinery is about $4000. There was about $4000 worth of hides and leather in the building. No insurance.

The House of Representatives sustains Secretary Boutwell's syndicate operation. During the debate Mr. Kelley of Pennsylvania asked what sort of an outcry the Democrats would have raised if the Secretary of the Treasury had refused the offer of foreign bankers to take $135,000,000 of the public debt at 5 per cent., and continued to pay 6 per cent.

Mr. Dawes closed the debate. He said the syndicate did not make a profit of $3,000,000 as the Democrats charge, but that $375,000 would cover their profit. The Secretary has been arraigned, not for want of economy, but for violation of the law, and to that arraignment he had pleaded, and had victoriously shown that he had not violated, but had executed, the law. Supposing the syndicate had made such profits as alleged, and made them at the expense of the government—which was not the case—what profit had the United States made out of the transaction? In negotiating two hundred million dollars of five per cent. bonds and withdrawing the same amount of six per cent. bonds, it made a saving of two millions a year and twenty millions at the end of ten years. That put at interest would make twenty-six millions at the end of ten years. The present value of that saving was $14,840,000.

If calculation were carried out on the whole—one billion, five hundred million dollars—for thirty years, when the largest bond shall cease, the saving in interest, invested semi-annually at six per cent., would amount to one billion, seven hundred and seventy-three million, nine hundred thousand dollars. The present value of that saving was three hundred and thirty-nine million, seven hundred and ninety thousand dollars.

The benefit of success of funding that two hundred million dollars did not end there. It so strengthened American credit abroad as to render it certain that the balance of the debt could be funded at four per cent. In that connection he read a letter of Assistant Secretary Richardson, dated London, December 30, relating to a conversation which the writer had with the governor of the Bank of England, who is represented as saying that until recently he had always thought the debt could not be funded, but that it had been shown that the resources of the country were so universal and the determination to maintain its credit so fixed and settled, that we should soon be able to borrow money at four per cent. Such a sentiment expressed by the governor of the Bank of England could not fail to have a favorable effect on American securities.

The Secretary might turn from this puny argument to the public judgment upon his course, having reduced the public debt about $300,000,000, and having, by funding $200,000,000, not only saved twenty-six million but assured the saving of three hundred millions more; and whatever might be the vote of the House on the resolution, the Secretary could turn to that other and greater verdict of the American people and of the countries of Europe.

A vote was taken, and the resolution declaring that the Secretary of the Treasury, in negotiating the loan, had neither increased the bonded debt nor incurred expenditure contrary to law, was adopted by yeas 110, nays 86.

Terrible Railroad Accident.—A serious accident occurred on the Lehigh Valley Railroad about four miles above Mauch Chunk, Pa., Thursday. The morning passenger train crowded with people for New York, was thrown from the track by a broken rail. One of the cars was thrown into Lehigh River, a distance of forty feet, and another after making several evolutions logded at the foot of the steep embankment. The red-hot stoves overturned immediately, set the debris on fire, amid the cries and groans and shrieks of the wounded and dying. A few passengers were killed instantly. The train was running at a high rate of speed. There are many short curves in this road from Pennhaven to Mauch Chunk, and this accident occurred on one of them. The weather was extremely cold, and the suffering of the victims was exquisite. Eight persons were killed and twenty others badly hurt.

A Broken Rail caused a locomotive on the Attica road to be thrown down an embankment, smashing it to pieces. The engineer was one-legged, and the fireman, seeing his danger, threw him bodily into a snowdrift and jumped after him, thus saving both their lives. A passenger car attached ran off the track, but was stopped without danger.

Governor Harriman has assurance from some of the ablest Republican speakers in Congress that they will visit New Hampshire and aid in the canvass which is to bring back the State to her position in the Union column.

In the action, William Hale vs. Chas. W. Kimball, the Jury returned a verdict for the plantiff for $244.90, disallowing two notes of $20 each, which the plaintiff claimed in the suit. Hills for plf. Small for deft.

Nathan M. Baker vs. Dudley O. Littlefield commenced, taken from jury and case reserved.

Town of Northwood vs. Town of Barnstead, assumpsit to recover $74, paid and expended by Northwood for the support of Fannie G. Bunker, wife of James E. Bunker, and James W. Bunker, their minor son, paupers, was commenced Tuesday, and given to the jury on Thursday afternoon. Verdict for deft. Small and Wiggin for plff. Frink & Butler and Cogswell for deft.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Many people, particularly children, suffer with the ear ache; and for the benefit of such we give a sure but simple remedy. Put in two or three drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, stop the ear with undressed wool, bathe the feet in warm water before going to bed, and keep the head warm at night.

Capt. Charles Sager, who keeps a superb stock of livery horses in Portland, Me., informed us recently that he uses Sheridan's Condition Powders regularly in his stables, and that the expense is more than offset by the diminished amount of grain necessary to keep his horses always in good order.

A Beautiful Woman.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food Take Vinegar Bitters. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of Camagas and rotten whiskey, and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives — HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follows the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

City Council.

On Thursday evening, the Board of Mayor and Aldermen granted leave to J. C. Carr to open drain on State Street for repairs.

The annual report of City Solicitor Heward was accepted.

It was voted that the owners of the land, corner of Brewery lane and Islington Street, (where the Alton shop was burned) be held responsible for injuries sustained by Mr. Stack, who fell there.

Petition of police officers that their pay be increased to $2 per day was laid on the table.

The report of the School Committee for 1871 was ordered to be printed, 100 copies separately for the use of the Committee.

Alderman Giddings presented a resolution empowering the committee on lands and building to procure plans for remodelling the city building. The resolution was passed.

Our Schools.

Editors Chronicle:—Recent communications in your paper, relating to our City Schools, have been read with satisfaction by at least one of your readers; indicating as they do, an awakening interest in this matter of vital importance. The one in particular, which intimated that the present educational system might be improved and suggesting a means to that end, being (as I conjectured) from a member of the present school board was of hopeful significance.

The negligence, if not total indifference of parents in reference to the subject, is as amazing as it is culpable. How many parents have any actual personal knowledge of the teachers to whom the training of their children is entrusted, of how or why those teachers are chosen, or of the fitness of the rooms in which those children are to spend so many hours during the important period of growth?

I venture the assertion that the greater number, if not every one, of the Primary and Intermediate school teachers were appointed to those positions without undergoing the slightest preliminary examination as to their suitability for the situations. There can be no more lamentable mistake than to act upon the supposition that anybody who can read, write and cipher is competent to teach an infant school. They may know all that is in the books, and yet lack the ability to apply that knowledge. Attainments are not qualifications either in teachers or pupils. And here at the very foundation is where reform, to be effectual, must begin.

There is little use in alluding to the miserable shams called exhibitions given by schools of higher grades, unless the primary and intermediate departments undergo a rigid scrutiny and complete remodelling. A change there should be,—not perhaps of teachers, but certainly of methods. As well might an architect be required to rear an elegant and substantial superstructure upon a foundation of loose rubbish and soft mud, as our Grammar and High Schools be expected to graduate pupils as thoroughly prepared to meet the various exigences of life as their natural abilities will allow, when old dog-eared primers have been wholly relied on as a basis for the first course of instruction and the reasoning powers of the pupils neglected and ignored. Teachers in these schools will testify that a large proportion of the youth annually turned into their hands from the lower schools, have never been taught to exercise their own reasoning powers. The best directed efforts of well qualified and most faithful instructors in the higher branches must to a very great extent prove futile, without previous mental discipline.

All questions relating to school affairs are determined by the people in their capacity of free citizens. Let us at least have our schools up to par.

PROGRESS.

Laconics.

The Biddeford Journal says there is no question but that a charter will be granted to the P. S. & P. R. R. to build a road from Kittery to Biddeford.

A train of cars frightened a horse near the railroad, Friday. The horse ran and the driver, Mr. John I. Trefethen, an elderly man, was thrown down and had a leg broken. Mr. Trefethen is a heavy man and the shock was a severe one.

Mr. Rockwell D. Varney, of this city, was seriously injured on Friday while at work on the Marion, in the dry dock at the Navy Yard. A timber which had been hoisted in the air suddenly swung around, striking Mr. Varney, whose face was very badly cut and bruised.

....The Portsmouth Trust and Guaranty Company, since it opened, has received large deposits and is doing a successful business.

....Rev. James DeNormandie will deliver a lecture next Sunday evening on "Religion, and the Treatment of Dumb Animals."

....The fact that rents run away with at least half the earnings of respectable workmen is a subject which a good many professed friends of the people do not care much to debate upon. Is the matter too practical, or what?

....The trial on the trains of the Eastern railroad of the Westinghouse Air Brake, which is worked by the engineer, has after thorough practical tests been adopted by the road and they will henceforth use the same on all trains.

....Messrs. G. B. & S. W. Came have at the present time two hundred carriages in course of construction at their repository. The seal which was exhibited at this establishment last week has at urgent solicitation been sent into the country.

....The second rate iron clad Massachusetts, 2,127 tons, of 4 guns, which has been on the stocks at this navy yard for some time, is found to be in a somewhat decayed condition, and it is thought will prove worthless. Government proposes some new models in iron clads.

....The pastor of the Unitarian church, Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, commenced a Bible class about a month ago which has since rapidly increased in numbers, the spacious chapel being filled each Wednesday evening. The services consist of Scripture expositions and singing.

....Messrs. E. F. Sise & Co. and others of this city, and Capt. Hoyt of Kittery, have purchased schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., of Philadelphia, 157 tons, built at Milford, Del., in 1854. She will hereafter hail from this port, and be commanded by Capt. Hoyt, late of schooner Benj. Strong.

....On Monday last for the fourth time this winter the teachers of the High Schools were obliged to dismiss the school, owing to the difficulty of heating the rooms to a degree of comfort. This state of things should be looked into by our School Committee, and sufficient heating power added whereby the thermometer can be made to reach something more than 489. The Girls' school was dismissed on Wednesday owing to the melting of the grate.

....The Board of Navy officers convened at the Navy Department some months since to examine into the cases of officers who deemed themselves unjustly passed over by promotions made in conformity with the act of July 25, 1866, having concluded their investigations, recommend among others to be placed on their original position on the Register, Commander Charles W. Pickering of this city, to be promoted to the grade of Commodore on the retired list, with the retired pay of his advanced rank.

....The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad Company is to be held next Monday the 5th at 11 o'clock, at their Station House in Causeway Street, Boston, to elect a Board of Directors, and to see if they will authorize the issue of bonds according to law: also, to see if they will take a lease, or otherwise aid, as authorized by statute in the construction and operation of any branch or connecting railroads. It is hoped that each stockholder will be present in person rather than by proxy, as this promises to be one of the most important meetings ever held by this road.

....The class of '64 of the Boys' High School, had their annual re-union and supper at the Kearsarge House, Wednesday evening, the 31st. There was a good attendance of members residing in this vicinity. After partaking of an excellent supper prepared by the landlord, the members listened to the reading of a well prepared history of the class written by its Secretary, and to an original poem by one of their old teachers whose presence and contribution added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The poem abounded in good hits, well appreciated and loudly applauded, as were the excellent remarks and witty speeches of the several members.

Kittery.

The fifth lecture before the People's Lyceum was delivered Thursday evening by Rev. A. J. Patterson of Boston Highlands, on "Whittier and his Poems." After referring to the widely known author who formed the subject of his lecture, and vividly picturing before his hearers the birth-place and giving a brief sketch of his life, the lecturer quoted numerous selections from Mr. Whittier's poems abounding in prophetic and patriotic sentiments. "Barbara Freitchie" was admirably rendered. He said that President Lincoln used to read and re-read Whittier's poems, and claimed that if not directly they undoubtedly indirectly aided in opening the way for the Emancipation Proclamation. Mr. Whittier was described as tall and erect in form, his hair, once black, now tinged with gray and his features resembling very much those of Sir Walter Scott. The eloquence and pathos of the speaker held the audience spell-bound and the hour consumed in the delivery of the lecture seemed brief indeed.

The sixth lecture of the course will be delivered next Thursday evening, but it is not fully decided who the lecturer or what the subject will be.

Henry Bemick who was to be sent to the Maine State Prison for ten years at the present term of the Supreme Court, for firing a pistol at his son Harry, is dangerously sick in Alfred jail, and his physician thinks he cannot recover.

The organ just put in the Methodist church, instead of being made by Messrs. Hook, of Boston, was purchased of the Methodist society at Newmarket, and was made by the firm of Barton and Cobb who formerly did business in Portsmouth. Mr. E. A. Tilton of Portsmouth has been engaged in setting it up, and voicing.

THE AUTHORITIES OF PORTLAND have unfortunately and very unwisely granted permission to the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad Co. to locate their road through the middle of Commercial Street, which thereby ruins the depot property of the Maine Central and P. S. & P. railroads in that city, passing within twenty feet of the walls of the former and within five feet of the latter, thus cutting off all approach by hacks — a most unjustifiable permission.

DEATHS.

At her residence, at Canton, Ohio, on the 17th of January, 1872, of cancer, Mrs Helen E. Hazlett, widow of the late Judge Isaac Hazlett, aged forty-seven years.

Mrs. Hazlett was the youngest daughter of the late Daniel and Rebecca W. Brown, and only sister of Isaac H. Brown, Esq., Post Master at Massillon, Ohio. She was a native of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, but had resided in Stark county, Ohio, nearly thirty-six years. Mr. Brown, of Massillon, is the sole survivor of a family of seven, who were the household of Daniel Brown, Esq.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Morning Chronicle.

FREE TRADE AND DEMOCRACY.—The great majority of the working people of New York have been democrats for a long time, and as the democratic party goes in for free trade we have no hesitation in saying that if the mechanic of our population understand how their interests are affected by this plank of the platform, they are most unselfish people. There is no man earning his bread by the sweat of his brow whose interest is not to have a tariff imposed upon every manufactured or unmanufactured article that comes from a foreign land. All people, to be sure, would get boots and shoes cheaper if they were allowed to be imported free of duty. But then the shoemakers and bootmakers would have a poor time of it, perhaps no time at all and the English manufacturers would be driving a rapid trade.

Democrats may say that the interest of a whole community should not be sacrificed for the interests of one trade. But what is the community? Only a congregation of trades every one of which is liable to be prejudically affected by free trade. The batters would have to work for lower wages if English and French bats came without duty. The locksmiths, the tinsmiths and silversmiths would have to come down in their prices, if locks and tins and trinkets had not to go through the custom house. Those working in mills, mines, factories and foundries would possibly have very little work to do, if the duty were done away with. Even distillers and brewers would have to pay less wages to their workmen, and employ fewer of them, if Irish whisky, bought in the old country at seventy cents a gallon, could be imported without the fear of a gauger. Democrats may exclaim "so much the better, everything would be cheap and every one would have the benefit." True, but it is not every one that would have employment then, and England, the natural enemy of the development of the resources of this country would have the benefit of this democratic legislation. May would have to emigrate back with no very pleasant welcome before them, for English mechanics have as much of the know-nothing spirit as any others, in being jealous of new comers.

There may be many things in the democratic platform that we like, but so far are we from liking this free trade plank of it, that we would wish to see a law passed that would exclude every blessed thing that came to us from England. We got nothing from her but manufactures and these we could command ourselves; or if we could not, we could with a proper National spirit afford to do without them. We speak in the interest of the workingman and not with any desire to serve the republicans or injure the democratic party. The latter may say that the manufacturers has all the benefit of the tariff laws; if so it is wrong, and according to natural laws the injustice ought not be continued.

British statesmen never introduced the law of Free Trade until they saw England able to complete with all the nations around her. In her youth, and in her middle age, and up to her old age, she never allowed any goods to be imported without paying heavy duties. Not even from Ireland would she receive anything that the people or the people's labor produced without taxing it to such a degree as was calculated to keep it away from her shores altogether. It was in this way that she killed the Irish manufacturers so late as the latter end of the last century, and when she had accomplished her purpose and made paupers of the manufacturers, she generously took off the duties, and has been ever since crying out: "Why don't you compete with us now? Ah, you are lazy, idle, good-for-nothing grumblers, without energy or enterprise."

All young countries have, while developing their resources, imposed duties on the importation of foreign manufacturers; and we are not to old, anyway, to despise precedent. Adam Smith writing a century ago in his "Wealth of Nations," while admitting this, advocated Free Trade in England, but he was then too early in the field. The National English fearing that any one should get the better of them in anything, did not allow them to adopt it until they were passed all doubt that they could be injured by competition; and we do not object to have as high a tariff imposed here on English goods as can be imposed, until we see ourselves able to sell railroad and rod iron, horse shoes and gaiters, anything and everything manufactured that can be classed under the head of et ceteras, as cheap in England, as England is able to sell such things to us here.—O'Donovan Rossa, in N. Y. Era.

—Alexie' $5,000 gift to Chicago has been divided equally between ten charitable institutions.

—It is said that Weston, the pedestrian, is trying to get a divorce from his wife. Ten to one he fails.

—The Churchman expresses the opinion that "pompous obsequies are the mark of anything but a true and lasting respect."

—The Sheriff broke up a baptism on the banks of the Ohio, saying that the water was too cold, and that if the minister persisted he would prosecute him for murder.

—The Independent says that some theological seminaries teach doctrines "which ascribe to the Judge of all the earth principles of action which would disgrace the bench of New-York."

—A chap who rooms up above the extra-tough impertinently remarks that although the naturalists make no mention of India-rubber birds, he has seen doves that were gutter-perchers.

—And now Rev. Mr. Mallalieu of Worcester, Mass., makes himself a laughing stock by publicly declaring, as the result of personal examination, "that the most indecent place at the North End of Boston is more decent than the most decent theatres."

—An old bachelor recently sent a lock of his hair and his name as Mrs. Bettie Brown, to a celebrated clairvoyant, and received in return the following;—"Youwill marry a railroad conductor in less than a year, have five children, and die in child-bed of the sixth."

—Mr. Myers of Indiana undressed in ten seconds with the assistance of a revolving shaft.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawblsl6

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

THE EIGHT-HOUR SYSTEM TESTED.—Congress, not long since, passed at the solicitation of the class who sell their labor for wages, a bill making eight hours' labor a legal day's work in the federal service. At the request of the same class, the House has just raised a select committee and charged it with the duty of inquiring into the condition and recompense of those who work for wages, not merely (as we understand) in the national service, but generally throughout the country. This is a wise and timely act, from which great good may be expected.

As yet, the statistics of labor are deplorably meagre. The manifestoes of those who figure as champions of hired labor, lack method and precision. They seem to the employing class to demand twenty per cent. more compensation for a given amount of work; and this (the employers say) they—not having the National Treasury at their back—are absolutely unable to give. So the two classes stand in antagonism, when it may be that a clearer understanding of their reciprocal demands and needs would bring them into friendly cooperation.

A cheering indication on this head reaches us from the National Armory at Springfield, Massachusetts. The material facts are as follows:

When the eight-hour law took effect, the superintendent reduced the wages of the workmen to correspond with the shortening of the working day. On an appeal to the President, this curtailment of wages was overruled. The laborers for day-wages now apply to Congress for payment of the differences between the wages they were allowed by the superintendent and those they now receive, and are likely to obtain it. Among the documents on which they base their claim is one from the Commandant of the Armory, who, with reference to the file-workers in that establishment, says:

"They have managed to make, under the old tariff of wages, quite as much per day under the eight-hour as under the ten-hour system; while I believe that the day-workmen have worked harder and more faithfully under the ten-hour system."

The foreman of the Milling Department reports, (Aug. 17, 1868,) that the average earnings of twelve of his piece-workmen under the ten-hour system in the month of June previous was $2.60; while in July, under the eight-hour, they earned $2.88 per day. In other words, they did considerably more work for the Government in a day of eight hours than in one wherein they worked ten hours. This is a very important fact, worth more to the cause of short hours than three balloons-full of denunciation of greedy capitalists and whining over the miseries of the laboring class.

Nor does this fact stand alone. The foreman of the Water Shops reports the average earnings of twenty-three piece-workmen in his department under the eight-hour system as $3.13 per day. From statistics obtained from the workmen, we learn that the piece-price of the work alluded to in the Report has been reduced over nine per cent.

The average earning of twenty-nine piece-workmen (so the foreman reports) in the Filling Department were, under the ten-hour system, $2 95 and under the eight-hour, $2 82 per day. We are informed that the workmen in this shop gradually became able to earn in eight hours their usual wages when they worked ten hours, and even more; so the officers were able to reduce the piece-price from sixteen to seventeen per cent.

These statistics—and we see nothing to impeach their accuracy of fairness—are of great interest and value. It seems to be demonstrated that the reduction from ten to eight of the hours of the daily labor in the Springfield Armory has newise diminished the efficiency or product of the average day's work, but rather increased it. In other words: the workmen accomplished rather more, in the average, when working but eight hours per day, than while working ten hours. And, while the piece-workmen doubtless made special efforts to secure this result, their officers testify that those working in the same shops for day wages have been equally alert and effective, since the reduction of the hours, with the workers paid by the piece. We have been favored with transcripts from the official returns of the labor performed in the Armory which fully sustain this averment.

Of course, one swallow makes no abiding Summer. It may be that there are other facts that conflict with and neutralize those above set forth. If there be such, we shall give them place whenever they shall have reached us. Thus far, however, we have no offset to the pay rolls of the Springfield Armory and the official statements of its officers; and they certainly present the eight-hour system in a fairer light than that in which employers have generally regarded it.—New York Tribune.

—The board of appeals has published a decision reviewing every claim put in to invalidate Goldsmith Maid's time of 2:17, and giving her that record—thus confirming her title of "Queen of the Turf," and deposing Dexter.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may ask, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and cool back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of dainies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-hands, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than pictorial pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can cater thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the backwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the pictures stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's subscribers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, youngmen and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being MRS. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (24 p. p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, see advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children.

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (19x12½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [9]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

[1] Independent, N. Y. [2] Evening Mail, N. Y. [3] Aldine, N. Y. [4] Springfield Republican. [5] Advance, Chicago. [6] Harper's Weekly, N. Y. [7] Illustrated Christian Weekly, N. Y. [8] Christian at Work, N. Y.

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

9. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

9. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is ruled of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the monsoon is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilsen at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Practice vs. Precept.

If there is any one attribute of the Democratic party more prominently held up for the admiration and approbation of "the people" than another, it is the scorn with which the party views any improper use of official privileges to further partizan ends; and if there is one reason urged in favor of a Democratic victory more than another, it is the rigid honesty with which that party will administer the national affairs if they can only get trusted with their administration just once more, and the stern opposition the Democratic government will make to the expenditure of a dollar of the people's money for any other than legitimate and proper purposes.

It is within the memory of man that when New Hampshire had a full Union delegation in Congress, charges of having abused the "franking privilege" by circulating campaign documents were made against them by certain Democrats whose excessive virtue would not allow them to keep silent when the dear people's money was being expended in carrying such documents through the mail, minus postage,—and that the Democrats having demanded an investigation in the legislature which the Republican majority voted down, not a little political capital was made by the "reformers" whose honest instincts were so outraged by the "base Radical fraud."

At a later date a similar outcry was raised because—as the coppery press asserted—Republican Senators from this State had "abused the franking privilege and basely defrauded the government" in a similar manner; and the ink is hardly yet dry on the papers which shrieked with horror at such a "base prostitution of official privileges," and contrasted such conduct with the sterling probity the Democrats proposed to display in all matters connected with the government and the expenditure of the people's money—when they got a chance.

Now, New Hampshire is represented in the U. S. Senate by two able and patriotic men, and misrepresented in the House of Representatives by three of the pure and undefiled Democracy. The latter, belonging as they do to the minority party, of course cannot do much in the way of exhibiting Democratic "reform" in the Treasury Department; but they enjoy the "franking privilege" just the same as Republicans, and if they were not the very elect of that virtuous party which so indignantly denounced the abuse of that privilege, they would possibly be found less virtuous in practice now than they were in precept before their election or than their constituents have been since that misfortune occurred.

No one will for a moment imagine that men sent to Congress to shed the brilliant light of Democratic virtue over the black sea of Radical corruption, have been guilty of "prostituting official privileges" for partizan purposes, and to a much greater extent than was ever even charged against their corrupt political adversaries; but a deep-laid scheme of some unscrupulous person—doubtless a Radical—has come to light and requires a little explanation, which the champions of "reform" and "political integrity" will no doubt hasten to give to an anxious public. The facts are as follows: somebody has sent into this State for the use of "Granite Clubs" and other Democratic electioneering committees in the State campaign, something like one hundred thousand franked envelopes, there being no document of any kind in the envelopes—by this means proposing to "defraud the government" and make "the people" pay a large proportion of the expenses of the Democratic party. Small towns like Raymond receive only one bundle—fifty envelopes are in each bundle—but larger places are more liberally dealt with and the "franking privilege" is to serve as a partizan machine to aid the organization which so detests the "prostitution of official privileges to party uses." No Democrat could be guilty of such conduct; if any one has doubts on the subject let him read the copperhead newspapers; so we hope the author of this base plan for throwing discredit on the loud "reform" shrieks of the Democracy will be speedily found out and punished as he deserves.

How's This?—The latest movement of E. A. Straw, Agent of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company and Radical candidate for Governor, shows the great regard which he and his corporation have for the farmers of New Hampshire. The Momaske mills in Manchester, owned by this corporation and run by Mr. Straw, have been manufacturing woolen goods and paying for wool 42 cents per pound. But wool has one up in price and they have stopped that branch of business and gone to manufacturing cotton goods, because it pays better than it does to give the farmers a fair price for their wool. This corporation must get its 16 to 32 per cent. profit, no matter who lives or dies, and Straw is the man to see that they do it.—Foster's (Dover) Democrat.

Wool having gone up from 42 cents to 75 cents per lb., a manufacturing company have chosen to work on cotton goods, on which they can make a profit, instead of manufacturing woolen goods at a ruinous loss! What outrageous oppression of the wool-grower! What an infamous Radical outrage! What frightful immorality and demoralization! Nothing can save the State from destruction but a complete copperhead victory; then all corporations will be compelled by law to buy wool at $10 per pound and to sell superfine broadcloth at 25 cents per yard!

What a valuable Governor any man would make who was a blind idiot concerning the simplest laws of trade, and did not know enough to employ private capital under his control in such a way as to have a reasonable prospect of getting a return, instead of throwing capital and profit away together! That a man manages his private affairs with discretion and is faithful to an important trust reposed in him by private parties, can hardly be considered a convincing argument against his fitness for receiving an important trust at the hands of the people at large. Inefficient management of private affairs is no proof of honesty or political probity; "Boss" Tweed, certainly, was a bankrupt when he took up the trade of a Democratic politician and devoted his vast financial abilities to fixing the New York city and county Treasuries; but even if the Democrats should get full control of this State they would never be able to rival Tweed—an humble imitation is all they would be able to manage.

From any other source we should have regarded the Democrat's item as a capital satire on the imbecile objections urged by the copperheads against Mr. Straw; but we acquit that paper of any attempt at a joke. We however humbly beg leave to remind the editor that the choice by a corporation of what kind of goods they will manufacture "is a purely business transaction, having nothing to do with politics," as he observed in the Public Forum when certain Democrats found fault because that paper was printed in a Republican newspaper office, and concerning which interference he remarked that "no third person, except he be a dirty, meddlesome, pestilent cur, would ever think of interfering with our business affairs." What a difference it does make who owns the gored ox!

The Alabama Claims.—The discussion of the Alabama claims in England continues and grows more vehement as the opening of Parliament approaches. The English case laid before the Geneva Board of Arbitration has not been published, and no opportunity is given of forming an estimate of the British demands. But the case of the United States has now been before the public two or three weeks, and all the newspapers and organs of public opinion teem with hostile comments and false reports in regard to it. The Advertiser asserts that Chief Justice Cockburn, one of the arbitrators, will withdraw from the board, and the government will repudiate the treaty of Washington. A correspondent of the same journal advocates this course. He suggests as a precedent what he assumes to be the repudiation of the treaty of Ghent by the United States, and advises England to follow the example of America.

The British journals are not always correct, either in their predictions or statements of facts, nor do they always foreshadow the course that will be taken by the British government or give a faithful reflex of public opinion in that country. The refusal to abide by the terms of the treaty of Washington—a treaty which England appeared so anxious to conclude—would leave the embarrassing questions arising from the conduct of the British government during the war of the rebellion in a much worse condition than before the treaty was made; and of that fact the government is well aware. They may repudiate the treaty; but it will be as well to wait until some better proof of it is given than the assertions and recommendations of paper "British Lions," before using an enthusiasm and indignation in denouncing the presumed double dealing of England in the matter.

Washington News.—On Thursday the House of Representatives passed the Indian appropriation bill, with an amendment that no payments be made to hostile tribes and that deductions be made for Indian depredations.

The educational fund bill was taken up. Hibbard of New Hampshire opposed it; he regarded it as the opening wedge, merely paving the way for a comprehensive system of national education, for a postal telegraph law and kindred legislation.

Kerr of Indiana also opposed it, and as an argument against it stated that Indiana has an educational fund of $8,500,000. On being questioned by Mr. Hoar, Mr. Kerr acknowledged that $4,000,000 of that fund came from public lands,—showing, said Mr. Hoar, "that the bill is precisely in the line of Democratic policy in better days."

Parker of New Hampshire claimed that the Democratic party had always been a special champion of education.

Townsend of Pennsylvania replied to Mr. Parker's speech, saying that the claim put forward for the Democratic party reminded him of that very earnest temperance man down east who was in favor of the Maine liquor law, but opposed its enforcement. He made a point as to the illiteracy of Democratic States, singling out especially Delaware. He denied that the bill required a mixed system of education.

Goodrich of New York offered an amendment to distribute the fund for the first ten years according to the ratio of illiteracy in the several States as shown by the last census.

Burchard of Illinois expressed his joy at hearing the Democrats avow themselves in favor of the educational bill. It did not enforce the free school system on any State. It simply intended to persuade the States to establish a free school system by offering them a portion of the proceeds of public lands.

Biggs of Delaware defended Delaware from the aspersions of Mr. Townsend. He remarked as that gentleman lived near the border of Delaware, it was no wonder that he and persons given to his practices should be a little afraid of the whipping post. The insinuation against the venerable member from Pennsylvania was so ludicrous that it provoked laughter all over the House. Biggs next turned his attention to the speech made by Mr. Hoar some weeks ago, in which some allusions were made to the discredit of Delaware, and said that he would read the criminal statistics of the saintly State of Massachusetts. He found that in four years the number of criminal prosecutions in Massachusetts was 10,036.

Mr. Hoar asked Mr. Biggs if the source from which he had obtained his statistics did not show that over eighty per cent. of these crimes were committed by persons of foreign birth?

Mr. Biggs (interrupting)—That will do. Is not that a reasonable thing, to ask me to go into the State of Massachusetts to ascertain whether a person committing crimes is an Englishman or a Dutchman? [Roars of laughter.]

Mr. Hoar—Eighty per cent. and more of these crimes were committed by persons of foreign birth, every man of whom votes the Democratic ticket. [Laughter and applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. Biggs—Foreigners who have fled from their own countries and come over here are, many of them, poor and illiterate, and it is a shame for the gentleman from Massachusetts to undertake to cast such reflections upon the foreign population of the country.

Mr. Hoar—It is the census of the United States says so.

Mr. Biggs then alluded to Mr. Hoar's arraignment of the democratic party, and concluded, amidst general laughter, by advising Mr. Hoar to "go down on your knees and with your mouth in the dust ask God to forgive you for making such an assault on the democratic party."

Bright of Tennessee and Critcher of Virginia followed in defence of their States, the latter alluding to the Lees, Jeffersons, Monroes and other distinguished men of Virginia, as illustrations of her intellectual vigor.

Mr. Hoar said that he had not criticised either the intelligence or eloquence of the educated tyrants of whom Critcher had spoken. He had alluded to a generation of men who had whipped women, beget little children and sold them into slavery, and then rebelled against institutions which they had assisted to establish.

Mr. McIntire offered and advocated a substitute to give the whole fund, not merely half of it, to the Southern States for educational purposes.

The debate was then closed, to be renewed on Tuesday.

The French Assembly by a large majority passed a bill authorizing the government to notify England and Belgium of the commercial treaties between France and these countries. A motion for the return of the assembly to Paris was rejected.

—A snow-storm prevailed in the West and Northwest on Sunday. There were several deaths and great suffering from cold and exposure.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

It is now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is fairly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction.

A Beautiful Woman.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take Vinegar Bitters. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

Dead or Dying.—Where the hair is unnaturally dry, you may be sure that it is dying; and unless artificially vitalized, it will soon be as dead as leaves in November. Feed the withered fibers and stimulate the torpid scalp with Lyon's Kathairon, and the evil, which must otherwise soon culminate in baldness, will be speedily remedied. It is absolutely necessary for the health of the brain, that it be kept moderately moist with a preparation capable of nourishing and invigorating it. Lyon's Kathairon fulfills these conditions, and is the only article that actually puts new life into the capillary tubes, through which the natural nourishment has ceased to pass. This pure and harmless vegetable preparation is absorbed by the skin of the head to the roots of the hair, and passes into the filaments by the force of capillary attraction.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences sometimes follows the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Death of Ex-Mayor Richard Jenness.

Hon. Richard Jenness died in this city of dropsy, Friday night, at the age of 73 years, having been ill several months. Mr. Jenness was one of the wealthiest citizens of Portsmouth, and had heavy investments in New York and in Europe, his estate being valued at from $500,000 to $600,000. He was born in Deerfield in 1799, and entered into business early. For a time, he held the office of Deputy Sheriff of Rockingham County. Removing to Portsmouth, he went into the hardware business, the firm name being Jenness & Goddard. In the party strife of those memorable days when Jefferson Hall was the only voting place in town, Mr. Jenness took active part, and being a man of firmness and decision, and having a dignified presence and fine countenance, was usually selected as the Democratic leader in the political contests between the Democrats and Whigs. Many times did the Democracy rally with the name of Richard Jenness for Moderator, the Whigs presenting the name of Ichabod Goodwin, our respected Ex-Governor, for the same position. These gentlemen of the old school, whose very faces demanded respect from their political opponents, were alternately chosen to preside at town meetings, to fill other town offices and to represent the town in the legislature.

Mr. Jenness was chosen Representative to the legislature in 1838 and 1840, was appointed Navy Agent in 1848 by President Polk, was chosen to the State Senate in 1849 and 1850, being elected to the Presidency of that body the latter year. In the Spring campaign of 1856, he was chosen Mayor of Portsmouth, receiving 756 votes to 732 for Hon. Christopher S. Toppan and 7 scattering. He held the office one year, retiring at the close of his term from active participation in politics.

Mr. Jenness was a very successful business man, and after possessing himself of a considerable amount of capital he sold his hardware business in the store on Market Street now occupied by Hon. John H. Bailey to Messrs. Bennett & Treadwell, devoting himself thereafter to banking. He was President of the Mechanics & Traders' Bank for many years and filled the position until the National Banking system was established and the State charter was surrendered. During the Rebellion he doubted the ability of the government to sustain itself, being a consistent Democrat, and put no money into government bonds. At that time he was considered the wealthiest man in this city, but the course of other capitalists in investing in government securities soon made the difference in capital small and there are a few citizens who aspire to the credit of being possessed of a considerable surplus over a half million dollars. Mr. Jenness' latest appearance in public was at meetings for the discussion of the now defunct Portsmouth & Dover railroad scheme, which he opposed vehemently and it is said was very anxious about. Mr. Jenness made a donation of $2000 to the town of Deerfield, a year or more ago. He leaves a wife and four children—a son, John S. Jenness, Esq., a prominent New York lawyer, and three daughters, one the wife of Elbridge Gerry, Esq., a lawyer residing in Portland, the second the wife of Dr. Emil Richter of this city, and the third the wife of Hon. William T. Hamilton, U. S. Senator from Maryland.

Laconics.

Mr. Joseph H. Foster has in his store on Market Street, a wood stove which has been in use every winter for sixty years. He has also a wood statue of Shakespeare, resting on a pedestal above the base of which and on the corners are carved the busts of Queen Elizabeth, Henry the Fifth and Richard Third. It was brought from England by his grandfather and has been in the family upwards of century and a quarter. It has been in Mr. Foster's store for sixty years. It is finely carved and is valuable as a work of art, as well as an heir loom and a relic.

Steamer Alliance broke her shaft off Marblehead, Saturday, and the Collector there sent to Collector Bailey of this port to send the revenue cutter Mahoning to her aid. The cutter not being here, Collector Bailey endeavored to secure the U. S. S. Speedwell, but it was deemed unsafe to send her out in the storm, as she did not have a full crew and works badly in heavy weather.

Mrs. Abigail Place, a resident of this city, is one hundred years old and claims to be older.

It is now said that the success of the French spoliation bill in the Senate is very doubtful.

Dr. D. J. Babbitt, Optician, is on his semi-annual visit to this city with a large assortment of spectacles, eye glasses, etc., and is stopping at the National House.

A snow storm commenced at about noon on Saturday, and continued until nearly noon on Sunday. The amount of snow which fell, though not heavy, is enough to make good sleighing, and the high wind which prevailed drifted it but little in the city.

A BOSTON-PORTSMOUTH REUNION.—A delightful season was enjoyed, on the evening of the 25th ult., at the residence of Thomas J. Whidden, Esq., in Upton street, Boston, the occasion being the gathering of a band of the old boys of Portsmouth, to interchange sentiments and to recall old time associates and scenes. It had been the wish of Mr. Whidden, for some time, to bring about a season like this, and it was in all respects a very happy affair. A rich repast was provided, and it was gratifying to see once more the "old familiar faces" as they went round the festive board. Messrs. Rice, Shillaber, Beck, Caswell, Abbott, Gerrish, Fields, and that rare old shuttlecock, Jackson, who has united Boston and Portsmouth so many years by his express. Mr. Whidden welcomed his guests warmly, and the responses were merry and feeling. Old stories were revived, and old incidents exhumed, till a late hour, and Shillaber read one of his elaborate and peculiar rhymes, embodying many things that Portsmouth boys delighted to listen to, which was warmly received and ordered to be printed. Shillaber exhibited the identical ferule, with which four of the party had been flogged at least forty years before, and the exchange of love-pats with the old implement of torture comprised the ceremony of separation. It was voted to hold reunions of the same character and the meeting was adjourned to Jan 25, 1873. Mr. Whidden is one of the most intelligent and fortunate contractors and builders in Boston, and his integrity has won him permanent fame.—Ports. Journal.

THE HEARING in the case of the Boston and Maine Railroad for a discontinuance of that portion of their line from South Berwick Junction to Salmon Falls took place at Augusta, Friday. John E. Butler, Esq., of Biddeford, appeared as counsel for the remonstrants, and showed that the proposition in question if allowed, would be disastrous to a large portion of the people of South Berwick, whose entire invested property depended upon the continuance of this road. He was prepared to show that the damage to wood alone would be at least $80,000. Mr. Yeaton, the counsel for the Boston and Maine Corporation, before the hearing closed asked for leave to withdraw, but this was objected to, and the committee, as the result of their deliberations, finally unanimously agreed to report that the prayer of the petitioners ought not to be granted.

State News.

A Hampton correspondent furnishes us with the vital statistics of that town for the past year. The number of deaths was 12, about one per cent. of the population; males 7, females 5; average age of the deceased, 55. One person died at the age of 91, and two under 10 years of age. Number of births during the year, 28. Our correspondent says "Hampton may be regarded as an exceedingly healthy town; no diseases are especially prevalent, and there is less consumption in proportion to the population than in most other towns in the country."

All the machinery in the Momaske mills in Manchester, which has recently been used in the manufacture of woolen goods, is now devoted to the manufacturing of cotton goods, in consequence of the great disproportion in the price of wool and the manufactured articles. Wool of last year's crop, which was bought for forty-two cents per pound, now sells for seventy-five cents per pound.

The foreman of the first section of the Wolfeborough Railroad has been able to work his men all but half a day since beginning on Dec. 27.

EMIGRATION.—The number of emigrants who sailed from Liverpool in the month of January exceeds that of December by 1150. The burning of Chicago seems to have stimulated emigration of carpenters and masons.

—A sack has been discovered in the top of a pecan-tree in Texas, containing a bow, arrows, an Indian spear, and a woman's scalp with beautiful long hair. The sack was lashed to a bough.

—Mormons and gentiles of Salt Lake condemn the decision of Judge McKeon in not admitting Saint Young and other murderers to bail. The federal authorities there indorse the judge's decision.

—The Czar of Russia has appointed Baron von Offenburg, late consul-general at Bucharest, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of Russia to the United States. By the same imperial degree M. Catacazy is attached to the foreign office in St Petersburg.

SEWING MACHINES

CHEAP AT LAST!

Having received a large number of Sewing Machines (including nearly all kinds) in EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"

I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new ones of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. So now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by installments. I still continue my offer of $10 REWARD!

to all who will exchange the

"DOMESTIC"

Sewing Machine for any other kind that has had about the same amount of usage.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and possesses 14 distinct advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 15 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY! DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. WHAT ARE THEY! THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair. For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs. DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system. FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect. Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow. PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish. FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular. They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16 J. WALKER, Prop., R. H. McDONALD & CO. Druggists & General Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 & 34 Commerce Street, New York. ☞ Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption. The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever succeeded so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public for many years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be used in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use. PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR. Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect in unsightliness and uneasiness to be borne. Dr. AYER's consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression. As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior. PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., Practical and Analytical Chemists. daw AND SOLD ALL ROUND THE WORLD. eow

OUR ROTTEN NAVY.

(Washington correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune).

Visiting the Navy Department, recently, to see for myself what signs there were in its sleepy old offices of the increased activity of which so much has been said of late, and to go find out, if possible, what that "jolly old sea-dog" who presides over our ships-of-war wants of a new fleet of sloops in this piping time of peace, I fell into conversation with an ancient bureau officer, whose delight it is to watch our Navy with an almost fatherly eye, and who knows the exact condition of almost every ship owned by the United States. I was in search of information, and, among other things, would like to know anything about our iron-clad fleet.

"Well, you may say," said the old man, with some impatience, "that our iron-clad ships are rotting and going to the dogs about as fast as they can. Talk about a war with Spain! Why, she would blow us out of Cuban waters in less than three weeks unless we had a year's notice to make preparation."

I vaguely remembered something in a report made by Admiral Porter after the fight at Fort Fisher, in which he said that one of our monitors—the Monadnock, I believe—could go to Europe, enter the most strongly fortified harbor there, and shell the city, and come home again without the fear of being followed by any ship of war in the best European navy. Was it not a little strange that we should now be in such a helpless condition?

"Not a bit," was the reply; "Admiral Porter don't bet on monitors so much as he did; his hobby, and that of a good many other navy officers, now, is the torpedo; that's going to be the greatest weapon of offensive as well as defensive warfare. You see it costs something to keep ships in good condition, and if Congress gives us money enough to keep our fleets in commission, why, nobody but Congress is to blame if our iron-clads go to the dogs. The people think we have a devil of an iron-clad navy," and the old man shrugged his shoulders as he added, "they'll find out, if they ever need a navy. I admit it did cost something, but Congress has been stingy enough since the war to make up for any generosity during that time."

"Now let us see what we have," and taking out his pencil and putting on his spectacles, he went on to enumerate our iron-clad vessels. "First, there are those 20 light-draught monitors, built about 1864, at a cost of 11,600,000,; but they're not worth anything, because, in the first place, they can't carry their men and stores; in the second place, they could'nt go to sea anyhow; and in the third place, you can't find men who will stand on the deck of a moniter, with no more protection than they would have standing on this table, and work a gun in naval battle. These 20 that I am now speaking of have no turrets, you know; they were planned for turrets, but when they were completed it was found that they were not big enough to carry them. They are nothing but iron rafts, and their decks which are of wood, are badly decayed. Under the most favorable circumstances their speed would be about three or four knots per hour."

"Where are they now?" I asked.

"The most of them are lying at League Island, I believe; two or three are at Boston, several here, and a few at New Orleans."

"Why don't we sell them if they are worthless?"

"Sell them!" with a sneer, "we can't get rid of them. Who do you suppose would buy them?"

After figuring a little, the old man continued: "Let me see; I believe there were six of those monitors which were built from the original plans. The original monitor, whose fame will never be forgotten, had an actual capacity of 844 tuns, and those built after her models cost about $750,000 each. The principal trouble with these was that the machinery, &c., was too far aft, so that it was necessary to carry at least 100 tons of ballast in their bows whenever they went to sea, to keep their noses down. Well, when a ship can't carry her men, coal, and sufficient supplies any way, you see what a waste it is to be obliged to carry 100 tons of dead weight. Another defect which probably resulted in the loss of the original monitor, was the projection of the deck beyond the hull. They said that the leak was under the deck, and I have no doubt that the deck was separated from the hull by the concussion of the waves striking on its side; the deck and hull separated like the shells of an oyster, and that 100 tons of ballast in her bows didn't help her any. The decks of these are badly rotten; their capacity, as I said before, is insufficient, and their speed about six or seven knots an hour. Of the Canonicus class of monitors, I think we originally had 10; two of them we sold to Peru—and it was with the greatest difficulty they were got there. We have now on hand eight; their names, if I remember rightly, are: the Ajax, the Canonicus, Mahopac, Manhattan, Saugus, Wyandotte, Kewaydin, and Winnebago. When the armament, crews

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, ready for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely hold by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-hands, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people skin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the original, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1873, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a highland pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos. THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p. p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. FORD & CO., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Kilinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talks in Plymouth church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (12½x12) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form.

 After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively

for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

The Terms of Subscription

ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents ($3.10) for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is sulled of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1872.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.—The United States government has no information which excites fears that the Geneva arbitration will fail in its object, notwithstanding the recent comments of the London press respecting the American statement of the case before that tribunal, and that attention is called to the fact that in commissioning the British high commissioners Queen Victoria pledged her royal word that whatever things should be transacted and concluded by her high commissioner should be agreed to, acknowledged and regarded by her in the fullest manner; that she would never suffer, either in whole or in part, any person whomsoever, to infringe the same or act contrary thereto, as far as it lay in her power. The treaty, it is known, provides that should it appear that Great Britian has failed to fulfill the duties as to the so-called Alabama depredations, and the arbitrators do not award to the United States the sum, in gross, it is agreed that a board of assessors shall be appointed to ascertain what amounts are to be paid by Great Britain on account of the liability arising from such a failure as to such vessels, according to the extent of such liability as is decided by the arbitrators. It appears from the protocol that at the conference held on the 8th of March the American commissioners claimed that Great Britain, by reason of failure in the proper observance of her duties as a neutral, had become justly liable for the acts of cruisers and their tenders; that the claims for the loss and destruction of private property, which had thus far been presented, amounted to about $14,000,000 without interest, which amount was liable to be greatly increased by claims which have not been presented; that the cost to which the government had been put in pursuit of the cruisers could be easily ascertained by the certificates of the government accounting officers, and that in hope of an amicable settlement no estimate was made of indirect losses, without prejudice, however, to the right of indemnification of this account in the event of no such settlement being made.

The Herald's Washington special says that the excitement among high officials in that city, consequent on the relation with England, is very great, and there have been frequent conferences between representatives of the American Government and the English Embassy. The situation in England, as represented by the English Legation at Washington, is of the gravest character. The Tory party, although represented by Stafford Northcote on the Joint High Commission, are desirous of forcing the Alabama question upon Parliament and compelling such a vote as would declare its want of confidence in the Gladstone Ministry. The Gladstone Ministry in consequence are seeking an amendment of the Alabama case to parry the assaults of the Tories.

A dispatch has been received at Washington urging the Administration to withdraw the claims for consequential damages. The President is firm in conviction that the case as presented by our Government shall not be amended or withdrawn. He regards the Geneva Commission as a Court, and feels that America has a right to go before that Court like any other party to an action, and leave the question to its decision. If our case shows any surprising feature the fault will be with the English, who permitted themselves for their own gain to become parties to acts of war upon the United States. The President also feels that the necessities of any English Cabinet must not be permitted to force his Administration into false position.

A dispatch has been received from Minister Schenk, to the effect that the excitement in London is intense, but no recommendations are made.

Secretary Fish does not see how any claims can be withdrawn. If in his judgment Sir Alexander Cockburn should withdraw, there would be no hope of an amicable settlement. Mr. Evarts is to return to this country for further instructions.

The Times Washington dispatch says if the reports from England regarding the Alabama claims are true, that the only thing Great Britain can do is to withdraw her representatives from the Geneva Conference; but it is absurd to think that the British Government will do anything of that character. No alarm is felt in Washington that anything serious will come of the London newspaper bluster.

The N. Y. Herald says that the mention of the fact that the British representative at Washington has been instructed to make proposals of accommodation and compromise of the Alabama claims to our Government is an insult to our nation. Of one stern fact the English people may rest well assured—that a deplorable war must almost inevitably be the consequence of the evasion of an honorable settlement of the differences between the two nations under the tribunal which they themselves selected. If the action of the tribunal makes Great Britain liable for the loss of our commerce and the prolongation of our civil war, the damages awarded therefor must be paid peaceably, or they will be collected at the point of the bayonet.

The Tribune editorially says that if the popular clamor in England should defeat the Ministry on this question and compel their successors to denounce and withdraw from the Treaty of Washington, it is not the United States that will be the heaviest losers by such a course.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Eastern Railroad Company was called together at the ladies' room of the Boston passenger station on Monday. The room was packed with excited individuals, eager to deposit their ballots for or against a portion of the old board of Directors. Two tickets were circulated, one with the names of Samuel Hooper, Franklin Haven, Benjamin E. Bates, Thornton K. Lothrop of Boston, John Wooldridge of Lynn, Henry L. Williams of Salem, and Ichabod Goodwin of Portsmouth; and the other with the names of T. K. Lothrop, S. Hooper, Franklin Haven, Ichabod Goodwin, H. L. Williams, George P. Clapp, John Brown.

Mr. Samuel A. Walker withdrew the name of Benjamin E. Bates, by authority. He moved the appointment of a committee of seven to nominate a board of directors, and that the meeting be adjourned for ten days in order to receive their report.

Mr. Nathan Carruth said he did not think some men were suitable for directors, and though they were estimable men they did not attend to their duty. One of the names offered was a member in Congress in Washington, and he could not attend to so much business at once. The meeting was packed and there was no room for consultation. He wanted the meeting adjourned.

The President, Mr. George M. Browne, then stated that he was not a candidate for re-election to any office.

After considerable wrangling a motion to adjourn to the Meonian was carried. At this place the meeting was again called to order at half past twelve o'clock.

The question being upon the taking of a stock vote upon Mr. Walker's motion, Judge Otis P. Lord of Salem appealed to those who held the power, in appeal to their interests, whether the best thing for them to do for once would not be to call in the councils of those who were not so rich as they. Practically they did not select men because they had more property than others. The poor ones were not excluded because they were poor. There was a feeling that ten per cent. of the property of the road controlled the remainder. The affairs would be more satisfactorily managed if the masses were given a voice. He had a high opinion of all the gentlemen named on the tickets, but some of them were better calculated to manage the road than others. When so important a matter as the election of a new President was to be considered, the voice of every stockholder, however small, should be heard. If the committe was appointed, the selection of names for a Board of Directors did not elect them. It was the majority of the stock and not of the stockholders that settled the question, and it was not all the stock, but what chanced to be represented at the meeting. Out of some five millions of stock, nothing like half of it had ever been represented at any meeting. He wanted to know who selected the seven men upon the ticket, and he wanted seven men from the meeting to select seven names for Directors, and then they would know who vouched for them.

He cast no reflection on the management of the road, for he did not know enough about it. But he did know that it had been the most unfortunate of any road which ever existed, whether considered morally, politically, socially, financially or any other way. It was capable of becoming one of the most prosperous roads in the country. The present depressed condition was due in a large measure to the accident at Revere. The immensity of the travel which naturally falls upon the road was one of the immediate causes of the accident. The physical nature of the employes has been overtaxed. Too much had been required of them. It implied no misconduct. What he wanted every one to say was that the directors asked for their advice. It was the part of magnanimity, as well as for the interest of the directors to do this. It was the greatest crisis the road had passed through since the defalcation of the Treasurer. He hoped it would be deemed the part of wisdom on the part of those in power to let the sense of the meeting be taken and submitted to the stockholders for their approval.

A motion to adjourn for an hour was voted down. Suddenly, at about 2 o'clock, Mr. Abel B. Munroe, of Boston, sprang to his feet and remarked that when you touched a man's pocket you touched his religion; he had expected $360 in cash on the 1st of January, but he did not get a red cent, because of the Revere disaster. Now he was in favor of paying men in responsible positions good salaries, and then if anything like that accident happened he would take the responsible parties into Judge Lord's court and string them up within twenty-four hours. [Laughter.]

Mr. Woodbury offered a vote authorizing the directors to issue bonds not exceeding $1,500,000, in accordance with the statute. Adopted, unanimously.

Mr. Choate, of Beverly, from the committee, reported as follows:

Whole No. of votes,	7783
For adjournment,	5153
Against adjournment,	2630
No. stockholders voting for adj't,	188
" " " against "	80

The meeting finally voted to adjourn to Thursday, Feb. 15th, a committee being appointed to select candidates for Directors.

THE TAMMANY RING.—A New York dispatch to the Boston Advertiser says: "Nearly all the ring rogues indicted by the sessions grand jury on Saturday got well away from the city some time ago. Peter B. and James M. Sweeney, and Hugh and Henry M. Smith are in Canada; E. A. Woodward, Andrew Garvey and William Hennesey Cooke are in Europe; McBride Davidson is somewhere in the South, and where A. G. Miller is no one seems to know. Only Tweed and Fields and Genet remain near by. The grand jury will consider Connolly's case, it is said, and will surely reindict him."

THE BOSTON LEAD CO., whose manufacture of white and red lead, lead and tin pipe, sheet lead, etc., have stood high in the market for forty years, advertise in anothing column, especially warranting the purity and fineness of their white lead and describing their trade-mark. J. H. Chadwick & Co., of Boston, are the company's Agents.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Guard Your Health and Life.

How inconsistent is human nature. Men carry revolvers to protect themselves against ruffians in well-polished cities where the precaution is unnecessary, often neglect to fortify their systems against disease in the most unhealthy seasons. Thousands of dyspeptics and other invalids are now languishing in sick rooms, or feebly and listlessly moving through our streets, who owe their forlorn condition solely to a want of common prudence. Far more inimical than the roughs and rowdies, against whose possible attacks the timid arm themselves, are the morbid elements that pervade the atmosphere at this time of the year, and yet although it is an undeniable and undeniable fact that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS afford a more perfect protection against these causes of disease, than any weapon of offence can afford against lawless violence, the reckless and inconsiderate continue to brave the danger with a positive safeguard within their reach.

Every day, however, the number of these martyrs to their own want of forecast diminishes. Each succeeding season demonstrates more clearly the inestimable value of the Bitters, both as an antidote for the causes of disease, and a specific for its consequences. The miasma which generates periodic disorders, rheumatism, liver complaint, irregularity of the bowels and other physical disturbances, produces no effect whatever upon systems toned, strengthened and regulated by this powerful vegetable medicine, and dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, intermittent and remittent fevers, biliousness, and in fact nearly all the maladies which the Bitters, if taken in time, would prevent, are cured by the persevering use of the great remedy.

The genuine Bitters sold in bottles only, and never by the barrel, keg or gallon, as is represented by some unprincipled dealers.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

It is now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is fairly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

MERITED DISTINCTION.—The well-known Groton Junction, on the great thoroughfare of the Northern Lines to Boston, has ceased to be. With a large and increasing population, proud as well as prosperous, its citizens, in mass meeting assembled, have voted to change the name of their town to "AYER"—after one of the best known men in America, Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell—and the Legislature of Massachusetts has enacted that decision into law. We commend their choice, for not only is the name short and distinctive, but Dr. AYER'S Medicines have made it gratefully known to the ends of the earth. Probably no living man has carried relief to such countless multitudes of the sick or he, and this high honor, from his neighbors, tells the estimation in which he is held by those who know him.—Bristol Times.

Boston Lead Co.
Half Column from Dancby & Co.
Frank L. Martyn's Concert.

A South End Reservoir.

Doubtless nearly all of your readers are aware that the unsightly old fire trap at the corner of Pleasant and Washington streets has been torn down and the debris removed, thus improving the general appearance of that locality and lessening the chances of fire in our midst. A petition has been presented to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, which is to come up for action next Thursday evening, asking that Howard street may be extended in a straight line to Pleasant street, which will involve the purchase of a little less than one fifth of the lot of land on which the building above alluded to formerly stood. The reasons for this request are sufficiently obvious to render an explanation unnecessary. But we have what we regard as a better suggestion to offer, which is that the city purchase the whole lot (the price of which is $1200, we believe) and by that means secure an excellent spot on which to construct a reservoir capable of containing an amount of water sufficient to meet the demand of any emergency. The residents of that portion of Washington, Howard, Gates and Manning streets near the old stable lot have long felt the lack of the adequate means of protection in the event of a great fire in that vicinity and we venture to assert that there is no portion of our city so illy provided for in reference to a supply of water for fire engines.

There is no place on the shore of the South Mill Pond below the Universalist Church where a steamer could be located to draw water, even supposing the tide to be in. And it is also true that there are but two at the whole South End localities where a steamer can get water in case of fire, on South Mill Bridge and Union Wharf. In view of this fact, we urge upon the representatives of our City to provide for us some better supply of water, and we think the locality we have alluded to the best, as it is accessible and convenient.

SOUTH ENDER.

School Examinations.

Messrs. Editors:—The undersigned recently read in the Chronicle, a communication from "X," in which the writer expressed a good deal of regret that the time-honored examinations of our schools were fast becoming mere exhibitions; and he also remarked that while a school is being examined the teacher of it should be merely a looker-on.

If X. is in the habit of visiting schools, he has doubtless discovered that a strong sympathy exists between every good teacher and his or her pupils; also, that where such a sympathy exists, the scholars invariably answer hard questions from their teacher much more promptly and correctly than simpler ones from a stranger. Now it seems to me that the terrible "Examination Day" (terrible I mean to the scholars) is just the wrong time for strangers to question scholars,—especially those of the lower schools. For who cannot read in every little flushed face, unnaturally bright eye and quivering form of the pupils of a school which is being examined, the excitement which is raging within? And who can help pitying the poor little fellow who, when asked by one of the awe-inspiring committee, "Who made the world?" answered with tears of penitence in his eyes, "I did—but I'll never do so again!" I think this a fair sample of the answers that a stranger would be likely to receive from the frightened children of the schools of the lower grades.

I fully, wholly and heartily agree with X. in wishing for thorough examinations, but in trying to avoid one evil, I think it will be well not to fall into another. I think that the teacher should have the privilege of giving out the questions, during the examination of his or her school, and after the recitations are over, that the committee and visitors should have the privilege of asking any questions that they please,—providing always, that the trembling little one is not questioned upon a subject before unheard of. And above all, let the questions be such as the pupils can answer from their own knowledge of the subject, expressing their own ideas in their own language and not in that of a text-book.

Such a course would not only give the committee a chance to judge of the qualifications of the school, but would also give the anxious teacher a chance to place each scholar in the best light before those present, and would I think, insure a good examination. A.

Mrs. F. L. Martyn.

As there is a great deal of very natural curiosity in regard to the first appearance in this city of this talented young artiste, we give a few facts relating to the vocal abilities of the fair songstress and a few extracts from some of the leading journals of the country, where she has appeared. Mrs. Martyn has been since childhood under the instruction of the first masters of Europe and America. Her voice is a clear, ringing soprano and Barrelli has said that "she has as pure a register as any singer on the American stage to-day." She has won good opinions from the press and the public wherever she has appeared, and at a private concert but a short time ago in Louisville, Ky., a perfect ovation was tendered her by the citizens of that place. She has appeared principally in this country in private and subscription concerts. She has been offered great inducements and good promises of future success, if she would make her debut on the operatic stage. But the wishes of her family and her friends, and her own natural inclinations has kept her from doing so, and she confines her public appearance to private concerts given principally under the auspices of Mr. Martyn. We give for the information of our readers a few extracts from some of the leading Western and Southern journals. The Buffalo Courier of Jan. 3d, says:

"St. James Hall was crowded last evening with one of the most brilliant, and appreciative audiences of the season. The concert was a success in every particular. Mrs. Martyn was the great feature of the evening, her songs were splendidly rendered, receiving unbounded applause. The song of 'Sherman's march to the sea,' was especially noticable for its fine execution and thrilling effect. The fair songster was in excellent voice and faultless style."

Mrs. Martyn's silver-toned melodies carried the audience by storm. She was the great success of the evening. We have never listened to clearer, and purer vocalization, and we have no doubt that this lady will yet take the front rank of vocal-artists in this country.—Louisville Times.

It is seldom that we hear such pure vocalization as that offered by the fair debutante. Her success in the future, as one of the first artists of the country is sure, and we predict for her a long and successful career if she chooses to follow the profession she so graces and adorns. —Cincinnati Commercial.

We are obliged to omit for want of space, many notices similar to the above which are before us. Tickets for sale at Preston's. See Adv't.

City Councils.

At a special meeting of the City Councils, on Monday evening, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, by the City Councils of the City of Portsmouth: That we have heard with deep regret of the death of our esteemed townsman, Hon. Richard Jenness, Ex-Mayor of the City.

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Jenness we have to lament the loss of a citizen whose interests have been for many years identical with the interests of the City, who has been energetic and successful in business and who has had a controlling influence in public affairs.

Resolved, That we have a warm sympathy with the afflicted family in their bereavement, and that the Mayor be requested to furnish them with a copy of these resolutions.

Resolved, That the City Councils will attend the funeral of the deceased, and that the Ex-Mayors be invited to unite with us in this tribute of respect.

It was voted that the members of the City Government meet in the Mayor's room at 11:45 A. M., this day, Tuesday, to attend Mr. Jenness' funeral.

Laconics.

The Portsmouth Veterans remain unorganized.

Who said that Aaron Young, Esq., had been removed from the office of Weigher and Gauger at this port?

Mr. John S. Nowland, the conductor on the Eastern Railroad who was suspended shortly after the Revere disaster, has been re-instated in his former position.

This evening we are promised the great treat of the season—a lecture by Wendell Phillips, the "Pet of the platform, the silver-tongued orator,"—the most polished speaker in America. Those not holding Lyceum tickets can obtain evening tickets at the door, at the Universalist Church.

The various Banks in this city will be closed from 12 o'clock, M., to 1 P. M., this day, Tuesday, as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Hon. Richard Jenness.

Mr. J. Rienzi Jenness, son of Job Jenness, Esq., and formerly connected with the Ocean House at Rye Beach and the Jenness House at Washington, D. C., died at Washington on Sunday, aged thirty-three years.

The Biddeford lottery was drawn on Friday night by the committee appointed by the ticket holders. Four watches were drawn by residents of this city, representing $110 in value. The money received for tickets sold in this city amounted to $170.

—There are 800 workmen employed at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

—Straw, the Radical nominee for Governor, was nominated solely for his wealth. But we are glad to hear from the Granite State such accounts as render it probable that no amount of corruption money will avail the Radicals this year.—Hartford (Conn.) Times.

Does the Times mean to intimate that the "secret of carrying elections" which won so many Democratic victories in New York and which the Connecticut copperheads tried so hard to make work in New Haven last year, is to be more extensively than ever brought into play by the New Hampshire Democracy this year? Or does our cotemporary imagine that the 100,000 "franked envelopes" will defeat the Republicans, without any ballot-box stuffing and false counting?

—At an assignee's sale in Marion county, Kentucky, recently, two hundred cords of wood, cut and corded, were sold at five and eleven cents a cord.

—"Where have you been since the cow kicked?" is a delicate way the Chicagoans have of referring to the late calamity.

DEATHS.

In this city, Feb. 3, of consumption, Mr. JACOB W. HANSCOM, aged 47 years, 10 months. A kind and affectionate husband, loving father and brother—a true and steadfast friend.

☞ Prayers at his late residence, No. 11 School St., at 8½ o'clock, Wednesday morning, after which his remains will be taken to Kennebunkport for interment.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

and supplies are placed on board one of these ships it stands just seven inches out of water. Two hundred and forty tons on the deck of one of them, or less than half that amount of water inside, will sink it. I am free to confess that I would be rather excused from going to sea in any one of them. Now we come to the four monitors, orders for the construction of which were given in 1862. One of these was given in charge of the Naval constructor of Philadelphia, one was to be built at New York, one at Boston, and one at Portsmouth. These were to be made of wood and plated with iron. Each of them was to have two turrets, four 15-inch guns, and their actual capacity is nearly 3,000 1000 and 2000 tuns. The cost of these ships was more that $1,000,000 each. The Monadnock, built at Boston, was the first to be completed, and as she was less time in building than the others, was the cheapest of all. She was a perfectly seaworthy vessel, and behaved admirably in the fight at Fort Fisher. She went safely around Cape Horn, and is now rotting in San Francisco. The Miantonomoh another of these four, went to Europe, and her history is well known; she is now entirely unsound. The Agamenticus (now Terror) is down to Cuba, full of rotten timbers, and the one originally known as the Tonawanda, built at Philadelphia, was a complete failure."

"Where is she now?"

"Rotting at League Island, I believe; she never did anything but make her trial trip."

"Then Ericsson was going to do something wonderful; he would build a monitor entirely of iron, and it was to have immense speed. The result was the Dictator, constructed at Greenpoint. In order to make her the most powerful vessel ever known she had something like 100-inch cylinders and two tanks of fires, one above the other. Then, to avoid as much as possible the friction of the machinery, the journals were made very short. Well, they tried to get her into the Fort Fisher fight, but at first her steering-apparatus was out of order and then her journals became heated, as they might have known they would. New journals had to be put into her, and as for her double banks of fires, I have been told that her upper ones are never lighted, for when the lower ones are going it is so hot that nobody can tend the upper ones. Altogether she is about as bad a failure, since the cost of running her is immense, and she always works badly. The Puritan was another complete failure, or would have been if she had ever been finished. After considerable trouble she was launched, and then it was found that if she was completed according to her original plans she would be utterly worthless. So she lies at the Brooklyn Navy Yard without her machinery. We were fortunate enough to sell the Dunderburg and Onondaga to France, and the less we say about them the better. We have now on the stocks the hulls of four vessels of the Kalamazoo class, the actual capacity of which will be about 5,000 tons. These were to be of wood, plated with iron, and were to have two turrets each, plated 15 inches thick with iron, and were to carry four 15-inch guns. They were expected to attain great speed. It would take about a year to finish each one, and the cost when done, will be not less than $2,500,000 each. The one at Boston is said to be in pretty good condition; those at Portsmouth and Philadelphia are very badly decayed. You think there must be some of our monitors that could be used in case of a war? Why, my dear sir, everybody in the navy will tell you the same story. The Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair in his last report, dated Oct. 26, 1871, says:

"In reporting the condition of the iron-clad vessels, very little can be said in their favor. Forty of the 51 vessels are of less than 500 tons measurement; cannot carry a modern battery; have very little speed, consequently cannot be of much use in fighting an enemy in an offing or protecting a harbor. They were built in violation of established principles of naval architecture; have been of no practical service to the country, unless their name of iron-clads has spread terror through the world. The deck beams of most all of the small class are very much decayed, but it is not advisable to replace the rotten beams with iron except something unforeseen calls for their services. Four of the largest class built in the navy-yards of white oak are now on the stocks, two of which are too much decayed to be completed, and should be broken up. It is not considered good policy for this Government to build large iron-clad vessels at the present time, inasmuch as endurance may be obtained in vessels carrying few guns of heavy calibre, and it will be well to await the experience of those governments who are obliged to spend money in the investigation of whether vessels shall be iron-clad or not; the improvements in ordnance tending to raise that question. It will be seen by the report of the condition of the vessels composing the Navy as above, that a large number of them are very much decayed, owing in a measure, to the use of unseasoned timber. Vessels costing over $1,000,000 have only made one cruise, and then have been found to be too much decayed to be repaired."

"Now, what do you think," said the old man, raising his spectacles, "now what do you think the Navy could do for a year or so if Spain should declare war?"

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in five languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6b18

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no medicine has ever acquired so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about thirty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE ELIOT ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in every case. He has such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, as to me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

MARK TWAIN IN NEW YORK.—The New York Tribune thus speaks of Mark Twain's first appearance as a lecturer in New York:—"If there are those who fondly think that the popularity of the American humorist (school) is on the decline, they would have been bravely undeceived by a visit to Steinway Hall recently. The most enormous audience ever collected at any lecture in New York came together to listen to "Mark Twain's" talk on "Roughing it." Before the doors were opened $1300 worth of tickets had been sold, and for some time before Mr. Clemens appeared the house was crammed in every part by an audience of over two thousand. A large number were turned away from the door, and after the close of the entertainment the officers of the Library Association warmly urged Mr. Clemens to repeat his lecture for the benefit of those who were disappointed.

It was not only financially that the lecture was successful. There was never seen in New York an audience so obstinately determined to be amused. There was hardly a minute of silence during the hour. Peals of laughter followed every phrase, the solemn assevverations of the lecturer that his object was purely instructive and the investigation of the truth increasing the merriment. At several points of the lecture, especially the description of Mr. Twain's Mexican Plug, the Chamois of Nevada, and the Washoe Duel, the enjoyment of the audience was intemperate. A singular force and effectiveness was added to the discourse by the inimitable drawl and portentous gravity of the speaker. He is the finest living delineator of the true Pike accent, and his hesitating stammer on the eve of critical passages is always a prophecy—and hence, perhaps a cause—of a burst of laughter and applause. He is a true humorist, endowed with that indefinable power to make men laugh which is worth, in current funds, more than the highest genius or the greatest learning.

But why dwell?

—New styles in boots create a sensation. The delicately-shaped boot, laced on the inside, requires a slender, shapely foot and arched instep. Such feet are not common. It is said that a celebrated artist in hair intends to import a Peruvian surgeon, who can stand quite up to his neck in broad gold pieces, and all this money was made by shaving off the little toe of ladies. The extra little toe, it is discovered, is an absurd superfluity of nature, a fact the ladies of Peru found out long ago—whence proceed their narrow, elegant feet. What is a little toe, compared to appearance?—N. Y. Tribune.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room won'd they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—or, rather, and so only taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's pubs lishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be prated on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed on the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, youngmen and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of this paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal. These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (15x12½), to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [3] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent FREE to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents ($3.10) for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN Copies of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this and results occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

"Laborious Affairs."

The Cheshire Republican, a Democratic paper, closes an article on "The Outlook" with the following words:—

A deal of effort has been expended by the Republicans of Manchester and Nashua and vicinity to get up some demonstrations which would show or simulate an enthusiastic ardor among the people in favor of Mr. Straw. But in every case they have proved laborious affairs, not affording much satisfaction to his friends or uneasiness to his opponents.

We regard the "laborious affairs" referred to by our cotemporary as one of the most auspicious signs of a coming Republican victory. The political history of this State since 1854 is full of such "laborious affairs," and when the Republicans deemed it necessary those "laborious affairs" brought grand triumphs. We particularly remember the campaigns of 1855 and 1868 as very "laborious" and very satisfactory. The former tripped the astonished Democracy from their feet and sent them into retiracy by a margin of 10,000 votes; the latter left them 2000 votes behind. The campaign of 1871 was by no means a "laborious affair," and to the astonishment of all parties, Republicans, Democrats, Liquor and Labor Deformers, the Republicans lost an unfought contest! They were caught napping for once. The "laborious affairs" have recommenced, as is plainly seen by our Keene cotemporary, and will end as all such efforts have heretofore.

Political.

The Nashua Republicans will open the campaign with public speaking on Wednesday evening.

The Claremont Eagle says:—We see that Mr. Cooper of Cryden is to stump for the L. R. party this spring. From what we have heard of this gentleman we fancy it makes little difference which goes the rounds, he or the stump. We must be allowed to wonder that E. D. Baker, Esq., of this town, is not brought out. He has such an awfully honest and candid way with him that strangers are really apt to think he means what he says. We give this card of introduction free gratis, and recommend him to the Reformers, whose political creed is especially adapted to being expounded by gentlemen who say lots of things in a very pleasant way, but mean nothing, because, you know, there is nothing to mean.

A "red-hot" copperhead paper in this State, speaking of the organization of the Legislature last June, says "if the Democrats could have had their way the whole organization would have been completed at noon of the second day's session." Just so; there never could be a more obliging set of fellows han the Democrats, if they are only allowed to "have their own way" in everything. If they could have "had their own way" in 1861 there would have been no war—and no Union or liberty, either. Past experience shows that a hard fight, with a Democratic defeat, is better than a peace gained by letting the Democrats "have their own way."

Schurz threatens to bolt if Grant is renominated. Gen. Fremont, who had more elements of general popularity, threatened the same thing if Lincoln should be renominated in 1864, and actually tried the experiment, but was glad to get out of the way—and Gen. Schurz might profit by his example.

A prominent Methodist clergyman of Cincinnati declared from his pulpit last Sunday that in his opinion the movement for the constitutional recognition of God was "a grave, though amiable mistake."

A fire-eater in the North Carolina Legislature endeared himself to Bourbon hearts, recently, by saying he "hated and defied the Federal Government; that he had a tussle with her once, and he was ready to do so again if occasion required it, and he would like to have a seat in Congress for five minutes, just to tell them so."

The New York Commercial Advertiser hopes the proposed theological amendment to the Constitution will not prevail, for "at present nobody disputes the authority of Jehovah, but just so sure as its recognition is embodied in another amendment of the Constitution, the Democratic Party will all go over to the devil."

A copperhead exchange, speaking of the postal telegraph scheme, says it will probably be laid over by Congress until after the Presidential election, as "Democratic thunder" is too much for its supporters to stand. As some of its supporters and many of its opponents heard a good deal of "Democratic thunder" on the battlefields of the rebellion, without flinching, we doubt if that can be assigned as a reason for the postponement of the measure.

The Capital, Don Piatt's paper, which is not given to lenient judgment of the Republicans, says that the investigation now going on into the conduct of the Washington, D. C., territorial government, is simply a contest between taxpayers opposed to all improvement, and enterprising citizens, who desire to make Washington a beautiful city.

Hon. Richard D. Hubbard of Hartford is the Democratic nominee for Governor of Connecticut.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.—A member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee positively asserts that he has seen at the Department of State a cable telegram couched substantially in the following language:

LONDON, ENGLAND, Feb. 5.

To Hon. Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.

Sir.—In view of the expression of opinion as to what the action of Great Britain should be in reference to the Geneva Conference, on the part of Chief Justice Cockburn and the general tone of the English press, I desire to be officially informed whether the government of the United States will in any degree recede from its claims for indemnity as recently presented.

Your obedient servant,
(Signed) ROBERT M. SCHENCK,
Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary.

To this the following reply is said to have been made:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.

To Hon. Robert M. Schenck, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of United States, London, Eng.

Sir.—You are authorized to affirm that in no event will the government of the United States recede from the position it has taken in relation to the Washington Treaty.

Your obedient servant,
(Signed) HAMILTON FISH,
Secretary of State.

Gen. Butler is firm in the belief that we shall have trouble with Great Britain, and a fight is contemplated in the House to prevent the fishery claims and treaty going into effect, and the appearances at this writing foreshadows its success.

The attitude of England is not one to conciliate the United States or promote the yielding of a single privilege on our part.

HON. GARRETT DAVIS, Senator from Kentucky, had a paralytic shock, Tuesday, and is dying.

TO CONTRACTORS.—Wanted! Thirty thousand lamp-posts, to enable the Democratic voters of New Hampshire to "stand erect, as God made them to stand." in the March election. For specifications, see my circular letter of January 30. For terms, address

JOHN G. SINCLAIR,
Chairman of Democratic State Committee, Manchester.—Concord Monitor.

State News.

The Amoskeag Veterans have re-organized and changed their by-laws and constitution. The corps will consist of two companies, a major commanding. They have already obtained about 70 signatures to the new organization, including many of the city and vicinity. A new uniform has been ordered, and will soon be ready for use.

Miss Mary M. Parker of Harrisville has entered the lecture field, her subject being "Anti-Woman Suffrage." Nice girl—but she is on the wrong side of the right question.

Giles Travis, son of William S. Travis of Deering, while his father and mother were at breakfast, about eight o'clock on Sunday morning, took a chair and made an assault on his father, cutting a fearful gash on his head. He then turned on his mother and broke her skull in two places, after which he took a rope and started, evidently to hang himself, when he was arrested. He has for some time been considered partially insane. It is thought the mother cannot live.

A Canaan gentleman gives notice that he will prosecute all violations of the liquor law that he finds out.

A party of Nashua fishermen have discovered a man who refused them a match to start a fire, saying that matches cost money.

On the 24th ult., in Keene, Patrick Whelton died from the effects of a fall upon an oil can with a long spout. Whelton fell from a locomotive tender, says the Republican.

The grist mill of H. S. Billings, at Lebanon, was burned Tuesday morning. Loss $10,000; insured for $4000.

At a meeting of the members of the New England Agricultural Society from New Hampshire, the following gentlemen were appointed delegates from the New Hampshire Agricultural Society to the National Convention of Agricultural Societies at Washington, D. C., on the 15th inst.:—Gen. Natt. Head of Hooksett, Mr. Aaron Young of Portsmouth, Col. Pater W. Jones of Amherst, and Hon. Virgil C. Gilman of Nashua.

—Taglioni is teaching dancing in London.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

It is now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is fairly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction

☞ If you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples and Blotches, purify your blood by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It has no equal for this purpose. 575.

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

WHAT IS VEGETINE?—It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child takes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

MERITED DISTINCTION.—The well-known Groton Junction, on the great thoroughfare of the Northern Lines to Boston, has ceased to be. With a large and increasing population, proud as well as prosperous, its citizens, in mass meeting assembled, have voted to change the name of their town to "AYER"—after one of the best known men in America, Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell—and the Legislature of Massachusetts has enacted that decision into law. We commend their choice, for not only is the name short and distinctive, but Dr. AYER'S Medicines have made it gratefully known to the ends of the earth. Probably no living man has carried relief to such countless multitudes of the sick as he, and this high honor, from his neighbors, tells the estimation in which he is held by those who know him.—Bristol Times.

DEAD OR DYING.—Where the hair is unnaturally dry, you may be sure that it is dying; and unless artificially vitalized, it will soon be as dead as leaves in November. Feed the withered fibers and stimulate the torpid scalp with LYON'S KATHAIRON, and the evil, which must otherwise soon culminate in baldness, will be speedily remedied. It is absolutely necessary for the health of the brain, that it be kept moderately moist with a preparation capable of nourishing and invigorating it. LYON'S KATHAIRON fulfills these conditions, and is the only article that actually puts new life into the capillary tubes, through which the natural nourishment has ceased to pass. This pure and harmless vegetable preparation is absorbed by the skin of the head to the roots of the hair, and passes into the filaments by the force of capillary attraction.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Guard Your Health and Life.

How inconsistent is human nature. Men carry revolvers to protect themselves against ruffians in well-polished cities where the precaution is unnecessary, often neglect to fortify their systems against disease in the most unhealthy seasons. Thousands of dyspeptics and other invalids are now languishing in sick rooms, or feebly and listlessly moving through our streets, who owe their forlorn condition solely to a want of common prudence. Far more inimical than the roughs and rowdies, against whose possible attacks the timid arm themselves, are the morbid elements that pervade the atmosphere at this time of the year, and yet although it is an undenied and undeniable fact that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS afford a more perfect protection against these causes of disease, than any weapon of offence can afford against lawless violence, the timid and inconsiderate continue to brave the danger with a positive safeguard within their reach.

Every day, however, the number of these martyrs to their own want of forecast diminishes. Each succeeding season demonstrates more clearly the inestimable value of the Bitters, both as an antidote for the causes of disease, and a specific for its consequences. The miasma which generates periodic disorders, rheumatism, liver complaint, irregularity of the bowels and other physical disturbances, produces no effect whatever upon systems toned, strengthened and regulated by this powerful vegetable medicine, and dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, intermittent and remittent fevers, biliousness, and in fact nearly all the maladies which the Bitters, if taken in time, would prevent, are cured by the persevering use of the great remedy.

The genuine Bitters sold in bottles only, and never by the barrel, keg or gallon, as is represented by some unprincipled dealers.

Our Amateurs.

The ladies and gentlemen who took part in the plays, Monday evening, at Grand Army Hall, are without exception entitled to great credit in affording an audience limited only by the capacity of the Hall much merriment. We strolled into the Hall and found a stage improvised and several hundred people with eager, expectant faces waiting for the curtain to rise. The first play was effectively produced. Years ago we laughed heartily at the jokes, songs and stump speeches delivered to a select audience of three by Mr. John Burns, but we were not quite prepared for such a droll rendering of O'Callahan in "His Last Legs" as the jolly J. B. succeeded in. Every person present laughed until each could laugh no more. The drama was well cast and Misses Stokell, Lord, Tarlton and Whidden, and Messrs. Leslie, Mahan and other gentlemen whose names we have not at hand did finely in their respective assignments. "The Persecuted Dutchman," with Mr. Burns as the "Original John Schmidt," was intensely comical, and we heard more than one wish the entertainment repeated at the Temple, where a larger audience might enjoy it and add to the Charity Fund. There is more dramatic talent in the company which made Monday evening an occasion of rare enjoyment, than in half the travelling companies, and we hope our citizens generally will have an opportunity ere long to see them present the two plays we have referred to on the Temple Stage.

School Examinations.

Messrs. Editors :—I have been much gratified at seeing in your columns, since you kindly published a communication containing an expression of my views on the subject of "school exhibitions," several other articles concerning our schools, showing that a least a portion of your readers are interested in anything pertaining to the welfare and improvement of our educational facilities. Among other suggestions, the appointment of a Superintendent of Schools has been advocated by one or more of your correspondents, and the suggestion may possibly be of value; but of this the public would be better able to judge if some one would set forth the duties of a Supt. of Schools and the advantages proposed to be secured by the employment of such an official, in your columns or in any other public manner, so that we may know what improvements in our schools may be or should be expected to result from such action. Will one of the advocates of a Superintendent of Schools give us this information?

One decided improvement in the school management of our city, I think would be gained by the appointment of one or more ladies on the School Committee; if not on the High School Committee, certainly on those for the Primary Schools. I could give the names of several ladies who would doubtless be willing to serve on such committees; ladies who possess a keen insight into human nature (much keener, where juvenile human nature is concerned, than men can have,) joined to great executive ability and an unwearying activity in good works; a little infusion of such an element into our school superintendence could not fail to work most beneficially, at least in the case of the Infant Schools. Women serve on school committees in other cities, and so far as I have heard there has been but one verdict as to their efficiency and value in that capacity. Bank presidents, lawyers, doctors, merchants and even editors, are apt to regard boys and girls (when very young and not belonging to themselves) as "necessary evils"—something that cannot be wholly done away with, but that should be stowed away out of sight somewhere and kept quiet—no matter where nor how, so that they do not "make trouble." The classes (I expressly disclaim any personal allusion to any gentleman, whether editor or of any other profession) referred to will no doubt deny this statement, and ventilate the theory that "children are blessings;" I do not dispute their theory—I only allude to their practice, which seldom agrees with that theory. True, warm-hearted women never lose sight of the fact that little children will some day become men and women, and recognize the value of the earlier training much more than men do; and for this reason I contend that women would make better Infant School Committees than most men, though I would not exclude the latter from such committees, by any means.

I find that my previous communication is gently criticised by your correspondent "A.," who agrees with me in demanding that school examinations should be examinations and not mere "exhibitions" of memory, but thinks the teachers of Infant Schools should be the principal examiners; so do I—and if my former article conveyed a different impression it was not so intended; my strictures were intended for the Grammar and High schools. I will even go further than it, and admit that the teachers would perhaps be the most proper persons to give out questions at Grammar and High school examinations; but the Committee should select the questions to be given out, or at least the particular lessons in which the pupils are to be examined, provided of course that such lessons shall have been previously gone over in the regular course of study. I have been assured by young men and women who a few years ago were pupils in our schools, that they knew for days and even weeks before "Examination Day" exactly what questions would come to them for answer,—and this, be it remembered, not on the occasion of an "Exhibition" but at what was supposed to be a genuine "Examination." What an invaluable test of the worth of a school such an "examination" must be!

One thing A. refers to concerning which I am a little skeptical; I allude to the terror and embarrassment created in the breasts of school children by a visit of the "awe-inspiring committee." That some pupils do look with trembling awe upon the imposing array of "examiners" I cannot doubt; but as a searching retrospecting examination of my own feelings when "the committee" used to visit the schools in which I was at different times a pupil fails to bring to light any trace of awe on my part, and the comments of my fellow-pupils nearly always savored more of irreverence than anything else, I am forced to conclude that the average school-boy is not overburdened with awe for anybody,—not even "the Committee." X.

The Martyn Concert.

Don't forget that the concert of Mr. Martyn takes place this evening at the Temple. The following artists will positively assist Mr. Martyn on the occasion—Mrs. F. L. Martyn, Soprano, of whom no further mention need be made; Mr. T. Chase, the popular and favorite Tenor; and Mr. Frank Burnham, Cornet Soloist. The last named gentleman is a proficient on the cornet, and we congratulate Mr. Martyn on obtaining so powerful an auxiliary. We also hear, with a great deal of satisfaction that Mr. Martyn has engaged a fine new Chickering piano for this evening. In obtaining this instrument Mr. Martyn has provided the last thing needful for a complete success, and we predict for the entertainment the best house of the season. Tickets will be for sale up to 8 o'clock at Preston's, and in the evening at the door.

The Lyre has not learned to tell the truth even after a great mental earthquake of cogitation and self review lasting eight days. It says that "Mr. Payne Durke is now Inspector, Weigher and Gauger at this port." Secretary Boutwell says Mr. Aaron Young is Inspector, Weigher and Gauger. Of course Billy knows more than the Secretary of the Treasury does! But Mr. Young gets pay from the Treasury Department from Jan. 1, 1872, and Mr. Durkee gets his old pay as Inspector. All rumors that Hon. George S. Boutwell has sent for Billy to go to Washington to help run the Treasury Department, are false. Nevertheless, Billy could run the Treasury—into the ground—if he had chance.

South Seabrook.

A revival of religious interest is going on in the Congregational church and congregation, and a number of converts have joined the Society. Evening meetings are regularly held, and are well attended. On Sunday, Jan. 28, the fifth anniversary of the commencement of Rev. Mr. Rand's mission was celebrated by a meeting in the church.

Mr. Dearborn Eaton, an elderly man, was recently brought before a justice of the peace on a charge of having while intoxicated disturbed a religious meeting; and the charge being sustained Mr. Eaton was mulcted in a fine and costs.

Concerning the appropriation of fences for firewood, the Eastern Railroad men say that two years ago last Spring it took four men about a week to replace what material had been taken during the Winter from the railroad fences here, and that six thousand feet of boards, thirty posts and a keg and a half of nails were used in the repairs; this Winter the railroad fences have been almost unmolested.

Mr. Chaplin, the able instructor of the Atlantic Cornet Band, has a class to whom he gives instructions in dancing one evening in each week. Some of the young men of the place have organized themselves into a Minstrel Club, and their rehearsals show considerable ability. There is talk of putting up a public Hall in this district,—an improvement much to be desired, as the only place now available for concerts and large social gatherings is the church, and a public Hall is much needed for entertainments which would seem out of place in the church. The formation of the Minstrel Club and dancing class may be considered as encouraging signs of progress, for the general introduction of any innocent means of amusement must be productive of good. New Publications.

The Radical for February has articles on "Civilization," "Labor and Capital," "Infinite Life," "Comparison," etc. The serial, "Timothy Tot," is continued.

La France Elegante, for February, is published by S. T. Taylor at 391 Canal St., New York. It gives four fine steel engravings, two from Paris and two from Berlin, has a Paris letter and a ticket to each subscriber entitling the holder to any pattern to be selected. Subscription price, $6 per annum.

Merry's Museum is publishing a charming serial story by a niece of the poet Whittier. This juvenile magazine is deservedly popular under its present management. It gives more reading matter and better illustrations for the price than are given by any other magazine of its class, and in addition every subscriber receives gratis a beautiful steel engraving entitled "First Love." Terms, $1.50 a year. Horace B. Fuller, Publisher, 14 Bromfield St., Boston.

The Industrial Monthly for February contains a large amount of valuable information on a variety of subjects especially interesting to Mechanics, Manufacturers, Builders, Inventors, Engineers, Architects, and to all who feel an interest in any of the branches of handicraft. It is copiously illustrated. Among the contents of the present number are articles on Circular Sheers for Sheet Metals, Hints to Inventors, Floor-warming, How to Make Good Mortar, Cheap Homes for the People, Railway Notes, Practical Notes, and a good deal of other interesting matter. The subscription price is $1.50 per year. In order that this journal may become extensively known, the publishers will send it to any one for three months, as a trial-trip, for 25 cents. Address The Industrial Publication Company, 176 Broadway, New York.

Church's Musical Visitor for February has a full-page portrait of Christina Nilsson. The department of musical, dramatic, and art news is fresh and full. Its musical contents embrace "White sails waft me away," Chopin's waltz, Op. 64, No. 2, and the "Overture Medley." Terms, $1 per annum. John Church & Co., No. 66 West Fourth street, Cincinnati, O.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—While an auction sale was proceeding in a millinery store at Hornellsville, N. Y., one evening last week, the room being densely crowded with women, the floor gave way, and the entire company, together with the fixtures of the store and a stove in which a hot fire was burning, fell into the cellar. The scene which ensued for a few minutes was startling. The burning coals from the stove set fire to the clothing of those near it, and at one time it seemed that the whole building would burn with all entombed beneath it. The flames were quickly extinguished, however, and the occupants of the cellar rescued from their perilous situation. Some were quite severely injured, one woman having both legs broken; many were bruised, and all were thoroughly frightened.

THE SATURDAY REVIEW is sarcastic, and asks questions to which the pressgang is expected to reply. It is curious to know who can enjoy a chat with a man who always talks of women as females, and of a man as an individual; who never begins a thing, but always commences it; who does not choose, but elects; who does not help, but facilitates; who does not supply, but caters; nor buy, but always purchases; who calls a beggar a mendicant; with whom a servant is always a domestic, where he is not a menial; who does not say anything, but states it, and does not end, but terminates it; who calls a house a residence, in which he does not live, but resides; with whom place is a locality, and things do not happen, but transpire!

THE SNOW STORM of Saturday and Sunday extended over large portions of the Middle and Eastern States and Canada, and report state the quantity that fell at various points from seven inches to thirty inches. In Vermont and Canada the latter depth fell, while in New England it was from ten to fourteen inches.

MRS. FAIR has been granted a new trial by the supreme court on the ground that the court erred in not allowing the defence the closing argument, and in permitting evidence to be taken of her former bad character as to chastity.

—The court of appeals in New York has affirmed the decision of a city court awarding $1800 damages to John Ihle, against the Grand Street Horse Railroad, which ran over and killed a child of Ihle's.

—The Seine has not been so low as at present for a hundred years.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfm8d5

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, which is enjoyed by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the speedy and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries; Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

HUGO ON THIERS.—The New York World's Paris correspondent, who interviewed Victor Hugo, reports him as saying:—

You ask me what I think of Thiers. I have no hesitation in telling you that I think him a meaner spirit than Louis Napoleon. Those who call him a great statesman know as little of the man as they do of French history. It is a little man and a little mind, incapable of learning anything from the experience of the past; incapable of conceiving a liberal plan for the future. His name will go down to prosperity gored with the blood of the misled men he massacred in the streets of Paris. Ten thousand fell under his chassepots. Napoleon le petit has been surpassed by Theirs le Tres Petit. The present government has long ago ceased to represent the country. Composed, for the most part, of men hastily elected for the special purpose of coming to terms with the enemy, it is now usurping the place of real representatives, who are waiting for a dissolution. Thiers knows that, and, as long as he is able he will keep his satellites about him. If another chamber were to be elected to-morrow Thiers' power would crumble into dust. His home policy is to hold the sword of state by the handle and give the blade to the people. His foreign policy is to humor Bismarck by acceding to all his requests and delaying measures like that of compulsory military service, which might enable us to lift up our heads again. In his conceit he may think it the first duty of every good patriot to keep Thiers in office; but whether he be sincere or not his government is based on corruption, and let it call itself provisional, a republic or monarchal, its fall is certain. God grant that I may be a false prophet, but as sure as the sun will set to-day so sure am I that military tyranny will again be inflicted on my pauvre patrie. When it becomes a question of conspiracy and underhand dealing there is but one party who has any chance in such infamy—Bonapartists must have it all their own way. The Duode Chambord is an anachronism. The fleur de lys would never live in modern French soil. The Duc d'Aumale is a valiant soldier in the republican army, but he has as little chance of wearing the crown as he has of being president of the republic. There is but one at present in France for whom I would vote were the presidency vacant, and that man is Gambetta. He is a great and true citizen. He has proved himself a practician as well as a theorist. His ideas are moderate, and at the same time inflexible. His popularity is more or less spread over the length and breadth of the land. He could at this moment command a majority in all the different shades of republican suffrage. It is in him that we must place our confidence when it comes to a pitched battle between the Bonapartists and the free citizens.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way her perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the backwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p. p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, see advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man in this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal. These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (18½x24) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

[1] Independent, N. Y. [2] Evening Mail, N. Y. [3] Aldine, N. Y. [4] Springfield Republican. [5] Advance, Chicago. [6] Harper's Weekly, N. Y. [7] Illustrated Christian Weekly, N. Y. [8] Christian at Work, N. Y.

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

FREE

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents [$3.10] for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent, free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! Increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1872.

One Gun Spiked.

The Democratic papers have been maliciously misrepresenting Hon. E. H. Rollins, Chairman of the Republican State Committee—and have been assisted by a few Labor Reform political traders and temperance fanatics, who think the world should rest on their shoulders, but as it does not, propose to create mischief in revenge. The repeated attacks on Mr. Rollins have drawn from that gentleman the following letter, which we copy from the Patriot:—

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 5th, 1872.

Editors of New Hampshire Patriot,—

GENTLEMEN:—I find in your paper of to-day the following:

"This remarkable argument is supposed to have originated with the Chairman of the Radical Committee, who is under indictment as a 'common rum-seller,' and who forced the Radical Convention to throw Pike and Prohibition overboard."

Presuming that you do not intend to do injustice even to a political opponent, I venture to state a few facts, and ask you to insert this communication in the Patriot.

From November, 1841, to February, 1861, I was engaged, either as clerk or proprietor, in business as a druggist and apothecary.

In February, 1861, I sold to my brother, John F. Rollins, who had been for some time a partner, my entire interest in the business; and he has continued the same up to the present time under the firm name and style of Rollins & Co. Since February, 1861, I have not resumed the business, or been engaged in it either as partner or otherwise. When the old firm was dissolved and I retired therefrom, the fact was duly advertised to the people of the State, through the columns of the Patriot and other papers, as you will see by examining your paper of Feb. 13, 1861. I have not sold a drop of liquor of any kind, for any purpose, for more than eleven years. I do not drink ardent spirits. If, under a misapprehension of the case, an indictment has been found, the proper officer will of course decline to prosecute it, and it will fall to the ground. Let justice be done in the premises.

Mr. Pike, without any suggestion from me, or any action whatever on my part, addressed a note to me as Chairman of the Republican State Committee, in March last, positively declining to be again candidate for office. I did not advise or desire "the Radical Convention" to "throw Pike and Prohibition overboard." The Republican State Convention did not do either. I voted for Mr. Pike last year with much pleasure, and should have done it again this year, if he had not declined.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, E. H. ROLLINS, Chairman Republican State Com.

THE CAMPAIGN.—Gen. Harriman will speak at Lebanon on the 14th inst., at Sandown on the 15th, at Franklin on the 16th, at Weare on the 17th, and at Milford on the 19th. Hon. Samuel Upton of Manchester will speak with Gen. Harriman at Weare. A large number of distinguished Republicans from abroad are to make addresses in this State during the campaign. In the list are Hon. John A. Bingham, Gen. Garfield and Hon. J. E. Stevenson of Ohio, Hon. Henry Wilson of Massachusetts, Gen. Williams of Indiana, and Gen. T. M. Hite of New York. The leading Republicans of the State are fast tendering their services to the State Committee in the speaking line. Letters to that effect have been received from Gen. A. F. Stevens of Nashua, Hon. David Cross and Asa W. Bartlett of Manchester, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Hon. James W. Emery of Portsmouth, Hon. George G. Fogg, Hon. Henry P. Rolfe, Hon. L. D. Stevens and Major A. B. Thompson of Concord, Hon. Mason W. Tappan of Bradford, Col. John S. Walker of Claremont, Hon. Austin F. Pike and Hon. Daniel Barnard of Franklin, Hon. Levi W. Barton and S. L. Bowers of Newport, Hon. Jacob Benton, Ossian Ray, Col. Henry O. Kent and Josiah H. Benton, Jr., of Lancaster, Walcott Hamlin and Daniel Hall of Dover, Gen. S. G. Griffin of Keene, Major James F. Briggs of Hillsboro', and Bainbridge Wadleigh of Milford.

THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE.—Harper's Weekly tells the whole story when it says, "it is true that what may be called the political system of the New York Custom House, for which we have no excuse or apology, has been more publicly exposed than ever before; but it is not true that the system is worse under Grant than under his predecessors, which, indeed, was hardly possible. And the public exposure is due not to the fact of the greater abuse, but to the fierce party feud which has led the two wings to a warfare upon each other."

No one who reads the evidence which the investigation has brought out can doubt the entire truthfulness of this statement. The witnesses themselves, who appear to be the most shocked at the real or fancied corruption to which they testify, and most anxious to charge it upon the administration, are those who have been familiar with the Custom House politics for years, have had a hand, many of them, in their manipulation, and know all the ropes. Having lost the offices which they so repeatedly filled, through their own party squabbles, they are moved to come forward and testify to the exceeding wickedness of the whole system of appointing men to office as a reward for party services, as well as the general and special rottenness which prevails in the New York Custom House! When Mr. Grinnell was Collector, Senator Fenton was the power behind the throne which regulated appointments. Under Murphy and his successor, Senator Conkling is lord paramount. And it appears to be the disgraceful business of the rival partizans of each of these men to make their petty local feud a great National question, if possible, and to damage, if not destroy, the administration which refuses to take sides with either of them, and which is making the first earnest effort which has been made to correct the mismanagement which has so long been tolerated.

If the new civil service system puts an end to the fighting which has been going on in the Republican party in New York to obtain the control of the Custom House appointments, it will do a good thing for the party as well as the country. The Republicans lost the State in 1869, and in 1870, by their quarreling over this matter, and they would have been beaten again in 1871 had not the crimes of Tweed & Co. so completely prostrated the Democracy that the latter were unable to stand up against anything.—Ports. Journal.

SWEARING TOO MUCH.—The naturalizing work goes on at the court, and it is generally admitted that Judge Ladd shows no party prejudice. But he is sometimes evidently imposed upon by false testimony. Men swear to having known candidates for five years, when one, two, or three, are nearer the truth. A case of this kind had a happy termination on Friday. The candidate was presented, the witnesses prepared and ready to swear for him. When questioned as to the length of time witness had known the candidate, he boldly responded: "Five years;" but the honest son of the "Green Isle" had not learned the full formula, and indignantly cried out: "You lie, d——n you, you haven't known me two years." That man will be a Republican when he is naturalized, while the witness may still claim alliance with the Democracy.—Manchester Mirror.

"BUSINESS."—The People says: "The Labor Reformers and Temperance men evidently mean business in this campaign." We suspect The People knows whereof it speaks, so far as the "Labor Reformers" are concerned. They showed that they "meant business" last June, when they denounced and received all the official "pork and beans" their Democratic allies had. Whether The People is authorized to speak for the "Temperance men," as having the same sort of "business" ambition, we can not say.—Monitor.

Political.

For once we are glad to agree with the Louisville Courier-Journal's praise of Kentucky (on account of admitting negro testimony in the courts): "The white man's honor even as much as the white man's interest — and the black man's safety—were embraced in it; and we are proud of Kentucky that, in spite of misconceptions and the errors and perversities of disputation, a great majority of the Kentuckians have come at last to agree with us."

The Connecticut Democrats enter the campaign with a platform similar to that of the Missouri sore-head Republicans.

The Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut is a Roman Catholic.

MINISTER SCHENCK confirms the statement that the attacks on the Washington Treaty were instigated by the Gladstone government, to offset the attacks of tories to the effect that England was overreached in the Alabama negotiations. Another view indicated by Mr. Schenck is that the English flurry was all gotten up to prejudice the arbitrators against the American case.

We do not imagine there is any great danger of a rupture of the good (or bad) understanding existing between this country and England, and consider the spicy talk of the British journals to be to a great extent talk only; but if it really means anything serious, we do not know but what the annexation of the British Provinces to this country would be as easy a way as any to settle the vexed "fisheries question." The St. John (N. B.) Globe comments on the situation, as follows:

There must be some grounds for the alarm experienced in England in regard to the Washington Treaty and Geneva Conference. The demand for "indirect damages" caused by the Alabama and other cruisers has surprised and excited the people of England. The Spectator, Saturday Review, Times, and many other journals, devote lengthy articles to the subject, and all denounce the "case" made out by the United States and sent to Geneva as a violation of the spirit of the Treaty.

Now, it certainly was pretty generally understood that, on this side of the water, the whole matter, indirect damages as well as direct, was to be left to the arbitrators—that, in fact, the "case" as submitted by each country was to be considered. If this was not intended, where was the use of an arbitration at all—for the direct damages could easily have been agreed upon. It is just possible that all this agitation in England has no other object than to influence the arbitration, or at least to open its eyes thoroughly to the extent of the American claims—and nothing more!

A BILL to be introduced in Congress authorizes the Secretary to construct ten or more steam vessels of war, carrying at least ten guns of large caliber, and appropriates $3,000,000 in addition to the proceeds of any vessel, machinery, ordnance or other material sold at auction upon the recommendation of a commission appointed by Secretary of the Navy. The vessels are to be built of iron or wood, as the Secretary may decide.

A BILL is before the Massachusetts Legislature which aims a death-blow at the railroad lobby. It proposes to charter any company that is duly organized and has a cash capital of $15,000 per mile. This reduces the whole question to the simple consideration of profit and loss, and while it upsets monopolies leaves the people free to build just such roads as they want and will pay for. This is the most radical measure of reform which has been seriously proposed, but is certainly a step toward the solution of one of the gravest and most complicated questions of our time.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

It is now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is fairly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction.

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by mesmerizers. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

MERITED DISTINCTION.—The well-known Groton Junction, on the great thoroughfare of the Northern Lines to Boston, has ceased to be. With a large and increasing population, proud as well as prosperous, its citizens, in mass meeting assembled, have voted to change the name of their town to "AYER"—after one of the best known men in America, Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell—and the Legislature of Massachusetts has enacted that decision into law. We commend their choice, for not only is the name short and distinctive, but DR. AYER'S Medicines have made it gratefully known to the ends of the earth. Probably no living man has carried relief to such countless multitudes of the sick as he, and this high honor, from his neighbors, tells the estimation in which he is held by those who know him.—Bristol Times.

DEAD OR DYING.—Where the hair is unnaturally dry, you may be sure that it is dying; and unless artificially vitalized, it will soon be as dead as leaves in November. Feed the withered fibers and stimulate the torpid scalp with LYON'S KATHAIRON, and the evil, which must otherwise soon culminate in baldness, will be speedily remedied. It is absolutely necessary for the health of the brain, that it be kept moderately moist with a preparation capable of nourishing and invigorating it. LYON'S KATHAIRON fulfills these conditions, and is the only article that actually gets new life into the capillary tubes, through which the natural nourishment has ceased to pass. This pure and harmless vegetable preparation is absorbed by the skin of the head to the roots of the hair, and passes into the filaments by the force of capillary attraction.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Guard Your Health and Life.

How inconsistent is human nature. Men carry revolvers to protect themselves against ruffians in well-polished cities where the precaution is unnecessary, often neglect to fortify their systems against disease in the most unhealthy seasons. Thousands of dyspeptics and other invalids are now languishing in sick rooms, or feebly and listlessly moving through our streets, who owe their forlorn condition solely to a want of common prudence. Far more inimical than the roughs and rowdies, against whose possible attacks the timid arm themselves, are the morbid elements that pervade the atmosphere at this time of the year, and yet although it is an undenied and undeniable fact that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS afford a more perfect protection against these causes of disease, than any weapon of offence can afford against lawless violence, the reckless and inconsiderate continue to brave the danger with a positive safeguard within their reach.

Every day, however, the number of these martyrs to their own want of forecast diminishes. Each succeeding season demonstrates more clearly the inestimable value of the Bitters, both as an antidote for the causes of disease, and a specific for its consequences. The miasma which generates periodic disorders, rheumatism, liver complaint, irregularity of the bowels and other physical disturbances, produces no effect whatever upon systems toned, strengthened and regulated by this powerful vegetable medicine, and dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, intermittent and remittent fevers, biliousness, and in fact nearly all the maladies which the Bitters, if taken in time, would prevent, are cured by the persevering use of the great remedy.

The genuine Bitters sold in bottles only, and never by the barrel, keg or gallon, as is represented by some unprincipled dealers.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Lyceum.

The closing lecture of the Lyceum course was given by Wendell Phillips, Tuesday evening, on "Street Life in Europe." Mr. Phillips is always interesting, is as good a story teller as he is eloquent as the defender of Right against Wrong, and has a happy faculty of pleasing when he chooses. Much information was contained in his "talk," and the contrasts between the Italian, German, French, English and American people were vividly presented. Wendell Phillips makes his audiences think. His quaint allusions only illustrate morals. Every word is fitly chosen and none are wasted. Listening to his reminiscences of travel is as entertaining as to sit under the fire of his inspiration when advocating a great cause.

Before and after the lecture the audience were regaled with grand music at the hands of Mr. Frank L. Martyn, organist, who, considering his brief acquaintance with our citizens, has succeeded in securing well deserved popularity. His organ concert added greatly to the evening's entertainment. Messrs. Craig, Marvin and Dodge may well feel pleased at the success of their endeavors to furnish an excellent course of lectures, and when we call to mind the fact that to their exertions the intellectual feasts provided by Kilpatrick, Murray, Fields, Hale, Parsons, Mrs. Livermore and Phillips are due, we can but hope they may have future plans for the annual continuance of the Lyceum.

The Martyn Concert.

Another large and fashionable audience attended the second concert given under the management of Mr. F. L. Martyn, Wednesday evening. This being the occasion of the first appearance of Mrs. Martyn in this city, the audience were disposed to be as critical as on all such occasions; but speculations as to the coming feast of song were abandoned as the charming songstress made her appearance and changed criticism to tribute ere the cavatina from Robert le Diable died from her lips. Mrs. Martyn has a sweet yet powerful voice and gave ample evidence of culture in the profession she adorns, her vocalization being particularly remarkable. The newspaper reports have in no wise been too laudatory. The audience of Wednesday evening were favored with just enough of her singing to make each and every person present an "Oliver Twist." "Sherman's March to the Sea," music by Mr. Martyn, was splendidly rendered, and Mrs. Martyn was encored three times before the audience were satisfied. She is a perfect actress as well as talented singer.

Mr. Martyn appeared to better advantage than at the first concert, having a fine new Chickering piano forte on which to display his powers. The generous applause bestowed was evidence that his fine playing was exceedingly satisfactory. Mr. Thomas Chase rendered his part of the programme with vigor and the melody of his utterances made the audience enthusiastic, the ladies vying with their escorts in testifying their delight. Mr. Burnham's execution on the cornet was artistic and faultless and the inspiriting strains of the disciple of the Arbuckle school brought ready response from the listeners. The concert was in every way a success, we are pleased to say, and the Marine Band aided in it by the performance of two pieces, having generously volunteered for the occason.

Marine Disaster.

Schooner Piscataqua, Capt. Christian Johnson, of Portsmouth, which sailed for the West Indies some time since with a cargo of potatoes and cured fish, has arrived at Antigua in distress. From a letter to Messrs. Wm. Downs & Son, of this city, dated Jan. 26, from the U. S. consul at Antigua, we learn that Capt. Johnson and a seamen, Frank Beso, were lost overboard Jan. 5th, and that Mr. George Smith, who took the vessel into port and is highly complimented by the consul for his conduct, and the other survivors of the crew, were in a very distressed condition when they arrived.

The schooner lost her deckload and two boats, had her foresail blown to pieces and was somewhat damaged in the hull. The cargo, being of a perishable nature, was ordered to be sold at Antigua, Jan. 30, under the supervision of the consul, who placed Mr. Smith in charge of the vessel. The Piscataqua is of about sixty tons register, and we believe was built in Kittery. Mr. Johnson was a Norwegian by birth, but was a naturalized citizen of the United States,—a Democrat, we believe, in politics. Though an uneducated man he possessed a good deal of energy and business enterprise, and was directly instrumental in giving employment to a considerable number of fishermen; and he not only furnished employment for others but was himself an industrious, hard working man,—such a man as our city cannot afford to lose. He leaves a widow and four children.

Laconics.

The Boston Herald says it is the U.S. Frigate Sabine that is to be used as a Receiving Ship at this station. The Vandalia is to be altered into a steam frigate, to be 220 feet long, 40 feet wide, and of 800 tons burden. These alterations will be made at the Charlestown Yard.

Ashland experienced an earthquake shock on Monday evening.

Work on the Wolfeborough Railroad is rapidly pushing forward with the contemplation of having the cars run to Wolfeborough by the 1st of July. The distance to build is eleven miles, and two hundred men are now employed on it. It intersects with the Great Falls and Conway and Eastern railroads, giving three different routes during navigation on the lake to Boston, namely, by way of Boston and Maine, Eastern, and Boston, Concord and Montreal, the shortest route being by the Boston and Maine. An entirely new steamer, to take the place of the Chocorua, is now building by the Boston and Maine corporation to run in connection with their road. The steamer Lady of the Lake is thoroughly repairing and will have new boilers. Both boats will be ready for service as soon as the lake is clear of ice, which generally occurs about the 20th of April.

New Hampshire has 799.32 miles of railroad, built at an expense of $26,-750,817. Vermont has 711.35 built, at an expense of $38,493,213.

—An attempt at robbery was made in the Adams Express car on the Pan-Handle train due in Cincinnati on Saturday morning. After leaving Xenia the armed guard was sitting in darkness, having been deprived of a light by the frozen lamp-oil. The darkness was broken by some unknown person in the remote end of the car, who struck a light, the better to enable him to prosecute his search among the valuables. The illumination thus made clearly revealed a man at work upon the trunk, whereupon the guard fired, striking the robber in the breast, the ball passing toward his right shoulder. The wounded man was taken in custody. The wound is not dangerous. The man gives his name as James Tromble, and said he was once a brakeman on the road.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles of feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

—Shipping interest—sending money to Europe to pay our coupons.

—Lard and charcoal will prevent pitting by the small-box, "they say."

—Denver has been increasing in population a hundred per cent. per annum.

—A variety store keeper in Utica throws in vaccination if you buy goods to the amount of a dollar or more.

—Louisville is agitated over a case of beastly drunkenness in high life, the victim being one of the most aristocratic ladies in the city.

—A celebrated clergyman recently said that he had found more good in bad people, and more bad in good people, than he ever expected.

—A little girl in Hartford, whose mother promised to take her to see the Jubilee singers, wanted to go early so that she could hear the conundrums.

—According to the St. Louis reporters, Alexis does not rise from his chair after the manner of ordinary people. He "untelescopes his immense form."

—An American ship left Charlestown South Carolina, for Liverpool, last week, with a cargo of cotton weighing 1,113,267 pounds, and valued at $223,194.

—The author of a new English work, "The Secret of a Long Life," puts much stress upon a man's being able to "laze judiciously," if he wants to attain old age.

—England is startled at the discovery that there are not horses enough in Great Britain and Ireland to mount the existing cavalry regiments of the British army.

—Rev. Dr. Hamilton, a clerk in the patent office in Washington and for fifty years a Methodist minister, fell on the ice on Saturday and died shortly afterward.

—A horse-car conductor at New Haven has received a letter from a foreign estate agent, stating that a rich uncle died in China and left him the snug fortune of $450,000.

—The boys of St. Louis presented Alexis with the freedom of the city in a snowball. A policeman picked up the Grand Duke's hat and explained the ceremony to him.—Mob. Reg.

—Two very young Southerners were on the point of engaging in a duel, when the mother of one of them appeared and gave her hopeful a spanking that afforded him ample "satisfaction."

—It was remarkably rough on a young fellow of 'Frisco to be robbed not only of his watch and money but of his marriage license, with which he was hastening impatiently to his fiancee.

—A sufficient number of the inhabitants of Marion county, Ky., are opposed to whiskey to petition the legislature for an act submitting the question of prohibition to the people of the county.

—Mr. Scott of Georgia endeavored to correct his little son, but the latter made so many incisions in the paternal frame with his pocket-knife that the coroner was called in to finish the "undertaking."

—The latest story is that William Morgan, who has always been supposed to have been the victim of the great Freemasonry excitement, escaped to Texas, and married an Indian girl, and that Cochise is his son.

—An explosion of foul air occurred on Saturday night in the main sewer of Third avenue and 57th street, New York. The covers were thrown off the main holes and the flames reached the height of fifty feet. No damage was done.

—A burglar recently entered the Bangor pest house and carried off a cooking stove, three beds and bedding and all other articles of value therein stored. No clew to the robber has been found, but when the small-pox breaks out in his family his guilt will come to light.

—The Grand Duke slew five bisons in the hunt at Kit Carson. Sheridan declined to kill any. He says it is no more fun than it would be to ride up to a cow and shoot it with a revolver. He thinks it is taking as unfair an advantage as Jonah would if he had killed the whale when he was inside of it taking a ride.

—Joel Bowers, a man about fifty years of age, unmarried, while chopping wood in Dracut, near Lowell, on Friday last, accidentally cut his hand with the axe, nearly severing it at the wrist. He was carried to Lowell, where the wound was dressed, and then conveyed to his home. Erysipelas set in, and he died in great agony on Saturday afternoon.

—A Southbridge liquor seller recently offered a State constable, who paid him an official visit, a large bribe if he would spare a pile of wood in the cellar. The constable spurned the bribe and went for the pile, but found nothing in it except an excellent practical joke, upon which he had time to reflect, as, at the behest of the liquor dealer, he piled the wood up again.

—Maggie Desmond, an English burlesque actress, who was for a while quite a favorite, was found in a garret in Bleecker Street, New York, one day last week, dead, having actually died from want and starvation. She had been deserted by her husband. The poor creature was buried by subscription among the profession in New York. Miss Desmond will be remembered as a bright and pretty little actress who appeared at the Adelphi Theatre with Lisa Weber under John Stetson's management.

THE CLAIM OF SUPERIORITY

Is often made for

ARTICLES OF GENERAL USE,

But the claimants often find it easier to assert such superiority than to readily prove it by practical tests.

After a long and thorough test of

BOOTS AND SHOES

FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE,

These goods were pronounced by the patentee to be

THE BEST

In the market for Pliability, Durability, and Economy. This claim has received

Full Endorsement

From Manufacturers! From Dealers! From Consumers!

Testimonials as to the superiority of this mode of fastening, over either Sewed or Pegged work, have been published by scores in Boston dailies, from leading makers and dealers throughout the country.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammations of the Liver, and all the Vital Organs. lyrdawfebf5

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Foremost among these secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The product should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be assured of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them dispose it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to be hold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. Its HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy lustre and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you have not tried it, you may, another and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

The Chronicle.

—A Michigan Indian was promptly escorted to the happy hunting-grounds by a can of nitro-glycerine, which he attempted to open with his little hatchet.

—The French government is saving about 2500 francs a day by lighting only a small portion of the street-lamps of Paris. Rogues rejoice at the economy.

—The pen may be mightier than the sword, but the Danbury News thinks that if you take two swords and rivet them together near the center, you will find that in many newspaper offices they are far mightier than the pen.

—Eight out of every ten tobacco chewers in the regions where the plant is raised use the natural leaf twisted up into hanks and free of honey, liquorice juice or other modern adulteration. The use of manufactured or "store" tobacco would set the oldest of them to retching.

—At one of our churches, Sunday, while the organ was playing vociferously, a good lady whispering to her neighbor in the pew, had to raise her voice quite high in order to be heard. Suddenly the organ changed from loud to soft, when the lady, not taking note of the organ, was heard to say to her friend, "We fry oars in butter." Perhaps the congregation didn't snicker!—Lewiston Journal.

—A Louisville man tells the Courier-Journal of a full-blooded negro whom he met at Duval's Bluff, Arkansas, on a recent tour, whose complexion has changed within ten years from a jetty black to a fair white, in consequence of the bite of a locust. The change of color began in a circle around the bite, which was on the shoulder, and slowly extended over the entire body excepting a spot on the neck and a narrow ring about the eyes.

—A prominent contractor of Louisville became boozy in a saloon there, and refused to leave unless the proprietor presented him with a bottle of whiskey. To get rid of him a bottle marked "whiskey" but containing only water, was put into his pocket, and he left for his hotel, where he assembled a party of jovial fellows to indulge in a punch made from his gift. The result was that the guests, believing the contractor had hoaxed them, took offence and gave him a sound pummeling.

—The Morning Star—a journal which, though published at Dover, N. H. is not at all local but general in its circulation and influence—is now prospering in a manner highly agreeable to its friends. It is the organ of the Freewill Baptists. Its editor, Dr. Geo. T. Day, is one of the ablest writers in the religious press. During the war, this noble and patriotic journal made itself a power among all its readers. Every old-fashioned abolitionist pays a willing tribute of kindly memory to the services which, in "times that tried men's souls," The Morning Star always rendered to the little band of hammerers who finally broke the negro's chain.—Golden Age.

—It is more than pleasure, indeed it is the greatest satisfaction we have had for many days, to report to our friends and patrons our victory over the medical press and the medical profession. To-day we can at least say we have fought a severe battle against many odds and the victory belongs to us. Cundurango the much abused article has carried the day and we have to announce to our friends a positive cure, and that in our midst, here in New York. Since September last we have had occasion to investigate the good qualities of the Cundurango, and to-day we are repaid for our unceasing exertions.—N. Y. Druggist's Price Current.

—We write this little item thinking it may please lots of little girl readers and perhaps benefit some of older growth. In a recent visit to a farmhouse in town we saw a little seven year old miss deep in the mysteries of cooking biscuit, sugar sweet cake and doughnuts. We tasted the quality of each and pronounced the biscuit extra light and good, while the cake and doughnuts were both a little extra. We wondered how many of the pert misses who think themselves fully competent to preside over somebody's household, could cook as well. We were pleased to see the little fairy so well versed in one of the best accomplishments that girls can have.—Rochester Courier.

—The Saco Independent reports the following fishy case decided in the S. J. Court last Friday:—Richard S. Caswell vs. Phineas F. Johnson. Defendent sold to plaintiff the stock, fixtures and good will of his fish market in Biddeford, and gave bond that he would not engage in the fish business in Biddeford. This action is brought for breach of the bond, inasmuch as Johnson had again engaged in the fish business by opening an oyster saloon. To this defendent replied that an oyster was not a fish, and therefore he had not broken his bond. This presented the question, is an oyster a fish? This issue was referred to the full court, and the answer came back, an oyster is a fish. The case came up for assessment of damages. After hearing the evidence the presiding judge fixed the damage on the bond at $50.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness, knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way less perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking style of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wholly awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees some thing of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of compassionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them image. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's subscribers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $2.90. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p. p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways as many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion; and devoted to Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

ARE GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13x17½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [9]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

[1] Independent, N. Y. [2] Evening Mail, N. Y. [3] Aldine, N. Y. [4] Springfield Republican. [5] Advance, Chicago. [6] Harper's Weekly, N.Y. [7] Illustrated Christian Weekly, N. Y. [8] Christian at Work, N. Y.

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

FREE

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail, and the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents ($3.10) for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cared every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more destrable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1872.

Political.

Nominations for candidates to be urged for adoption by the Republicans of the First Maine Congressional District seem to be in order. The names of Messrs. Wentworth of Kittery, Burleigh of South Berwick and Smith of Saco have been mentioned. Elisha Jewett, Esq., of South Berwick has a host of friends, and being universally popular would carry the district high and dry over the Democracy should he choose to contend for and receive the Republican nomination.

Gross frauds in the printing contracts in the New Jersey legislature are reported, it being asserted that the public printing, which now costs nearly $90,000, can be done equally as well for $30,000.

The extensive use being made by the Democrats, of the "franking privilege" of the New Hampshire mis-Representatives in Congress, shows that the Democracy are working hard though quietly, and sparing no efforts to retain their hold on the government of the State. We have no fears of the result, but the Republicans must throw away no chances of success on the supposition that the copperheads are idle, if we are to make the "first gun in the Presidential campaign" give the proper report.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, the pension bill, appropriating upwards of $30,000,000, was passed. The committee of investigation was directed to report whether any Senator had illegally received any money from the national Treasury. The amnesty bill progressed a little. Mr. Carpenter's substitute for Mr. Sumner's civil rights amendment was rejected; and the last-named Senator consented to strike out the section repealing all laws, State and national, which discriminate by the use of the word "white." In the House the educational fund bill occupied nearly the entire session. Most of the pending amendments were adopted, and all of the substitutes were rejected, but no vote was taken upon the passage of the bill.

THE PROSPECT.—The Dover Enquirer says the reports from all parts of the State continue most encouraging for Republican successes in March. The gains thus far indicated by the canvass assure the election of Mr. Straw for Governor almost beyond a doubt, and if the remaining towns to report fulfill all their promises, and especially the large towns and cities, we shall reckon his majority by thousands. The only thing required to accomplish this is the bringing of every Republican voter to the polls. We must have home every absentee, and have out every live Republican who can by any possibility be brought to the ballot box.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Elisha T. Hutchinson of Peabody, Mass., was killed on the Eastern Railroad, at Chelsea, Thursday morning. He was near the depot platform walking upon the track, when he was struck by the engine of a train from Boston and thrown violently against the platform, fracturing his skull and otherwise terribly injuring him.

WAS IT.—IS IT TRUE?—The more soldiers a government has, (said the Abbe de Pradt at the epoque of the Congress of Vienna,) the more taxes are necessary; and the more taxes a government collects the more it wishes to have soldiers.

COLLISION.—There was a serious accident upon the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad, near Alton, Ill., Feb. 7. An express train came in collision with a freight train and four persons were killed and others injured, some fatally.

AT A FIRE in Ogdensburg, New York, on the 6th, the freight depot, two cars and considerable freight, and the newspaper and letter mail, including registered letters which left Boston on Monday morning were destroyed.

MARTIN JOHN SPALDING, primate of the Catholic Church in the United States and archbishop of the diocese of Maryland, after a protracted illness, died in Baltimore, Feb. 7. He was sixty-one years old.

JOHN BURNS, the hero of Gettysburg, is dead. He died in Gettysburg, Wednesday morning, of pneumonia, following a paralytic affection which attacked him a few days ago.

EX-SENATOR GRIMES of Iowa died at Burlington, Iowa, on the 7th. He was 55 years old.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.—The position taken by gentlemen closely connected with the administration is that the British high commission perfectly understood the views of the American high commissioners in the negotiation of the treaty of Washington, both from its terms and the assertion in the protocol, and that, therefore, our government is altogether justified in presenting the case as it has, claiming consequential damages. In case the board of arbitrators shall not award a gross sum in satisfaction of the so-called Alabama claims, this government is willing to stand by the decision of the arbitrators. It is known that, though the British commissioners had full power, they frequently consulted the home government, and acted in accordance with its wishes in all they did. It is officially asserted that, if the claim for consequential damages had not been presented and was not to be passed upon, there might be a complaint by the people of the United States that provision had been made for a partial settlement only of the differences between the two countries. Such a claim was therefore presented for a full settlement in the interest of peace and to preclude future disputes. The government has not yet received the text of the letter from Lord Granville to General Schenck, and therefore cannot take official action upon it. There is no probability whatever that our government will withdraw any part of its statement of the case, but will leave the British government to pursue its own course or the arbitrators to act in the premises according to the treaty stipulations. Nor is it likely that our counsel will take any action in order to accommodate the British government.

State News.

Mr. Jeremiah Shattuck, of Colebrook, while tightening up a new barrel to receive the chime hoop, Jan. 30th, received a blow from the tightening lever, which injured one of his eyes so badly that the service of a surgeon was required.

The New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company are circulating photographs of Hon. E. A. Straw, President, and Hon. James A. Weston, Vice President of the company, neatly bound together, as an advertisement.

LIBERTY OF THE PRESS.—The French national assembly, after an agitated discussion, has passed a resolution authorizing the prosecution of the publishers of ten papers, which lately contained articles insulting to the assembly.

The committee chosen to nominate candidates for Directors of the Eastern Railroad meet at Boston to-day. Capt. William L. Dwight is the Portsmouth member.

—Fulton, the oarsman, has accepted a challenge to row a match on a four-mile course on the Kennebeccassis River for $1500.

—Advices from Cape of Good Hope represent the English colony crowded with strangers. Murders and robberies are of daily occurrence.

—Charles Marlow of Jamestown, N. Y., convicted of the murder of William Bachman, has been sentenced to be hanged the 29th of March.

—An attempt was recently made to rob the house of John Graham, in New York. The thieves were arrested and committed for trial. It is believed they were employed to destroy certain papers in Graham's possession bearing on the Stokes murder trial.

—An old Norwegian living at White Bear Lake, Minnesota, had a curious fight with a wolf recently. At first he fought the animal with a club, then with a pitchfork, and finally got a rope round the neck of the beast, drew him to a carpenter's vise, screwed his head into it, and then got a gun and shot him.

—The sugar crop of Louisiana is nearly all out, grinding being about done; and never was a more unsatisfactory condition of the cane business known in consideration of the excellent prospects at one time shown, when 145,000 hogsheads were reported as the probable prospective crop. The cane was abundant, but it would make neither sugar nor molasses. It is now thought 140,000 to 150,000 hogsheads will be the probable yield.

—An impromptu coursing match took place in the streets of San Francisco recently. A tame rabbit got loose from his kennel in the back area of a residence, and wandered through a side alley into the street, where it was busily engaged in nibbling bits of straw and refuse, when a long-legged, hungry cur, looking for his breakfast, espied it, and with a yelp of expectancy, made for the enemy. The latter tore up the street, with the cur after her, followed by several other dogs of all sizes, who joined in the chase, and for a block or two the run was very close and exciting; but at last the poor rabbit, not possessing the endurance of her fellows with the freedom of the fields, began to lose ground, and all hope seemed over for her when she espied a young girl standing at an open door, and under a happy inspiration darted into the house, when the girl appreciating the situation shut the door.

BRISTOL, VT., is without a fire engine or any other kind of "masheen" for extinguishing fires. As is well known, an extensive and disastrous conflagration raged there on Saturday week, but the fact remains to be stated that the ladies of the town were untiring in their exertions to stay the progress of the flames, which at one time threatened to destroy the whole village. They procured dippers and pails from their own houses and filled them from the running streams made by the intense heat out of snow and ice. One lady, rather more conspicuous than her heroic sisters, stood ankle deep in the water for four hours and a half, filling buckets which the men took away to the burning buildings. Scores of others proved themselves true heroines, rendering efficient aid in fighting the fire until its ravages ceased.

SMALL POX.—Dr. Carl Both contends that small-pox is caused by too great absorption of albumen in the blood, and he argues that a free use of salt in food will in most cases make it impossible for a person to take the disease. He says vaccination has not proved to be an absolutely reliable preventive of the small-pox, and that the proper use of salt is the scientific and most certain preventive. He also contends that a person who has properly balanced blood cannot catch small-pox under any circumstances.

—The 2000 troops asked for by Captain-General Valmaseda have sailed from Cadiz for Cuba.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

It is now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is fairly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction.

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

MERITED DISTINCTION.—The well-known Groton Junction, on the great thoroughfare of the Northern Lines to Boston, has ceased to be. With a large and increasing population, proud as well as prosperous, its citizens, in mass meeting assembled, have voted to change the name of their town to "AYER"—after one of the best known men in America, Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell—and the Legislature of Massachusetts has enacted that decision into law. We commend their choice, for not only is the name short and distinctive, but Dr. AYER'S Medicines have made it gratefully known to the ends of the earth. Probably no living man has carried relief to such countless multitudes of the sick as he, and this high honor, from his neighbors, tells the estimation in which he is held by those who know him.—Bristol Times.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Guard Your Health and Life.

How inconsistent is human nature. Men carry revolvers to protect themselves against ruffians in well-polished cities where the precaution is unnecessary, often neglect to fortify their systems against disease in the most unhealthy seasons. Thousands of dyspeptics and other invalids are now languishing in sick rooms, or feebly and listlessly moving through our streets, who owe their forlorn condition solely to a want of common prudence. Far more inimical than the roughs and rowdies, against whose possible attacks the timid arm themselves, are the morbid elements that pervade the atmosphere at this time of the year, and yet although it is an undenied and undeniable fact that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS afford a more perfect protection against these causes of disease, than any weapon of offence can afford against lawless violence, the reckless and inconsiderate continue to brave the danger with a positive safeguard within their reach.

Every day, however, the number of these martyrs to their own want of forecast diminishes. Each successive season demonstrates more clearly the inestimable value of the Bitters, both as an antidote for the causes of disease, and a specific for its consequences. The miasma which generates periodic disorders, rheumatism, liver complaint, irregularity of the bowels and other physical disturbances, produces no effect whatever upon systems toned, strengthened and regulated by this powerful vegetable medicine, and dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, intermittent and remittent fevers, biliousness, and in fact nearly all the maladies which the Bitters, if taken in time, would prevent, are cured by the persevering use of the great remedy.

The genuine Bitters sold in bottles only, and never by the barrel, keg or gallon, as is represented by some unprincipled dealers.

—A lady school-teacher in Omaha, having an inordinate dread of the small-pox, sent home a little girl because she said her mother was sick and had marks on her face. The next day the girl presented herself at the schoolhouse, with her finger in her mouth and her little bonnet swinging by the strings, and said to the teacher: "Miss ——, we've got a leetle baby at our house; out mether told me to tell you that it isn't catchin'." The teacher said she was very glad, and told her pupil to take her seat.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, NO. 7 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Invention, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unanimous proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be assured of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

A Fire Bell

At the West End is very much needed, and we trust that the City Fathers will heed the expressed wishes of citizens living in that vicinity and put a bell for fire alarms on the Cabot Street school house. An instance occurred Thursday morning, which illustrates the imperative necessity of immediate action in the matter. Shortly after five o'clock, the small one story house, No. 57 Islington Street, owned by Mr. Andrew H. Jones and occupied by Mr. Samuel J. Horton, took fire from the stove pipe, which passed through a board sheathing to the chimney. Mr. Horton had built a fire in the stove, had eaten his breakfast and was about to awake his wife before leaving the house, when he discovered the fire and gave an alarm which a few neighbors heard. One person endeavored to spread the alarm by running down to Cabot Street. He then returned and aided in extinguishing the flames. The fire burned through the kitchen ceiling, attic and roof and a destructive conflagration would have resulted had not those first at the fire worked very quickly. Finding the fire on the roof gaining upon them, they endeavored a second time to raise an alarm but failed. Finally by passing up buckets of water they succeeded in mastering the fire. Not a dozen persons were aroused by the cries to aid in putting out the flames—and not an engine made its appearance. A half dozen taps from a fire bell as near as Cabot Street would have ensured the attendance of an engine in ten minutes. As it was, no one down town heard of the fire until informed of it an hour afterwards, and the house might have burned to the ground and other houses also but for the strenuous exertions of a few men. The loss will be covered by insurance—but might have amounted to $10,000 or more, just for the want of a fire alarm in the neighborhood. The citizens call earnestly for protection from future danger and desire prompt action on the part of the city authorities.

School Examinations.

Editors Chronicle:—In a recent very able communication on the subject of "School Examinations" the writer expressed a wish that one of the advocates of a Superintendent of Schools would give a statement of the duties of this official. Now as "X" has manifested a commendable zeal in this subject, and is the first one except the school committee who has ventured to suggest this question, I take pleasure as an earnest advocate of this system to attempt an explanation. As it is hoped at some future time to bring this subject more directly before the public, I will at this time simply give a brief outline of the duties of a Superintendent of Public Schools:—

He shall study the public school system and keep himself acquainted with the progress of instruction and discipline in other places, in order to prescribe the most appropriate means for the advancement of the public schools of this city; and shall take especial care that all the orders and regulations of the school committee are carried into full effect. He shall under the direction and control of the school committee, as far as practicable, have the care and supervision of all the public schools; he shall visit each school as often as his other duties will reasonably permit, and carefully examine into its progress and condition; he shall pay particular attention to the classification of the scholars and shall equalize, as far as may be, the attendance upon the different schools: He shall advise with the teachers in reference to the course of instruction and discipline in their respective schools, see that the prescribed studies are pursued, and that no books are used except such as are adopted by the committee. He shall have power to appoint stated or occasional meetings of all the teachers in the employment of the committee for the purpose of instructing them in respect to their duties and for mutual consultation in all matters connected with the prosperity of the schools, and all orders issued by him shall be binding upon all teachers unless revoked by the board of committee: He shall investigate all cases of discipline or difficulty reported to him by the teachers or by the parents or guardian of a scholar, and shall take such action in the matter as he, in connection with the sub-committee may deem expedient. He shall exert his personal influence to secure a general and regular attendance as possible, endeavor to raise the character of every scholar, and keep himself acquainted with the general progress of each school, and, as far as practicable, of each scholar. He shall be a member of the standing committees, except finance. He shall receive from the teachers of the several schools their monthly reports, and shall classify and present them to the board at its next meeting; and shall also receive and classify at the beginning of each term, the order of exercises of each school in the city. He shall annually prepare a written report for publication, in which report he shall give such information relating to the condition of the schools, and present such plans for their improvements, as he may have to communicate. He shall furnish to the order of the teachers, blank-books and text-books. He shall use his influence to secure the observance of the law concerning the employment of children in manufacturing establishments, and shall carefully inquire and ascertain the names of all scholars of non-resident parents and guardians, and report the same to the board. He shall have the direction and control of the transfer of scholars from one school to another of the same rank and all certificates of transfer shall be signed by him. In doubtful cases he shall consult the appropriate sub-committees or refer the case to the board. He shall aid in the examination of teachers, and conduct all public and private examinations of schools appointed by the committee. He shall examine or cause to be examined the most advanced classes in the different schools, or so many of them as may be candidates for the next higher grade of schools, in such manner as shall be prescribed by the Board, and make a selection of such as are prepared for promotion, and cause the proper transfers to be made, provided such candidates and transfers shall receive the sanction of the respective sub-committees. He shall take cognizance of all cases of truancy or non-attendance upon school which may be reported to him, and shall strive to reform the child. He shall report to the School Committee every case of delinquency, tardiness, or violation of any of the rules on the part of teachers. He shall have regular office hours, and shall be in his office one hour each day, either in the morning or afternoon session of the schools. It would be a difficult task to give in one communication a fair exposition of this subject, as the duties of Superintendents vary in different States. The above is given as a part of the most important duties of the Superintendent of Schools in the State.

ASA.

Laconics.

"Honi soit quimal y pense" is generally applicable to those who "know how it is themselves."

Lieut. Asa Walker, U. S. N., of this city, has been ordered to U. S. S. Powhattan at Philadelphia.

Mr. Samuel J. Horton had his right hand severely burned at the fire on Islington Street, Thursday morning.

Foster Shores & Co. have donated a large number of valuable library books to the Young People's Christian Union.

Our Democratic cotemporary says: "We'll take an omelette with ham." Will he then "smile and pass on?"

Professor Taylor, professor of Elocution at Bowdoin College, will deliver the next and last lecture before the High School course at Kittery.

Ships "Arkwright," 1266 tons, and "Webster," 1717 tons, built in this city, have been sold to go into the guano trade, without change of flag, on private terms.

Those who have magazines which they desire to preserve, will do well by leaving them at the book-bindery of Mr. William B. Lowd, corner of Market and Daniel Streets.

Mr. Frank L. Martyn gives notice elsewhere of his location in this city. Being a brilliant player on the piano forte and having thoroughly learned the principles of his profession, those wishing instruction will without doubt find Mr. Martyn a faithful teacher and gentleman.

The larger part of the Concord mail matter which arrived at the Post Office in this city on Wednesday was franked by Ellery A. Hibbard, Democratic Congressman from this district. How eagerly such friends of reform adopt the earliest opportunities for "abusing the franking privilege"—as they term it when not in office. Consistent chaps, those Democrats!

There is a general desire among our citizens for another opportunity to hear Mrs. Martyn, the gifted songstress who received such a flattering ovation at the Temple, Wednesday evening. Should the numerous personal requests made be complied with, we hope "Sherman's March To The Sea" will be on the programme. Mrs. Martyn's rendering of the song was grandly impressive and thrilling and wrought the audience to a high degree of enthusiasm.

CALIFORNIA GOLD undoubtedly made the "Golden Gate" alive with shipping for years subsequent to '49, and the streets of San Francisco resonant with the tread of multitudes of the most determined pioneers the Western Hemisphere has seen since the little band of Cortez brought the land of the Montezumas under subjection; but it is not in her precious metals that the great wealth of California lies. Its fertility has already made it the granary for the Pacific coast, while its sunny slopes in a few years have rendered it the vineyard of America. No firm has been so energetic and persistent in bringing the pure, delicious and cheap Wines of California into public notice and esteem as that of Perkins, Stern & Co., the pioneers in the trade. Their name on the label is a guarantee of purity.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

Morning Chronicle.

THE WAY KIT DOES IT.—An ignorant critic finds fault with Joaquin Miller's poem, "Kit Carson's Ride," because the here dashes away "on bareback horse," and subsequently "rises in his stirrups." This kind of criticism is the work of an uninformed mind. Those who are familiar with Mr. Carson's habits know that he never carried his stirrups on his horse. He wore them hanging by a strap over his shoulders, and when he wanted to rise he placed his feet in them and stood up, his whole weight falling upon himself, leaving his horse untouched beneath! Any person with ordinary intelligence will see by the above explanation that Kit's idea was to relieve his horse at times from his heavy burden.

A VERY SAFE SAFE.—There is an account in a San Francisco paper of a safe which an ingenious mechanic constructed and declared to be absolutely burglar proof. To convince the incredulous of this fact, he placed a one thousand dollar bill in his pocket, had himself locked into the safe, with an ample supply of provisions, declaring he would give the money to the men who unfastened the door. All the blacksmiths and burglars and carpenters in the State have been busy for a week boring and blasting and beating at the safe, and the man is there yet. He has whispered through the keyhole that he will make the reward $10,000 if somebody will only let him out. Fears are entertained that the whole concern will have to be melted down in a blast furnace before he is released and it is proposed to pass in through the key hole a fire-proof jacket, to protect the inventor while the iron is melting.

—A joking Harvard student recently called for a doctor in great haste, directing the servant where he should go. The doctor came, but found his services unnecessary and his call a hoax. So far it was all very well, but the servant recognized the caller, and the next day the doctor called on him and asked him whether he would rather pay twenty dollars or be arrested. He said he thought so, too, and paid the twenty dollars.

—Every reader of newspapers in this country and nearly every attendant upon popular lectures and Protestant churches has heard at some time about Positivism and Positivists. Exactly what it is and who they are, few know and few care. When one learns that the Positivist doctrine is contained in twelve volumes, each as large as a Bible, his heart sinks within him, and he inwardly groans that he at least has no time to master it even if his soul's salvation depended upon it.—Cor. Cincinnati Commercial.

—A West Virginia paper says: "An exceedingly youthful man, of the tender age of eighteen, residing in Union township, this county, recently conceived an attachment for an exceedingly elderly lady (comparatively) of the mature age of thirty-eight, or thereabouts; the young man had no 'previous engagements;' the elderly lady vice versa. Last Friday, the young man and the elderly lady left for parts unknown; she leaves a husband to rejoice at her loss; he leaves nothing but a damaged reputation."

—A Connecticut court has recently had an interesting case of survivorship before it. A man and his only daughter were drowned at the same time, and the question was which died first. If the man died first his property would have passed to the daughter, and thence to her heir, who is her mother, but who has been divorced from the father. If the daughter died first then the property goes to a half-sister of the father. The settled rule is, undoubtedly, that in such cases the males survive the hardships longer than females, and adults more than minors.

—A shocking tragedy occurred in the family of Henry P. Clark, of Troy, N. Y., Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Clark was busily engaged in attending to her domestic affairs, and had called in Mary Russell, a little girl, to take care of her little boy, a baby nine months old. A three-year old son of Mr. Clark's was playing with his brother and the little girl, and was amusing himself by throwing small blocks and other missiles from the corner of the room in which they were playing to the other. While he was thus engaged he grasped a small piece of slate, and hurled it in playful glee. It struck the baby, which the little girl had in her arms, on the right side of the head, and inflicted a deep gash, from the effects of which injury the little child expired Sunday morning.

—"It is related that twelve young men of Selma "swore off" drinking on New Year's day, 1871, and agreed to deposit with one of their number on the first day of each month $10 each, the total to be divided among the members of the association who on the 1st of January, 1872, should prove to have been faithful to their pledge. One by one the members backslid and yielded to the liquid temptation, until only a single individual was left, who at noon on New Year's day was to receive $1400. This Abdiel, faithful found among the faithless, proceeded to the rendezvous at the appointed hour. He waited until ten minutes after noon, and then thought he would run into the saloon next door and get a nip. He had just swallowed it when ten of the other members entered to take their noonday Angostura, and he found to his horror that his watch was twenty minutes fast, and the money was lost. The eleven, therefore, proceeded to the residence of the treasurer and found that he had lost all the money playing draw-poker with one of the church trustees.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one land but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be found in the medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the speedy and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

DUTIES AND IMPOSTS.

Important Notice to Travellers—Any person arriving from the continent is permitted to clear his throat at the custom-house free of all duty.

NOTE BY A FOREIGNER.

On England's possessions the sun never sets. True; and on one of them, London, the sun never rises.

SAILING ON THE ICE.—A correspondent describing the trial of an ice-boat on the Hudson, presents the following graphic picture:

"Now, then, boys," said the helmsman, "let us shake out the reefs and go for time."

All agreed and every inch of the boat's canvas was soon spread. "Get aboard, quick!" shouted the owner, and in an instant the craft was before the wind. With a fearful whir-r-r-r! she started down the river, a perfect fog of fine ice flying from her rudder runner. Persons gazing at her held their breath at the exciting scene.

She had attained fearful speed, and one had hardly time for thought before she was a mile away, and in less than two minutes she was off Blue Point, two miles away. She flew by Milton like a bird on the wing, and was abreast of Marlborough in almost a minute afterward. The men on board could hardly see. Their eyes were greatly affected and water flowed from them freely.

Men on the ice off New Hamburg saw the boat coming with such lightning rapidity that they instinctively ran toward the shore; but there was no danger. The helmsman brought her around in fine style, with head to the wind and all sails flapping. She had performed a feat which had not been equalled by an ice-boat for a number of years. How she held together I don't know, but she did.

FAILURE OF UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.—I shall not state a paradox wholly new when I affirm that, so far as we have tried the system of universal suffrage in governing great cities, it has proved a failure. We dare not weigh New York with London. In the face of the toryism and the despotism of Europe, we dare not write New York and New Orleans beside Paris and Berlin. You may load your fingers with diamonds, and fill your pockets with gold, and cover your neck with pearls, and walk up and down the Strand at midnight, and be certain to come home in the morning; but no man would ever try that experiment in Broadway without making his will.—Wendell Phillips.

REASONS DEMANDED.—A near-sighted gentleman met an acquaintance on Liberty street one afternoon, whom he saluted by name. "That ain't my name," protested the other. "That ain't your name," repeated the saluter, with some asperity. "Certainly not," said the stranger. "What's the reason it ain't?" demanded the near-sighted gentleman, with a very severe look. But not having prepared himself for such a question, the abashed stranger shrunk away, but finally answered, "I'm —— if I know; but I can prove it."

—It is related that at the beginning of the war, or before that date, a number of southern politicians called one day on the editor of the New York Herald, which always had a fair southern constituency, to induce him to espouse in his journal their side of the controversy. They went so far as to threaten, in case he did not do it, the entire withdrawal of southern patronage to his paper, with an air as if they should thereby ruin it. "Gentlemen," said Mr. Bennett, "the chambermaids of this city pay the Herald more money than the whole South."

— The observance of Sunday is so strict in England that all the telegraph offices are closed, meteorological reports and predictions are not forwarded on that day, and as consequence two of the most serious storms of last year were not signalled to the coast. An English paper suggests the employment of Jews to attend to the telegraph service on Sunday.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way her perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking shyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only gaming from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room would they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be sold of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the backwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.90. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN copies of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, see advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. IT IS Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. IT Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal. These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (10x12) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be proven to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than these two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER

The Terms of Subscription

ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents [$3 10] for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

LOWELL JENNESS, AGENT. and

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that those excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1872.

THE ALABAMA RUMPUS.—The Washington Republican says the present status of the question between the United States and Great Britain may be briefly and simply stated. Her Majesty's government have at last preferred a friendly request to the President to withdraw from the tribunal of arbitration so much of our statement of claims upon Great Britian as includes everything falling under the designation of indirect, constructive or consequential damages alleged to have fallen upon the government of the United States or its citizens through the attitude and conduct of the English government towards the parties in our civil war. This "request" is based on the English conviction that the objectionable claims are wholly unwarranted by the treaty of Washington, or by any understanding between the two governments. To these representations the answer of the American government,—ready, though not rendered, and friendly, though firm,—is that the United States government, to the best of its understanding, has consistently adhered to the position it has maintained from the beginning, and kept within the terms of the treaty.

No part of the case submitted to the Geneva tribunal can, under any circumstances now foreseen, be withdrawn or modified, except upon the advice of the counsel of the United States before the tribunal. Should the arbitrators, upon the demurrer of the British representatives, refuse to entertain claims for other than direct and explicit loss and damage, the United States are already bound by its conclusions. Great Britain is equally bound by an opposite determination, should one be reached, and any refusal or evasion of the obligation or of a final award of the tribunal, will simply put both countries back to their unsatisfactory status before the treaty, except so far as that status may have become graver by the feelings of disappointment consequent upon the failure of a just and honorable settlement. Upon this there is no difference of sentiment among those whose high duty it is to consider and decide the important questions presented, and the support of Congress and the whole people is known to be already given in the proper direction.

A special despatch from Halifax to the Boston Advertiser states that it is reported there upon what is considered to be good authority, that a treaty exists between the British and the Dominion governments for the separation of Canada from the British empire, and that if the difficulties between our government and Great Britain should increase, the treaty will undoubtedly be published and the independence of Canada proclaimed, so that Great Britain will be spared the trouble of attempting to defend an indefensible portion of the empire.

The Senate discussed Mr. Edmund's resolution, Friday. Senator Patterson said the tone of the British press, of the leaders of Parliament and the English Prime Minister was insulting. He was pleased to note the calmness of the American press and public men. Senator Sherman said it was best to sit down quietly and await events. Senator Hamlin said there are times when silence is golden. Senators Patterson and Thurman had said things that were better unsaid. If we go pressing this matter it will be an admission on our part that we doubt the security of the position we have taken.

THE EDUCATIONAL FUND BILL passed the House of Representatives, Thursday. The only amendment of special importance attached to the bill is that of Mr. Goodrich, providing that the national public school fund shall be distributed among the States in proportion to the illiteracy of their population, which will give the vastly greater share of the money to the southern and western states, whose representatives voted almost unanimously in favor of the plan. The amendment recognizing the existence of separate schools for white and colored children is hardly approved by some of the most prominent supporters of the bill, who believe that the time is part for such discrimination in our legislation. On the final vote the division was substantially on party lines, only a few of the republicans going over to the democrats to defeat the bill.

—It is said that one of the most amusing sights which a ferry trip from Brooklyn at present affords is to see the gentlemen standing around in the cabin of the boat comparing pistols.

—A police sergeant in St. Louis, Mo., shot a negro dead on Tuesday night, while the latter was attempting to stab him.

Political.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston News says Senator Patterson is not only an honor to the Granite State but is one of the purest, ablest and best statesmen in these United States.

RAFTING EXTRAORDINARY.—M. Pavy, an adventurous Frenchman, proposes to leave San Francisco in the spring on a voyage to the North Pole, in an ingeniously constructed India-rubber raft. This raft is composed of four keel-shaped cylinders, lastened together by wooden slats, to which the necessary masts and rigging are attached. It was originally designed for a life-boat, occupies very little room, cannot be capsized, and will float in the severest storm. It will carry ten thousand pounds of freight besides the crew of five men. M. Pavy proposes first to steer for Petrozavodsk, where he will take on board provisions, etc. Sailing through Behring's straits, he will bear for the land discovered by Captain Long, which lies between seventy-one and eighty degrees of latitude. After crossing this, he expects to find the open Polar sea, on which he proposes to embark and sail around to Greenland. M. Pavy is a member of the New York Geographical Society, and has a splendid flag presented him by them. He will sail under the French flag. His plan seems preeminently foolhardy and hazardous, yet hardly more so than those of some previous explorers; and his voyage may be quite as fruitful as those of much more elaborately-enqipped expeditions.

A FIRE in East Boston, Thursday night; burned out Curtis's ship-yard, destroying the mill and the National Bridge Company works. Loss $40,000. No insurance.

S. J. COURT, Exeter.—The following cases were disposed of the past week:

Nancy Sherburn v. Benjamin F. Ellison. Action of trover for 6 tons of hay and 20 bushels of oats. Verdict for deft.

Rufus F. Dow, Adm'r. of Rufus Dow, plf. in review, v. E. B. Eaton and J. M. Weare, Exrs. of Moses Eaton, Jr. Assumpsit on special contract, alleging that Eaton, in May, 1855, procured Dow to take 20 shares in the Weare Bank, and agreed to guaranty that the same should be as good as money to Dow, and that the stock depreciated and became of little value, and the plf. claimed to recover for that loss. The deft. denied the argument set forth in the writ, and also pleaded the statute of limitations. Commenced on Saturday, and finished on Wednesday. Verdict for plf. for $315.61.

Nathaniel S. French vs. John W. Smart. Action of trover for one undivided half of a threshing machine, attached by deft. as deputy sheriff. Verdict for deft.

The following divorces were decreed: Matilda Dionne vs. Zedeel Dionne. Fannie A. Cook vs. Isaiah H. Cook.

The jurors were discharged on Thursday.

"ONLY A LITTLE SHELLING."—The following incident was related by Col. Dunbar at the recent reunion of the Michigan calvalry:

We had a German-American fellow solider by name General Willich, and a good soldier, too, by the way. It was about the time of the battle of Stone River, when, one day, Capt. Allen, of Gen. Willich's staff, came riding up to the headquarters, and the following conversation ensued:

"Vel, Captain," said the General in a jolly mood, "vat ish der news mit fronts?"

"O, not much of any news, General—only a little shelling going on."

The General jumped to his feet, all excitement, and staff officers and orderlies gathered around to hear the news, while General Willich exclaimed:

"Schelling? schelling? vat schelling? vot ish der damage?"

"O, not much damage, General—it was only the boy out there shelling a little corn for the horses."

To say that this brought out a laugh is to draw it mild. It would have brought down the house if there been a house to bring down. The General, laughing as the rest explained:

"Dot ish coot! Dot ish some funs!"

A little while after, General Harker, upon whose staff I then had the honor of serving, rode over to Willich's headquarters, and Gen. W., no doubt thinking it a good opertunity to air his new joke, replied, in answer to Gen. Harker's query as to what was the news:

"Oh, vel, Shenerel, dere bees not much news—only der poys bees schelling a lettle corn for der horses."

He looked at us here as much as to say, "Now is the time for the laugh to come in," and he himself broke into a boisterous "Ha! ha!" which came to a very abrubt termination when he saw that we did not join him.

The officers who had been present at the former scene had by this time put in an appearance, drawn thither by the General's merriment, and scratching his head in much perplexity he exclaimed:

"Py Jinks! der vas someding funny apout dat ven I hears him!"

About that time he found out where the laugh came in.

—The Nashville Union and American tells the following: A young man about eighteen years of age made his first visit to Nashville a few days ago and registered at the Maxwell. Having some business to transact, and many things to see, he did not retire until a late hour. A servant took him to the elevator, and telling him to roll in, went to get the conductor, who was in one of the parlors with a friend. When they came back they found the young man half undressed, and before they had time to say anything he commenced talking about the little room and the funny bed. By this time the elevator had started, and just as it reached the floor above the young man made a terrible scream, shouting, "Earthquake! Lord have mercy on me!" The thing was explained to him, and a bottle of apple brandy restored him to his normal condition.

—A Michigan lawyer enjoyed the rare luxury of calling the court a (strong adjective) fool for the moderate sum of $25.

—The first case in which a negro appeared as counsel in the Louisville city court was heard last week.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

It is now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is fairly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction.

DEAD OR DYING.—Where the hair is unnaturally dry, you may be sure that it is dying; and unless artificially vitalized, it will soon be as dead as leaves in November. Feed the withered fibers and stimulate the torpid scalp with LYON'S KATHAIRON, and the evil, which must otherwise soon culminate in baldness, will be speedily remedied. It is absolutely necessary for the health of the brain, that it be kept moderately moist with a preparation capable of nourishing and invigorating it. LYON'S KATHAIRON fulfills these conditions, and is the only article that actually gets new life into the capillary tubes, through which the natural nourishment has ceased to pass. This pure and harmless vegetable preparation is absorbed by the skin of the head to the roots of the hair, and passes into the filaments by the force of capillary attraction.

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

MERITED DISTINCTION.—The well-known Groton Junction, on the great thoroughfare of the Northern Lines to Boston, has ceased to be. With a large and increasing population, proud as well as prosperous, its citizens, in mass meeting assembled, have voted to change the name of their town to "AYER"—after one of the best known men in America, Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell—and the Legislature of Massachusetts has enacted that decision into law. We commend their choice, for not only is the name short and distinctive, but Dr. AYER'S Medicines have made it gratefully known to the ends of the earth. Probably no living man has carried relief to such countless multitudes of the sick as he, and this high honor, from his neighbors, tells the estimation in which he is held by those who know him.—Bristol Times.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Guard Your Health and Life.

How inconsistent is human nature. Men carry revolvers to protect themselves against ruffians in well-polished cities where the precaution is unnecessary, often neglect to fortify their systems against disease in the most unhealthy seasons. Thousands of dyspeptics and other invalids are now languishing in sick rooms, or feebly and listlessly moving through our streets, who owe their forlorn condition solely to a want of common prudence. Far more inimical than the roughs and rowdies, against whose possible attacks the timid arm themselves, are the morbid elements that pervade the atmosphere at this time of the year, and yet although it is an undenied and undeniable fact that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS afford a more perfect protection against these causes of disease, than any weapon of offence can afford against lawless violence, the reckless and inconsiderate continue to brave the danger with a positive safeguard within their reach.

Every day, however, the number of these martyrs to their own want of forecast diminishes. Each succeeding season demonstrates more clearly the inestimable value of the Bitters, both as an antidote for the causes of disease, and a specific for its consequences. The miasma which generates periodic disorders, rheumatism, liver complaint, irregularity of the bowels and other physical disturbances, produces no effect whatever upon systems toned, strengthened and regulated by this powerful vegetable medicine, and dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, intermittent and remittent fevers, biliousness, and in fact nearly all the maladies which the Bitters, if taken in time, would prevent, are cured by the persevering use of the great remedy.

The genuine Bitters sold in bottles only, and never by the barrel, keg or gallon, as is represented by some unprincipled dealers.

City Council.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Feb. 8, the Committee on Accounts reported favorably on bills amounting to $1400.15; report accepted and bills ordered to be paid.

The same Committee reported bills of Woodbury Locke for coach hire, $15, and of Portsmouth Gas Light Company for gas used at the Court House, $13.33. Mr. Locke's bill was referred to the Mayor, with power; and the Gas Co.'s bill was referred back to the Company.

The Board heard all parties interested in petition of Thos. H. Odlon and others, for extension of Howard Street, &c., who appeared. Voted, that the Board visit the proposed route at 3 o'clock, P. M., on Saturday.

Bills of Firemens' Master were referred to Committee on Finance.

Resolution presented by Alderman Marvin, relating to regulations of the Harbor, &c., was laid on the table.

Communication from Assessors was taken from the table, and the subject was indefinitely postponed.

The Mayor was authorized to cause sand to be put on icy sidewalks.

A Novelty.

On Thursday evening a fortunate few were present at the house of one of our most esteemed citizens, to enjoy the introduction of a new feature in the gayety of social life. It was no less an innovation than a masquerade, in which the ladies were attired in dresses made entirely of tissue paper. To one who had witnessed nothing of the kind before, the scene was quite surprising. Few would ever imagine what pretty and graceful effects of drapery can be produced with this material. The trimming of many of them was very elaborate in style and striking in effect, and they would compare favorably with garments made of far more expensive tissue; yet a complete suit of the most gorgeous description did not cost much if any over fifty cents! A few of the most striking dresses were, "Queen of the Fairies," "Goddess of Liberty," "Folly," "Night," "Morning," a "Shepherdess," and "Night Blooming Cereus." It was one of the most novel and enjoyable occasions that have come under our notice, and our young society should feel under no small obligations to the enterprising young ladies who so successfully introduced a means of enjoyment, innocent and inexpensive, yet at the same time cultivating the taste and offering the largest scope for the exercise of ingenuity in the production of the most artistic effects of color and form.

Laconics.

At the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, held in Concord, Feb. 8, Capt. M. T. Betton of this city was elected Grand Chancellor for the ensuing year.

There are more houses to let in this city now than for several years past.

Mr. True M. Ball has purchased the Thompson estate on Court Street, and sold his present residence on Islington Street for about $10,500, to Mr. Alex. Robinson, brewer for Eldredge & Son.

The nomination of John Dennett, Esq., of York, as 2d Lieutenant in the revenue marine service has been confirmed by the U. S. Senate.

S. F. Engine Co. No. 1 will have a ball on 21st inst. Music from Portland.

Mr. B. F. Webster has completed three tenement houses from the old foundry property on McDonough Street. The company for the manufacture of tiles still has room to operate.

Bidwell & Wilkinson's Dramatic Company are to play at the Temple three nights next week. Dollie Bidwell will appear in a new play written expressly for her. See advertisement.

An Irish woman named Beals fell on the sidewalk at the junction of Pleasant and Water Streets, Friday evening, and broke an ankle.

Lieut. Charles N. Anthony has been detached from the Navy Yard and ordered to the Powhattan.

Mr. Burroughs will open his Laundry at No. 9 Penhallow Street on Monday, and guarantees satisfaction to all who may give him a call.

....Wednesday next the 14th is Ash Wednesday, the commencement of the Lent season. It is also St. Valentine's Day.

....Several fishing vessels have arrived here the present week with good catches. The fishermen find a ready sale for their cargoes.

....Col. Zenas Clement, formerly a resident of this city but now of Concord, is a descendant in the fifth generation from the celebrated Hannah Dustin, who was captured by the Indians in March, 1697, at Haverhill, Mass.

....A large quantity of ice has been floating in our river of late. Several boats have been "closed in" by it, and some narrow escapes experienced.

....The Eastern railroad will probably build a double track from this city early in the spring to meet the one nearly completed from Boston to Beverly.

....Many of the sidewalks are in good condition for coasting, but dangerous to pedestrians. There is an ordinance against this state of things. A few minutes of labor would save all liability for damages.

....Quite a number of accidents are reported as having occurred to boys coasting, none of them serious, but several were apparently narrow escapes. The recklessness of the boys in shooting down icy streets and across thoroughfares should be checked. Fun is fun, but it should be seasoned with a little care.

....The churches of our city are more largely attended now than for many years past, while the increase in the number of attendants at the regular weekly prayer meetings is also noticeable. There never was a time when so much money was given for the maintenance of the gospel as now, and we might add so little true worship.

....English sparrows have made their appearance in this city. It is supposed that the ravages of the relentless butcher birds in Boston, which have for some time been killing off these little birds by thousands, has been the cause of their rapid depletion and and flight from "the Hub," into the country. We notice they have been found as far as Rockland, Me.

....The Pest House on Salter's (or Pest) Island was built in 1749, and is therefore one hundred and twenty-three years old. The graves of about fifty patients who have died there are still discernable near by, and singular as it may seem only one of these was ever marked by a head-board, that of Mary Jane Spinney, who was the last one, buried some thirteen years ago. There is also to be seen three small graves side by side, which are believed to contain the remains of three children who were brought here by a vessel many years ago and conveyed to this house, with small pox, where they died. Most of the graves are hidden from sight by the thick growth of huckleberry bushes. The house is kept in good repair and will be serviceable for many years yet.

State News.

Hampton Beach has been a scene of wild commotion most of the winter, and an unusual quantity of drift wood, seaweed and kelp washed ashore, while the tides have come up to a higher point than usual. It is seldom that so many persons have visited the beach during a winter.

Mr. C. M. Downs, an employe on the Manchester Print Works, has for some time past had an idea that he was to be caught by a belt and snapped into eternity. In view of this cheerful expectation, he made up his mind that he would hang to the shaft. The belt took him, on the 6th, and he did as arranged in mind, and only got a foot bruised in his gyrations. Lucky man!

Ex-Senator Grimes of Iowa, who died on Thursday at the age of 56, was a native of this State and graduated at Dartmouth College in 1836.

SOCIAL NUISANCES.—There are many thoughtless men who have a bad trick of punching their acquaintances in the sides, slapping them upon the shoulders, holding them by the hand with a vice-like (vicious) grip, or staring them fiercely in the face at so short a distance that a perceptible spray is felt. Overgrown boobies are often seen grasping their friends by the arm in order to show their strength, a quality in which a chimpanzee is more than their equal and a gorilla greatly their superior. Good-tempered men endure these afflictions as patiently as they can, but take care to avoid such bores on all subsequent occasions. All sensible men can understand what is said to them without any thumping or drumming on their chests. This personal familiarity is extremely uncomfortable to the victim and a gross violation of all the principles of good taste. Serious results do not often occur, yet such excessive familiarity often leads to quarrels. A case is reported in a western city in which a well known contractor was met by a friend, who in a spirit of pleasantry, took hold of his left arm above the elbow, and grasped it powerfully. The artery was injured, and a cancer formed. Every effort was made to remove the parasitic growth, but without success, and finally it became necessary to amputate his arm at the shoulder.

A PUZZLE.—A reward of ten thousand francs has been offered in Paris to whoever will make the following diagram with one stroke of the pencil or pen. The thing can be done, as has been proved to satisfaction:

—The Chicago Post's plains correspondent writes: "I never saw so many Indians in my life. I should think there were a million at least. I won't take off an Indian; though several of them will get taken off before Spring if Gen. Palmer moves westward. They are dressed mostly in blankets and bear's grease. They are confiding people. Recently a squad of thirteen came into our tent, and the oldest availed himself of the seniority by sitting down on our hot box stove, which he mistook for a valise. He was very much surprised, and the quartermaster has been issuing laudanum poultices ever since."

—A panorama, illustrative of the Chicago fire, is travelling out west under the name of the "Fireopticon."

—A tender-hearted man in Detroit, finding a baby on his doorstep, took it in, cared for it as well as he could, and the next day, being as generous as he was kind, swapped it for a terrier pup.

—A Tennessean committed suicide by keeping the muzzle of his rifle at his head and the breech in the fire until the piece was discharged by the heat. One would prefer hanging to such suspense as he must have endured.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

Morning Chronicle.

TEMPERANCE. — Wendell Phillips said, in an address at Boston, recently:—

"We should have been defeated in the first years of the rebellion when three-fourths of our generals were drunkards, had not the southern generals fortunately been greater drunkards still. Thousands of brave young lives were thrown away by the drunkenness of one man at the head of the line of battle." Mr. Phillips went on to describe the small beginnings of the temperance movement when first he knew it, thirty-six years ago. Now it is coming to be acknowledged that the great tap-root of all the evils that beset the world is intemperance. It is not strange that such men as Richard Cobden should see this, but it is significant that the London Times, the Quarterly Review, the Fall Mall Gazette, journals of conservatism, of staid respectability, of unprogressive immobility, should have come to confess that the great trouble that underlies all other troubles is intemperance. How to check it is one of our most perplexing social problems.

He was only there that evening to say, "Let us discuss a subject which is just as great to you as it is to me." This Saxon blood of ours is the vassal of drink. The obsolete and superficial medical science of Boston may go up in a body to the State house, and lay it down as their opinion that alcohol is a valuable article of commerce, but the opinions of the best scientific minds of Europe indignantly disclaim it. The temperance cause has conquered science; long ago it conquered the courts of civil law, and now one-half of the world is on its side.

There are two styles of temperance reform. The one has been tried for years. It appeals to the individual in his individual weakness or strength. If he be the man to grapple with his fierce thirst for drink, such personal appeal will avail. But if he struggle in vain, the other course must be tried. You haven't exhausted Yankee wit or the resources of the civil law. The speaker was never made a temperance man by statistics or by personal appeal. Let every man look into his own circle. There isn't a house on Beacon street from the State house down to the last house that Roxbury welcomes, that has not its skeleton from this very cause. He himself was made a temperance man by looking immediately around him. Every hour of his life, if needs be, shall be devoted to making these streets safe for weak men to walk in.

He went on to express his utter contempt for the gewgaws of rum-acquired wealth. There is a brown-stone mansion on the Neck built of rum. And peering out from behind its heavy curtains are the well-known features of the owner. Were the speaker the Autocrat of the Russias he would take every drunken vagrant that was arrested to that brown-stone house, and make its aristocratic owner give him shelter. He would make one of the daughters of the house sit through a session of the police court and see for a day the misery her father's trade had wrought. This man may close his doors upon himself and friends, open his champagne and become a brute,—no, brutes never drink,—become worse than a brute, and it is his own business. But when he opens a shop and invites my brother there, then it becomes commerce and it is our business and we have a right to step in and stop it.

A license law is nothing new. There is not a code in the history of the world that hasn't a license law. The principle that society has a right to curb is admitted in all countries, in all ages, in all civilizations. The only question is how far it has a right to curb. Crime is the great problem before which Christianity and social science stand aghast. There is no radical cure unless we can lift the level of family culture, of reasoning power, of opportunities for leisure at home. Intemperance can't be cured by law and, with all respect, it can't be cured by sermon.

Mr. Phillips proceeded to examine the causes which make possible such rotten municipalities as New York, and to find in intemperance an ultimate explanation. A state of society where every corner grocery is kept by a man in training for an alderman,—that is New York. His hearers might smile,—it is Boston also. For this problem he could find no answer. His statesmanship walked up to a solid wall, and, save his faith that God does not intend this experiment of self-government to fail, he knew not that there was an answer.

—At a meeting of horticulturists in Illinois strong ground was taken against the destruction of partridges. To show how useful this bird is it was stated that a flock was seen running along the rows of corn just sprouting, and seeing the birds engaged in something which was believed to be pulling up the young plants, one of them was killed and its "crop" examined, which was found to contain one cutworm, twenty-one striped bugs, and over one hundred chinch bugs. Another member related that he had adopted measures to protect the bird, and that they had become so numerous and so tame that hundreds of them, after snow falls, could be seen in his barn-yard with the fowls where they were fed. As a result of their presence upon his premises his wheat crops were unusually abundant, while in many other places not far off the chinch bug and other insects had destroyed half the crop.

—A big snake entered a Mexican house, swallowed a lawn which was fastened securely by a rope. The result was that the ugly thief found itself hitched and had to stay there until despatched with a knife.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying out all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6b18

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, are most known and most loved. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded. If the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with despatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; and in them it seems to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

A REMARKABLE CANARY.—One of the most remarkable instances of endurance and sagacity in the ornithological line is at present to be seen on our South Halstead Street in the shape of an elderly canary that has reached the age of twelve years, and is still as spirited a songster as he was ten years ago. What is more surprising in regard to this wee bit of melody is the fact that it has been stone blind for two years past, and "looks" down with contempt on its younger mates with their dearth of music, and still warbles his delicious music from his own "song-book" with volume enough to compensate for all their shortcomings. When darkness first came upon the little fellow he experienced much difficulty in locomotion, and was continually coming in contact with the wires of the cage, or with the perches thereof. By degrees his birdship was taught caution, and now he is perfectly sure footed. He moves about with a method wonderful to observe.

On going from perch to perch, he climbs among the wires, at each step putting out the foot as carefully as the blind man his cane, and when he has reached the desired position he tunes up with great volubility as if in self-congratulation of his superior accomplishment. In walking on the floor of his cage he uses the same precautions, and in his daily ablution observes all the forms and customs in vogue among his more fortunate companions. In this performance it is noticeable, however, that he never forgets his infirmity, for he wastes his head with the utmost care, always avoiding contact between his claws and any portion of feathers in the vicinity of his sightless eyes. Such sagacity in a bird so fragile is really astonishing, and this little bird musician is the pride of the owner, the wonder of the neighborhood, and, we suppose, the envy of his feathered brethren.—Chicago Tribune.

LUXURIES OF THE ANCIENTS.—No luxury was in greater favor among the ancients than roses as an ornament and perfume. To enjoy the scent of roses at meals, an abundance of roses were shaken on the table, so that the dishes were completely surrounded. By an artificial contrivance, roses during the meals descended on the guests from above. Heliogabalus, in his folly, caused roses to be showered down upon his guests in such quantities that a number of them being unable to extricate themselves, suffocated in flowers. During meal times they reclined on cushions stuffed with rose leaves, or else, made a couch of the leaves themselves. The floor, too, was strewn with roses, and in this custom great luxury was displayed. Cleopatra, at an enormous expense, procured roses for a feast she gave to Antony, and had them laid two cubits thick on the floor of the banquet room, and then caused nets to be spread over the flowers, in order to render the footing elastic. Heliogabalus caused not only the banquet-rooms, but the colonades that led to them, to be covered with roses, interspersed with lilies, violets, hyacinths and narcissi, and walked about on a flowery platform.

—One evening last week, while Theodore Thomas' concert organization was performing at Assembly hall, the following incident contributed no little to the enjoyment of those present: Schreber and another distinguished musician were rendering a most brilliant passage from a celebrated opera, and the vast audience sat spell-bound, listening to the subdued strains from the full orchestra, which filled the room like æolian notes wafted from afar over moonlit waters. Every voice was hushed, and the souls of the enraptured listeners floated out upon the sea of melody. Just then a middle-aged gentleman upon one of the front seats was seen to twist uneasily in his chair. He drew from his coat-tail pocket a huge bandanna handkerchief, flourished it in the air, and applying it to his face, gave one nasal blast so long and loud that it resounded through the whole house. The effect was grand. The swelling cheeks of the musicians relaxed, a broad grin spread over their features, and the applause which followed the performance of this new aspirant for musical fame was enthusiastic and deafening.—Richmond Whig.

—An ancient leap-year custom, peculiar to Spaniards and Mexicans is described as follows by a paper published in the southern part of California, where it is still practiced: "The names of ladies and gentlemen known to be mutually acquainted are written upon slips of paper and deposited in hats, the name of a lady being drawn simultaneously from one hat with that of a gentleman from another, the two whose names are thus drawn to be compadres and comadres to each other for the year. The obligations incurred toward each other by the relationship are very simple. The gentleman is to be the escort of the lady on any and every occasion that she may desire; and she, in turn, must consider herself engaged for any and every entertainment which he may wish to attend. Of course the relationship can be dissolved by mutual consent, either temporarily or permanently, during the period for which the agreement is made."

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way too perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet queen lies yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of companionable amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep, or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room won'd they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so dear, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but, when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, at ten dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's graceful sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to the CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars, See advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talk in Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh, information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal! These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (18x12) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [5]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [7]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [8].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2. Enlargement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents ($3 10) for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive you*r papers* immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to sub-scribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the CHRISTIAN UNION will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is cooked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

The First District.

The Republicans of the First Senatorial district are united and are confident of carrying the district by 200 majority at least. There being no third candidate in the field, the contest is narrowed down to Warren Brown and Daniel Marcy. Last March the Republicans were divided and many stayed away from the polls. William R. Martin, Republican, had 2144 votes, Daniel Marcy, 2218, Charles Robinson, also a Republican, 170, and there were four scattering votes. Of the votes thrown for Mr. Robinson 169 will go to Mr. Brown this year. The Republicans of this city can throw more than 1200 votes for Mr. Straw and Mr. Brown without great exertion. Daniel Marcy had but 880 last year; Weston received 914 with the aid of disaffected Republicans. In no honest manner can the Democrats raise their vote to 1000 in Portsmouth. To our friends in the interior who are studying "probabilities" we present the above review, and will add that the twelve hundred and more Republicans of Portsmouth propose to come to the front on the 12th of March. The Republican candidate for Senator will gain outside of Portsmouth on last year's vote. There was 75 majority against the regular Republican candidate for Senator in Portsmouth last year.

THE HALIFAX PRESS discuss the independence of Canada. Papers favoring the Dominion government throw doubt upon the story of a treaty between England and the New Dominion. The Express, a government supporter, says of the present government:

"If England has acted in the interests of the empire so very unwisely regarding the colonies, nothing it may do will surprise us."

The Chronicle, an opposition paper, says:—

"In all probability, should immediate hostilities arise between Great Britain and the United States, the time of carrying the treaty openly into effect would again have to be postponed. England could not abandon us without dishonor, nor would the United States be likely to respect a separation which would have something of the appearance of a fraudulent preferential assignment in commercial as distinguished from national obligations. If, on the other hand, the Washington treaty should be repudiated, however, without immediate hostilities, and both countries return to their former legal status, there is no doubt that separation would be hastened, as a matter of defensive policy, both by Great Britain and the Dominion."

A Quebec dispatch states that Mr. Langevin, Minister of Public Works, states that there is no foundation whatever for the rumor of a treaty of separation between Canada and Great Britain, because such a matter could only be transacted by the Parliament of the Dominion, and that body never heard anything of the kind.

THE STATE REIMBURSEMENT OF MUNICIPAL WAR DEBTS shows some curious facts. The only one we wish to notice now is that each city and large town in the State will be a large loser by the reimbursement. In other words all the large towns will be compelled to contribute a considerable sum towards the payment of the war debts of the smaller towns. Below we give a list of every city and town which by the last apportionment of the State Taxes pays more than ten dollars on a thousand of the State Tax, with the sum awarded to them, the amount they will have to pay, and the loss, by which it appears that these ten towns will actually pay more than two hundred thousand dollars towards the debts of the smaller towns.

The first column shows the amount awarded to each town; the second the same each town will pay of the new State debt by the proportion of 1868; and the third the actual loss to each town.

THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE have ended their work at the New York Custom House. The result is the discovery of the way in which Colonel Leet secured control of the enormously profitable general order business, and that he charged the New York merchants more than six times the usual price for storage; that the custom-house weighers have been in collusion with importers in defrauding the revenue; that an officer of the Treasury department has made $126,000 in less than three years by settling with importers, and that there have been many minor fraudulent transactions. Papers presented before the committee show that, while Grinnell was collector, Horace Greeley recommended forty-nine persons to places in the custom-house, of whom fifteen were appointed. Since Grant's accession, Greeley has nominated seventy-two persons to custom-house berths, Senator Fenton twenty-eight, and Senator Conkling fifteen.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—The Navy Department is organizing an expedition which will leave at an early day to survey the Nicaragua route for an interoceanic canal. Commander Crosman will have charge of the enterprise, whose field of labor will be substantially that surveyed by Lieutenant Childs in 1851.

The ways and means committee will probably send to the House a tax bill reducing the revenue $40,000,000, by the middle of next month. The House will, however, demand a further reduction, and with good chances of obtaining it.

After two months' agitation, the bill granting amnesty to rebels was defeated in the Senate, Friday. Mr. Sumner's civil rights amendment to the bill was carried by Vice President Colfax's casting vote, the vote previous being 28 to 28. Senators Cragin and Patterson voted for it. The bill was defeated, thirty-three Senators voting for it and nineteen against it—a two-thirds' vote being necessary.

State News.

The mother of Samuel A. Haley of Newmarket retired as usual on Thursday evening, and shortly after was found dead in her bed. The lady was nearly 90 years of age.

The State board of agriculture has arranged for four meetings in the month of February, as follows: At Hanover, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 13th and 14th; at New London, Thursday, the 15th; at Exeter, Wednesday, the 21st; at Durham, Thursday, the 22d.

A son of James Bodge of Ossipee, about twelve years old, hanged himself on the 8th inst. He and a brother got into a quarrel, and being chastised by his father, he went directly and committed the act.

Elisha Goodwin, Jr., has sold the Chocorua steamboat wharf and buildings at Wolfeboro' to the Eastern Railroad Company, for $10,000.

The large factory of M. H. Taylor at North Salem has been rebuilt and is running again.

During a recent funeral in Amherst the floor of the room where the mourners were assembled gave way and sunk a couple of feet. It caught and all were thereby saved from bringing up down cellar.

A. M. Shaw, Esq., Superintendent of the track for the Northern Road and Building Agent for the Sugar River Road, has been tendered by the Vermont Central the same position that he now fills so acceptably upon the Northern. He will probably accept the offer.

On the 7th, in Keene, Mr. Hosea Foster, 2d, was riding down a steep hill from his wood lot with a load of wood. It would appear from the position in which he was found that the load must have turned completely over and crushed him. The body must have remained in that condition several hours before found. Mr. F. was aged sixty-five.

TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD.—We have before us a report by Dr. Higginson, consulting surgeon to the Liverpool southern hospital, on one of the newest yet one of the most important branches of the surgical art. The cases in which the lives of patients are imperilled by the loss of blood, are infinite in number and variety, and the proportion of cases in which the patient, even when the hemorrhage has been stopped, has been unable to take or to assimilate food in time to replace the life fluid, and has died from pure exhaustion, is lamentably large. The plan of supplying fresh, warm, life-endowed blood from the vein of some healthy person to the drained and exhausted system of the patient seems to be one of the readiest and most legitimate of remedies. Dr. Higginson reports fifteen cases which have been treated by himself, and in which the proportion attended with success is flatteringly large; and, indeed, in cases where the operation was performed in time, and where no complications existed—that is, where the danger threatening arose from simple hemorrhage—the result was invariably the saving of life.

A large proportion of the cases treated were those of flooding in childbirth; but we conceive that the system would admit of wide application in cases of exhaustion from amputation, and other operations often attended or preceded by serious loss of blood. The difficulty, no doubt, is to those who are willing and courageous enough to lose ten or twelve ounces of blood; but there are surely few persons so destitute of friends as not to find one willing to undergo such an ordeal in a case of life or death. Dr. Higginson also appends to his report a diagram of the instrument he uses. It appears to be simple and inexpensive, and certainly no surgeon—especially when he has a large obstetric practice—should be without that or similar means of employing transfusion, in cases of imminent danger from exhaustion.—Liverpool Mercury.

DEATH OF OLIVER BRIARD.—Oliver Briard, the well-known and highly respected insurance adjuster in the basement of the Old State House, died at his residence, No. 394 Fourth Street, South Boston, Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock.

He has been confined to the house more or less for some time past, being troubled from an accident to one of his limbs, which for 25 years past has given him considerable discomfort. Until 15 minutes before his death he was walking about the room.

He stepped to the glass and remarked, "how well I look," and then laid down upon the bed. His watchers then noticed a change, and during their absence to call the members of the family he died.

His illness was primarily occasioned by over-exertion, which terminated in Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was formerly of Portsmouth, N. H., though he has resided in South Boston for a quarter of a century. His age was 62 years. He was in the dry goods business on Washington Street and at South Boston for twenty odd years in the firm of Briard & Forbes, and for the past ten years he has been known as a skilful and reliable adjuster of insurance. He was connected with the Boston Provident Association, and for a number of years has been treasurer of the Phillips Church society.

Mr. Briard leaves a wife and six children. He was not only highly respected in the society with which he was connected, but by all his large circle of business acquaintances.—Boston Trav.

—The Providence Journal appends to the Presbyterian resolution in the Cayler case, which says, "To teach and to exhort, or to lead in prayer in public and promiscuous assemblies, is clearly forbidden to women in the holy oracles," the significant comment, "Good-bye, Presbyterian Sunday School!"

MERITED DISTINCTION.—The well-known Groton Junction, on the great thoroughfare of the Northern Lines to Boston, has ceased to be. With a large and increasing population, proud as well as prosperous, its citizens, in mass meeting assembled, have voted to change the name of their town to "AYER"—after one of the best known men in America, Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell—and the Legislature of Massachusetts has enacted that decision into law. We commend their choice, for not only is the name short and distinctive, but Dr. AYER'S Medicines have made it gratefully known to the ends of the earth. Probably no living man has carried relief to such countless multitudes of the sick as he, and this high honor, from his neighbors, tells the estimation in which he is held by those who know him.—Bristol Times.

YEAS AND NAYS.—If horses could makes themselves understood in human language, they would signify by a universal "Yea," their assent to the statement that the MUSTANG LINIMENT is the best remedy extant for all these external ailments, and by a most emphatic "Neigh!" show their displeasure at every attempt to use any other preparation in its stead. Ever since its introduction at St. Louis, at the close of the Mexican War, in 1849, it has proved a signal blessing to horse and man—curing, with absolute certainty and wonderful despatch, such equine diseases as spavin, ringbone, poll evil, scratches, hoofail, &c., and relieving and finally removing the painful affections which attack the muscles, nerves and external glands of human beings. It is a fact beyond contradiction that for all injuries or complaints of man or quadrupeds to which an external remedy is applicable, the MUSTANG LINIMENT is preferable to every other.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

All the Year Round,

And in all parts of the world, the elements of disease are present in the air, the soil and the water, in a greater or less degree, and therefore the Great Vegetable Antidote to these invisible enemies of health, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is invaluable as a household medicine at all seasons and in every latitude. At no period of the year is a regulating and corrective medicine more needed than toward the close of winter, when the sun and rain are beginning to break up the winter blockade, and from the long icy sleep of nature the vital energy, which weighs like an incubus upon the vital machinery, and depresses the animal spirits. It is then that the seeds of intermittent and remittent fevers, of rheumatism and rheumatic gout, of obstinate stomach complaints, of disorders of the liver and bowels, and a whole host of pulmonary and nervous complaints are sown.

The best, the surest way to prevent this disastrous seeding is to invigorate and refresh the system with a course of the Bitters. If this precaution be taken now, there will be no danger of the miasmatic germs taking roots in the fluids and tissues of the body, and bringing forth terrible fruit in the spring. Now is the time for prevention. Remember that vigor is the only safeguard against the virus of disease, and that Hostetter's Bitters is the purest, the safest, the most powerful and perfect invigorant ever administered, either as protective medicine or a remedy. A change of season approaches which almost always proves more or less disastrous to persons of a weak, nervous organization. Brace up at once with the leading Tonic of the age. Purge from the blood all morbid matter, strengthen the nerves, and regulate and purify the secretions with the Vegetable Elixir, which combines the juices of the finest medicinal roots, herbs and barks, with the most wholesome of all diffusive stimulants.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We notice in one of our exchanges this week the statement of Dea. John Hodgkins, of South Jefferson, Me., whose son was cured of incipient consumption by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We refer to this at this time as tending to corroborate the statement we made last week in relation to this Liniment as applied to consumption.

If Congress had employed as much scientific skill in the arrangement of its "Reconstruction Policy" at the close, as the War Department did in the beginning of the war, in arranging for the manufacture of what was called Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the use of the Cavalry horses, no doubt the Union would have been restored long ago.—Exchange.

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.

WHAT IS VEGETINE?—It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

POISONED TO DEATH.—A healthy liver secretes each day about two and a half pounds of bile, which contains a great amount of waste material taken from the blood. When the liver becomes torpid or congested, it fails to eliminate this vast amount of noxious substance, which, therefore, remains to poison the blood and be conveyed to every part of the system. What must be the condition of the blood when it is receiving and retaining each day two and a half pounds of poison? Nature tries to work off this poison through other channels and organs—the kidneys, lungs, skin, etc.; but these organs become overtaxed in performing this labor, in addition to their natural functions, and can not long withstand the pressure, but become variously diseased.

The brain, which is the great electrical centre of all vitality, is unduly stimulated by the unhealthy blood which passes to it from the heart, and it fails to perform its office healthfully. Hence the symptoms of bile poisoning, which are dullness, headache, incapacity to keep the mind on any subject, impairment of memory, dizzy, sleepy, or nervous feelings, gloomy forebodings and irritability of temper. The blood itself being diseased, as it forms the sweat upon the surface of the skin, is so irritating and poisonous that it produces discolored brown spots, pimples, blotches and other eruptions, sores, boils, carbuncles and scrofulous tumors. The stomach, bowels, and other organs spoken of, cannot escape becoming affected, sooner of later, and costiveness, piles, dropsy, dyspepsia, diarrhœa, female weakness, and many other forms of chronic disease, are among the necessary results. As a remedy for all these various manifestations of disease, DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY is positively unequalled. By it the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite regulated and restored, the blood and secretions thoroughly purified and enriched, and the whole system renovated and built up anew. Sold by all first class Druggists. 576.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

Prof. F. L. Martyn has changed his place of residence to the Rockingham House, and applications for instruction in all branches of vocal and instrumental music may be hereafter addressed to him at that place.

Quite an excitement was created on Congress Street on Saturday afternoon by a horse running away with a sleigh containing a lady and gentleman, well known in this city. We congratulate the parties as they escaped with no serious injury. The lady had the presence of mind to jump out at the right moment, and the courage when in a few minutes after the horse returned, to resume her seat and finish the sleigh ride.

The local Democratic editor again offers his services to manage the CHRONICLE. In his issue of Friday he says: "The columns of the CHRONICLE have lately been filled with wordy communications in regard to school examinations and the appointment of a general superintendent of schools, &c. The writers can now put up their pens. Congress has passed a bill that puts the control of our schools into the hands of officials to be appointed in Washington." We edit the CHRONICLE,—William does not; we believe we have said something like this before; if his statement that "Congress has passed a bill that puts the control of our schools into the hands of officials to be appointed in Washington" is given as a specimen of his ability as an editor, we don't believe he ever will edit this paper. In the first place the bill referred to does not propose to do what he says it does, as he very well knew when he said it; and secondly, the House of Representatives is not Congress, though of this fact he is very probably ignorant.

Sagamore S. F. Engine Co., No. 2, have had fortnightly reunions and social dances at their engine house during the winter, and each gathering has been a complete success. On Friday evening last the firemen and their guests again met, and one of the pleasantest parties we ever "assisted" at was the result, the dancing being kept up till after midnight, to the excellent music of Gilberts' band. No one need ask for a happier union of propriety and amusement than Twos' assemblies offer.

The Sunday School exhibition which was given in the Methodist church some weeks since and which was received with the greatest satisfaction by a large audience, is to be repeated on Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, at the same place. Admission, 10 cents.

A prominent Republican of this city wagered a sum of money with a Democrat in the ratio of 2 to 1 that Ezekiel A. Straw will be elected Governor by the people by 1000 majority.

The acquaintances among whom the editor of the local Democratic paper swells and languishes now call earnestly for cream colored cats by the way of "improvement."

Mr. John M. Lord of this city sailed from Boston on Saturday for a few months' tour in England and Scotland.

Wood rot saved a house from burning in this city, last week. It would rot and therefore would not burn.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—The committee appointed at the recent meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad to nominate a list of Directors, to be submitted to the stockholders at an adjourned meeting to be held in Boston at the Meionaon, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, on Thursday next, was in session Friday. The session continued many hours, and after a full discussion the following named gentlemen were nominated:

Samuel Hooper of Boston; Franklin Haven of Boston; Thornton K. Lothrop of Boston; Benjamin F. Stevens of Boston; Henry L. Williams of Salem; Otis P. Lord of Salem; Ichabod Goodwin of Portsmouth. Messrs. Hooper, Haven, Lothrop, Williams and Goodwin are members of the present board. Judge Otis P. Lord of Salem, and Mr. Benjamin F. Stevens, President of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, are nominated to fill vacancies occasioned by resignation of Messrs. Geo. M. Browne and Benj. E. Bates. The ticket will no doubt meet with the approval of a majority of the stockholders.

—In a trial before the Mayor of Okalana, Miss., a few days since, the question as to "whether a wife could sleep with her head upon her husband's arm all night without paralyzing it sufficiently to wake him up and cause him to withdraw his arm from under her head," was sprung. It proved too hard for the young attorneys who were conducting the trial, and an old physician was called in to decide the question, and he said, "She might, and then again she mightn't."

—Eli Perkins says John Graham, the notorious New York criminal lawyer, is going to defend the three men who broke into his own house. "John says he can clear 'em sure."

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 45.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Old House in Durham.—Dover was one of the places first settled in New Hampshire, in 1623. Another party of settlers commenced at the same time in Portsmouth, at Little Harbor. Durham was a part of Dover and was settled in 1635, twelve years after Dover. It was called Oyster River till its incorporation in 1732. Few if any towns in the State suffered as did Durham by the Indians; for safety, twelve garrison houses were provided. In 1694 and '95 the Indians made terrible depredations, killing or capturing between ninety and a hundred persons and destroying twenty houses, five of which were garrisons.

One of the garrison houses that survived that attack is still standing. We have visited it of late and will give some account of it. It is half a mile from Durham railroad station and a little back from the village towards the southwest. It is not on any road, but in a field some thirty rods from a gate on a highway. It fronts southeasterly towards Oyster River and the village.

One newspaper account of this house is that it was built in 1638 by Capt. John Woodman. That was but three years after the settlement commenced, and 233 years ago. Rev. Dr. Toby, minister of Durham for forty years, thinks that date is too early by about thirty years. We think so too: first, because Indian invasions did not take place so early as 1638, to render garrisons necessary; and second, because Capt. Woodman did not settle in the town till 1659,—and it is a tradition that he built the house and there is good evidence that he occupied it, as will be noticed a little further on.

The lower story is constructed of white pine logs a foot or more thick, and some of them two feet deep. The testimony concerning this is reliable, although they cannot be seen now, as there are boards and clap-boards outside and ceiling inside. In more modern times a frame second story, with attic, was put on the upper tier of logs; also an addition in the rear. The house has a projection in front, common in those times when it was built, from which armed men could fire down upon assailants if they attempted to enter or set fire to it.

Was this house attacked by the Indians? There is evidence that it was. In Merrill's Gazetteer of New Hampshire, published in 1817, it is stated that in their attack on Durham in 1695 "they came last to Capt. Woodman's garrison. The ground being broken and hilly they made their approach without difficulty and kept up a continual fire at the hats and caps which our people held on sticks above the wall. But fearing the inhabitants of the neighboring settlements would collect against them, they retreated."

We have stated that Capt. Woodman came to town in 1659; probably the house was built about 1668 or '70, and is consequently 200 years old. Seven generations of the Woodman family have lived in the house or near it. The late Prof. John Smith Woodman of Dartmouth College was one of the family. His father died in this old house, and Prof. Woodman died in it last year.

On an elevation perhaps forty rods easterly of the garrison house is a monument of the Woodman family. There lie members of seven generations. A little back of the monument, the professor was buried. The marble at the head of his resting place is not showy, but modest, as was he; it is but two or three feet high. The emblem on the top is a bundle of wheat, which is expressive; he was a man of sterling worth. He graduated at Dartmouth College in the class of 1842, some years later was appointed professor in the college, and held that position till his death. We give the simple inscription on the marble:

J. S. W.

Born, 1819, Died, 1870.

HUSBAND.

"Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel
And afterwards receive me to glory."

[Note.] No. 44 of these articles was devoted to the Weeks house in Greenland. The year 1638 was given as the date of its erection. In a later paper Mr. Haines of Illinois contests this and thinks it was not built till 1744 or at the earliest not before 1707. Indeed, this spoils the antiquarian part of it. Our authority as to the date is "Brewster's Rambles about Portsmouth," generally reliable. Some of the Weeks family and others in Greenland think this correct. We have great veneration for the ancient, but more for the truth. Mr. Haines' argument from men and geneaological dates make it probable that he may be right, but still the case may bear investigation.]

—On draining a lake near New Amsterdam, Indiana, large quantities of bear and deer bones were exposed, with other evidences that the bed of the lake had once been an Indian campground.

—A Canadian paper says: "Skilled workmen have been leaving Canada by the thousand these some years past for the States, because they there get from twenty to one hundred per cent. higher wages."

—The jury in the case of Ex-Congressman Stokes, who was charged with pushing a fraudulent claim through Congress, disagreed, nine being for conviction and three for acquittal.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does twenty stitches the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Morning Chronicle.

—In a village, not a thousand miles from Rochester, a youth came home the other night after an extended visit to his sweetheart, only to find that he was locked out of the parental home. After trying all sorts of expedients to gain a noiseless admittance, a happy thought suggested itself. The stable door was fastened on the inside by a hasp, but just above the hasp was an old key-hole and he would find a crooked stick and lift the latch with that. A neighbor's woodpile furnished him with a hard-wood sliver which was whittled into the desired shape, and after much manipulation the hasp was lifted out and the door stood open. Happy youth! alas, the course of true love might run smoothly with him, but getting into the house was decidedly rough, for in passing through the wood shed, with windows upon both sides, his watchful eyes discerned a figure moving along as stealthily as he. To pick up a stick of wood was the work of an instant, and as the figure was as nimble as himself, he lost no time in throwing it with the rapidity of lightning at the supposed person, but alas for human calculations, the stick sped on, the figure not impeding its progress, and striking the center sash of the window, took twelve squares of glass along with it out of doors. He had pelted his own shadow, caused by the bright moon shining through the window on the opposite side. To say that the family were awakened would be put an indifferent statement of the truth. They were aroused! Shriek on shriek went out on the midnight air, as a maiden aunt opened her lung-valves, as only ancient and nervous females can do on such occasions. The parental head of the house, well flanked by the feminine portion of the family, clad in raiment more appropriate for summer, made his appearance upon the scene, and the doleful lad was marched to his room with hanging head and downcast eyes. He says the next time he visits his girl he shall take a moonless night, and have a night, key in both trowsers pockets.—Courier.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—The trapeze feats of one Donaldson, during a balloon ascent from Norfork, have been already reported. A paper in that locality gives this startling seqhel to the adventure:

"When at the height of one mile from earth, and while performing upon the trapeze, Donaldson concluded that he would descend, and for this purpose pulled the valve cord to allow the gas to escape from the baloon. The valve did not open, and he pulled again. It still remained closed, and there being no time to lose he pulled with both hands. Again a failure, and for a third time he gave a strong, steady jerk. There was a sharp hissing sound, as it made by the tearing of cloth, followed by a rushing noise, and he knew that the balloon had burst. It did not collapse, however, being prevented from doing so by the rush of air from beneath, but closed up at the sides. At this time the aeronaut was seated on the cross piece above the trapeze bar. The balloon leaned over to one side and descended with frightful velocity.

During this awful period the aeronaut says that for the first time in his life he was frightened. In a short time, which seemed to him an eternity, the balloon struck the branches of a tree, and went crashing through the limbs. The ropes and trapeze bars catching in the limbs somewhat diminished the rapidity of the descent, but still the velocity was terrific. Crashing through the branches, the balloon fell to the ground, the aeronaut landing on his back in a heap of briars. His pants were torn and his legs lacerated by the briars, but beyond this he escaped without injury. His escape from a frightful death is simply miraculous. Rising from his thorny couch, Donaldson, still cool and with nerves little shaken by his terrible mishap took a survey of the situation. He had fallen on the edge of a swamp, near a field, five miles from Norfolk. On examining the balloon he found a large rent extending from the top to the bottom. Rolling it up, he started for assistance, securing which, he next procured a conveyance and returned to Norfolk."

—Cedar Rapids had a jealous husband, but he feels better now. He is old and rich, and married to a young and pretty wife. Suspicions of her fidelity gradually increased until the unhappy man resolved to test them by strategem. Announcing his intention to spend a month at an eastern water-cure, he departed one morning, but returned by the next train. Reaching home late in evening, he armed himself and started for his residence. Yes, he was right; there was a bright light in his wife's bedroom. Crouching under the window, he heard a low murmuring of voices, and at once began to work himself into necessary passion. Quietly entering the house, and hastening to his wife's room, he demanded instant admittance. There was a hurrying of feet within, and his wife said trembilingly, "wait a minute." This was enough. With a tremendous kick he smashed in the door just in time to see his wife close a closet door and place herself against it. Now he had him! Pistol in hand, he thrust the partner of sorrows aside, and pulling open the door of the closet, stood face to face with a scantily-attired young lady, who had come to stay with his wife. He put up his pistol and went away.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawbl6

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

A COMPLEX COMEDY.—The Westfield Police Court has lately been entertained with a comedy of more than an ordinary degree of richness. Mrs. James Blakesley complained of her husband, several weeks since, for ill treatment, but after the case had been continued until a week ago Saturday, she reported that she had "made up" with her erring lord, and wished to withdraw the complaint on the payment of costs. These amounted to $12.50 for witness fees. They hadn't the money, but promised to bring it the next Saturday, and the court kindly continued the case again till that time. Elated at the prospective settlement, the man traded his horse for another (notwithstanding his own had been mortgaged to a business man of the town) and paid $17 to boot, borrowing the money of the chief of police, whom he promised to pay when he came to court again, on Saturday. Promply at the appointed time, the litigant but now reconciled couple reappeared at court; James, with sorrowful face recited the loss of his pocket-book, and obtained the consent of the justice to go out and search for it. While he was gone, his wife, who remained at the office, alarmed the court by announcing that she was in labor, and the chief of police was hurriedly sent for, and the woman placed in his care.

The officer, however, finding that his money was lost with the court's, managed to spend several hours in a fruitless search for the pocket-book. But meantime one of the townfathers had found it, while on his way to a selectmen's meeting, and when he opened it and found who the owner was, a brother selectman remembered that he had a bill against Blakesley. So he got out a writ of attachment covering the amount, and called on the chief of police (who was himself interested to the amount of the $17) to serve it. The chief, with a tragic air which betokened the depth of his emotion, did his duty, attached the money for the selectman, and after all claims had been paid, had just five cents left for his. The court, finding itself thus euchred by its own weapon, the law, continued the case another week; the chief took a mortgage on the new horse to secure his debt; the business man who had the mortgage on the old horse started out in anxious search for the purchaser thereof; and the hero of the story, bewildered at the fickle way fortune had treated him, got gloriously drunk.

LISTON, MILLER AND THE TRIPE.—Liston, the actor, delighted in a peculiar sort of practical joking in the streets. Walking one day through Leicester Square with Mr. Miller, the theatrical bookseller of Bow street, he happened to mention casually that he was going to have tripe for dinner, a dish of which he was particularly fond. Miller, who hated it, said:—

"Tripe! Beastly stuff! How come you to eat it?"

That was enough for Liston. He stopped suddenly in the crowded thoroughfare in front of Leicester House, and, holding Miller by the arm, exclaimed in a loud voice:—

"What, sir? Do you mean to assert that you don't like tripe?"

"Hush!" muttered Miller, "don't talk so loud; people are staring at us."

"I ask you, sir," continued Liston, in still louder tones, "do you like tripe?"

"For heaven's sake, hold your tongue!" cried Miller; "you will have a crowd round us."

And, naturally, people began to stop and wonder what was the matter. This was exactly what Liston wanted, and again he shouted:—

"Do you mean to say you don't like tripe?"

Miller, making a desperate effort, broke from him, and hurried in consternation through Cranbourne Alley, followed by Liston, bawling after him:

"There he goes! That's the man that doesn't like tripe!" to the immense amusement of the numerous passengers, many of whom recognized the popular comedian, till the horrified bookseller took to his heels and ran, as if for his life, up Long Acre into Bow street, pursued to his very door-step by a pack of young ragmuffins, who took up the cry:—

"There he goes! the man that doesn't like tripe!"

—In a clever burlesque of the Jenkins style of describing weddings, recently published in the Indianapolis News, the bride's dress is described as a white megatherium silk trimmed with prussic acid blue pompaded front and lambrequins of the same, looped up with calla lilies flecked by furiginated petassite and mellaced trivere—imported expressly for her. Her veil was a biassed polonaise, trimmed with double fluted ruchings, surmounted with the wreath of the snowy trichinalla. Some of the presents were a set of teeth and an oyster-freezer,—from the bride's mother; a goldlined hash-receiver and a set of chaste and elegant terra-cotta jewelry from the groom; a quilt pieced by the donor when eleven years of age, and a package of cabbage seed, from the bride's grandmother, aged ninety, who can read fine print without glasses, and who cracked all the nuts for the banquet with her own teeth.

FACES ON THE WALL.

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," "MY WIFE AND I," ETC.

Once there was a very good little girl, who, by reason of her goodness knew where to find strawberries in the winter. In the same way lose perfect people, blessed by the generous fairies of memory and imagination, may sit, as I do now, in the midst of falling leaves and whistling winds, and call back the green grasses and the summer sun. I see yonder in the glen, the darling of our house, the gold gleam in her brown hair, a chain of daisies in her hand, and in her eyes the roguish meditation of a kitten, weary for an instant only of its play, and thinking slyly of another spring. Thrown back upon the velvet grass, she is not resting, only pausing from her bright glances to the tips of her tiny fingers she is wide awake.

But now the merry play is over, and our pet nestles yonder on the sofa cushion, tired at last in earnest. Slowly the lids fall, and the lingering smile dies out; but the flush in cheek and lip remains, like the glow after sunset. The gathered buttercups and daisies are loosely held by the fair little hand; no shadows, even of dream-land, disturb the sweet brow's perfect peace. She is fast asleep.

In other words, two chromos hang upon the wall, bewitching child-heads, in which every mother sees something of her own dear ones, never grown old, and never lost to her, however time or death may have dealt with them.

Nothing pleases more at first sight or gives pleasure longer than poetical pictures of children. "The little child" whom Jesus sets in the midst of every family is a joy that grows not old and fades not.

"Age cannot wither, custom cannot stale
Its infinite variety."

For this reason a happy picture of a child brings an enjoyment more lasting than any other, because it is a subject of which no one ever tires.

But these pictures, besides their constant charm for grown folks, are such as children can understand and love. Our little "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," would give many a pleasant hour of compunctious amusement and intercourse to the little people akin to them in age. The pictures that children's eyes rest on as they are dropping off to sleep or as they awake in the morning, seem to them like living friends. All sorts of childish dreams and fancies make of the pictured face a real companion. Not only in the parlor and sitting-room won'd they be an attractive and fitting embellishment, but they are a charming pair for the adornment of a nursery.

Undoubtedly these two pictures are portraits. There is a realistic faithfulness and truth about them that forbids the idea of their being fancy heads. They will remind many parents of little ones either here or in heaven. Dickens says of his portraiture of little Nell that he has had letters from the farthest region of the earth speaking of children who resembled her—so true, and so early taken! He who paints one child well, paints thousands, and speaks to the tenderest feelings of innumerable hearts.

Of course there is a pleasure in possessing an original painting; but when the question lies between an original at five hundred dollars and a chromo which can scarcely be distinguished from it, ninety dollars—particularly when one has not the five hundred to spare—the choice is not very difficult. As to these two exquisite chromos, only a critical examination can distinguish between the copies and the originals, which sold for many hundreds—which is certainly more than can be said of the best copies of most pictures painted by the best artists.

Blessings upon the chromo-lithography, by which the successful painting of a master can be reproduced indefinitely, and can enter thousands of homes with its educating, quickening, reforming influences!

It is not alone into the dwellings of the great and wealthy that we follow this pretty pair with anticipations of delight. We see them in the cottages of the poor, in the log cabin of the barkwoodsman, brightening the toil of the hard-worked wife and mother, and receiving the almost adoring wonder of children who have never seen pictures before.

God bless the darlings—send the little comforters fast and far!

The charming pair of oil chromos, "Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," of whose real beauty and attractiveness Mrs. Stowe's grace'ul sketch can give but an imperfect idea—so pleasing are they to all who love art or children—have always sold in the picture stores for $10, and the original publisher has never been able to supply the great demand for them even at that price. And yet, although thousands of them have been sold in America at that high rate, they are now within the reach of all, for they are to Every subscriber to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, an unsectarian, literary, religious and domestic weekly newspaper, edited by HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished to Mr. Beecher's publishers at a rate entirely exceptional. The subjects are LIFE-SIZE.

As to THE CHRISTIAN UNION, the great success of that paper has been a marvel in the history of journalism, and the scholarly and critical New York Nation calls it "not only the ablest and best, but also the most popular of American religious periodicals."

This paper, hereafter will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage possessed by no other religious weekly published. It contains contributions from eminent writers of all denominations, and has matter of interest for every member of the household, young and old. For the year 1872, Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE will write exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION.

It has something for every member of the household—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, ALL find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles, discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects; much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones, one of the chief attractions being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

The terms of subscription to this paper are: For one year ONLY $3.00. This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, THE CHRISTIAN UNION, Illustrated Holiday Number, (28 p. p.) will be sent FREE to all who now subscribe for the year 1872.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters direct to the Publishers.

SPECIMEN COPIES of the paper will be mailed FREE of postage to any address on receipt of six cents by J. B. Ford & Co., Publishers, 27 Park Place, New York. For full particulars see advertisement in the next column, headed "Why?"

WHY?

What is the reason that the Literary, Religious, and Domestic Weekly, started two years ago, namely,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

should have so suddenly achieved a success that makes all newspaper men wonder?

Reasons Why!

1st. HENRY WARD BEECHER is its Editor, of whom the Chicago Interior said "Probably no man on this continent sways so many minds, or is doing so much to shape religious thought for the next half century." His vigorous pen in Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of his helpful Lecture-Room Talks to Plymouth Church, are an attraction to thousands of readers, who always want to know what he thinks on religious themes and the topics of the times. He is also assisted by an able editorial staff.

2d. It Is Unsectarian in Religion, Independent in Political Discussion, and devoted to Morals, Reform, Home and Foreign News—both of Church matters and the world at large, Literature, Science, Art, Music, Agriculture, Trade, Finance, etc., etc., with contributions from eminent writers of all denominations—in all parts of the country.

3d. IT HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOUSEHOLD—father, mother, boys and girls, young men and young women, all find something of interest. Admirable contributed and editorial articles discussing all the great topics of the day; fresh information on unhackneyed subjects, much matter of a high and pure religious tone; a Domestic Department, choice Poems, Household Stories, and Chat for the little ones; one of its chief attraction being Mrs. H. B. Stowe's fascinating Tales.

4th. It Admits no Medical or other possibly objectionable advertisements nor anything to offend the purest and most fastidious, and is therefore a favorite family paper.

5th. ITS FORM TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. Large Quarto, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, is so convenient for reading, binding, and preservation as to be a great special merit in its favor, apart from its superior literary attraction.

6th. A superb WORK OF ART IS GIVEN AWAY TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER AND THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS

Only Three Dollars per Year.

SPECIAL

Attractions for 1872!

GIVEN AWAY!

1. TWO CHARMING AND POPULAR WORKS OF ART.

"WIDE AWAKE & FAST ASLEEP."

Two Exquisite French Oil Chromos, the subjects of which are Life Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children,

Are GIVEN AWAY to every subscriber for 1872, whether it be a New Subscription or a Renewal. These Chromos are no cheap colored prints, but are splendid copies of Oil Paintings, by an eminent English artist, fully equal for their size (13x18½) to any chromo ever published. The subjects are life size. The pair, by a fortunate arrangement which one of the partners of this house was able to make in Paris during the late siege, with the proprietors of the pictures, are furnished at a rate entirely exceptional. So that, although thousands of them have been sold in America at $10, and still are and will be sold at that price by the picture trade generally, they can be given to subscribers.

A MOSAIC.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Two very good chromos are "Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," [1] which have few rivals in the market for attractiveness [2]—fresh, sweet and blooming child-face [3] executed with true French skill [4]. We have rarely seen anything prettier than the two pictures, which, [5] both in color and sentiment are really beautiful [6]—worthy of a place in costly homes [7]. Unlike nine pictures out of ten that cost a good deal more, one can look at them day after day and not tire of them [8]. We have often stopped amid the bustle of Broadway to look at them, and never without feeling happier and better [9]. They cannot fail to please all who love art or children [10].

A subscriber writes to the Publishers:

"The chromos far surpass in beauty and style anything that I expected. A Neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

2 En largement and Change of Form. After the first of January, the paper will be printed on a still larger sheet, folded in twenty-four large quarto pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the sides,—a decided advantage in convenience for reading possessed by no other religious weekly published.

3. Mrs. Harriet B. Stowe Will Write Exclusively for the CHRISTIAN UNION during the year 1872, with the exception of one short story all ready engaged for another periodical.

4. THE ILLUSTRATED HOLIDAY NUMBER —OF— The Christian Union, (28 pages) will be sent FREE to all who NOW subscribe for the year 1872.

The Terms of Subscription ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ONE YEAR ONLY $3.00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper by mail and to the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, deliverable at the publication office. If the subscriber will add ten cents [$3.10] for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc., the CHROMOS will be sent free, by mail; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more, or $3.35 altogether, the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing. This is the method we recommended as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money in postal orders, drafts, or registered letters, direct to the Publishers, and you will receive your papers immediately and regularly. The Chromos will be mailed as rapidly as possible to subscribers in the order of their names on the subscription list.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.
